RULES UNDER THE CHOTA NAGPORE ENCUMBERED ESTATES' ACT, 1876.

The 27th September 1877.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 19 of the Chota Nagpore Encumbered Estates' Act, 1876, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has, with the approval of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, made the following rules:—

Rule 1.—Without the special sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, the Act shall not be put in force unless the person seeking it derives an annual income of Rs. 00 or more from his immoveable property, and without the same sanction no immoveable property, other than land or permanent interests in land, shall be brought under the provisions of the Act.

Rule 2.—Every application under Section 2 of the Act shall, if made by the holder of immoveable property, or by his heir, or guardian, committee, or other legal curator of such holder or heir, be accompanied by a statement of all debts and liabilities due by such holder, together with the names of the creditors, and a specification of the date on which each debt was incurred, and also by a statement showing of what property such holder is possessed, and the income derivable therefrom. These statements may, if the Commissioner deem it necessary, be sent to the Deputy Commissioner of the district or districts in which the immoveable property is situated for inquiry into the correctness or otherwise of such statements, and for report as to whether the property is solvent or not. The Commissioner shall refrain from issuing the vesting order under Section 2, if it appears to him on such report or otherwise that the property is hopelessly insolvent.

Rule 3.—When a Deputy Commissioner is of opinion that any property should be brought under the provisions of the Act, he shall ascertain, as far as possible, what debts and liabilities are due by the holder of such property, and what immoveable property he has in his possession, and the income derivable therefrom; and, after inquiry into the solvency or otherwise of the holder, he shall submit the whole of the papers to the Commissioner, who shall issue the vesting order or not according as, in his opinion, the property is solvent or not.

Rule 4.—After the vesting order has been issued, it shall be the duty of the manager to inquire carefully into the solvency of the property, and to make early report on this point to the Commissioner, with a view to the restoration of the property to the owner (under Section 12 of the Act as amended by Act XII of 1877) should the property prove to be insolvent.

Rule 5.—Wherever the manager appointed under the Act is not the Deputy Commissioner of the district, the Deputy Commissioner will (subject to such orders, consistent with the provisions of the said Act, as the Commissioner may from time to time issue), exercise a general control over the management of all the properties in his district.

Rule 6 —The security to be required from any manager not being a Government servan- and from subordinate officers under this Act shall be fixed from time to time by the Comt missioner of the division, with the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor: provided that no such manager or subordinate officer shall be required to give security for an amount exceeding 25 per cent. of the annual rents and profits of the property on account of which he is employed.

Rule 7.—To every notice published under section 5 of the Act shall be appended a copy of Section 6. The notice shall be published at the district cutcherries, moonsifs' courts, and thanas within the jurisdiction of which the property is situated, and shall be affixed to the bhandar of all villages contained within the property. Whenever possible, special service of such notice shall be made on every known creditor of the property; but the absence of such special service shall not be a bar to proceedings under the Act.

Rule 8.—When any property is restored to the holder or his heir, in accordance with Section 12 of the Act, notice of the restoration shall be published at the places mentioned in the preceding rule and in the Calcutta Gazette.

Rule 9.—On the publication of the vesting order under Section 2 of the Act, the holder of the property, or his legal representative, shall be called upon to deliver to the manager, within fifteen days, all accounts and other papers connected with the management of the property.

Rule 10.—In determining the amount of any principal debt or liability under Section 8 of the Act, claims equitably due may be admitted by the manager if acknowledged by the holder of the property or his legal representative, notwithstanding the existence of some legal defence, such as limitation or insufficiency of stamp.

Rule 11.—The allowance of interest on any principal debt or liability shall not exceed 12 per cent. per annum from the date on which it was incurred to the date of determination, or from the date of determination to the date of payment.

Rule 12.—Notice shall be given to each creditor of the date on which orders will be passed by the manager on his claim. If any oral evidence in support of the claim is adduced, it shall be recorded by the manager in the English language, and shall be filed with the papers relating to the claim. The manager may from time to time, as seems necessary, adjourn the passing of orders on any claim. Notice of such adjournment shall be given to the claimant or his representative.

Rule 13.—The manager shall record in the English language reasons for his decision on each claim, and within one week of the date of such decision, a copy thereof shall be prepared in the vernacular of the district for delivery to the creditor on application.

Rule 14.—The scheme mentioned in Section 11 of the Act shall be submitted by the manager through the Deputy Commissioner, who will forward it, with his opinion, to the Commissioner. The manager shall note in such scheme the order in which he proposes to pay the admitted debts. The manager, in determining the order for payment of the debts, will, as far as possible, give preference first to claims of mortgagees and conditional vendees removed from possession under Section 16 of the Act; secondly, to decrees of court; and thirdly, to bond debts.

Rule 15.—Applications by the manager, under Section 16 of the Act, for the removal of a mortgagee or conditional vendee from possession shall not be made without the sanction of the Commissioner.

Rule 16.—The power to lease, under Section 17 of the Act, shall be subject to the following provision :—No lease shall be given for any term exceeding three years without the sanction of the Deputy Commissioner, or exceeding four years without the sanction of the Commissioner.

The 22nd September 1877.—The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to order the publication of the following notification for general information:—

NOTICE TO MARINERS, No. 1.

BAY OF BENGAL, EAST COAST.

CHITTAGONG.

Intended alterations in the beacons at entrance to the Chittagong or Kurnafoolee River.

THE following information regarding the shifting of the Norman's Point lights is published for the guidance of masters of vessels and other seafaring people frequenting the port of Chittagong.

The two beacon lights situated on the southern shore and entrance to the Kurnafoolee river, latitude 22 12′ 0″ north; longitude 91 51′ 30″ east, are to be removed shortly to a new site "2,417 yards" due south of their present position. The beacons, when in the position selected for their removal, will be 40 yards apart; the inner or eastern light will be exhibited from a tripod structure, and the outer or western light from a mast, and both structures will be painted white. The inner light will be placed about 10 feet higher than the outer or western one, and both will be visible seven miles in clear weather over an arc of 160°, ranging from north-west by north to south by east, when seen from seaward. The beacons will intersect at south-east by east-¼-east, and the lights will appear one above the other at that bearing. During southerly winds, sailing vessels coming from south-west or southward and westward (especially those that are some distance in the offing) should not come to the northward of the lights; but with the western or outer light bearing east-¼-north should run in and anchor in five fathoms or 2½ miles west-¼-south of the outer light, and there anchor and wait for daylight. The beacons intersect at south-east by east-¼-east, and the Hill flagstaff (latitude 22° 14′ 06″ north, longitude 91° 52′ 56″ east), bearing north-east, will place a vessel about half a mile to the westward of the bar buoys, where the bar and river buoys will be seen distinctly, and the services of a local pilot will always be obtainable. Vessels should not attempt to cross the bar without a pilot, as the channel is long, narrow, and somewhat intricate.

Temporary lights will be shown from the present position of the Norman's Point beacons from the 20th September to the 19th October 1877, after which date the lights will be exhibited from the new site.

NOTIFICATION.

The 24th September 1877.—It is notified, for general information, that the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to add the following rule to the introductory rules for the examination of, and grant of certificates of competency to, masters, mates, and engineers of foreign-going vessels, published on page 1210 of the Calcutta Gazette of 12th September 1877:—

Additional Rule.

XV. All candidates for examination for masters' or mates' certificates shall pass a test examination as to their ability to distinguish the following colors, which enter largely into the combinations of signals by day or night used at sea, namely, black, white, red, green, yellow, and blue.

The examiners will be furnished with cards and glasses of these several colors, and before proceeding to the regular examination of the candidate, they must satisfy themselves that he is able to distinguish correctly each of the colors referred to. In the event of his failing to do so in even one of these colors, the examiner must decline to proceed to the regular examination, and must forward to Government a special report of the case.

The 18th September 1877.—The following Regulations for the Examination of Candidates for the Civil Service of India to be held in April 1878 are published for general information:—

EXAMINATIONS FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

REGULATIONS FOR THE OPEN COMPETITION OF EASTER, 1878.

N.B.—The Regulations are applicable to this Examination only.

1. On April 9th, 1878, and following days an Examination of Candidates will be held in London. At this examination not fewer than Candidates will be selected, if so many shall be found duly qualified. Of these, will be selected for the Presidency of Bengal [for the Upper Provinces, and for the Lower Provinces,] for that of Madras, and for that of Bombay.*—Notice will hereafter be given of the days and place of examination.

2. Any person desirous of competing at this examination must produce to the Civil Service Commissioners before the 1st of February 1878 evidence showing—

(a) that he is a natural-born subject of Her Majesty;

(b) that his age on the 1st March 1878 will be above seventeen years and under twenty-one years. [N.B.—In the case of Natives of India this must be certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which the Candidate may have resided];

(c) that he has no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the Civil Service of India;†

(d) that he is of good moral character.

He must also pay such fee as the Secretary of State for India may prescribe.‡

3. Should the evidence upon the above points be primâ facie satisfactory to the Civil Service Commissioners, the Candidate will, upon payment of the prescribed fee, be admitted to the examination. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion, at any time prior to the grant of the Certificate of Qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further inquiries as they may deem necessary; and if the result of such inquiries in the case of any Candidate should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects, he will be ineligible for admission to the Civil Service of India, and if already selected, will be removed from the position of a Probationer.

4. The examination will take place only in the following branches of knowledge:—

	Marks.
English Composition	500
History of England—including that of the Laws and Constitution	500
English Language and Literature	500
Language, Literature, and History of Greece	750
" " " Rome	750
" " " France	375
" " " Germany	375
" " " Italy	375
Mathematics (pure and mixed)	1,250
Natural Science: that is (1) Chemistry, including Heat; (2) Electricity and Magnetism; (3) Geology and Mineralogy; (4) Zoology; (5) Botany	1,000
 The total (1,000) marks may be obtained by adequate proficiency in any two or more of the five branches of science included under this head.
Moral Sciences: that is, Logic, Mental and Moral Philosophy	500
Sanskrit Language and Literature	500
Arabic Language and Literature	500

Candidates are at liberty to name before February 1, 1878, any or all of these branches of knowledge. No subjects are obligatory.

5. The merit of the persons examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each branch in the preceding regulation denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it.

6. No Candidate will be allowed any marks in respect of any subject of examination, unless he shall be considered to possess a competent knowledge of that subject. §

7. The examination will be conducted by means of printed questions and written answers, and by viva voce examination, as may be deemed necessary.

* The number of appointments to be made, and the number in each Presidency, &c., will be announced hereafter. It will probably be about half the usual number.

† Evidence of health and character must bear date not earlier than the 1st January 1878.

‡ The fee for this examination will be £5, payable by means of a special stamp according to instructions which will be communicated to candidates.

§ "Nothing can be further from our wish than to hold out premiums for knowledge of wide surface and of small depth. We are of opinion that a Candidate ought to be allowed no credit at all for taking up a subject in which he is a mere smatterer."—Report of Committee of 1854. A deduction of marks will be made under each subject, including Mathematics.

8. The marks obtained by each Candidate in respect of each of the subjects in which he shall have been examined will be added up, and the names of the Candidates who shall have obtained a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining Candidates will be set forth in order of merit, and such Candidates shall be deemed to be selected Candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. Should any of the selected Candidates become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled up or not. In the former case, the Candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a selected Candidate. A selected Candidate declining to accept the appointment which may be offered to him will be disqualified for any subsequent competition.

9. Selected Candidates before proceeding to India will be on probation for two years, during which time they will be examined periodically, with a view of testing their progress in the following subjects :—*

		Marks.
1.	Oriental Languages—
	Sanskrit	500
	Vernacular† Languages of India (each)	400
2.	The History and Geography of India	350
3.	Law	1,250
4.	Political Economy	350

In these examinations, as in the open competition, the merit of the candidates examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it at any one examination. The examination will be conducted by means of printed questions and written answers, and by viva voce examination, as may be deemed necessary. The last of these examinations will be held at the close of the second year of probation, and will be called the "Final Examination," at which it will be decided whether a selected Candidate is qualified for the Civil Service of India.

10. Any Candidate who at any of the periodical examinations shall appear to have wilfully neglected his studies, or to be physically incapacitated for pursuing the prescribed course of training, will be liable to have his name removed from the list of selected Candidates.

11. The selected Candidates who at the final examination shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of age, health, and character, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force at the time for that service.

12. Applications from persons desirous to be admitted as Candidates are to be addressed to the Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners, London, S. W., from whom the proper form for the purpose may be obtained.

June 1877.

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements :—

(1). Selected Candidates will be permitted to choose,‡ according to the order in which they stand in the list, resulting from the open competition, as long as a choice remains, the Presidency (and in Bengal the Division of the Presidency) to which they shall be appointed, but this choice will be subject to a different arrangement, should the Secretary of State, or Government of India deem it necessary.

(2.) No Candidate will be permitted to proceed to India before he shall have passed the final examination, and received a certificate of qualification from the Civil Service Commissioners, or after he shall have attained the age of twenty-four years.

(3.) The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the selected Candidates shall be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the final examination.

(4.) It is the intention of the Secretary of State to allow the sum of £50 after each of the three first half years of probation, and £150 after the last half year, to each selected Candidate who shall have passed the required examinations to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, and shall have complied with such rules as may be laid down for the guidance of selected Candidates.

(5.) All selected Candidates will be required, after having passed the second periodical examination, to attend at the India Office for the purpose of entering into an agreement binding themselves, amongst other things, to refund in certain cases the amount of their allowance in the event of their failing to proceed to India. For a Candidate under age a surety will be required.

(6.) After passing the final examination, each Candidate will be required to attend again at the India Office, with the view of entering into covenants. The stamps payable on these documents amount to £1.

(7.) Candidates rejected at the final examination of 1880 will in no case be allowed to present themselves for re-examination.

* Full instructions as to the course of study to be pursued will be issued to the successful candidates as soon as possible after the result of the open competition is declared.

† Including, besides the languages prescribed for the several Presidencies, such other languages as may, with the approval of the Commissioners, be taken up as subjects of examination.

‡ This choice must be exercised immediately after the result of the open competition is announced, on such day as may be fixed by the Civil Service Commissioners.

NOTIFICATION.

The 17th September 1877.—Under the provisions of Section 83, Act V (B.C.) of 1870 (an Act to appoint Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta), the following Bye-laws for landing and delivery of goods at the jetties, as proposed by the Commissioners, are published for general information, in supersession of the Notification dated the 20th February 1872, which was published at page 551 of the Calcutta Gazette of the 21st February 1872 and in the two subsequent issues :—

Bye-laws to be observed at the Port Commissioners' Jetties.

THE allotment of jetties shall be entirely at the discretion of the Commissioners, but as a general rule vessels shall be accommodated in the order of their arrival off the jetties. Vessels discharging or loading at the jetties shall move from one jetty to another when ordered.

2. The master of every vessel lying alongside any of the Commissioners' jetties shall provide at least one gangway plank not less than two feet six inches wide, and of sufficient length, thickness, and strength to form a convenient communication between the jetty and the gangway of the vessel, and such gangway plank shall be properly and securely placed between the gangway of the vessel and the jetty during the whole time the vessel remains alongside the jetty.

3. Masters of vessels about to discharge at the jetties shall not break bulk until a copy of the manifest or the masters' copies of the bills of lading have been deposited in the Jetty Office. The copies of the bills of lading, if deposited, shall be returned after discharge of the inward cargo.

4. Ships lying at the jetties shall not discharge cargo into boats, if such cargo is to be subsequently landed on the Calcutta bank of the river between Chitpore Canal and Tolly's Nullah.

5. Packages of cargo shall be slung in the hatchway, and under no circumstances whatever shall the cranes be employed in breaking out cargo or removing it from under the combings.

6. Single packages over three tons shall not be hoisted until the correct weight shall have been ascertained, and when packages weighing more than three tons are being hoisted, the Superintendent of the cranes shall invariably be present.

7. Masters of vessels shall furnish special notice to the shed officers before landing packages containing articles liable to ignition or explosion, or which are otherwise dangerous.

8. Packages shall not be opened for appraisement except in the presence of the consignee or his representative, and under an application to the shed officer from the appraiser endorsed on the bill of entry.

9. No person shall remove from the wharf any goods other than those covered by the Customs bill of entry and the jetty chullan. In the event of any person removing goods not covered by such documents, the Commissioners may detain any goods of such person until all questions connected with the erroneous removal shall have been adjusted, and all moneys due to the Commissioners paid.

10. Smoking and the use of any unprotected fire or light in any office, shed, or warehouse within the jetty enclosure is strictly prohibited.

11. Excepting persons passing to and from ships lying at the jetties, no person shall be allowed inside the jetty enclosure after twilight.

12. No person, unless duly permitted by the Commissioners, shall take inside the jetty premises carpenters' tools or instruments used for opening cases, and no cooper shall be allowed to work in the sheds without license from the Commissioners.

13. Any person committing an infringement of any of the foregoing bye laws shall be liable for the first offence to a fine not exceeding Rs. 100, and for continuance of that offence, after notice shall have been given him by the Commissioners of his having committed the offence, to a further fine of Rs. 50 per day.

14. Goods landed at the jetties shall only be delivered on production of the bills of lading accompanied by a delivery order from the master or agent of the vessel, and no delivery orders unsupported by the bills of lading will be accepted.

15. When discharging iron, drainage pipes, or other goods, which, from their description or want of proper distinguishing marks, there will be difficulty in delivering correctly to consignees, the master of the vessel shall separate before landing, or in course of landing, the various marks and consignments, failing which the Commissioners will refuse to receive the goods.

16. When iron, drainage pipes, or other goods, from their want of description or want of proper distinguishing marks, or from any other cause, are landed in a mixed condition, the master or agent of the vessel will be allowed two clear days to sort and make over the goods to the Commissioners and; until the goods have been made over and the usual receipt granted, they will remain on the wharf at the risk of the vessel. Such goods, if not made over to the Commissioners within two clear days, will, at the expiration of that time, be subject to wharf-rent at the schedule rates, the rent incurred being payable by the vessel. After receipt of such goods by the Commissioners, consignees will be allowed two clear days to take delivery before incurring wharf-rent charges. This exemption shall not be extended to goods the consignees of which refuse or neglect to forward their invoices within 24 hours after the vessel commences to discharge.

17. Packages containing jewellery, precious stones, or specie, shall be taken delivery of by consignees direct from the jetties as soon as they are landed.

18. All goods transhipped from one vessel to another without being landed, and without the assistance of the jetty cranes, are exempted from all charges, provided notice of transhipment is given by consignees or vessels' agents to the Jetty Superintendent immediately after the vessel hauls alongside a jetty to discharge. If goods for transhipment are landed on the jetties, they will be allowed to remain in the sheds free of wharf-rent for five clear running days.

19. Masters of vessels are responsible for the proper slinging of cargo on board, and for directing the crane-drivers when discharging or loading.

20. The special sanction of the Commissioners shall be necessary to work the jetties before and after regular hours and on Sundays and authorized holidays; and no overtime work shall be performed by any of the servants of the Commissioners without permission. In order to facilitate discharge of vessels, they will be allowed to work on holidays, so long as accommodation can be conveniently provided for cargo in the jetty sheds, on payment of double jetty hire and the usual overtime fees to the establishments employed.

21. The sanctioned holidays recognized by the Commissioners shall be—

	Days.		Days.
New Year's day	1	Juggodhatree	1
Sree Punchoomy	1	Christmas	2
Good Friday	1		—
Queen's Birthday	1	Total ...	20
Doorga and Luckhee Poojah ...	12		—
Kally Poojah	1

22. Working hours shall be from 6 A.M. to 6 P.M. All fees for overtime work and for working on holidays shall be regulated by the sanctioned pay of each employé. The rule shall be one and a half hour's pay for one hour's work, working days being calculated at 26 days in the month, and for holidays or part of a holiday one day's pay. All fees for overtime work shall be paid to the Commissioners.

23. Two clear days, exclusive of Sundays and the holidays recognised by the Commissioners, shall be allowed to consignees for the removal of goods from the jetty sheds.

24. Consignees applying for delivery of goods shall fill up the jetty chullan showing the quantities, weights, or measurements, and the landing charges payable thereon. This form, accompanied by the Custom House bill of entry, shall be presented at the office of the Commissioners, where the amount of the landing charges will be received and a receipt granted in original and duplicate, if required. The jetty chullan, accompanied by the bill of lading and delivery order from the master or agents of the vessel, shall then be handed to the shed officer, who will examine the documents, and on being satisfied that they are in order, will grant delivery and authorize the gate officer to pass the goods.

25. Permission to consignees from the Collector of Customs to open packages shall be countersigned by the Superintendent of the Jetties. The opening of any package without the condition of the package being previously questioned will be treated as delivery of the goods by the Commissioners to the consignee, and no claim for loss or damage subsequently discovered will be admitted.

26. Damaged goods for which a claim is brought against the ship shall not be charged wharf-rent until the fourth day after landing, provided notice of survey is given to the Jetty Superintendent within 48 hours after the goods have been received from the ship.

27. Goods taken delivery of, but not removed from the jetty compound, shall lie at the risk of the owner, consignee, or agent.

28. The following goods will not be received in the sheds in course of shipment, nor will any receipt be granted for such goods by the Commissioners, viz. assafœtida, cutch, safflower, camphor, turmeric, aniseed, hogslard, ghee, all oils, India-rubber, molasses, myrabollams, treacle, and wet sugar. Such goods will only be allowed inside the jetty compound on the production of an order from officer of the ship that they are to be received on board the same day.

29. Shippers of goods shall fill up the jetty chullan showing the quantities, weights, or measurements, and the shipping charges payable thereon. This form, accompanied by the Custom House shipping bill, shall be presented at the Office of the Commissioners, where the amount of the shipping charges will be received and a receipt granted in original and duplicate, if required. The jetty chullan, accompanied by the stamped shipping order and shipping bill, shall be handed to the shed officer, who will examine the documents, and, on being satisfied that they are in order and all charges paid, will authorize the gate officer to pass the goods in at the jetty gate.

30 Every package, bale, or case sent for shipment at the jetties, shall be entered in a cart ticket in the form prescribed, and no goods unaccompanied by this ticket will be allowed to pass into the jetty enclosure. Every cart ticket shall contain the date, name of vessel on which the goods are to be shipped, the exporter's name, the marks, quantity and description of articles shipped, and the current license number of the cart.

31. Exporters must provide their own coolies for unloading carts. Carts will be allowed to unload in the order in which they pass in at the gate.

32. The Commissioners do not undertake to receive goods into the jetty sheds until the jetty charges have been paid, and the jetty chullan, the shipping order, and the Custom House shipping bill have been deposited with the shed officer.

NOTIFICATION—(1.)

Police and Municipal jurisdiction of the Suburbs of Calcutta.

Dated 10th September 1877.—In modification of the boundaries declared in the Government notifications dated 17th October 1867, 5th June 1869, 30th March 1868, and 22nd September 1870, and published respectively in the Calcutta Gazettes of the 23rd October 1867, 16th June 1869, 1st April 1868, and 28th September 1870, the following are declared to be the revised boundaries with effect from the 1st October 1877.

Northern Boundary.

Commencing from the north-west angle at Paramanick Ghât on the River Hooghly, the boundary follows the northern side of Paramanick Ghât Road eastwards to its junction with the Cossipore Road; thence northwards along the western side of the Cossipore Road till its junction with Dhareabagan Road; thence eastwards along the northern side of the Dhareabagan Road till it meets the Barrackpore Trunk Road, which it crosses; and thence continues along the northern side of the north Sinthee Road eastwards till it meets the Eastern Bengal Railway line, crossing to the eastern side of the said line at No. 2 bridge, north of the Dum-Dum station.

Eastern Boundary.

The boundary on the east follows the eastern side of the Eastern Bengal Railway line southwards till it meets the bridge over the new canal at Ooltadangah; from thence it follows the eastern bank of the new canal till it joins the Balliaghatta Canal at the Dhappa toll house; thence crosses the Balliaghatta Canal to its southern bank; thence westwards along the southern bank of the Balliaghatta Canal till it meets Paugladanga Canal Road; thence along the eastern side of the Paugladanga Canal Road to its junction with the Paugladanga Road; thence along the eastern side of the Paugladanga Road till it meets the Chingreeghatta Road; thence southwards to the Punchannogram iron boundary pillar; thence southwards along the eastern side of an unmetalled road till it meets the municipal tramway; thence it turns westwards along the southern boundary of the municipal tramway till it meets the south Tangrah Road; thence it follows the eastern side of the Tangrah Road till it meets Christopher's Lane and Topseeah Road; thence along the eastern side, and afterwards along the southern side, of the Topseeah Road till it joins the Tilljullah Road; thence along the southern side of the Tilljullah Road to No. 4 bridge of the Calcutta and South Eastern State Railway line; thence along the eastern side of the line of railway till it meets the Kankilay Road; thence westwards, crossing the railway, it follows the southern side of the Kankilay Road till it meets the Gurreahat Road; thence southwards along the eastern side of the Gurreahat Road till it meets the Mollahatty Road.

Southern Boundary.

Leaving the Gurreahat Road, the boundary runs westwards along the southern side of the Mollahatty Road till it meets the Russapaugla Road; thence northwards along the western side of the Russapaugla Road till it meets the Tallygunge Bridge Road; thence along the southern side of the Tallygunge Bridge Road westwards to Tallygunge Suspension Bridge, where it crosses Tolly's Nullah; from thence it runs along the southern side of the Tallygunge, Shapore, Goragatchee, and the Taratalla Roads, which latter passes through the villages of Dowlutpore No. 441, Indree No. 446, and Durreepin No. 383; thence westwards along the southern side of the Circular Garden Reach or Moocheekhollah Road to the point where the Durreepin boundary crosses it; and thence along the southern side of the Pahurpore Road, which diverges from that point through the villages of Singerathee No. 444, Futtehpore No. 430, and Ramasathee No. 432; and thence northwards along west side of the above road, through the villages of Futtehpore No. 430, and Ramessurpore No. 800, till it joins the western boundary line at the junction of the boundary villages Ramessurpore and Garden

Reach; the boundary then proceeds northwards for a short distance up to Garden Reach Road, following the boundary common to Moodially, Dhobapara, and Dum-Duma on the one side, and Garden Reach on the other, up to the Dum-Duma drain; thence along the eastern cut of the Dum-Duma drain in a straight line to the River Hooghly.

Western Boundary.

Starting from the trijunction of the village of Dum-Duma, Garden Reach, and River Hooghly, it proceeds along the southern bank of the River Hooghly as far as Hastings' Bridge; it thence follows the northern bank of Tolly's Nullah up to Jerut Bridge; thence along the northern approach to the bridge to the Lower Circular Road; thence along the southern and eastern side of the Circular Road up to Manicktollah Road; thence eastwards along the northern side of the road to a point where the Marhatta Ditch touches the Manicktollah Road; thence along the Marhatta Ditch northwards till it meets the Upper Circular Road; thence northwards along the Circular Road to the point where it meets the Halseebagan Road; thence along the northern side of the Halseebagan Road eastwards till it meets the Marhatta Ditch (which is the boundary between Halseebagan and Goureebere), which it follows till it meets the Ooltadangah Road, following the southern side of the said road till it joins the Upper Circular Road, and follows the eastern side of the same road, and the eastern and northern banks of the Marhatta Ditch, till it joins the River Hooghly at Permit Ghât; thence it proceeds along the eastern bank of the Hooghly River up to the Paramanick Ghât.

1 Note.—All railways, canals, tramways, drains, lanes, &c, (with the exception of the Calcutta Circular Road and Marhata Ditch) situated on the above boundaries are included in the Suburbs of Calcutta, together with the drains on both sides of all such roads and lanes.

2. Note.—The villages of Nyenan, Neej-Nyenan, Nyenan (east), and Neej-Senthee, situated north of the northern boundary line of the Suburbs as above defined, are attached to thana Burranuggur, of district 24-Pergunnahs.

3 Note.—The portion of village Neemuckpooktan situated east of the Pangladanga road is attached to thana Tallygunge, of district 24-Pergunnahs.

4 Note.—The village of Govindpore and parts of villages Aruckpore, Selimpore, and Dhacoorea situated west of the Gurreah Hât Road, and north of the Mollahatty Road are included in the Police and Municipal jurisdiction of the Suburbs of Calcutta.

The opinion which I expressed last year, that a new era as regards the roads has dawned on this district, is, I am happy to report, being realized. South of the Ganges I have the independent opinion of the District Superintendent, the Opium Agents, native gentlemen, and last, though not least, the gariwans, that the roads are in capital order.

We have the two chief elements of good roads, namely money and intelligent action on part of the road engineers and overseers; and although much remains still to be done in the way of bridges to make our roads passable at all seasons of the year, during the present dry season the district is covered with a net-work of roads over which a carriage may he driven at the rate of 10 miles an hour. As I have stated in previous reports, the country north of the Ganges, lying low and being subject to inundation, is generally unfavourable for roads which are passable at all seasons of the year. The sandy soil is almost useless for embankments; what is made this year being liable to be washed away the next, and consequently hitherto there has been difficulty in spending the cess proceeds of the fertile lands north of the Ganges in that division of the district and the landholders were beginning to grumble. The committee have now determined, however, to make liberal grants for village roads to indigo planters and zemindars whom we know will spend the money properly and submit authentic accounts of the work done; and during the past year a considerable number of subordinate roads within the Begusarai sub-division have been put in capital order. In the sudder sub-division nearly all the village road-making is done in those parts frequented by me, where I can form an accurate estimate regarding the work done; but in the villages of the sub-division only occasionally visited by members of the committee, notices are duly posted that a certain sum is to be spent on the specified road, and besides the members of committee any one who choses may report whether the work is well done or not. At present I consider we have, with one exception, namely a high and dry loop road between Lukhisarai and Sheikpura, now being surveyed, as many communications in this district as we can maintain properly; and all our energies must, for the next few years at all events, be directed to get these roads in first-rate order, and properly bridged. The following memorandum will show what has been done during the past year

South of the Ganges:—Monghyr and Seetakoond road.

The Road Cess Committee was chiefly judged by the state of this road, which, leading to the hot-springs, from time immemorial has been frequented by pilgrims and holiday-makers. The pitiable narratives of the perils of the road undergone by pilgrims, and of broken springs and carriages by holiday-makers, recoiled on the committee's head; so as the road opens out a vast alluvial tract of country bordering on the Ganges, it has lately been metalled and put in such good order that the former discontent has changed into unqualified praise. The above remarks apply equally to the Pirpahar road.

Bhagulpore road.

This road, which three years ago I could hardly ride over beyond a foot pace, is now a fine pucca road over which I continually drive. We are paying much attention to tree-planting on this and other roads, and I have requested the District Engineer to give as much variety as he can, and have particularly recommended the following common trees on account of their beauty, usefulness, or shade.

Accompaniment of the Road Cess Annual Administration Report.

LIST OF TREES.

	English or Latin Names.	Local Names.
1.	Sâl	Sakua.
2.	Ebony	Kewd.
3.	Jerminalia tomentosa	Asan.
4.	Ditto ajuna	Kawa.
5.	Latifolia	Dhan.
6.	Kalosanthes Indica	Saupathi.
7.	Stercospesmun suavcolens	Paral or parar. This is a fine begnonia, procurable at Bhim Bund.
8.	Cotton tree	Semul.
9.	Symphocos spicata	Lodh. This is a very beautiful small tree, and would grow well near the banks which hold water.
10.	Bassia latifolia	Mahwa.
11.	Butea frondosa	Paras.
12.	Cassia fistula	Amaltas.
13.	Mango	Am.
14.	Various figs	Pipal, gular, ber or banyan.
15.	Azad iraelita Indica	Neem.

E. LOCKWOOD,
Magistrate, and Chairman, D. R. C.

The neem trees are looked on by travellers as fair spoil to supply tooth brushes; but at the suggestion of a former Magistrate of Monghyr, I find a cow's bone suspended from the tree completely preserves it from spoliation.

Barriarpore to Ghoreghat.

This is a continuation of the Bhagulpore road, and is in fair order.

Barriarpore to Khurruckpore.

This road has been lately metalled, and when I drove over it last month I found it in perfect order. That part near the railway station subject to inundation and the denuding ripple of the flood has been most successfully faced with stone and coarse pampass grass, the roots of which hold the earth together so as to defy the water. The trees alongside this road are now growing up into valuable timber, and travellers can walk in shade during nearly the entire length.

Beyond Khurruckpore a fine bridged road was made by the Court of Wards. The manager of the Durbhunga Raj now declines, and fairly I think, to keep the road in order, so I have treated it as a village road this year, and under the supervision of Mr. King, who kindly undertook the work, I had it repaired and found it in capital order last month, when I drove a carriage and pair over it. The bridges, serving as irrigation sluices, will be maintained by the Court of Wards.

Mullehpore to Gungta Road.—This is a continuation of the Khurruckpore and Gungta road to the Mullehpore station on the chord line. It was made during the famine under my personal supervision, is now one of the finest banked roads in the district. It has opened out a vast tract of country, and what was dense jungle on both sides is now changed to cultivated fields. The change has been almost magical, and the zemindars told me, indeed I would judge for myself, that the value of property in that part of the country has greatly increased. I drove over this road last month and reported very favorably on the overseer, Mr. Phillipe, who has charge of it. If these roads between Monghyr and Jamooe railway station, nearly 50 miles in total length, were in England, I have no doubt that they would be crowded with bicyclists almost to the exclusion of other vehicles.

Mullehpore to Jamooe.—This road leading from the railway station to the head-quarters of the sub-division, has been metalled this year, and I found it in good order in November. It wants trees sadly, and I trust the plants which have been put in lately will not be destroyed.

Jamooe to Lukhiserai.—This is one of the best roads in the district, and so long as I can remember always has been so. I found a spring of pure water flowing close to the road four miles from Jamooe, and I propose making a cistern there for the benefit of travellers.

Jamooe to Secundra.—This road, which was made during the Famine, is a first-rate work made under my supervision, and is being bridged and is drivable throughout.

Luckhiserai to Secundra.—This also is a famine road made under my supervision. It is drivable throughout, and is a most useful work opening out a vast tract of rice-country.

Lukhiserai to Sheikhpoora.—I found this road in fair order when I passed over it last month. I have requested the engineer to utilize the stone collected in former years for the purpose of metalling in making causeways along the water-courses intersecting this road, which, I regret to say, is subject to violent inundation during the rains, and is then impassable.

For the convenience of the Sheikpura people, we have a project to make a road over the high land some three miles south of this road joining the Luckhiserai to Secundra road and Sheikpura to Secundra road.

Sheikpurah to Sheikhopore Road.—This road is in fair order.

Simultolah to Chakai Road.—This part of the country is most favorable for road-making, being high and gravelly. This road, together with that from Simultolah to Burna nulla, (both made during the year) joins us with the Bhagulpore district, and opens out a vast tract of forest country.

Jamalpore Road.—This is a first-class metalled road and is in good repair; I drive over it at least once every month.

Dharrarah Road.—This road was made by my recommendation during the year. It opens out a large tract of fertile country, and leads to the Kajrah hills, from whence Monghyr receives its supply of fire-wood. I was over the road a few days back, and although I am unable fully to concur with Mr. Dear's opinion that it is "too good," I consider it passable.

Kujrah to Soorjgurrah.—This is a fine metalled road, one of the best in the district.

Burhea Railway Station Road.—I have not seen this road since it was metalled at the request of the traffic manager, but I believe it is in fair order.

Sultangunge and Arzigunge Road.—This road also I am obliged to report on by hearsay, but I have reason to believe that the money spent this year on it has been well spent.

Patna Road.—This road generally is in good repair. I drove over the first 10 miles on more than one occasion lately, and found it in capital order. There is, however, the Dakra nulla which forms an obstruction, and at present sends penurious cartmen a good way round by an indifferent cart-track over the adjoining diara. I propose to make the ferry free during the cold season. I was over the other portion of the road in the beginning of the year, and found it, as I believe it is now, in good order as a fair-weather road. Want of bridges makes it almost impassable in the height of the rains; but as I have before remarked, with the rail-road on one side and the Ganges on the other, this road is not much required during the rains.

Roads north of the Ganges.—The Tirhoot road, equally with the Patna road, being liable to inundation, is always a source of anxiety to the engineer. We have done all that can possibly be done with the means at our disposal, and during the year, on mature consideration, an embanked road has been made at Tegrah, which has stood very well, and serves both as a high road and also as an embankment to keep the Ganges flood for a vast tract of low lying country to the north. This work has given much satisfaction to the neighbouring planters and zemindars. I have not been yet over this road since the early part of the year, but the District Engineer assures me that it is in good repair. This road has received more attention from me than any other road in the district.

Bucktearpore Road.—This is a famine road made under my supervision, and is in fair order, I believe. I shall drive over it shortly.

Peeree Road.—As above.

Bhutkher to Gogree.—This is a very good road, and all it requires is surface repairs. The Sub-Registrar at Gogree has kindly undertaken supervision of the work, and when I was at Gogree last month, the matter was arranged. I hope to inspect the work shortly, but I have no doubt I shall find it well done.

Regarding the Road Cess Committee, as I have previously remarked, very few of the members see much of the district roads; those who do, Major Waller, Mr. Savi, Mr. Crowdy, and General Murray, gave me all the assistance in their power, and my best thanks are due to them.

A statement showing the works proposed to be executed during the present cess year herewith accompanies.

C. D. C. WINTER,
Vice-Chairman, District Road Cess Committee.

No 61, dated Bhagulpore, the 4th January 1877.

From—V. TAYLOR, Esq., Chairman, District Road Fund Committee, Bhagulpore,
To—The Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division.

I HAVE the honor to submit herewith the annual report and accounts of the Bhagulpore District Road Fund for the year ending 30th September 1876.

Committee.—The following statement shows the names of the members on the District Road Committee at the close of the year:—

Number.	Names of members.	Designation.	Date of appointment.	Date of reappointment.
1	V. Taylor, Esq	Magistrate and Collector and Chairman.
2	C. C. Quinn, Esq.	Senior Covenanted officer ..
3	Major W. Hume	District Superintendent of Police
4	Rajah Hurbullub Narain Singh	Zemindar	July 1873 ...	September 1874.
5	Hurry Mohun Thakoor	Landholder
6	James Hennessy, Esq.	Indigo-planter
7	Baboo Soorjee Narain Singh	Pleader and Landholder . .
	Baboo Radha Churn Gangooly	Landholder	April 1874.
9	T. Griffiths, Esq	Indigo-planter
10	Dr. N Baillie	Civil Surgeon	Sept. 1874.
11	Baboo Surdharee Lall	Landholder
12	Major G. S Hills	Executive Engineer, Bhagulpore	14th July 1875
13	Baboo Tez Narain	Landholder
14	M B. Morrison, Esq.	Ditto	October 1875.
15	Baboo Judoo Nath Sircar	Pleader and Landholder

It will be seen that among the non-official members three were appointed during the year, four during 1874, while the rest have been on the Committee since its formation, having been re-appointed in the interim.

All the members, with the exception of those three first named, have therefore completed their two years' tenure of office, and the Collector has been requested to consider the question of the re-nomination of members under section 49.

Changes.—The only change in the personnel of the Committee was, as usual, due to the transfer of an official member. The District Superintendent of Police, Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, left the district in April 1876, and his place has been supplied by Major W. Hume. Baboo Soorjee Narain Singh, who so efficiently filled the office of Vice-Chairman to the Committee since its formation, and of whose valuable services in this capacity I have had occasion to speak on more than one occasion, resigned his post, and Major Hume has been elected in his room.

Meetings.—The Committee held five meetings during the year for the transaction of business, which is more than the minimum number required by section 54.

All the meetings were presided over by myself. Ten days' previous notice under section 57 was always given, and there were no adjourned meetings, as a quorum was always present.

The subjoined statement will show the attendance of the members at each meeting. Considering that many of them are but occasional residents of the town, the meetings have been very fairly attended. It may be noticed that the senior covenanted officer, Mr. Quinn, having been away from the district on duty during a portion of the year, and the Civil Surgeon, Dr. Baillie, being absent on furlough, the official element was generally small at the meetings.

Branch Committees.—The number of Branch Road Committees is the same as reported last year, viz. one at the head-quarters of each sub-division. These committees having been organized in October 1873 the members had completed their tenure of office in September 1875, and a re-appointment under section 49 took place in May last.

The difficulty of a judicious selection of members for the Branch Committees will be evident from the subjoined statement showing the number of meetings held by each Committee and the average attendance of the members:—

Commissionership.	District	Number of members forming Committee.		Number required to form a quorum.	Number of meetings held	Meetings at which there was no quorum.	Average attendance at meetings.	Number of members who did not attend any meeting.	Number of members who attended only						Percentage of average attendance to whole committee.
									One meeting.		Two meetings.		Three meetings.
		Official.	Non-official.						Official.	Non-official.	Official.	Non-official.	Official.	Non-official.
Bhagulpore ...	Banka ...	1	5	2	3	1	2·6	4	1	2	1	2	?	1	44·4
	Mudehpoorah ..	1	9	3	1	...	7	3	1	6			...	...	70
	Soopool	1	10	4	1		5	6	1	4	.	...	...	...	45·4

At Banka there were three meetings held during the year, and at one of these no quorum was formed. At Soopool and Mudehpoorah the committees held only a single meeting throughout the year. The sub-divisional officer of Mudehpoorah accounts for this by stating that "there was no necessity for holding any more as nothing is done directly through the members here." This may have been the case; in fact, Branch Road Committees here have not yet been vested with independent powers under section 79, but still the explanation given by the sub-divisional officer does not seem to be the only one. Branch Committees without full powers ought to have sufficient business for at least one meeting in each quarter of a year, in considering questions relative to village roads, which have been entirely made over to them, in making suggestion statements, and estimates for district works, and otherwise rendering such assistance to the District Committee as they are expected to give from their local knowledge.

Another, if not the main, reason for the paucity of meetings is suggested by the following extract from a letter from the sub-divisional officer of Mudehpoorah:—

"Notwithstanding the following members were invited to attend the Road Cess Committee held in the sub-divisional head-quarters on different occasions, I am sorry to say that they never attended a single meeting up to date. It becomes therefore very difficult to form a quorum as referred to in section 58 of the Act; and in consequence hereof we are unable to hold committees on the days fixed."

It would appear that meetings are not held more frequently less from the want of work than from the indifference of the members.

To make these committees really useful for the specific object for which they are formed, the sub-divisional officers ought to take every opportunity, by personal conference and influence, to enlist their interest in such an important matter as the improvement of local communications, and thus to get them to attend meetings

Review of the transactions of the year.—The District Committee held their meeting, under section 70, for considering the estimates of income and expenditure for the year under report in July 1875; the estimate of expenditure submitted at this meeting embraced a wider range of sub-heads than before. Besides repairs to existing roads, the Committee had to provide for the maintenance and repairs of relief roads transferred under the orders of Government to the District Road Committee The length of roads which the Committee were thus expected to maintain being much greater than in previous years, it was found desirable to provide for an establishment of their own, and this was done at an estimated cost of Rs. 18,844, including tools and plant.

Rupees 12,000 were allotted for village roads; Rs. 5,000 kept as a famine reserve; and one original work, an office for the Committee, was budgetted for at Rs. 6,000.

The cost of establishment for collections, under the Committee's control and the contingent charges of the two offices, were estimated at Rs. 4,806.

The total estimated cost of original works and repairs was Rs. 84,008; the estimate of expenditure, including establishments, amounted to Rs. 1,07,658.

To meet the proposed expenditure the Committee reckoned upon a balance of Rs. 5,000 on the 1st October 1875; and the receipts from sources of income other than those under parts II, III, and IV of the District Road Cess Act was estimated at Rs. 18,434. The amount to be raised from road cess on lands, &c., was therefore Rs. 84,224. It was resolved to levy road cess during the ensuing year (year under report), at three-fourths of the maximum rate provided in section 21 and schedule E of the Act, and this rate was accordingly declared under section 74 at a meeting held on the 21st August 1875.

The actual balance in the treasury in favour of the Committee on the 1st October 1875 was upwards of Rs. 55,371, but as the Government directed that the cost of grain expended on relief works carried on by the special department during the scarcity of 1874 should be charged against the District Road Fund, the year opened with a deficit balance of Rs. 38,060.

A representation was then made to Government to the effect that the imposition of such a heavy burden on the Committee was calculated to interfere seriously with their plans, and the Government were eventually pleased to make a grant of Rs. 79,389-6-3 to write off the debt imposed upon it.

The Committee were thus relieved from the necessity of curtailing their estimates, and were enabled to carry into effect their plan of organizing a district engineering establishment of their own.

The actual receipts and expenditure for the year, as compared with the estimates, are shown below:—

	Estimated.			Actual.
	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
Receipts	1,07,658	13	4	1,44,494	11	9
Expenditure	1,07,658	0	0	70,825	12	10

One item of expenditure not previously estimated for was the payment of compensation, under Act X of 1870, for lands required for relief roads and tanks. The total sum paid on this account was Rs. 2,470.

Exclusive of this charge and the regular expenditure on collection, office establishment, and contingencies, the actual amount disbursed on works was Rs. 47,604-2-10

The attention of the Committee was, early in the year, called to an apprehended scarcity in the north of the district, and the District Engineer, immediately after his appointment, was directed to visit the parts and to take steps for alleviating the distress if there was any existing. Some slight distress was found to exist along the Nepal frontiers, and, as a relief measure, the improvement of village roads in the neighbourhood was undertaken with the Rs 5,000 famine reserve. The necessity for relief fortunately ceased with the setting in of the rains, but the operations were continued till the end of September with a view to making the works undertaken of permanent utility, though it was difficult to obtain the required sort of labourers, ablebodied men not being taken on. The amount expended on this account was only Rs. 2,390-13-6.

Rs. 6,334-6-10 was expended on the Banka road, and Rs. 17,399 on the Bowsee road. These two roads are by far the most important in the south of the district, serving as they do to open up the Banka sub-division, which takes up nearly one-half of the whole tract. Both of them have been nearly completed. No particular mention need be made of the other works taken up during the year, as Appendix A will show in a concise form the expenditure incurred on each and the progress made to the close of the year.

All district works were done from October 1875 to January 1876 by the Executive Engineer, Bhagulpore district, and since February by the Committee's engineering establishment.

As already mentioned, Rs. 8,000 was allotted to each Branch Committee for the maintenance of village roads. The Soopool Committee expended the whole of their allotment for the year, and to good purpose, as I can speak from personal knowledge, and thus gave relief to the very poor in the villages. The sub-divisional officer, Mr. Barrow, has made marked improvements in village communication, and he deserves thanks for the interest he has evidently taken in this matter. The Mudehpoorah and Banka Committees have expended Rs. 1,769-7-4 and Rs. 1,303-7 respectively. Credit is due to the Chairmen of both Committees for the interest they personally take in the improvement of the village roads in their respective sub-divisions. The Chairman of the Banka Committee has the advantage of having one of the Committee's overseers near his head-quarters, and he avails himself of his professional advice whenever necessary.

The office building, for which provision was made in the estimate, was not commenced last year, as the bricks prepared for this purpose were under sanction made over by the Superintendent, Central Jail, to the Dispensary Committee. An office building for the Committee has become a necessity, as a large amount has to be paid monthly as rent for the District Engineer's office and godown. The Department Public Works have also charged rent for the room in the Collectorate building occupied by the road cess collecting office, and another corner occupied by the Committee's clerk

The detailed accounts of income and expenditure for the year are submitted herewith; they do not call for any particular remark, except that the Committee made a fresh application to Government for an adjustment of the sum of Rs. 27,223-2-10, expended by them on famine works from District Road Fund; but the Government of Bengal, however, declined to accede to the Committee's application for a refund of this amount.

The expenditure incurred by the Branch Committees have not been embodied with annual account, as they were returned for correction, and not received back till after the compilation of the district accounts for the fourth quarter, and have therefore been shown in the account under head advance. They will be adjusted during the year 1876-77.

The balance at the close of the year as shown in the return for the quarter is Rs. 73,668-14-11. This balance is, however, only nominal, as it includes Rs. 23,988-10 on account of road cess collections for Monghyr since the beginning. The amount due to the Monghyr Committee will be shortly remitted.

Office.—The office was inspected early in June by Deputy Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Bengal, Mr. Wilson, who was on the whole well satisfied with the manner in which the books and accounts were kept, the points noticed by him as drawbacks were satisfactorily explained.

The head clerk has been in charge of the office for upwards of four years, having been appointed to his present post from its formation, he has always given entire satisfaction.

I must not omit to notice that several petitions were put in during the year for the construction or improvement of roads in different parts, a circumstance which shows that the people are fully appreciating the objects of the Road Cess Act.

Conclusion.—More work would have been done had it not been necessary for the new District Engineer to make himself thoroughly acquainted with the district and its roads, and to prepare plans and estimates for all work required to be done before any work could be undertaken, and to this he devoted a large portion of his time.

There is no question that as time goes on, and the many important roads yet completed and bridged that a large reduction will be able to be made in the rate of cess levied, though the rate for the year 1876-77 was raised of necessity to the maximum.

J. N. McQueen, Esq., Sub-Manager, Raj Durbhunga, under the Court of Wards, and Honorary Magistrate.
Major W. L. N. Knyvett, District Superintendent of Police.
Dr. D Picachy, Civil Medical Officer, Purneah, and Honorary Magistrate.
Baboo Rojonee Nath Chatterjea, Deputy Magistrate and Deputy Collector.

Non-Official Members.

C. A. Shillingford, Esq., Honorary Magistrate of Manshye, and Indigo planter.
G. S. Hayes, Esq., Zemindar, and Honorary Magistrate.
H. Cave, Esq , Indigo planter.
G. J. Burnell, Esq., Indigo planter.
W. Cumming, Esq., ditto.
A. J. Forbes, Esq., ditto and Zemindar.
Rajah Lilanand Singh, Bahadoor, Zemindar.
Baboo Srinandan Singh, Zemindar.
„ Hem Chunder Rai, Rai Bahadoor, Zemindar.
„ Bishen Chand, Banker and Honorary Magistrate.
„ Bunshee Lall Jha, Zemindar.
„ Ram Chand Sattya, Zemindar and Banker.
„ Srikant Jha, Zemindar.
„ Mohesh Lall, ditto, Banker, and Honorary Magistrate.
Hakeem Zainuddin Hossein, Zemindar and Honorary Magistrate.
Moonshee Ausaf Ali Khan, Zemindar.

Changes in the Committee.

3. The following changes occurred in the personnel of the Committee during the year under review:—Mr. J. J. Livesay, Joint-Magistrate, was elected Vice-Chairman on his return from deputation to Furreedpore, vice Mr. E. A. Bradbury transferred to Sarun. Mr. A. W. Mackie, Assistant Magistrate was elected Vice-Chairman, vice Mr. J. J. Livesay transferred to Lohardugga. Mr. G. W. Shillingford resigned and Mr. G. S. Hayes was appointed in his place. The names of Baboo Mohesh Lall and Hakeem Zainuddeen Hossein were also added to the list of the members.

Re-appointment of member in the Committee.

4. The following members appointed in September 1874, having served for a period of two years, were reappointed. See Calcutta Gazette dated 15th November 1876.

Major W. L. N. Knyvett.
Dr. D. Picachy.
J. N. McQueen, Esq.
C. A. Shillingford, Esq.
H. Cave, Esq.
G. J. Burnell, Esq.
A. J. Forbes, Esq.
Baboo Rojonee Nath Chatterjea.
„ Srinandan Singh.
„ Hem Chunder Rai, Rai Bahadoor.
„ Bishen Chand.
„ Bunshee Lall Jha.

5. The names of Mr. W. Cumming and Rajah Lilanund Singh were struck off the list, as they have not attended a single meeting since their appointment, and Baboos Bhoobun Chunder Rai* and Soorjoo Mull were appointed in their stead.

* Since cancelled.

6 Moonshee Ausaf Ali Khan has also been struck off the list for misconduct.

7. The following table shews the names of members, the number of sittings during the year, their attendance, and date of appointment.

Arrareah	2	9	4	5	1	4	1	.....	4	.....	3	1	1

10. There were six meetings held at head-quarters, and the Chairman presided in all except in that of the 3rd of December 1875, when he was out in camp. At Kissengunge three and at Arrareah five meetings were held. There was no quorum at a meeting at Arrareah, and the subsequent meeting on account of this adjournment was held without a quorum.

11. The proceedings of the Committee were duly recorded in a minute-book kept for that purpose.

12. The attendance of members at meetings has been fair, considering the distance from head-quarters at which most of them live. Those with whom non-attendance is the rule have ceased to be members. Mr. Cave and Baboo Ram Chand Settya, who only attended one meeting have been absent from the district for a time. Baboos Bunshee Lall Jha and Srinandan Singh might attend oftener.

13 The following were the principal subjects which engaged the attention of the Committee :—

(a) The examination and passing of the annual accounts for the cess year 1874-75.

(b) The selection and appointment of a District Engineer with a suitable staff.

(c) The passing of the estimates of revenue and expenditure prepared by the Vice-Chairman under section 70 of the Act for the cess year 1876-77.

(d) The best mode of protecting the Belwa bund and Purneah embankments.

(e) The passing of the schedule of rates of labour prepared by the Engineers, Mr. Sturmer and Mr. Fernie.

(f) The striking off the Belwa bund and Purneah embankments from the list of works prepared under sections 66 and 68 of the Act.

Branch Committees

14. The copies of the Branch Committees' report are herewith sent.

15 The duty of keeping up the Purneah embankments having been made over to the municipality, and the Collector having decided that the Panar embankment called the Belwa bund, if kept up at all, should be brought under the embankment Act, neither of these works can by law be maintained from road cess funds

Statement of roads.

16. The estimate for the cess year 1875-76 was prepared at a meeting held on the 4th of August 1875 and subsequently revised at a meeting held on the 25th of August 1875. The estimated revenue was Rs. 76,244, the whole of which together with the cash balance estimated as available on the 1st of October 1875, was proposed to be expended on works. This estimate was passed nem con and approved of by you in your No 321PW, dated 30th August 1875.

Estimate of income and expenditure.

Declaration of the rate of cess.

17. At a meeeing held on the 11th September 1875 the cess was fixed at the maximum rate.

18. The accounts of the fund opened on the 1st of October 1875 with a cash balance of Rs. 45,787-3-3, and outstanding balance minus Rs. 48,243-3-9, and Rs 2,67,569-0-6 as balance at credit of deposits; leaving, after adjusting the above, Rs. 2,70,025-1-0 excess expenditure over the receipts of the cess year under report. These accounts have been adjusted by the grant made in Government resolution No. 1242, dated 9th March 1876, in the Department of Public Works, leaving Rs. 9,466-4-11 due by the Road Cess Committee to the Public Works Department for relief works undertaken by them on behalf of the Committee in the year 1874. This advance has been since adjusted. The total income from several sources amounted to Rs. 3,96,274-15-2, the details of which are shown below. The actual amount realized was Rs. 79,653-10-8

19. The arrears referred to in paragraph 20 of my last year's report as due from the estates of Ranee Roshan Jehan and Dharampore, under the Court of Wards, have been collected. Rs 4,839 which remained unrealizable at the close of the year have been subsequently realized. The other items are very slight and do not require any comment.

20. The total expenditure of the year amounted to Rs. 41,027-8-0. Part II of the annual accounts submitted on the 23rd of November 1876 shows in detail the amounts budgetted and actually expended, and are briefly as follow:—

Revised under the head of expenditure.

(a) Rupees 3,044-2-6 were expended on contingencies and office establishment entertained under the Road Cess Deputy Collector and Vice-Chairman, and Rs. 10,885-14-0 on working establishment. This year the salaries for thirteen months have been disbursed as in other departments of Government offices. Taking 13 months' salaries into account, the committee have not exceeded one-fourth of their income, Rs. 79,653-10-8. Rs. 13,930-0-6 being actually paid from the fund.

(b) Rupees 18,637-15-8 were expended in maintaining and repairing roads. The history and progress of each work will be given in the proper place.

(c) Rupees 7,177-9-10 were expended under the head "original works" of this amount Rs. 4,988-2-4 were on account of compensation of lands taken up for roads, and the balance, Rs 2,189-7-6, on actual works. The claims put forward by zemindars for the land taken up for roads show that the district has been under-valued. At the next valuation it is expected that the income of the Committee will be considerably increased.

(d) Rupees 1,281-14-0 were expended on the purchase of tools and plant. This year the Committee had to provide their engineering staff with mathematical instruments, which accounts for the excess expenditure of Rs. 342-14 over the amount Rs. 939 provided for the purpose in the budget estimate.

21. The Road Cess Committee were unable to undertake much work through the delay in approving of the appointment of a District Engineer. Mr. Sturmer joined his appointment on the 12th of January 1876; but he had no sooner made himself acquainted with the several roads than he resigned; and Mr. Fernie succeeded him at a time when the working season had passed away. He has now started most of the works, and good progress is being made. This is being done in the current year, and will be the subject of my next year's report. In July 1876 Mr. Fernie made out a note on the condition of most of the district roads. Allotments were made in accordance with his suggestions as far as the funds allowed. But the unexpected disbursement of Rs. 34,466-4-11 has compelled the committee at the meeting held on the 23rd November 1876 to reduce their expenditure budget by that amount. Some of the roads have altogether been left out, and in others the allotments have been reduced. The following statement, drawn up from Mr. Fernie's report, shows briefly what work is required and what is being done on each road.

22. The total expenditure under the head "maintenance and repairs" amounted to Rs. 18,637-15 8, and the works were undertaken by the District Engineer, the sub-divisional officers of Kishengunge and Arrareah, and by several indigo planters. None of the committee's servants were interested in any contract.

PART I.—BY DISTRICT ENGINEER.

Keotgama to Tarapore, No. 1, length 79 miles.

This road runs across the district from the river Kosi on the west vid Sirsee, Purneah, Kudbah, Barsoe, to Tarapore on the borders of Maldah and Dinagepore. Between Kosi and Sirsee it is merely a tract cut through the reed jungle on the river churs; but eastwards up to Purneah it is a well laid out road, raised above flood-level during the famine year, and bridged with temporary wooden bridges which require renovation. Between Purneah and Kudbah thana the old ferry fund road was considerably improved during the famine, being raised and realigned in places. Between Kudbah and the large and important mart of Barsoe on the Mahanuddi an entirely new, well raised, embanked road has been made, on which, however, the bridges require renewal. On the last portion, that lying between Barsoe and Tarapore on the Nagar river, a length of eleven miles, the work done during the scarcity of 1874, being performed chiefly by villagers unaccustomed to road-making and debilitated by want, was badly and irregularly executed, and was left by the Special Department of Public Works in so unfinished a state that it could not be utilized by the public. To make this passable, earthwork to the extent of 1,233,709 cubic feet has been done this year at a cost of Rs. 2,922-1-4. To make the whole road thoroughly useful numerous bridges are required which will be taken in hand as funds are available.

Patherdewah to Bhopla Tajpore —No. 3, length 7¼ miles.—This road, like the last, runs across the district. It starts from Patherdewah on the borders of Nepal in the extreme north-west and ends at Bhopla Tajpore on the Nagar river, the boundary between Purneah and Dinagepore. From Patherdewah it runs nearly due south to Mnteari thana, thence south-east to Bassantpore sub-division, over a high sandy country where extensive earthwork is not required. Thence it turns nearly due east, crossing the Panar and other smaller streams, till it reaches Kusba Amour thana where the Purwan river is crossed; thence running south-east along an unbroken embankment, it joins the Ganges and Darjeeling road, and crosses the Mahanadi at Dengra. On the left bank of the river it again leaves the metalled road, and runs due east vid Raneegunge Naka to the Nagar. The earthwork here is good, being raised well above flood-level, but, as it crosses the watershed of the country, numerous bridges are required. During the year earthwork 638,232 cubic feet, surface repairs 8,000 square feet, side drains 10,430 running feet, and turfing 312,574 square feet have been done, costing Rs. 1,781-13-3. By this expenditure this last section of road from Dengrah Ghât to Bhopla Tajpore was put into fair passable order. The bank thrown up during the famine after exposure to two rainy seasons had worn and fallen away considerably, and badly required repairs. The bridge work now in hand will be noticed in next year's report.

Toolsea to Bhuddesri Ghât.—No. 4, length 38 miles.—This road lies entirely in the Kishengunge sub-division. It runs from Toolsea near Nepal nearly due south to Bahadoorgunge thana, thence south-east, crossing the large rivers Kankai and Mahanadi, to Kishengunge. Here it crosses the Ganges and Darjeeling road, and runs due east vid Gowalpokur outpost to Bhudesri Ghât on the Nagar river, near the site of the Nekmard fair, in the Dinagepore district. It is almost entirely a famine road. Between Toolsea and Kishengunge the embankment is below high flood-level, but the last section is one of the best roads in the district and perhaps one of the most useful. Bridges, much needed, are in course of construction. Repairs, consisting of 82,469 cubic feet of earthwork and surface repairs of 76,208 square feet, have been carried out at a cost of Rs. 185-1-11 on that part of the road which lies between the Deputy Magistrates Cutchery and Kishengunge bazar, and a culvert of the following dimensions was built in the same section at a cost of Rs. 141-13.

Length of parapet walls	...	...	...	7 feet.
Thickness of ditto	...	...	...	1½ „
Span of arch ...	...	...	...	4 „
Height from floor to crown	..	...	...	2·9 „
Length of arch ...	...	...	...	18 „ 4 inches.
Height of bank ...	...	...	.	4 „ 6 „

Purneah to Bussantpore, No 5, length 24 miles.—This road runs north and south over high, well-drained ground, and throughout above high flood-level; like all roads running down to the Ganges, it is much used. It is also important as connecting the sub-divisional head-quarters with the sudder station. It was considerably improved, in fact, many miles entirely re-made, in 1874. The temporary bridges erected by the special Department of Public Works have lasted well. The repairs which have been done this year consist only of 38,703 cubic feet of earthwork and 653 square feet of turfing, costing Rs. 99-4. This has all been spent on that part of the road 4 miles between Purneah city and the large rice mart of Kusba, which receives a great deal of traffic from the north, and from constant attrition and the sandy nature of the soil, very soon gets out of order and requires continual attention.

Purneah to Sowraguddi, No. 14. length 30 miles.—This is an important road, running south-west from Purneah towards the Bhagulpore district. The repairs last year have amounted to 432,073 cubic feet of earthwork and 47,535 square feet of turfing, costing Rs. 929-14-3. This work was done between Moheshpore and Bungha, where it was urgently required. This portion of road runs close along the left bank of the Chota Kosi river, and is exposed to the full force of the inundations of the latter From long neglect and high floods, the road had been breached in several places, and through these openings the flood waters poured into the country and destroyed the crops, while, from their force and depth, they seriously endangered the safety of the neighbouring villages. The breaches have been closed and the bank well raised. Since the end of the last rains the road has been thoroughly repaired and improved.

Dewangunge to Huraah viâ Pirgunge, No. 23, length 7 miles—This small but useful cross-road was repaired by Mr. A. Rickets under the superintendence of the District Engineer at a cost of Rs. 37-8. This expenditure has put it into very fair condition as a fair weather road.

Bowakhali to Kootee viâ Gangi, No. 30, length 12 miles.—This is a much-frequented road in the Kishengunge sub-division, running from near Nepal through the large market of Gangi on the Konkai river to Kootee on the Mahanudi below Kishengunge. It was repaired at a cost of Rs. 100, and two bridges built at a cost of Rs. 200, by a native gentleman, under the superintendence of Mr. W. DeCourcy, the Overseer attached to the Kishengunge sub-division.

Belgachi to Kudbah viâ Kanharia.—No. 31, length 12 miles.—This road was repaired by Mr. F. Cruise at a cost of Rs. 50 under the supervision of the District Engineer. This is only a fair-weather road, and superficial repairs were executed, so as to bring the crest into an even surface.

Arrareah to Koorsakatta, No. 35, length 15 miles.—This is a road running from Koorsakatta, a police outpost on the Nepal frontier, to Arrareah. the large village which has given its name to a sub-division in this district It has been put into fair repair by the sub-divisional overseer Baboo Omesh Chunder Banerjee. Earthwork was done to the extent of 75,458 cubic feet, and side drains covering 9,599 running feet, at a cost of Rs. 202-10.

Arrareah to Mattiary, No. 37, length 18 miles.—This road has not been much used since the site of the sub-division has been changed, it is in fair order, and Mr. A. J. Forbes has repaired its bridges at a cost of Rs. 39-12-6

Belwa bund and Purneah embankments, Nos. 41-42 respectively.—The Committee having undertaken the charge of these two embankments, Rs. 1,000 was allotted for their repairs. It was subsequently found that this sum was quiet insufficient for the work. Mr Fernie repaired them and made two retired lines on each work, the cost of which was Rs. 3,354-4-2. Measures are being taken to bring the Belwa bund under the Embankment Act, so that it may be kept up at the cost of those persons for whose benefit it was erected. The Purneah embankments have been transferred to the municipality, as they, like the Panar embankment, had been brought on the books of the Road Cess Committee by mistake.

II. By indigo planters.

Purneah to Modunchuk, No. 12, length 31 miles.—Mr. G. W. Shillingford expended on this road Rs 532-5-3. The repairs consisted of surface dressing 18 miles, earthwork 91,607 cubic feet, side-drains 13,560 running feet, and turfing 3,330 square feet. He also constructed one culvert at a cost of Rs. 368.

Purneah to Hyatpore viâ Munihary, No. 13, length 46 miles.—Mr. Charles Shillingford, as usual, took charge of this very important road running from Purneah vid Saifgunge and Munihary thana near the Ganges and on, vid Hyatpore, to Maldah. The repairs, consisting of earthwork 90,607 cubic feet and turfing 11,648 square feet, were executed at a cost of Rs. 1,195-15-1. He also constructed two culverts for Rs. 1,095-1-6. The work has been done very satisfactorily, considering the great length of the road (46 miles) and the small expenditure.

Gondwara to Sowraguddi, No. 16, length 15 miles—Mr. H. Cave repaired this road at a cost of Rs. 408-3-7. The work was done very well, and a tolerably passable road now exists between Gondwara and Doomar, requiring still three more culverts and a couple of masonry causeways. To the west of Doomar the country is heavily inundated.

Gondwara to Saifgunge, No 17, length 16 miles.

Mr. G. W. Shillingford repaired this road, which consisted of earthwork 18,125 cubic feet, and surface dressing 13 miles, at a cost of Rs. 203-7. He also constructed one culvert at a cost of Rs. 178.

Koary to Sohoria, No. 18, length 25 miles.—Mr. H. Cave, repaired this road at a cost of Rs. 426-12. He also constructed one culvert on this road at a cost of Rs. 178-4. The work has been done very satisfactorily. The road has not only been well lined out, but the bank also has been properly constructed.

Pootheah to Luchmipore, No. 20, length 8 miles.—Mr. H. Cave repaired this road at a cost of Rs. 100 .This expenditure has put the road into passable order, as a dry fair-weather road only, as during the rains the road between Pootheah and Doomar is submerged by the flood-waters of the Kosi and quite impassible.

Saifgunge to Horinkhoree, No. 21, length 16 miles.—Mr. G. J. Burnell repaired this road at a cost of Rs. 500. Mr. Fernie states that of all the roads made by the planters, this is the only one raised above high flood-level and well constructed. There are about six temporary wooden bridges on this road which need extensive repairs.

Luchmipore to Kodarcutta, No. 22, length 8 miles—Mr. H. Cave repaired this road at a cost of Rs. 100. This expenditure has put the road into fair condition for country carts during the dry season; the road being impassable during the rains, owing to the high Ganges floods.

Chaklah to Koary, No. 25, length 10 miles.—Mr. J. L. Shillingford repaired this road at a cost of Rs. 250. Earthwork 108,741 cubic feet and surface repairs 80,150 square feet were done on this road. The work has been done tolerably well.

23. Of Rs. 7,177-9-10 shown under the head "Original Works," Rs. 2,189-7-6 were on account of construction of culverts, &c. Those built on roads Nos. 4, 12, 13, 17, and 18 have already been noticed along with the repairs of these roads and need not be repeated here. One small culvert was constructed on the village road from Manshye to Bhowanipore at a cost of Rs. 29-6 6-by Mr. C. A. Shillingford. Baboo Hem Chunder Rai, Rai Bahadoor, constructed one wooden bridge on the Satarah river between Kilparah and Charakparah at a cost of Rs. 395-14. He received Rs. 150 in the year 1874-75, Rs. 200 in 1875-76, and since the close of the year Rs 45-14. The bridge was 70 feet long and 10 feet broad. Mr. Fernie reports on this bridge that "it has been constructed on a village road, but is nevertheless of great convenience and benefit to the public. The work has been well done, and is also very cheap, costing Rs. 5-3 per running foot, which is very moderate."

Village roads.

24. Rs. 4,946-1-9 were expended on village roads throughout the district—19 in the sudder sub-division at a cost of Rs. 1,680-6-2, 12 in the Kishengunge sub-division at a cost of Rs 1,840-0 5, and 18 in the Arrareah sub-division at a cost of Rs. 1,425-11-2. The names of these 49 roads have been given in statement No. 6, part II, in full detail, and need not be repeated here. They were repaired through the agency of well-to-do ryots and planters, and the work on them has been fairly executed.

Miscellaneous.

25. The duplicate pass book kept under section 86 was forwarded daily to the Vice-Chairman by the Collector.

26. The accounts and the registers of the Committee office are kept up to date. They have been inspected this year by the Assistant Examiner Mr. Wilson, who found but few shortcomings, which were immediately rectified.

27. Rs. 821-11-6, an account of collections of the out-lying villages of pergunnahs Gurhee, Chuck Dilwaree, &c., which were realized in this district from the cess year 1874-75 to the cess year 1875-76, were remitted to the Collector of Bhagulpore in October 1876. But the cost of establishment incurred by me has not yet been realized, and the Collector will be written to on the subject.

District Engineer.

28. Mr. Fernie assumed charge of his office on the afternoon of the 13th of April 1876, and is working most satisfactorily. He knows the district thoroughly, and is active and hardworking. He has during the rainy season inspected the roads, and thus ascertained what is wanted on each, the only way in which such knowledge can be gained. His brief statement showing works to be done in the current cess year 1876-77 is subjoined:—

"Road No. 1.—Portion between Purneah and Kudbah to be raised above high flood-level, and the smaller temporary wooden bridges to be replaced by permanent masonry structures. The remaining length of this road to be repaired and improved and defined where necessary.

"Road No. 2—Where no embankment exists, the road is to be defined by two side-trenches 20 feet apart, and a fair-weather track opened for traffic.

"Road No. 3.—The portion between Dengrah Ghât and Tajpore is to be thoroughly repaired, and the temporary wooden bridges to be replaced, as far as possible, by permanent masonry structures. The rest of the road to be repaired, improved, or defined according to necessity.

"Road No. 4.—The portion of road between Kishengunge and the Nagar River to be thoroughly repaired and masonry bridges built, as far as possible, in lieu of the present temporary wooden structures. The remaining length of road to be repaired, improved, or defined as occasion requires.

"Road No. 5.—Three new drains and two culverts are to be built on this road. The existing bridges to be thoroughly repaired and the bank restored to proper regular section in places.

"Road No. 10.—Between Purneah and Khatta Ghât, a few small bridges are to be built and the road raised in embankment above high flood-level. The rest of the road as far as Bowsee to which point operations will probably extend this year, requires little remark, as the line runs over high waste land, free from inundation.

"Road No. 12.—Between Purneah and Sookhasun, 22 miles; the road will be bridged and raised above high flood-level as far as the allotment will allow. Below the latter point the country is deeply inundated by the Ganges, and an embanked road would be expensive and unsafe.

"Road No. 13.—For the first 23 miles between Purneah and Saifgunge, the road is to be both raised and bridged. South of the latter point the Ganges floods have full sway and an embanked road is unadvisable, without further enquiries.

"Road No. 16.—A good road is to be made between Gondwara and Doomar. Four small culverts and one causeway are to be constructed, the wooden bridge at Powye to be thoroughly repaired and the bank raised where necessary.

"Road No. 21.—A good embankment already exists, but without bridges, which are accordingly to be provided as far possible.

"All other roads, which are of minor importance, and which consist for the most part of simple tortuous cart-tracks, wandering freely over the country are to be re-aligned, where necessary, properly defined by side-trenches, and raised in low places above rainfall."

29. Since this report was received, the work on roads Nos 2 and 10 has been struck out of the estimate in order to provide funds to meet the demand of Rs. 25,000 plus Rs. 9,466-4-11 made by the Government on the Road Cess Committee.

No. 102PW, dated Kishengunge, the 17th October 1876.

From—J. A. CRAVEN, Esq., Chairman, Branch Road Cess Committee, Kishengunge, To—The Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Purneah.

I HAVE the honor to submit my report for the past year on the local improvements in connection with the roads.

2. The following table shows the names of the members of the Branch Road Cess Committee, the number of sittings during the year, their attendance, and date of appointment of the members.

4. The principal objects of the three meetings were to settle (1) which roads were to be repaired; (2) the amounts to be allotted to each road; (3) who was to undertake the work; and (4) finally, the passing of bills after the repairs had been completed and certified to.

5. I regret to say that nearly half the members took no interest whatever in the work, there being five out of twelve who never attended. It is, however, only but fair for me to add that those who did attend the meetings took an intelligent interest in the work, prominently I may notice Moulvi Enaitullah, and Baboos Doorga Persad Singh and Dwarka Nath Banerjea.

6. I annex a statement showing the village roads which were repaired during the year.

No. 45PW, dated Bassantpore, the 15th October 1876.

From—BABOO KEDER NATH DUTT, Deputy Magistrate of the Arrareah Sub-division,
To—The Chairman of the Road Cess Committee of Purneah.

I HAVE the honor to submit the local improvement report for the cess year 1875-76 of the sub-division of Arrareah.

2. The following gentlemen acted as members of the Branch Committee during the year under review:—

Chairman.

1. Baboo Kedarnath Dutt, Sub-divisional Officer.

Vice-Chairman.

2. ,, Chakradher Persad, Moonsiff.

Members.

3. Mr. A. G. Forbes, Zemindar.
4. Meer Wajed Ally, Zemindar of Dehti.
5. Baboo Tofa Lal Chowdry, Zemindar of Balooah.
6. Sheikh Mardanally, Jet Ryot of Chilhanee.
7. ,, Imdadali, Zemindar of Farkia.
8. Baboo Kassiram, Putnidar of Mirzapore.
9. Sheikh Azizool Rahman, Putnidar of Chunderdie,
10. ,, Moujali, Putnidar of Gyari.
11. Baboo Firthanund Thacoor, Zemindar of Balooah.

The statement annexed in the form (Appendix A) directed in the Government resolution No. 1286, dated 13th March 1876, will show all the particulars required about the attendance of members.

3. There were five meetings during the year, and I presided at all of them. I always gave ten days' notice to the members, and previously informed them of the subjects of each meeting. A district engineer was created in the course of the year and the larger roads were made over to him by the district committee. Hence those which go by the name of village roads were the only roads which the branch committee repaired during the year.

4. The following were the principal subjects which engaged the attention of the branch committee:—(a) To consider which of the village roads required repairs during the year; (b) to distribute the village road allotment into the three thanas of the sub-division.

5. Mr. Forbes and Sheikh Azizool Rahman have taken much interest in attending to the repairs of roads in their neighbourhood.

6. There was an allotment of Rs. 2,500 for the village roads out of which Rs. 1,425-11-2 was actually expended during the year.

7. Cheques were issued to the amount of Rs. 1,436-2-4, but an amount of Rs. 10-7-2 was refunded by the parties.

8. The following roads were repaired, and an amount of Rs. 80 was expended on plantation of trees :—

1. From Lahtora to Momrood.
2. „ Sultanpore to Haripore.
3. „ Muteare to North road.
4. „ Sultanpore to Dumaria.
5. „ Dhanpra to Khemkole.
6. „ Sultanpore to Domuria.
7. „ Muteare to Bhudessur.
8. „ Goriah to Chourah.
9. „ Sultanpore to Pakher village.
10. „ Rampore to Etahri ghât.
11. „ Sultanpore to Rampore.
12. „ Rajokher to Chunderdie.
13. „ Rampore to Modunpore.
14. „ Chokai to Burdia ghât.
15. „ Bassantpore to Khosiah ghât.
16. „ Koorsakatta to Maghoo ghât.
17. „ Bassantpore to Ruhikpore.
18. „ Chunderdie to Chiknee.

9. During the year 1874-75 most of the village roads were repaired at the rate of about Rs. 10 a mile; and I represented in my last report that the village headmen were scarcely useful in making the repairs entrusted to them. During the year under report I have in most cases allowed very nearly the rates sanctioned by the District Committee, and have got the work done by respectable men and petty contractors. The work, I dare say, has been all over satisfactory. The measurement of the work rested with Baboo Womesh Chunder Banerjee, the overseer, and I have lost no opportunity to see that the work has been properly done. The Branch Committee, however, hope to perform their work more satisfactorily in the year 1876-77, inasmuch as they are in a position to commence earlier.

W. KEMBLE,
Acting Chairman, D. R. C. Committee.

No. 116, dated Maldah, the 25th November 1876.

From—HERBERT MOSLEY, Esq., Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Maldah,
To—The Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division.

WITH reference to your No. 414PW, dated 3rd instant, I have the honor to submit the accounts of the District Road Committee for the past cess year, and a short report of what has been done.

2. The year opened with a comparatively small balance in hand, and no large amount of cess coming in for some time we were crippled by want of funds at the best working season. This year we start better and shall be able to do more.

3. Before the introduction of the road cess the amount available for roads was very small, and consequently very little could be done; the result being that roads have gradually worn down, and in many cases, being left unnoticed, have been encroached on by cultivators. During the year under report, therefore, we have done as much as we could in the way of raising roads worn away by constant traffic year after year without repair; but it will take some time to remedy former neglect. The encroachments have been remedied to a certain extent, but I hope to put things straight during my tour.

4. For the reasons above given the bulk of the work done has been earthwork. No new bridges were built. The principal bit of bridgework done consisted of extensive repairs to the Gondrail bridge on the Boroghoria road. Year after year fishermen have been in the habit of driving in stakes for nets along the side of the flooring; the earth then loosened washed away, and the consequence was that the flooring of the bridge was undermined. We had to fill up with concrete and build out into the stream to make the bridge safe. I mention this especially as it is an instance of the reckless disregard of property shown by the people of this district. To get a small benefit for themselves, they care not what amount of damage they do to the property of others.

5. The principal road in the district is the first shown in the detailed list of expenditure, being the principal route from the East Indian Railway to Dinagepore and neighbouring districts, and the third is simply the branch into the Sudder station here. The bulk of the expenditure has been on these roads, and they have been immensely improved, though very much yet remains to be done especially in the way of bridging. The first few miles from the ghât opposite Rajmehal are mostly washed, and traffic goes over fields, but it is not proposed to do much to this, for the Ganges is almost certain to cut again, and there is every probability of its washing away the whole of the part over which the road now runs, when it will be doubtful whether the ferry will not have to take an entirely new course. The other roads on which there has been large expenditure are the Boroghoria and the Rohonpore roads. The first is the direct rout from here to Rajshahye. The expenditure on the Rohonpore road has been utterly disproportionate to its importance, and only seven miles of it seem to have had much done. The District Engineer tells me he was ordered to confine his attention principally to roads near the station, and he seems to have been only too happy to do so; it was much more convenient. This too will account for the expenditure of Rs. 67 only out of Rs 3,600 sanctioned for the fourth road on the list. This matter would have been discussed with others at the last committee meeting on the 14th, when the question as to retaining Mr. Mayer's services was to have come up (his one year of probation just expiring), but that I requested its postponement as I could not be present.

6. But I doubt whether the burden of keeping up this Godagaree and Dinagepore road ought to be thrown on us: it is the old trunk road to Dinagepore, and is of no use to this district, which it cuts in two places on the extreme east, passing through mostly uninhabited jungle, the whole revenue of which would not pay for the repairs. There is one lengh of about 13 and another of about 7 miles, the distance from our eastern border varying from ¼ to 6 miles.

7. Mr. Mayer, the District Engineer, was appointed on probation and joined in November. His work has not been satisfactory; but for the reason given above, the Committee has not yet decided as to his retention or not.

8. There were six meetings of the Committee called during the year at one of which there was no quorum. There were thus five meetings, at all of which the Chairman and Vice-Chairman (Baboo Bhubuneshwar Sing, Deputy Collector) were present. Baboo Puddee Lochun Das (a non-official member) attended 4. The subjoined list gives the number of times others attended, though I must premise that the last named three members were only lately appointed, and only one meeting was held (during the year) after their appointment.

I enclose extracts from a report from the District Engineer, which will show more in detail what has been done to the roads.

Extracts from a report from the District Engineer to the address of the Chairman, District Road Committee, Maldah,—No. 70, dated the 4th November, 1876.

THE roads repaired are the following, viz.—

English Bazar to Amirti.—This road is 7 miles in length, and is the high road from English Bazar to Rajmehal. On this road there were several large and deep gaps full of water. The gaps have all been filled, and the greater portion of the road has been raised from 2 to 10 feet in height, with the view to keep it above water during the rains, and the slopes have been turfed besides frequent repairs were done to it during the rains.

Rajmehal and Dinagepore Road.—This road, which is the postal road from Rajmehal to Dinagepore, was divided into four sections by the late Chairman in committee, viz —

1*st.*—Manick chak to Amirti.	3*rd.*—Old Maldah to Gazale.
2*nd.*—Amirti to Nimasari.	4*th.*—Gazale to boundary post.

1*st Section.*—This portion is 11 miles in length, and about 7 of it from Manickchak pass over very low land which is under water during the rains. The Ganges has carried away portions of the road at two or three places, on which account a fair-weather road was made and holes and undulations filled in with earth. The remaining 4 miles of road is on high land, and to keep it above water during the rains it has been raised from 1 foot to 2 feet, and at other places it has had surface repairs.

2*nd Section.*—This portion is 7 miles in length. The greatest portion of this road has been raised from 1 foot to 7 feet, so as to keep it above water during the rains and to allow the dâk-runners to travel without hindrance, and the slopes turfed. The soil in this section is very sandy; accordingly it required very frequent repairs during the rains.

3*rd Section.*—This portion is about 12 to 13 miles in length. At old Maldah, the road runs along the bank of the Mahananda for about a mile or more. The soil being very sandy, I had to increase the slope of the embankment and to turf it, to protect it from erosion by the river. I had also to slope and turf the river bank for the same reason. Every shower of rain caused several breaks on this portion, which was at once repaired and turfed, and which, had it not been done, the river would probably have breached the road, and submerged old Maldah Bazar and its suburbs. At Rangamatee there is a retired river about 130 feet wide, and where it crosses the road the water there is about 4 to 5 feet deep during the dry months, and a ferry is placed there during the rains. In order to get accross this river, a deviation of about a mile was made, in order that the traffic may not be stopped. From the other side of this river the land being high, very little repair was required; but from a short way to the south of Pandooah to Gazale, a distance of about 7 miles, the road has been raised from 1 foot to 2 feet at various places.

4*th Section.*—This portion is about 11 miles in length. A large portion of it has been raised about a foot; besides earth has been placed over the approaches to all the bridges for about a hundred feet on each side to reduce the great rise in them. This road was in a very rugged state, and sadly required repairs.

Boroghorea Road.—This road is 36 miles in length, and is the high road from English Bazar to Rajshahye. The first 3 miles after the first mile passes through swamps, and on this portion of the road there were several large and deep gaps caused by the rains of 1875; and as the stuff on the road is pure clay, the road during the rains becomes soft, and is greatly cut up by numbers of laden carts passing over it, with goods for sale from English Bazar to Amanigunge hât twice a week. The gaps have all been filled, and the road has been raised at places from 1 to 6 feet to keep it above water during the rains, and the slopes have been turfed. From the 6th to the 11th mile the road was tolerably good, and accordingly very slight repairs were necessary; but from the 11th to the 36th mile the road required extensive repairs, and as the allotment for this road was not sufficient, surface repairs were only done to this portion. From below Turtipore Factory to Boroghorea the country during the rains is several feet under water, sufficient to allow large boats to sail over it.

Rohonpore Road.—This road is 20 miles in length. There were several large and deep gaps in this road between the 1st and 7th mile. These have been filled, and the road raised at various places from one to six feet to keep it above water, and the slopes have been turfed; from the 7th to the 20th mile the road has received superficial repairs excepting about two miles of it, which was cut away by the Mahanuddee river, and as the land was not taken for the road, it could not be made; but the path made by carts going over the fields was dressed up so as not to stop traffic.

Kalleachuk Road.—This road is about 12 miles in length, commencing from the fourth mile of the Boroghorea road. About two miles of it were raised from the junction to to a little beyond Goomalty Factory from 1 foot to 2 feet to keep it above water, and the slopes turfed. From beyond Goomalty to Kalleachuk the country is low and under water during the rains, and accordingly it only received surface repair.

Godagaree and Dinagepore Road.—This is the old trunk road from Lalgolah, in the Moorshedabad district, to Darjeeling. Before the road through Purneah was made after the completion of that road, this one was made over to the Ferry Fund Department, and from that time it has been neglected, though it has very heavy traffic on it. In many places the road has worn down 4 feet below the surface of the old road; but as the country here is very high, and it has never been known to be under water, the road does not require raising, but simply to cut the two side walls and spread the earth over the whole width of road. For want of funds the repairs were undertaken late in the season, and owing to the scarcity of men in these parts, that out of twenty-six miles about 3¼ miles only received surface repairs, and 2½ received petty earthwork repair.

English Bazar to Nimasari.—This is the high road from the station vid Nimasari to Dinagepore, and is 3 miles in length. The road has been raised from 1 foot to 2 feet over the greatest portion to keep it above water, and the slopes turfed; besides, several repairs were done to it during the rains, to prevent their increase.

Rohonpore to Parbattipore Road.—This road is 10 miles in length, and is a feeder-road for carrying grain to the Rohonpore rice mart. In some places where the ground rises, the road has, from neglect of several years, been worn down about 3 feet below the surface of the old road. Cutting the two side walls and spreading the earth over the whole width of road is all that is required. About 2 miles or a little more of this road is in a very wretched, state, that it will cost as much to make a new road over the fallow ground (for which the people say there will be no demand) as it would to repair it. This would have been done, but, for want of funds, the repair to this road was undertaken late in the season, on which account about 5 miles of road received superficial repair and petty earthwork.

Sadullapore Road.—This road has no traffic on it, and is the road by which corpses are taken to an old retired river, held in veneration by Hindus, for the purpose of cremation. It is under three miles in length, and has been raised about a foot to keep it above water during the rains.

Umirtee and Dabeepore Road.—This road is about 21 miles in length, and owing to several years' neglect, it is in a state of great disrepair. The river Kallindry has carried away about 4 miles of this road during the rains of 1875. For want of funds repairs to this road were undertaken late in the season. About 3 miles of road received superficial repair and petty earthwork.

Gajale and Alal Road.—This road is nearly eight miles in length, and was made, but not completed, during the late famine. Last year it was completed, and it received a superficial repair throughout its length; besides, over 3½ miles of tiger grass 30 feet wide was cut and cleared.

Gajale and Bamongola Road.—This road is 10 miles in length, and was made, but not completed, during the late famine. Last year it was completed, and it received a superficial repair; besides about 3 miles of tiger grass 30 feet wide was cut and cleared.

The remaining four roads, viz. Dabeepur to Toolsigunye, Toolsigunge to Khorba, Maltipur to Hyatpur, and Atal to Shamshee, were undertaken by Mr. Reily, manager of the Chanchal estate.

Gondrail bridge on the Boroghorea Road.—This bridge is in the midst of swamps, and during the rains a large volume of water passes with great force from west to east through the bridge. In the month of March last I observed some half-dozen fishermen had driven bamboo stakes close to each other into the ground by the side of the apron and wingwalls, which supported thick bamboo mattings, and which were placed well in the ground, making the openings of the bridge a trap for catching fish. I inspected the bridge and found that the driving of these stakes and the mattings as well, as just described, which they had done for several years, had caused great destruction to the apron walls, and also to the platform between the wing walls, and that these stakes and matting were undermining the platform below the arches; and that during the height of the rains of 1875, the current passing with force through the bridge was the cause of its oscillation, and accordingly there was a certainty of the bridge collapsing. I brought the conduct of these fishermen to your notice, and also the absolute necessity of having the bridge repaired before the rains set in. You accordingly sanctioned Rs. 378-8-9 for its repair; the works cost Rs. 331-13-3 and the saving was Rs. 46-11-6.

BHUBUNESHWAR SINGH,
Vice-Chairman.

No. 116PW, dated Nya Doomka, the 22nd May 1877.

From—J. BOXWELL, Esq., Officiating Deputy Commissioner, Sonthal Pergunnahs,
To—The Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division and Sonthal Pergunnahs.

I HAVE the honor to submit a report on the district road works and fund for the year ending 30th September 1876.

2. The work done has been very little; and the report cannot be considered satisfactory. The heavy expenditure on establishment not fully or economically employed is a serious defect.

3. The reason I consider to be chiefly the want of a good overseer, and in this matter I am partly to blame. I had a capital man, Baboo Nilmony Banerjee, who was deficient in some departmental qualification. After a long and hard fight I was obliged to let him go, on the 6th of April 1876, and I did not get a new man till the 4th of August 1876; and as the first thing he did was to fall off a pony and break his arm, the whole of the latter part of the year was pretty well lost.

4. Another reason for short work is that I employed Baboo Nilmony, while I had him, to make the Katikoond bund. This, I suppose, was irregular, but it could not be helped; and as the Executive Engineer made the first one, I should think it excusable for my overseer to make the second.

5. The most important work done in the year was the metalling of about five miles of the Bhagulpore and Soory road. This is by degrees, and not very slowly, being made one of the best roads in Bengal; and indeed it ought to be, for it must have been a very costly one to make.

6. The works done about Doomka were not very extensive, but were very useful. The road to the military lines was metalled throughout. It has now become the first half-mile of the new Ramporehat Road. The new cutcherry road was also metalled and bridged.

7. Two items in the account are, I believe, open to objection. In the year under report Rs. 4-3-3 were paid on account of the two pucca wells in the abandoned military lines on Gidni Pahar.

8. As I believe has ready been explained, these wells were made by me at the request of the commanding officer of the 4th Native Infantry, without any budget or sanction or order of any kind.

9. It seemed of importance that the wells should be ready by the time the troops came, and they were made at my request by Mr. Meara in a hurry.

10. Then the officer commanding the detachment objected to the site, as not giving sufficient parade ground.

11. The Rs. 4-3-3 shewn this year are the balance of the account.

12. The other item is the wall round the burial ground and clearing the ground. The work was an urgent necessity. The matter has already been dealt with.

13. The statement submitted shows the condition of the fund.

DOOMKA,
The 9th February 1877.

J. BOXWELL,
Offg. Deputy Commr., S P.

No. 122PW, dated Bhagulpore, the 25th May 1877.

From—G. N. BARLOW, Esq., C.S.I., Offg. Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division and Sonthal Pergunnahs,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Public Works Department.

I HAVE the honor to submit the Local Improvement Report for the cess year 1875-76.

Delay.—The delay in its submission is owing to the lateness with which the district reports and the explanations called for in connection with them were received in this office.

District Reports.—The Monghyr report gives a good description of the works carried out during the year. It, however, does not treat fully of miscellaneous matters. The Purneah report gives ample details. The reports of the Bhagulpore and Maldah districts are very concise.

Committees.—A statement showing the meetings of the District Road Committees held during the past year is annexed. There are committees under section 49 of Act X (B.C.) of 1871 in all the districts of this division except Sonthal Pergunnahs, where the Deputy Commissioner and the sub-divisional officers exercise the powers of district committees and branch committees respectively.

Attendance of Members.—The Chairman of the District Roads Committee of Purneah says that the attendance of members of meetings has been fair, considering the distance from head-quarters at which most of them live. Those with whom non-attendance is the rule, have ceased to be members. Mr. Cave and Baboo Ramchand Sitya, who only attended one meeting, have been absent from the district for a time. Baboos Bunshee Lall Jha and Srinundan Sing might attend oftener.

The number of meetings held during the year in each district of this division was as follows:—

Monghyr	...	8
Bhagulpore	...	5
Purneah	...	6
Maldah	...	5

It will be observed that in all the districts in the division meetings were held in excess of the minimum number fixed by section 54 of the Road Cess Act. There is a branch road cess committee in every sub-division of the districts of Monghyr, Bhagulpore, and Purneah. I mention below the meetings held by each branch committee:—

Monghyr ...	Jamui	0
	Begoo Serai	2
Bhagulpore	Muddehpoora	1
	Soopool	1
	Banka	3
Purneah ...	Kissengunge	3
	Arrareeah	5

During the year under review no meetings were held at Jamui. The number of meetings held in the other sub-divisions was less everywhere than the minimum number fixed by the law, except at Arrareeah where five meetings were held. Paucity of work is generally said to be the cause why branch committees do not meet oftener. One of the district officers observes, and I entirely agree with him, that meetings are not held more frequently less from the want of work than from the indifference of the members. To make these committees really useful for the specific object for which they are formed, the sub-divisional officers ought to take every opportunity by personal conference and influence with the members to enlist their interest in such an important matter as the improvement of local communications and thus to get them to attend meetings.

Statement of roads.—Corrected copies of the statements previously submitted by the District Road Committees of Monghyr and Purneah, as well as their supplementary statements, were forwarded to the Government with this office letter No. 358PW, of the 9th September 1876.

The supplementary statements of roads of the districts of Maldah and Bhagulpore are pending for certain information called for.

The Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Pergunnahs, on the 14th instant, only submitted a map and statement of roads called for in Government letter No. 2998C, of 26th August 1876, which is under examination in this office.

Rates of Cesses.—The following rates of cesses were levied during the year in the districts of this division except Sonthal Pergunnahs:—

Monghyr ...	Maximum rate.
Bhagulpore ...	Three-fourths rate.
Purneah ...	Maximum rate.
Maldah ...	Ditto.

Collection of the Road Cess.—The following is an extract from my annual report to the Board of Revenue:—

"I beg here to notice that, owing to the treasury being closed for the last ten days of September on account of the Doorga Pooja holidays, the latest day for the payment of Government revenue which was due on the 28th September fell beyond the close of the road cess year. This circumstance retarded the collection of cess on lands, which fell short of 9·5 per cent. in all the districts of the division except Maldah."

Establishment.—Except in the Sonthal Pergunnahs, where work was done partly by a special establishment and partly by the Public Works Department, all the Committees had all their works done by their own establishment.

District Works.—The district returns and reports give the necessary information regarding the original works. My remarks will be confined to such as require special notice.

Monghyr.—The total receipts from all sources including the balance was Rs. 1,42,788-1-4, and the total expenditure incurred during the year was Rs 1,02,171-12-3, leaving a balance of Rs. 40,616-5-1. The greater portion of the Committee's income was expended on original works.

Of the roads entered in the annual account the Bucktearpore road does not appear in the statement of roads, and I have asked the Chairman to submit a supplementary statement.

Repairs.—Expenditure was incurred in the repair of the undermentioned roads in excess of the amounts budgeted for them:—

	Budgeted.	Expended.
	Rs.	Rs. A. P.
Jumalpore road...	400	811 14 9
Burriarpore to Khurrukpore road	5,000	6,948 12 1

Original Works.—Tirhoot road.—During the year under review a sum of Rs. 488-15-8 was expended in the construction of small bridges; and Rs. 6,122-3-3 were expended in raising a portion of the road called the Tegrah bund, because in this place it serves as a protection against the Ganges overflow. As already anticipated by me before the estimate was sanctioned, a portion of this bund was damaged during the last rains, and an estimate for its reconstruction has since been made.

On the 29th March 1877 Mr. Lockwood wrote as follows:—

"It has been brought to my notice by Mr. MacNaughten of Beguserai that a continuation of the present embanked road towards the Durbhunga boundaries for 2½ miles along the Tirhoot road is of great public importance, not only as a road but also as an embankment for keeping off the Ganges flood from a large tract of country to the north."

The portion of the road the between the 34th and 37th miles, on which Rs. 6,122 were expended during the year, also serves as an embankment by which a large tract of country is rendered fertile by keeping out excessive floods from the Ganges.

Observing that 6½ miles of the road form a regular embankment, I have informed the Chairman that if the road runs over the bund, a contribution might be made from the road cess; but the whole cost of heavy embankment works cannot fairly be charged to the road cess, and that recourse should be had to the embankment Act.

On the 14th March 1877 the Chairman of the District Roads Committee submitted an estimate amounting to Rs. 1,18,920 for completing this road in a manner different to that reported in paragraph 14 of my last year's report. The Superintending Engineer disapproved of the project, and it was returned for revision. The question of this road is a difficult one, and I do not think the committees quite know their own minds about it. At one time it was decided to have only a fair-weather road, then came this big estimate for full completion: professional opinion must decide the question.

Patna Road.—A sum of Rs. 541-12-6 was expended in the construction of additional water-way and temporary bridges on this road. My opinion as to how this road should be maintained was reported last year, and the committee have come to the same conclusion

Secundra to Nowada Road.—An estimate for the construction of this road has been submitted to Government, but no orders have yet been received.

Luckhiserai and Balgoozer railway feeder.—On the 11th November 1875, the Traffic Manager of the East Indian Railway, Mr. Batchelor, represented the necessity of constructing a railway feeder road from Lukhiserai station to a village, Balgoozer, on the Holluhur river, a distance of 2¾ miles in length, on condition the Railway Company provided a goods' sheds at Luckhiserai. I sanctioned an estimate for Rs 9,933, approved of by the Superintending Engineer, but nothing seems to have been done on this account during the year.

Village roads.—The amount noted on the margin was expended during the year on village raods.

	Rs.	A.	P.
Village roads on the Sudder sub-division ..	219	0	0
Village roads in Beguserai sub-division	4,614	8	6
Village roads in Jamui sub-division	1,100	0	0
The amount expended in Beguserai exceded the budget grant by ...	3,614	8	6

Bhagulpore.—The total receipts of this district during the year from all sources was Rs. 1,82,554-15, minus Rs. 38,060-3-3, deficit of previous year. The amount expended during the year was Rs. 70,825-12-10. The greater portion of the committee's income of the year was expended on the repair of roads and bridges.

Of the amount laid out on repairs, the greater portion was expended on the repairs to bhagulpore and Bowsee road and the roads noted below:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Ganges and Mudhepoorah road	1,260	8	8
Damages done to the first three miles of the Sultangunge road	2,635	3	8
Mudhepoorah and Soopole road	1,176	1	0
Compensation for land taken up for relief roads and tanks	2,470	11	3

In the cess year 1874-75, the Superintending Engineer reported that the Soory road was not in good order. On the 16th September 1876, I sanctioned an estimate of Rs. 28,063 for the repair of the Bhagulpore portion of the road, of which Rs. 17,399 seem to have been expended in anticipation of sanction. The expenditure exceeded the budget grant of the year, viz. Rs. 15,000.

Bridges on the Peerpointee and Colgong Road.—During the year under review the construction of bridges on the Colgong and Peerpointee road was completed. The amount expended during the past year was Rs. 1,182. The estimate for this work amounting to Rs. 2,793 was not submitted for sanction before it was taken in hand.

Banka and Kutoria Road.—Rs. 6,334 were expended during the year in the construction of the road from Banka to Kutoria, the works on which were completed in the past cess year except turfing and smoothing surface, which has been since done. The total expenditure incurred in the construction of this road is reported to be Rs. 13,888 including the sum expended by the special Public Works Department formed at the close of the last famine operations in Bengal against the estimated cost Rs. 14,076. Kutoria to Simultollah road. Both the Bhagulpore and Monghyr portion of the road has been completed during the year under review. It has opened out a large tract of country in the Banka sub-division. The amount expended on village roads have not been embodied in the annual returns for reasons given by the Chairman of the Road Cess Committee.

Purneah.—The actual receipts of the year from all sources amounted to Rs. 3,96,247-15-2, minus Rs. 2,70,025-1, the deficit of the previous year. The net receipts of the year were Rs. 1,26,249-14-2. The amount expended during the year was Rs. 41,027-8, of this the greater portion was expended on repairs, viz., Rs. 18,637-15-8.

Of the expenditure incurred on repairs, the largest sums were spent on the following works :—

	Rs	A.	P.
Keatgama to Tarapore	2,022	1	4
Purneah to Hyatpore	1,195	15	1
Belwa bund	2,001	1	11
Purneah embankment	1,353	2	3

The Belwa bunds will now be maintained under the Embankment Act,—vide Government Public Works Department letter No. 114½M, of the 6th March 1877. The Purneah embankments have been made over to the municipality of that town under section 61 of Act V (B.C.) of 1876.

Of the sum of Rs. 7,177-9-10 laid out on original works, the largest amounts were expended on the following works :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Construction of two culverts on the road from Purneah to Hyatpore, No. 13	1,095	1	6
Compensation for land taken up for Nathpore Atwaree road, No. 2	4,145	4	9

Besides the amount expended on account of the construction of two culverts on the Hyatpore road, a sum of Rs. 1,195-15-1 was expended in its repair under the supervision of Mr. Charles Shillingford.

This road joins the district of Purneah with Maldah.

About the Nathpore road Mr Fernie, the District Engineer, thinks that this road should be defined by two side-trenches 20 feet apart and a fair-weather road opened for traffic. It is one of the emigration-roads running from one end of the district to the other.

	Rs.	A.	P.
Village roads in the sudder sub-division	1,660	6	2
Kishengunge sub-division	1,840	0	5
Village roads in the Arrareah sub-division	1,425	11	2

The amounts noted on the margin were expended on the village roads in the several sub-divisions.

Maldah.—The receipts of this district from all sources amounted to Rs. 53,952-15-5, and the amount expended during the year was Rs. 29,626-3-9.

No original works were executed in the district during the year. The amount expended on repairs was Rs. 17,145-14-9 of this sum the largest amounts were expended on the following roads :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Rajmehal to Dinagepoe road	6,966	10	7
Baraghuria road	1,949	10	3
English Bazaar and Amirti road	3,106	13	6
Rohimpore road	1,939	14	8

The first road is the principle route from the East Indian Railway to Dinagepore and neighbouring districts. It has been reported that the first few miles of the road from the ghât opposite Rajmehal are subject to Ganges inundation, and it is not the intention of the road committee to do much to this portion of the road.

Extensive repairs were made to the Gondrail bridge on the Baraghuria road, which is the direct route from Maldah to Rajshahye.

Rohimpore Road.—It has been reported that the expenditure on this road is utterly disproportionate to its importance.

Godagaree and Dinagepore Road.—A sum of Rs. 67-7 only was expended on the road from Godagaree to Dinagepore, for which Rs. 3,600 were budgeted.

The Chairman of the District Roads Committee reports as follows:—

"But I doubt whether the burden of keeping up this Godagaree and Dinagepore road ought to be thrown on us; it is the old trunk road to Dinagepore, and is of no use to this district which it cuts in two places on the extreme east, passing through mostly uninhabited jungle, the whole revenue of which would not pay for the repairs There is one length of about 13 and another of about seven miles (in this district), the distance from our eastern boundary varying from three-fourth to six miles."

The remark of the District Engineer that the Godagaree road has heavy traffic on it, does not appear from the Magistrate's explanation to refer to the portion of the road running through the district. The length of the portion of the road running through the district is 20 miles as mentioned above instead of 26 as reported by the District Engineer. No expenditure was incurred in this district on account of village roads.

Road cess leviable otherwise than under the District Road Cess Act	180	9	9
Net proceeds from ferries	390	0	0
Grant-in-aid	1,75,000	0	0
Sales of produce and stores...	41	6	0
Miscellaneous	973	5	7
Total ...	1,76,584	5	4

Sonthal Pergunnahs.—The year opened with a deficit balance of Rs. 59,737-6-2. The receipts of the district were as noted in the margin. After the payment of the deficit charges, the net receipts of the year were Rs. 1,16,846-15-2. The total amount expended during the year was Rs 17 689-15-10, leaving a balance of Rs 99,156-15-4 The greater portion of this balance refers to the unadjusted expenditure incurred during the last scarcity.

Of Rs. 9,284-10-10 expended on repairs, the largest were expended on the following roads:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Repairs to Bhagulpore and Soory road	4,154	1	0
Peerpointee road	1,939	12	9

The following charges should not have been debited to the District Road Fund:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Constructing two wells in Gidhni Pahar in Godda sub-division	4	3	3
Enclosing burial-ground at Muddehpore	10	1	6
Repairing the compound of burial-ground at Muddehpore dâk bungalow	50	0	0
Salary of Muddehpore dâk bungalow servants for July and August 1876	32	12	0
Total ...	97	0	9

ESTABLISHMENT.

Monghyr.—The District Committee of Monghyr entertains high opinion of their District Engineer.

The following subordinate officers are favourably spoken of by the District Engineer:—

Baboo Sreenath Bagchee, Sub-Overseer.

Munshi Moneeruddin, Surveyor.

Bhagulpore.—The District Road Committee of Bhagulpore have not expressed any opinion of their District Engineer, Overseers, and other subordinate officers.

Purneah.—Mr. Kemble's favourable report of Mr. Fernie, the District Engineer, was submitted to Government with this office memorandum No. 448PW of 24th November 1876. I have already expressed my opinion of this officer in this office No. 85PW of the 10th instant.

Maldah.—Mr. Mayer, the District Engineer of Maldah, who is yet on probation, is not favourably spoken of by the Committee.

Sonthal Pergunnahs.—The Deputy Commissioner has given no opinion of the District Overseer, Baboo Apurna Krishan Mitter, as he was appointed a little before the expiry of the year.

The Deputy Commissioner has employed sub-overseers without previously obtaining the approval of the Chief Engineer; but he has promised to submit their nomination-roll.

HIGH COURT NOTICE.

Circular Orders issued by Authority of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

CIVIL.

No. 18, dated the 10*th September* 1877.

As it is found that in certain districts the rules laid down for the preparation of the periodical returns of work done in the Civil Courts have been overlooked, the Court desire to invite the attention of all District Judges to the necessity for insisting on attention being paid, in their own offices, and in the Courts subordinate to them, to the instructions contained in paragraph 2 of circular order No. 25, dated 30th December 1873.

2. The object of these instructions was to secure a correspondence between the figures entered in the quarterly Civil Statements and those entered in the Annual Returns. It was pointed out that under the heading "Small Cause Court Class" in the former and "suits for money distinguishing suits up to Rs. 500 cognizable by Small Cause Courts from other cases" in the latter, it was intended to include all suits for money comprehended within the sub-headings of that denomination in Annual Statement No. 6, whether, with reference to value or other limitations, cognizable by a Court of Small Causes or not.

3. The practice of certain officers who have excluded certain classes of cases under circular order No. 176 of the late Sudder Court, dated 10th April 1861, is erroneous, and must be discontinued. The purpose for which this circular was issued having now been served, it is hereby wholly cancelled.

4. To facilitate reference in the making up of Quarterly and Annual Statements, it is further directed that in all the subordinate Civil Courts column 2 of General Register A of suits prescribed by section 37, Act VIII of 1859, and section 58, Act X of 1877, shall be sub-divided into two columns. The first sub-column will contain the consecutive number of the suit in the General Register; the second will contain a subordinate serial number for all suits of the kinds specified in paragraph 2 above.

SMALL CAUSE COURT NOTICES.

NOTICE is hereby given, under section 14 of Act XI of 1865, that the Judge of the Small Cause Courts of Kooshtea, Pubna, and Chooadanga will, in the month of November 1877, subject to the orders of Government, hold sittings on the dates noted below :—

DACCA ROAD CESS OFFICE,
The 27th September 1877. (1526—1)

Notice.

SEALED TENDERS will be received at this Office up to 3 o'clock P.M. of Saturday, the 27th instant, for the lighting of the sub-division of Serampore—from Chattra to Konnagur—from the 1st April to the 30th September 1878, with American kerosene oil of the first quality.

2. The lamps in use are of No. 2 size, and must be kept burning as bright as possible—the oil, wick, and labour being supplied by the contractor—from dusk till dawn on every night except those on which there is sufficient moonlight, to wit, the tenth to the seventeenth day of the moon.

3. The tender should state the rate per lamp per month; and the party whose tender is accepted must deposit Government paper or currency notes for rupees five hundred by way of security for the due performance of his contract

4. The Municipality does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

A. H. HAGGARD, Chairman.

SERAMPORE MUNICIPALITY,
The 1st October 1877. (1533—3)

Notification.

SEALED schedule tenders for the execution of the undermentioned works in the Tipperah district will be required by the undersigned up to noon of Thursday, the 1st November 1877, when they will be opened in the presence of such parties tendering as may be present on the occasion.

Each tender must be accompanied by the right halves of currency notes to the value of Rs. 200 as earnest money. Tenders must be on the printed forms generally used in the Public Works Department, which can be had in any Executive Engineer's Office in Bengal, and also in this Office, on payment of Re. 1 for each copy.

For further particulars apply to the District Engineer of Tipperah. The undersigned does not bind himself to accept the lowest or any tender.

Works to be executed.

Earthwork, including turfing and brickwork and soorkee-plastering of culverts on the Brahmunberiah, Kalibazar, and Serail roads, and also various sorts of work connected with the roads, canals, &c, under the supervision of the Committee.

DESPATCH OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE ON THE CYCLONE AND STORM-WAVE OF 1st NOVEMBER 1876.

No. 33, dated India Office, London, the 2nd August 1877.

From—THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE MARQUIS OF SALISBURY, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

To—His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General of India in Council.

I HAVE received the despatches (noted in the margin) of your Excellency's Government, forwarding papers on the subject of the cyclone and storm-wave which visited the districts of Noakholly, Backergunge, and Chittagong on the morning of the 1st November last.

No 75 (Public), dated 24th November 1876
No 1 (Meteorology), dated 24th November 1876.
No 2 (Meteorology), dated 1st December 1876
No 4 (Meteorology), dated 8th December 1876
No. 1 (Meteorology), dated 12th January 1877
No 6 (Meteorology), dated 12th April 1877.

2. Although this calamity, as regards the immediate loss of life occasioned by it, is almost without a parallel in history, it is a matter of satisfaction to observe that the estimate at first formed of the number of deaths was considerably in excess of the reality.

3. On the other hand, it is distressing to see that the ravages of cholera, following close upon the track of the first-named disaster, have carried off no less than 75,000 lives. I gather from the present papers that the total mortality occasioned by the cyclone wave and the ensuing cholera amounted at the end of last March to about 165,000, or, say, 50,000 within the first rough estimate of the number of those who died by drowning alone.

4. The extraordinary, though not wholly unprecedented, inundation which was the immediate cause of the loss of life has, together with the physical cause and development of the cyclone itself, received very careful investigation at the hands of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of Bengal. His exhaustive and lucid report shows that this great flood was due to an unusually high tidal wave, followed by the storm-wave of the advancing cyclone, both these phenomena being intensified by a violent north wind, succeeded immediately by south-west and west winds—an aggravation of conditions which combined to flood the whole of the low lands and islands about the estuary of the Megna to a depth of between 10 and 45 feet.

5. Both the storm and inundation appear to have been in some degree foreseen by the natives in Sundeep and Hattiya islands which suffered most severely from the same. It is much to be deplored, too, that very few took heed of the traditional warning conveyed by the "roaring sound," which is described as having been heard in the Bay to the south for two or three days previously.

6. The outbreak of cholera, which forms the subject of two later despatches,* was a calamity, the evil effects of which were, as might be expected, proportioned to the magnitude of the preceding one. Although the civil and medical officers under the Government of Bengal appear to have devised most judicious measures for preventing the spread of the disease, it has not been possible everywhere to carry out these, owing in many places to the apathy and want of co-operation on the part of the natives. A notable exception is recorded in the case of some native gentlemen and villagers of Chittagong, who, I observe with pleasure, rendered most serviceable aid to the medical staff during the prevalence of the epidemic in the town.

* No. 7 (Meteorology), dated 19th April 1877
No. 10 (Meteorology), dated 24th May 1877.

7. By the 1st of April the strenuous efforts of the Bengal officers appear to have effectually stamped out the disease. I have much pleasure in expressing my concurrence with the Lieutenant-Governor in the sense he has expressed of the value of the energy and judgment shown by his civil and medical officers in their relief measures throughout the duration of this great calamity.

8. The possibility of providing safeguards against future loss of life by inundations, by the erection of mounds, or by other measures, such as those alluded to in Sir Richard Temple's valuable minute of the 21st November last, will, I have no doubt, occupy the serious attention of your Excellency's Government.

9. I request that ten additional copies of Mr. Elliott's report may be forwarded to this office.

No. 107, dated Simla, the 5th September 1877.

Endorsed by the Government of India, Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce.

COPY forwarded to the Government of Bengal for information, with reference to the correspondence ending with their letter No. 1319, dated the 5th May last, and with the request that ten copies of Mr. Elliott's report may be forwarded to this office for transmission to the Secretary of State.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL REPORT OF THE CHOTA NAGPORE DIVISION FOR 1876-77.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS—No. 2903.

Calcutta, the 2nd October 1877.

READ—

The General Report of the Chota Nagpore Division for 1876-77.

THE report is submitted by Mr. V. T. Taylor, who only took charge of the division after the close of the year. It is of a somewhat meagre and formal character.

Cold-weather tours.

2. The tours of all the district officers seem to have been considerably curtailed this year, owing to the arrangements for durbars on the 1st January and bad weather in the month of February. The sub-divisional officers of Pachumba and Palamow, Messrs Bedford and Forbes, were however able to give nearly the whole cold season to this important duty.

Weather and crops.

3. In every district, except Singbhoom, agricultural operations were delayed by the scanty rainfall of the early months of 1876, and consequently the outturn of the high land rice and of the autumn crops was hardly so good as usual. In Lohardugga the autumn crop suffered severely from excessive rain just after the sowings, and the spring crops were damaged by heavy storms in February 1877, which also reduced the yield of mango and mohwa throughout the division. On the whole, however, these losses appear to have been compensated by the abundant outturn of the winter rice, the staple crop of Chota Nagpore, and the general results of the season confirm the conclusion that in this undulating country, when the rainfall happens to be somewhat deficient, the enhanced yield of the low-lying lands, which are often drowned out by an excessive fall, will, as a rule, make up for a partial failure of the high land crops.

4. Although the outturn of food-grains in the past year was fully up to the average, the drought at the close of 1875-76 and the beginning of 1876-77 is stated to have had a peculiarly disastrous effect upon tea cultivation in Hazareebagh. In the preceding year the 720 acres under cultivation yielded 94,889lb., or an average of 130·93lb. per acre; while in 1876-77 the outturn of 718 acres was only 47,717lb., or 66·46lb. per acre. As the conditions of tea-growing in Hazareebagh are practically identical with those which prevail in Lohardugga, and as the liability to droughts in the early months of the year is common to both districts, the results of the past season are not without interest in their bearing on the prospects of tea cultivation in Chota Nagpore as a commercial undertaking.

It is perhaps premature as yet to forecaste the future of tea enterprise as carried on upon this plateau, but there are certain facts in connection with it which intending planters would do well to bear in mind. If we compare the temperature, humidity, and rainfall of Goalpara in Assam, and Silchar in Cachar (as given in the Meteorological Report for Bengal for 1875), with those of Hazareebagh, the only district of the Chota Nagpore Division in which accurate observations have been recorded for a sufficiently long period, we find that the plateau is unfavorably situated in respect of each of these important points, while it has on the other hand advantages of another kind. In the first place, as regards temperature, while tea requires an equable warm climate throughout the year, the temperature of the plateau is liable to sudden changes of heat and cold, and displayed an absolute range in 1875 of 63·5° as compared with 40° and 52·2°, the extreme absolute range of Goalpara and Silchar respectively. Similarly, while the mean yearly temperature of Hazareebagh is 74·4°, that of Goalpara 74·8°, and of Silchar 75·9°, the mean range of temperature at Hazareebagh is 20·1°, as against 16·4° at Goalpara and 17·7° at Silchar. Secondly, on comparing the mean humidity of the three districts, it appears that in Hazareebagh the mean humidity is represented by 51, in Goalpara by 71, and in Silchar by 73. Lastly, as regards rainfall, Assam and Cachar, in common with the eastern districts of the Delta, have a fairly copious rainfall during the earlier months; but Hazareebagh, like the rest of Western Bengal, has from January to May a peculiarly slight fall. The average rainfall of Hazareebagh is 51·53, that of Goalpara is 94·92, and that of Silchar 118·00. But in the first five months of the year the average rainfall in Hazareebagh is only 3·64, while in those months Goalpara got 22·10 and Silchar 36·49 inches. During those five months of the year 1875, rain fell in Hazareebagh on 23 days only, but in Goalpara it fell on 46 days, and in Silchar on 67. Rain fell in Hazareebagh on 115 days of the year, as against 128 days in Goalpara, and 165 days in Silchar. The injurious effect on the tea plant of the deficiency of rain during the first five months of the year is aggravated by the prevalence during April and May of hot westerly and north-westerly winds, which prevent the mature plants from "flushing" or throwing out fresh leaves, and oblige the planter to go to some expense in erecting shelter for his immature plants. Again, although it is true that in some parts of Hazareebagh soils can be found which are not appreciably inferior to those of Assam, yet, speaking generally, the soils of this district are shallower, drier, less nourishing, and more easily exhausted than the tea soils of the eastern plantations; while irrigation, which might in some measure counterbalance the disadvantages which have been enumerated, can, except in exceptional situations, be applied effectually to a garden only at a high cost, and in the hot season, unless applied very thoroughly, it is actually injurious to the plant.

As a set-off against these drawbacks, Hazareebagh is free from the "labour difficulty" which has so seriously affected tea cultivation in Assam. The supply of labour is sufficient and cheap, and the only complaint which the planters have made is that the coolies are apt occasionally to leave the tea gardens in order to work on their own land.

Public health.

5. The rates of mortality recorded for the districts of Chota Nagpore are no doubt inadequate, but so far as they go they afford indications that the past year was far from healthy. In particular, the deaths from fever were peculiarly numerous as shown below :—

	Deaths from fever.	Rate per thousand
Hazareebagh	9,760	12·64
Lohardugga	13,420	10·84
Singbhoom	4,142	10·18
Manbhoom	5,509	5·53

Ranchi and its neighbourhood was also visited by an outbreak of epidemic cholera which caused 3,885 deaths. At one time the disease appeared to be gaining ground in the lines of the 33rd Madras Native Infantry at Dorunda, where the habits of the sepoys and their families were extremely favourable to its spread; but its progress was arrested before many deaths had occurred in the regiment. An attack of cholera in Hazareebagh station resulted in 1,438 deaths, but it speaks well for the healthiness of the cantonments that the detachment of Her Majesty's 109th Regiment posted there was not affected.

Material condition of the people.

6. Except in the Kolhan of Singbhoom, where the prosperity and comfort of the Ho tribe of Kols is well ascertained, the normal condition of the Chota Nagpore cultivators is one of extreme poverty. The soil, both of the table-land itself and of the low-lying valleys, is fairly productive, and the agriculture of the country is well adapted to its circumstances, especially in respect of the rotation of crops; but the produce of the soil cannot readily find a fair market, and the cultivators are at the mercy of village mahajans and itinerant grain-dealers. There will not probably be any material improvement until the country is thoroughly opened out either by roads or light railways, or until the population has increased by immigration. At present large tracts of fertile land and much wealth of minerals are lying undeveloped. The time will probably come when the export grain trade of Hazareebagh will be of sufficient importance to warrant the construction of a light railway to connect it with the East Indian Railway.

Emigration.

7. The following statement shows the number of labourers who emigrated to Assam from each district in the division during the last two years:—

	1875-76.	1876-77.
Manbhoom	3,022	3,437
Singbhoom	186	142
Hazareebagh	1,969	2,213
Lohardugga	3,922	3,960
Total ...	9,099	9,752

There has been considerable laxity of administration in connection with the working of the Labour Transport Act in this division, which called forth the animadversions of Government. Matters have now, it is hoped, been put on a sounder footing.

Prices of food and labour.

8. Both wages and prices continue exceptionally low. The average price of rice during the year ranged from 21½ seers in Hazareebagh to 39⅓ in Chyebassa and 46¾ in Seraikela of Singhboom. In Manbhoom the average was 26½, and 29 seers was the average price at Ranchi. It is probable that the recorded rates are to some extent affected by the practice of selling rice at the customary rate of one pice per paila or local seer, the size of the paila being reduced as the market price rises. But even allowing for this element of confusion, it is clear that throughout Chota Nagpore prices run peculiarly low, and that, owing to the defective communications, the cultivators have not shared in the agricultural profits of their neighbours in Orissa. Labourers' wages are also proportionally small; but here again the question is complicated, so far as money rates are concerned, by the almost universal system of hiring dhangur labourers by the year and paying them the bulk of their wages in kind, as well as by the prevalence of begari labour in Lohardugga, and by the survival of the kamioti system of serfdom in parts of Hazareebagh. As these local institutions die out, wages will undoubtedly rise, and the Lieutenant-Governor understands that some signs of such a movement are already to be traced.

Manufactures and Mines.

9. No manufactures of any importance exist in Chota Nagpore. Iron-ore of good quality is found in a nodular form in many parts of the division, and the iron-stone beds of the Karanpura coal-field to the south-west of Hazareebagh contain a high percentage of a useful quality of iron. No attempt, however, has yet been made to work the ore on a large scale, and smelting is carried on only by rude aboriginal methods. Agricultural implements and weapons required in the neighbourhood are made by village smiths, and a large quantity of the smelted metal is said to be exported to Behar. Soapstone platters and cups are made from the quarries in Manbhoom and Singbhoom, but the industry is of trifling importance. Lac manufacture is carried on by several native firms in Manbhoom, and by a European company at Dorunda, the cantonment of Ranchi. The latter place is a convenient centre for the collection of the raw material, and for working it up into shell-lac or lac-dye. Large supplies of stick-lac can be drawn from Chota Nagpore itself, and from Raipore and Sumbulpore in the Central Provinces, while abundant labour is to be had in Ranchi at an average rate of an anna and a quarter per day. The industry, however, appears to be a declining one. Lac-dye cannot compete in the market with the cheaper though less durable aniline dyes; and the stock of shell-lac now in Europe is known to be out of all proportion to the probable demand. Five coal mines are now at work in Hazareebagh, and the resources of the district in this respect are not yet developed to their full extent. The rich coal-fields of the Karanpura Valley are still untouched by systematic mining; but the locality is so difficult of access that there is no immediate prospect of this coal being brought into the market. Mr. Robinson lays some stress upon the possible importance of the Rajhara coal-field in Palamow to the success of the Sone Canal; but there is some reason to fear that, owing to the limited area occupied by the coal-bearing strata and the paucity of workable coal-seams, the economic value of this field is small.

Attempts were made in former years by two European companies to work the copper mines of Singbhoom, but both were failures, partly because the scale of management was extravagant, and partly because the nests in which the copper is found had been exhaustively worked by Jain miners many years before. No fresh enterprize of this kind has been set on foot. Tin, copper. and antimony have at various times been mined in Hazareebagh, but on a very limited scale. Mica is still worked in the north of Khurrukdiha, and exported both to Calcutta and Behar. It is in considerable demand among well-to-do Mahomedans for the ornamentation of taziyas at the Mohurrum.

Trade and Commerce.

10. Owing to the bad state of the roads and the continual necessity of crossing unbridged rivers and difficult passes, the bulk of the trade of the division is carried on by means of pack-bullocks. Even this traffic is not yet developed to its full extent. Singbhoom is practically cut off from all communication with neighbouring districts; Palamow deals chiefly with Sirgoojah and the Tributary States through the mart of Gurwa, while the western and southern portions of Lohardugga are remote from all main lines of communication. It appears, however, that during the past year more advantage has been taken of the outlets afforded by the roads from Hazareebagh to Giridi and from Purulia to Burrakur. There is said to have been a marked increase in the trade of Hazareebagh with Patna on the one side, and Calcutta on the other, and rice has been exported on a large scale from Jhalda, in Manbhoom, to the stations of Burrakur and Sitarampore It is understood that some portion of this is brought on pack-bullocks from the eastern pergunnahs of Lohardugga and is transferred to carts at Jhalda. As yet, however, the main profits of the trade have been absorbed by the mahajans, and the condition of the cultivators has not been sensibly ameliorated by the demand for food-grains.

Police and crime.

11. From very early times road dacoity and highway robbery have been prevalent in Chota Nagpore, where such crimes are rendered particularly easy of commission by the loneliness of the roads, which in many places run for miles through dense jungle. Several attempts have been made to utilize the services of the digwars, or indigenous road watchmen, for the prevention of highway robbery. In 1839 a patrol of these men was posted on the Grand Trunk Road, and in 1841 mounted constables were appointed to guard the road. But the system fell gradually into disuse, and was only revived in the beginning of 1875-76 by the establishment of eight road-posts with 34 digwars on the road between Hazareebagh and Giridi, where a series of robberies had been committed on Jain pilgrims in 1872. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that the reorganization of the rural police thus initiated has been completed in the past year by the formation of 109 road-posts manned by 331 digwars and 26 sirdars, these posts being selected on the various roads so as to provide for the safety of travellers throughout the whole district. It is stated that this measure has already resulted in a sensible decrease of dacoities and highway robberies. Mr. Eden considers that the completion of this scheme reflects great credit upon the police administration of Hazareebagh, especially upon Mr. W. P. Davis, the late District Superintendent. The civil litigation of the division is unimportant, and the majority of the cases petty in amount, and the Moonsifs are able to assist in the disposal of revenue and criminal cases.

Land and land revenue administration.

12. A peculiar feature of the revenue administration of the division is the exemption of estates from the ordinary process of sale for arrears of revenue. The operation of Regulations XIV of 1793 and V of 1812 was suspended in Chota Nagpore by Section II, Regulation XIII of 1833; and under Section V of the same Regulation the Governor-General's Agent for the South-West Frontier instituted the system of levying arrears by sale of the defaulter's moveable property. Resort may also be had to attachment of the estate.

In Manbhoom, Singbhoom, and Lohardugga no difficulty was found in realizing the Government revenue, the only arrear being a small balance of Rs. 150 in Singbhoom. From Hazareebagh, however, complaints were made that Regulation VII of 1799, by which some pressure could be put on the landholders, had been repealed by Act XVI of 1874, and that regular payment of revenue could not be enforced. It appears, however, that out of an uncollected balance of Rs. 14,735, only Rs. 3,268 was due from the zemindars, while Rs. 11,457 remained unrealized from 115 Government estates under the management of the Deputy Commissioner. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Commissioner in his remark that the zemindars were really not so very backward in paying their revenue, notwithstanding the want of a law to enforce prompt payment. It argues considerable laxity and remissness in the land revenue administration of Hazareebagh that so large a balance should have been left unrealized in the Government estates.

Excise.

13. There was an increase of excise revenue in all the districts, save Singhbhoom, where there was a slight decrease of Rs 124 only. The increase was attended in Lohardugga and Manbhoom with a decrease in consumption, but it is believed that much illicit distillation goes on in this division, and that the revenue admits of much greater development. Since 1842 no restriction has been placed on the brewing of rice-beer for home consumption throughout Chota Nagpore. A similar privilege in the Sonthal Pergunnahs has formed the subject of several memorials from the Missionaries; and it is clear that, from whatever cause, intemperance has become a serious evil among the Sonthals. No such complaints, however, have been received from Chota Nagpore, although the Mundas and Hos are kindred tribes to the Sonthals, and both, as well as the Oraons, are much addicted to drink. The Lieutenant-Governor would wish to have some enquiry made on this point, and especially as to whether there is general and excessive drinking at festivals and village gatherings. A much needed check has been placed upon this public drinking by the influence of the officers in the Sonthal Pergunnahs.

Money orders.

14. The transactions in money orders in the four districts of the division during the last two years are shown in the following statement:—

District.	Year.	Number of orders.	Sums.	Number of orders.	Payments.
			Rs A P.		Rs A. P.
Manbhoom	1875-76	223	11,028 0 2	95	3,631 6 0
	1876-77	227	9,570 0 3	145	10,246 0 0
Singhbhoom	1875-76	119	2,864 0 0	50	4,439 0 0
	1876-77	265	10,905 0 0	49	4,062 0 0
Hazareebagh	1875-76	461	13,270 12 0	167	8,097 3 0
	1876-77	503	14,915 9 0	215	11,723 1 0
Lohardugga	1875-76	761	26,734 7 0	113	10,153 11 0
	1876-77	894	37,915 3 0	167	8,419 3 0

The increase in Lohardugga has taken place concurrently with an enhanced demand for notes by the Marwari merchants trading with Calcutta. In Hazareebagh the transactions are stated to have risen in consequence of the requirements of the survey parties stationed there during the recess, as well as by remittances from natives of the district who had emigrated as labourers to the tea districts of Assam and Cachar. The figures, however, do not show what proportion of the payments is due to each of these causes, and it is impossible to say how far the fact of the increase indicates a prosperous state of things among the emigrants to the tea districts. The Savings Banks are chiefly used by Europeans and Bengalis and are not resorted to much by the indigenous population. Two accounts were, however, opened in Manbhoom this year by returned emigrants.

Irrigation.

15. It is understood that the broken nature of the country renders impossible any comprehensive scheme of irrigation in Chota Nagpore, except at a cost which would involve charging prohibitory rates for water. Small embankments of the kind known locally as ahras may with advantage be constructed all over the division; but each of these can irrigate only a limited area, and Government cannot undertake works of this character. Opportunity should, however, be taken to encourage the landholders to undertake the construction of reservoirs and embankments for the improvement of their own estates.

Roads.

16. The main roads in Hazareebagh are all in fair order. Those in Manbhoom are less satisfactory, while in Singhbhoom and Lohardugga the communications are as yet very primitive and rough. With the extension of the road cess to Lohardugga, it is hoped that this district may be brought into the general system of communications of the Lower Provinces from which it has hitherto been almost cut off. The Lieutenant-Governor entirely agrees with the Commissioner in deeming it of the greatest importance that the main road from Hazareebagh to Ranchi should be completed and bridged throughout, and he would add that equal attention should be paid to the important road from Ranchi to Silli, and thence to Purulia. Mr. Eden is unable to believe, with the Deputy Commissioner of Lohardugga, that contact with civilization will result in the disappearance of the Kol tribes, though it is possible that in the first instance they may lose some barbarous virtues which are based on mere ignorance. A race whose existence depends upon seclusion from the outside world can scarcely be worth preserving, and the Lieutenant-Governor prefers to hope that the fine characteristics which the Kols are said to possess will only be developed by education and by freer intercourse with more advanced races.

Education.

17. Throughout Chota Nagpore education is extremely backward, especially in the districts where the population is largely aboriginal. It was proposed in 1875 to raise the Ranchi school to the status of a high school, but neither funds nor students are forthcoming for the purpose, and the existing school has altogether failed to attract the sons of the large zemindars of the district. Middle vernacular schools are also unsuccessful, owing to the inefficiency of the teachers (who are mostly Lalas from Behar), the want of good school-books, and the absence of model schools. It is to be feared that the proposal to establish a high school at Ranchi was premature. Our chief effort at present must be to develop primary instruction among the aboriginal races. It is unfortunate that no accurate returns are available of the number of unaided pathsalas, but enough is known of the reluctance shown by the people themselves, especially in Singbhoom and Lohardugga, to contribute to the support of the gurus, to make it evident that many parts are not yet ripe for the system of payment by results. The main want at present in the districts last named is a supply of teachers drawn from the aboriginal and semi-aboriginal tribes, as the Hindu gurus are men of a low class, very unpopular with the Kols. The eagerness with which the Hos and Tamarias attended the Chyebassa normal school in 1875-76, and the success of the mission schools both in furnishing teachers and in overcoming the prejudices of the Kols against female education, show that the aboriginals are by no means averse to be taught, provided that instruction comes to them through the medium of their own people. In Manbhoom prospects are more promising, and there was a considerable increase both of schools and pupils. In Hazareebagh, on the other hand, there was a decided falling off in the number of aided institutions, but a large number of private schools were traced out by the Deputy Inspector.

Vaccination.

18. Vaccination is reported to have made considerable progress in every district except Hazarcebagh, for which no intelligible figures are given. In Manbhoom 77 vaccinators performed 61,176 operations in 598 villages. Out of 25,023 cases which were verified by the Civil Surgeon, 23,692 had been successful, and only 1,331 had failed. In Lohardugga, where only 4,729 persons were vaccinated in 1875-76, no less than 68,673 operations were performed in the past year, of which 56,214 were successful and 3,042 unsuccessful; while in 8,814 cases the results could not be ascertained. This is the more satisfactory that 55,740 persons were vaccinated in the Palamow sub-division where small-pox has hitherto been peculiarly prevalent. In Singbhoom the work of vaccination was carried on by ten vaccinators paid by the people under a Government inspector. Inoculation is said to have been thoroughly extinguished, and out of 7,587 cases vaccinated. 6,456 proved successful. On the whole, the results of the year are most satisfactory. It speaks well for the tact and good management of the local officers that the tikaits or professional inoculators should have been induced to adopt vaccination. It is not clear, however, why this result should have been found unattainable in Hazareebagh, and the attention of the Medical Department will be specially invited to the Commissioner's remarks.

Conduct of zemindars.

19. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find that the conduct of the zemindars is favourably reported on, but he considers it hardly creditable to Baboo Nam Narain Singh, zemindar of Ramgurh, that the dispensary at Echak should have been allowed to fall out of repair. The Deputy Commissioner writes that the Baboo will neither repair it himself nor make it over formally to the Committee. The thanks of the Government are due to the Rajah of Sonpoora, and the Zemindars of Chainpore and Untari, for the active interest they have shown in vaccination.

20. There were under the peculiar system in force in this division no fewer than 320 attached estates under management by the district officers on account of the debts of the proprietors. The Government has recently been reconsidering the policy which throws on the hands of district officers so many hopelessly encumbered petty estates, and rules under section 19 of the Encumbered Estates' Act VI of 1876 are now before the Government of India, which will help to improve matters.

21. The Commissioner's remarks upon his subordinates will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL REPORT OF THE CHITTAGONG DIVISION FOR 1876-77

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.—No. 2892.

Calcutta, the 2nd October 1877.

READ—

The General Report on the Chittagong Division for 1876-77.

Crops, and condition of the people.

UP to the very end of October the prospects of the crops in this division were exceptionally favourable, the rainfall having been both sufficient and well distributed, especially in Noakholly; but on the night of the 31st October the cyclone burst upon the coast near Chittagong and travelled along the shore-line, desolating on the main land a vast tract of country from Chittagong to Burisal, and sweeping the islands of Dukhin Shabazpore, Hattea, and Sundeep with successive storm-waves. The number of deaths caused by this calamity in Chittagong and Noakholly was 48,324. It was followed by an outbreak of cholera of the most virulent kind, which, in spite of all the efforts made by Government for the relief of the people, carried off 49,061 persons in Noakholly, and 14,788 in Chittagong. The gross mortality traceable to the cyclone and consequent epidemic in all the districts of the Chittagong and Dacca Divisions may, according to the most recent and accurate accounts, be stated as—

Deaths caused directly by the cyclone	...	...	...	122,238
Ditto by cholera	...	...	...	105,386
		Total	...	227,624

2. The parts of the division most injured were unfortunately those which, in ordinary seasons, produce the largest crops, and the effect on the food-supply was disastrous, especially in Chittagong, which produces generally little more than suffices for its own wants, and which was already suffering from a bad season in the year preceding. Notwithstanding all, however, such has been the general prosperity of the people of late years, that even in Chittagong they have been able to hold out without Government interference. Prices have been no doubt remarkably high, rising at times in isolated tracts to famine rates, but even the lower orders have not been driven to extremity, and things are fast returning to their normal condition. The cultivators were, at the date of the report, looking forward with confidence to a good harvest which, however, the recent very heavy rainfall has somewhat spoilt.

3. One very good test of the condition of the lower classes lies in the rate of wages, and both in Chittagong and Noakholly these are said to be very high. In Chittagong this is no doubt due to the fact that nearly every one has some interest in land, while in the south of that district a man can earn from 8 to 12 annas a day by crossing over to Arracan and working at transplanting or reaping rice.

Trade and commerce.

4. The port of Chittagong has suffered in its trade from the bad harvests and disasters of the last two or three years. Last year only 9,323 tons of rice and 60,193lb of tea were exported, and the gross tonnage of the port had fallen from 94,839 to 80,652. It is hoped that this year the necessity of replenishing the stocks of salt injured by the cyclone, and the outside demand for the surplus produce of Noakholly and Tipperah, may give the port a fresh start. Tea gardens are springing up in all directions, and the main difficulty in their extension lies in the scarcity of available local labour.

5. The Commissioner will, it is hoped, continue to give attention to the schemes alluded to in his 41st paragraph. It is most important to improve the water communication in a division like Chittagong, where the people are mainly dependent on boats for locomotion and the carriage of produce during the year. The Lieutenant-Governor will always, when it is possible, make the services of special engineers available for the purpose of investigating such schemes, and where the water communication is not merely local, but affects the trade of more than one district, Government will, whenever the state of the Provincial Funds permit, be glad to give a grant in aid of road cess expenditure for these purposes.

Public feeling and the press

6. Public feeling in Chittagong has from various causes been unsettled during the year of review, and has been at the same time very strongly expressed. The relations of the local officers and the people as represented by the newspaper correspondents have certainly not been in all respects satisfactory. Much of the dissatisfaction is attributed to the discontent arising from the measures taken under Government orders to recover and reassess the lands illegally held by hundreds of persons in this district, and in which it is known that many of the ministerial officers of Government and other persons about the courts are largely interested. Under such circumstances, and with such feelings abroad, there was undoubtedly need of tact and discretion, as well as of firmness in dealing with the complications which were certain to arise. Unfortunately there were failures in this respect of which the Government had to take serious notice. But, on the other hand, there is evident, in the great majority of the communications which are laid before the public from Chittagong, a set purpose to misrepresent the local officers, which does much to interfere with the correct appreciation of any real grievances that may exist.

7. The Land Registration Act is likely to give a great deal of work in this division. In Chittagong no fewer than 42,000 applications have been filed; but the ultimate effect upon the litigation of the district is expected to be good, as there will no longer be so many endless disputes about petty interests in land. The Mahomedan Marriage Registration Act is reported to have had no effect in Noakholly, and though the Magistrate of Chittagong and the Commissioner express themselves hopeful of good results, it is to be feared, from the experience of the Dacca Division, that the measure will prove infructuous.

Police and crime

8. The police of the division are not favourably reported on. The pay is said to be insufficient as compared with the ordinary wages obtainable in other occupations. The village police have, however, improved much under Act VI (B.C.) of 1870, and are now more punctual in reporting, and generally more diligent in their duties.

9. Crime shows an increase in Noakholly, partly, it is said, owing to cases in connection with property set adrift by the cyclone and storm-waves. But false cases show a satisfactory decrease, and the percentage of convictions was better than in 1875. The following figures show the relative criminality of the two districts with reference to area and population:—

	Chittagong	Noakholly
Area	2,315	1,740
Population	1,043,283	946,616
Crime to area .:. ...	5 to the square mile	8 to the square mile.
„ to population	1 to 862	1 to 661

10. Arson is still the most serious crime of Chittagong. Every quarrel ends with a fire, and the cases are most difficult to detect and prove. Of 58 cases reported in the year, 29 were brought to trial, but conviction followed only in 9. Other heinous crimes were not of frequent occurrence.

Civil litigation.

11. Both the districts of the division are notoriously litigious; but in Chittagong, the Commissioner says, the people go to law, whether they have a case or not, for the mere love of litigation. In Noakholly the people do not sue unless they believe they have a good case, but always do so if there is anything likely to be gained. The Commissioner considers that the complaints about delays in the civil courts are not well founded, but admits that a more summary procedure for the realization of rents is much desired by zemindars. The collections in the Wards' estates are very backward, and bear out the Commissioner's view of the necessity of a more summary procedure in respect to claims for rent.

Land revenue.

12. The total land revenue demand was Rs. 13,22,903, of which Rs. 10,44,567 were collected. Suspension of the demand was granted in cases in which three-fourths of any zemindar's property lay within the limits of the cyclone tract. The collections are satisfactory when the circumstances of the year are borne in mind, and the fact that of 30,227 estates in Chittagong, 25,989 pay less than Rs. 10 each as Government revenue.

13. The Noabad settlement is progressing steadily, 107,406 acres having been measured during the year. Besides this, the boundary between Chittagong and the Hill Tracts was demarcated for a great part of its length. The Lieutenant-Governor is awaiting a full report from the Board on the whole subject of the Noabad settlement. The settlement work in Noakholly, however, calls for the special attention of the Board. The progress made has been far from satisfactory.

Excise and Stamps.

14. The excise arrangements both of Chittagong and Noakholly have been undergoing revision. There has been undoubtedly a large illicit distillation, and the matter will require the constant attention of the Collectors for some time to come. The stamp revenue also needs close and careful supervision. The increase of revenue in the division last year was not what might have been expected, even after making all allowances.

Monetary affairs.

15. The Savings Banks do not attract depositors outside the Government service. In Chittagong the issue of money orders has decreased, owing to the fact that local merchants were ready to grant drafts at par on Dacca and Calcutta. In Noakholly they show a large increase, attributed to the short supply of currency notes.

Road cess.

16. The Road Cess Act is in force in Noakholly and is said to be popular, as the need of roads was much felt. It will be introduced in Chittagong during the current year.

Education.

17. As regards education, the zillah schools both at Chittagong and Noakholly are in a flourishing state; but the cyclone did immense damage to school-houses in the interior of both districts. The people in these districts are said to care more for primary than for English education. Mahomedan education does not make much progress. The Commissioner's proposal to look more closely into the working of the endowments, of which this division has several, should not be lost sight of. More attention is being paid to female education, but it is still a reproach to the place that there is no girls' school in the town of Chittagong as there is in Noakholly.

Municipal matters.

18. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot regard with satisfaction the inference to be drawn from paragraph 147 of the report, that since the municipal quarrels of last year the Magistrate of Chittagong has practically withdrawn from active interference in municipal affairs; that the meetings have been purely formal for the purpose of passing bills; and that hence there has been no friction. Such a state of things cannot be permitted to continue. It is the Magistrate's duty to take the leading and initiative part in the municipal government, and not to allow the conservancy and repairs of the town to go to ruin (as the Commissioner seems to say they have) merely to avoid discussion with non-official members. If the Magistrate treats the non-official members with courtesy and consideration, work will go on as smoothly in Chittagong as in any other town, and the Lieutenant-Governor must insist on the Commissioner's seeing that it does so.

19. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with regret that in Noakholly, "except the zemindars of Bhullooah, no other zemindars did anything to help their ryots at the crisis succeeding the cyclone." In Chittagong they are said to be generally in debt, and incapable of exerting an influence either for good or evil. One or two gentlemen in the latter district seem, however, to have carried out a few petty works of public utility.

Conduct of zemindars.

20. The Commissioner's remarks upon his subordinates will be communicated to the Appointment Department for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

SANITATION OF TOLLY'S NULLAH.

No. 71MM, dated Calcutta, the 8th September 1877.

From—R. L. MANGLES, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of the Presidency Division,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Judicial Department.

WITH reference to the Government orders noted in the margin, on the subject of the insanitary condition of Tolly's Nullah, I have the honor to forward copy of a letter No. 138M, dated the 4th instant, from the Magistrate of the 24-Pergunnahs, with its enclosure.

No. 1431, dated 22nd March 1877.
„ 2466 „ 22nd „ „

2. It will be observed that the Commissioners of the Suburban Municipality have now adopted stringent and energetic measures with the view of suppressing the nuisances brought to light and for preserving the proper sanitation of the nullah. I shall see that attention to the matter is not relaxed, and I trust that there will be no cause for any further complaints in the future.

3. I have twice recently inspected the canal, passing along it in a steam-launch, and on the last occasion, on the 31st ultimo, I found that most of the nuisances complained of had been removed and that marked improvement had been effected.

4. On the 30th of April last, and again on the 9th ultimo, the attention of the Supervisor of the Canal was drawn to the necessity of preventing the commission of nuisances along the canal banks and of prohibiting the occupiers of certain premises bordering on the canal from throwing rotten and decaying refuse of different kinds down the banks, which not only amounted to a nuisance, but was calculated to fill in and interfere with the proper navigation of the canal. The inspectors and the peons belonging to the canal department have been directed to carry out these orders in co-operation with the local police, and to report all offenders to the police and the Magistrate.

5. The removal of the slaughter-house at Kidderpore, which remains to be carried out to insure the proper sanitation of the canal, is pending the orders of the Government of India, and I have already in my letter No. 9[illegible], dated the 16th ultimo, requested that they may be again moved to sanction its early removal.

No. 138M, dated Alipore, the 4th September 1877.

From—W. M. SOUTTAR, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of the 24-Pergunnahs,

To—The Offg. Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

I HAVE the honor to address you on the subject of Tolly's Nullah.

2. Your No. 59MM of the 29th March forwarded a letter from Government, No. 1431, dated the 22nd March, which was founded on an extract from a report by the (then) Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal, to the effect that the water of the nullah was defiled by stable refuse and fœcal matter. Government desired that measures might be taken to stop this defilement and that the results should be reported. The Magistrate was also requested to report, after communication with the Commissioner of Police, how far the suburban police were to blame, and what measures that officer proposed to adopt towards the same end.

3. In acknowledging this letter my predecessor inquired what parts of the banks were referred to, and you in your No. 19MM, dated the 3rd May, stated that you would obtain from Government an answer to the question. With reference to this letter and a subsequent reminder, Mr. Wilson informed you in No. 21, dated 11th June, that a further correspondence had been received from the Sanitary Commissioner (it contained a report by the Port Health Officer on the state of the nullah), and that the whole matter would be discussed by the Municipal Commissioners.

4. This was done with the result that a sub-committee was appointed, whose proceedings were submitted to you, and were commented upon by you in your No. 71MM, dated 23rd July.

5. The matter having been again and further considered by the sub-committee, I have now the honor to forward a letter from the Vice-Chairman of the Suburban Municipality showing what has been done. The report of the sub-committee has not yet been approved by the Commissioners generally, but doubtless will be approved at the next meeting, and will then be sent you in final form.

6. The condition of Tolly's Nullah was also pressed upon the notice of the municipality in the Lieutenant-Governor's resolution on the annual report of the Health Officer for the Port of Calcutta. Extract from that resolution was forwarded with your No. 83MM, dated 9th ultimo. The sources of defilement mentioned are latrines, stables, and the inhabitants of the huts upon the banks of the nullah.

7. The Vice-Chairman's letter now forwarded describes the action which has been taken by the Commissioners, and it will, I think, be considered satisfactory.

8. The details need not be repeated here. Much that has been done, especially as regards the latrines, required to be done once for all, and these improvements are of a permanent character. Others are of a kind which require continued supervision to prevent recurrence, but a force of special conservancy police has been appointed to the duty of such supervision, and the danger of a relapse is not, I think, now to be feared.

9. The chief matters that remain are referred to at the close of the Vice-Chairman's letter. The great nuisance left is undoubtedly the slaughter-house, from which, although all solid matter is removed by cart, the washings still find their way into the nullah. The blame of the delay in its removal rests, as you and Government are aware, with the Government of India, the house being the property, and a very profitable property, of the Military Orphan School. A proposal for its removal has been submitted several months ago.

10. The defilement of the nullah beyond suburban limits has my attention and that of the District Superintendent of Police. The police are engaged at the present time in a visitation of the banks, and further orders will be issued as found necessary. Corpses are, I am assured, very rare; but the carcasses of animals are not, I fear, so uncommon. During a recent visit of inspection my attention was called to this matter by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor himself in connection with the state of the bank at a place not more than two miles above Tollygunge, the remains of several carcasses being there visible. The practice of exposing them there has been forbidden, and will be at all other such places.

11. Two other points are mentioned by the Vice-Chairman as lying specially within the province of the canal police—one, the use of the canal as a latrine by boatmen; the other, the deposit of rubbish outside private premises below high-water mark. It is no doubt impossible for the canal police, or any force of police that could be placed there, entirely to prevent these practices, especially the former, but I hope that you will prevail on the canal authorities to spare no exertion to check them. I have also addressed the Collector direct.

12. The only other point which has been raised in the correspondence that has passed, and which I need not notice, is the request contained in the Government letter of March, that the Commissioner of Police should be addressed. This was done, and the following reply received:—

"With reference to your No. 74M of the 30th ultimo, I have the honor to forward, for your information, copy of a report submitted by Superintendent Hill, who is in immediate charge of the police in the southern division of the suburbs of Calcutta.

"2. The question of quartering special police for the prevention of nuisances along suburban canal banks has already been considered by Mr. Wilson after reference to this office, and I would beg leave to refer to the opinions expressed in my letter (copy annexed) No. 560 of the 19th March last, as they apply with equal force to the prevention of nuisances on the banks of Tolly's Nullah.

"3. The entertainment of a special police force for the purpose would lead to considerable expense, as pointed out by Superintendent Hill; and if funds cannot be provided, the canal authorities must, here as elsewhere, make their own arrangements, for the police as at present constituted cannot be posted in sufficient numbers to put a stop to the evil."

13. A special force of constables having been appointed by the municipality to look after the nullah, I do not at present propose troubling the Commissioner of Police further on the matter.

14. I append for information copy of a letter received from the Port Health Officer describing the changes which he found in the condition of the banks of the nullah between his first visit in May and a second on the 9th August:—"The latrines at Kalighât above and below Kalighât bridge, Rasmony's Ghât, the public privy at Kidderpore bazar in charge of Ugnoo Mehter, the privy belonging to Jungly Mehter below Kidderpore bridge, and the pucca public latrine belonging to Dulluah Mehter, have all been removed from the canal bank.

"The stable refuse at Kalighât, Kalighât bridge, and the Alipore Jail garden has been removed from near the bank.

"There was no rotten rice on the canal bank of the Alipore Jail garden, and the drain at the Mauritius cooly emigration depôt was clean."

15. This refers to the occasion on which you visited the nullah, the Vice-Chairman and myself being in your company. Several improvements have, as you are aware, been effected since then.

16. The last visit of inspection paid was by the Lieutenant-Governor, accompanied by Dr. Payne and the Sanitary Commissioner, and I had the advantage of His Honor's own directions on various points connected with the nullah.

No. 56V, dated Alipore, the 18th August 1877.

From—R. C. STERNDALE, Esq., Vice-Chairman, Suburban Municipality,
To—The Magistrate of the 24-Pergunnahs.

I HAVE the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your No. 384M, forwarding copy of Commissioner's No. 83MM, dated the 9th August, with enclosures, and to state that, in accordance with your directions, the papers will be laid before the Commissioners at an early meeting.

In the meantime, I beg to report, for the information of the Commissioner and Government, that on receipt of Commissioner's No. 71MM, dated 23rd July, forwarded under cover of your No. 349M of the 30th ultimo, that letter, together with the Government resolution now referred to, and which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 8th instant, was laid before the sub-committee on sanitation, &c., for consideration. A copy of their proceedings will be forwarded as soon as approved by the Commissioners in meeting.

I have to report that the following action has already been taken by the Municipal Commissioners to remove the nuisances complained of and to remedy the insanitary state of the banks of the nullah.

The whole of the public latrines formerly existing close to the bank have after repeated prosecutions been closed entirely, and have either been removed, or are now in process of removal, by their owners.

The two public latrines—one at Orphangunge and one at Kalighât—have been constructed by the municipality on improved plans and are kept under supervision.

The owner of one of the old public latrines at Moonshegunge has re-erected his latrine further back from the nullah, and has been required to make the seats, drains, and reservoir thoroughly efficient, and to fence in his land on the canal side, to prevent any soil being thrown into the canal.

The committee have recommended the Commissioners to erect a latrine at Chetla, and this will be done as soon as their sanction is obtained. The latrine of the Mauritius cooly depôt agency has been removed from the drain communicating with the canal, and re-built away from the bank altogether.

The Superintendent of the Government Telegraph Yard has been requested to discontinue the use of the waste water drain as a latrine and urinal, and is now making arrangements for another latrine, the soil to be removed by the municipal establishment. He has also been requested to prevent the deposit of any offensive matter or refuse on the banks. All cutcha and mat privies have been removed from the banks, and the owners of masonry privies warned to make them efficient and to prevent any offensive matter or filth from escaping from them or being voided into the canal. Endeavours will be made to have them eventually removed.

A staff of ten reserve constables has been employed at the cost of the municipality for the purpose of watching the banks and warning off persons from defiling the banks by easing themselves thereon, and to arrest persons wilfully offending. A number of persons have been brought up daily, and it is hoped that this practice will be effectually checked. Notices have been freely posted along the ghâts and public places, and public proclamation by beat of drum was made along the course of the nullah for seven days, warning persons against committing nuisances in the canal and on its banks.

Measures have been taken to prevent any future deposit of stable litter or other refuse, and a conservancy jemadar, with a staff of sweepers and coolies, has been specially allotted to each bank, to keep them free from defilement.

The owners of private drains running into the nullah have been required to cleanse, repair, and make them efficient and keep them so in future.

There are other matters, such as the slaughter-house, which is in the hands of Government, and the voiding of fæces into the canal from country boats and the deposit of rubbish outside private premises and below high-water mark. The two latter can be dealt with under the Canal Rules (Rule XXVII), and I would suggest that the Collector and Supervisor of Canals should be asked to enforce the rule.

I would also beg to draw the attention of the Magistrate to the necessity of orders being passed to prevent the defilement of the banks and the throwing of corpses into the stream between Tollygunge bridge.

ABSTRACT OF REPORTS ON DISTRICT STOCKS OF RICE, &c., AND MOVEMENTS OF PRICE IN BENGAL, RECEIVED UP TO THE 2ND OCTOBER 1877.

N. B.—No reliance can be placed on the accuracy of figured estimates of stocks in the interior; at best a rough approximation is all that can be expected.

Burdwan, 29th September 1877.—Rice is coming in from the district freely. Export has decreased. Stocks in Burdwan town are 20,000 maunds more than reported last week. About 66,000 maunds were exported from Cutwa, 9,000 maunds from Bood-Bood, 8,000 maunds from Jehanabad, and 21,000 maunds from Raneegunge. Prices are slightly lower.

Bankoora, 29th September 1877.—About 18,000 maunds of rice were exported from the district during the week. Of this, about 6,000 maunds are said to have only passed through the district from Manbhoom.

Beerbhoom, 29th September 1877.—Prices remain unchanged. They range from 13 to 16 seers per rupee, the price at Soory being 14½ seers, and the average being $14\frac{7}{16}$ seers. The exportation of the week has been smaller, say 9,000 to 10,000 maunds. The stocks are grown small.

Midnapore, 21st September 1877.—The recent floods in the rivers Sankra, Selye, and Cossye have done considerable damage to the crops in the sub-divisions of Ghattal and Tumlook. In the former sub-division the tracts inundated comprise 7,333 acres in thana Ghattal, 660 acres in thana Daspore, and 390 acres in thana Chundrakona, or 8,383 acres in all, equal to 13½ square miles. In thana Ghattal more than one-third of the inundated area had aous on it, and the rest had amun. In Daspore only one mouzah, Brindabun Chack, has suffered. It is reported that the tract inundated will not be able to procure a crop of amun, but it will be premature now to say whether boro can be grown on it or not. In the Tumlook sub-division the damage done is much greater. The high floods of the second week of August made extensive breaches on the embankments on both banks of the Topakhal, and inundated the large tracts of highly cultivated land of Kassijorah and Mundleghat. The effect of this inundation is as disastrous as that of last year, and the tract in which there will be no crop is about 45 square miles. The number of houses destroyed is roughly estimated at 250. Much of the distress will be alleviated if the people can obtain a crop of boro or cold-weather rice.

Hooghly, 29th September 1877.—No exports or imports during the week, but rice is coming freely from the interior for sale at Hooghly and other places on the river for local consumption. Stocks at Chandernagore are estimated at 25,000 maunds. Coarse rice is selling at Hooghly at 11½ seers per rupee. There is a slight fall in the price of wheat, which is now selling at Rs. 3-4 per maund.

Howrah, 29*th September* 1877.—Export has been brisker, and the thana reports show that the grain has been moving forward everywhere. Prices have not changed.

24-Pergunnahs, 29*th September* 1877.—Exportation to Calcutta is going on without any apparent diminution: 25,233 maunds of rice and 8,852 maunds of paddy have been exported from Diamond Harbour, and larger quantities from Satkhira and Barripore. Prices are high and unsteady.

Nuddea, 29*th September* 1877.—The rain which has fallen in the north of the district has materially improved the state of the amun rice, which is an important crop in the Kooshtea sub division. The imports in Kooshtea were 11,813 maunds of grain, and the exports to Calcutta 7,397 maunds. The total exports from Meherpore were 39,600 maunds, namely, 600 maunds of gram from Meherpore thana 30,000 maunds of gram and wheat from Tehatta, and 9,000 maunds from Gangni (the correctness of these figures is doubted by the sub-divisional officer . 700 maunds were exported from Ranaghat town Exports at Santipore are active 950 maunds were exported from Bongong In the sudder sub-division 8,249 maunds of rice, 375 maunds of cereals, and 2,419 maunds of pulses were imported, and 3,863 maunds of rice, 358 maunds of cereals, and 1,258 maunds of pulses exported to Calcutta. There are wide differences in the reported prices, which range from Rs. 2-2 to Rs. 3-2 per maund. The new rice is probably procurable at Rs. 2-8.

Jessore, 29*th September* 1877.—Prices still continue high, but the supplies are equal to the demand, except in Bagirhat sub-division, in a part of which there is short supply, which will, however, be made up when the ramda harvest is reaped in a month's time. Exportation is going on, but only in Bagirhat is it much more than what is usual at this season. 7,023 maunds of rice were registered at Khoolna as exported from the district during the week.

Moorshedabad, 29*th September* 1877.—Prices are stationary. At Berhampore the prices are—best rice 9½ to 10½ seers, common rice 11 to 12½ seers, and coarse rice 13½ to 14 seers; at Lalbagh best rice 10½ seers, common rice 12 seers, and coarse rice 14 seers the rupee; at Jungypore best rice 12½ seers, common rice 13 and 13½ seers, and coarse rice 16 to 19 seers the rupee Exports still continue. 4,328 maunds of food-grains were sent by rail to Calcutta, and the Jungypore toll office returns give—imports, rice 45,700 maunds, paddy 2,250 maunds, wheat 3,853 maunds, &c.; exports, rice 27,250 maunds, paddy 1,200 maunds, wheat 950 maunds, &c.

Dinagepore, 28*th September* 1877.—The exports of grain from the different marts in the districts, during September up to 28th, amounted to 92,128 maunds, and the stock in hand 95,804 maunds.

Rajshahye, 29*th September* 1877.—The exports of rice from the several marts and gunges during the past week amounted to 8,796½ maunds, exclusive of Nowgong, from which place 6,375 maunds were exported during the previous week over and above what was shown in the last report The exports of pulses amounted to about 6,082 maunds. The stock still available for export is about 5 lakhs of maunds. Common rice sold in the early part of the week at 13½ seers, in the middle at 13½ seers, and at the close of the week at 13½ seers per rupee. New aous rice is selling at 15½ seers, and aous paddy at 21 seers per rupee.

Rungpore, 28*th September* 1877.—The price of rice has risen. Stocks of rice are ample. 18,683 maunds were brought to market during the week. From Gaibanda the exportations were 5,500 maunds to Serajgunge, Pubna, and Furreedpore, and 1,600 maunds to Calcutta, Goalpara, and Gowhatty In Kurigram exportations are going on to a small extent to Serajgunge, Goalpara, and some of the Dacca marts.

Bogra, 29*th September* 1877.—14,000 maunds of rice were exported during the week chiefly to Calcutta, and 3,335 maunds were imported from Dinagepore. The price of rice is a good deal higher in Shamakandi, dearer in Panchbibi and Badalgachi and the same as last week in six places.

Pubna, 29*th September* 1877.—At Pubna there has been a slight decrease in the price during the last week, owing to the favourable weather, which has benefited the importations. Coarse rice is sold at Rs. 2-2, Poorbee at Rs. 2-5-6, and dhan at Rs. 1-2-3. At Chatmohur dhan is 40 seers, and coarse rice 19 seers the rupee At Mothoora coarse rice is 16 to 17 seers, and dhan 35 to 37½ seers per rupee. At Serajgunge amun rice is from Rs. 3-3 to Rs. 3-9 a maund, aous from Rs 2-15 to Rs. 3-2, and dhan at Rs. 1-5 a maund. At Shazadpore dhan is Rs. 1-8 and rice Rs 3 per maund. At Ullaparrah rice is Rs. 2-14. At Raigunge dhan is 27 seers and rice 14 seers the rupee.

Darjeeling, 28*th September* 1877.—The prices remained stationary during the past week, and though somewhat high are not distressing. The present stock of rice is ample, and all fears of the safety of the winter crops having now passed over, a very fair outturn is looked for.

Julpigoree, 29*th September* 1877.—No change in the condition of food stocks, and no exportation reported. The price of common rice in the east of the district is 20 seers, and in the west 16 or 17 seers the rupee.

Cooch Behar, 27*th September* 1877.—There was no change in the price of rice; ordinary coarse rice continued to be sold at Rs. 3-8, and hiri rice at Rs. 3. The rates are not likely to come down till there is a long break in the rains and people can bring rice to the markets. No food-grains were exported during the week

Dacca, 29*th September* 1877.—The prospects of crops are improving, but prices are rising fast. Exports by boat from Naraingunge to Calcutta and Goalundo were 7,736 maunds, and by steamer 7,612 maunds Markets are well supplied, but there was a great rise in prices on 28th September. Prices varied at Naraingunge from Rs. 3-2 to Rs. 3-5, at Dacca from

Rs. 3-4 to Rs. 3-6, at Maniekgunge from Rs. 2-8 to Rs. 3-4, at Moonsheegunge Rs. 3-5. At Maipore rice was 12 to 13 seers and paddy 22 to 23 seers per rupee.

Furreedpore, 29*th September* 1877.—The average price of rice is barely 11 seers per rupee, and in some places not more than 9 seers can be obtained. Importation is still slack, and in the south of the district traffic is almost stopped in some places, the bheels being no longer navigable owing to the fall of the rivers. The exportation from Goalundo has somewhat decreased, and there is no exportation from any other part of the district.

Backergunge, 27*th September* 1877.—The prices of rice continue to be high everywhere; they are at Perozepore from Rs 4-4 to Rs. 5 per maund; at Patuakhally 9¼ seers amun and 12 seers aous per rupee; at Gulshakhali 7¼ seers amun and 9¼ seers aous per rupee. In Dukhin Shabazpore the prospect of the amun is good, and the prices now are—amun from Rs. 3-8 to Rs. 4 and aous from Rs. 3-6 to Rs. 3-8.

Mymensingh, 28*th September* 1877. Exportation slack.

Chittagong, 27*th September* 1877.—Prospects of amun are very good Rice is imported freely. Prices are 15 and 14 seers at Sitakoond and Chakariya, and 6 and 7 seers at Teknaaf and Nhila. No exportation of rice to Calcutta.

Noakholly, 27*th September* 1877.—Prices of food-grains are almost the same as reported last week. Coarse rice is 12 or 13 seers the rupee. The markets in the north of the district are fairly supplied. Exportation is going on from Bamni to Chittagong, and from Chowmohoney to Calcutta.

Tipperah, 28*th September* 1877.—Prices of rice are—in Commillah Rs 3-4, Barkampta Rs. 3, Gouripurah Rs 2-15, Thallah Rs 3-2, Munshirhat Rs 2-14, Lakshan Rs. 3-8, Chitosi Rs. 2-13, Chandpore Rs. 3, Brahmunberiah Rs 3-3 to Rs. 3-5. Prices are generally higher than usual, and are expected to rise higher still owing to the amount of exports and the smallness of the outturn of the autumn rice crop. The stock in hand, however, is sufficient to carry on with till the next winter crop.

Chittagong Hill Tracts, 25*th September* 1877. –Rice sells at Rangamatia at Rs 4, at Ramghur Rs. 3-8, and at Sungoo sub-division Rs. 5 per maund. At Cox's Bazar the price is 9½ seers per rupee.

Hill Tipperah, 26*th September* 1877.—There is no change to notice. Supplies are deficient only in the hills of the Udaipore sub-division, where there are no markets. The people there appear to be still somewhat pressed. The cutting of joom paddy has, however, begun in some places; it will afford the desired relief.

Patna, 29*th September* 1877.—Prices in the district are slightly lower, and markets easier than last week, except in Patna city, where wheat is 15 seers, rice 8 to 13 seers retail, and Indian-corn 25 seers per rupee.

Gya, 29*th September* 1877 —The exports are—from sudder sub-division to Patna, rice 718½ maunds, gram 354 maunds, wheat 55, rahur 56, and moong 152 maunds; from Jehanabad sub-division to Patna 3,450 maunds; from Aurungabad sub-division 1,510 maunds to Shahabad, and 2,400 maunds to Patna. There has been a general rise in the prices throughout the district during the week, except in the Jehanabad sub-division, where prices have fallen, notwithstanding continued exportation.

Shahabad, 29*th September* 1877.—Prices are rising everywhere; exportation to the North-West continues. Many lower castes are emigrating from Sasseram owing to high prices. Supplies of grain in local marts are reported to be plentiful.

Durbhunga, 29*th September* 1877.—The Durbhunga markets have not quite recovered their tone after the disturbance reported last week, but the prices of most of the food-grains are easier, though unusually high for this time of the year.

Mozufferpore, 29*th September* 1877.—Prices have slightly risen during the week. Large exportations of maize continue to be made from Hajeepore sub-division, and grain in considerable quantities is being exported from Seetamurhee sub-division and from the western part of the Sudder sub-division.

Sarun, 29*th September* 1877 —The imports from Shahabad, Patna, Bhagulpore, and Ghazipore amounted to 5,700 maunds; exports to Calcutta nil, to Fyzabad 1,200 maunds of rahur Stocks in the markets amount to 9,233 maunds. Prices have fallen a little. They are—wheat 13½ seers, barley 18$\frac{4}{16}$ seers, best rice 7½ seers, common rice 11 seers, paddy 18 seers, &c Chumparun, 30*th September* 1877.—No exports are reported. A good deal of early rice and makai is coming into the market, but prices are rising.

Monghyr, 29*th September* 1877.—The estimated stock of food-grains on sale at the different marts and gunges in the district during the week consisted of rice 10,200 maunds, dhan 1,560 maunds, rahur 7,134 maunds, wheat 26,526 maunds, gram 12,235 maunds, &c.

Bhagulpore, 30*th September* 1877.—Dealers are purchasing largely and holding to keep up prices. Want of rolling-stock on the railway has checked export.

Purneah, 29*th September* 1877.—The markets are well supplied, though there has been but little export towards Calcutta or elsewhere out of the district.

Maldah, 29*th September* 1877.—The prices of coarse rice varies from 13 seers at Shibgunge in the south to 22½ seers at Gazole in the north. The average is still 17 seers.

Sonthal Pergunnahs, 30*th September* 1877.—The supply of food-grains in the different marts of Deoghur sub-division consisted of paddy 49 maunds. ordinary rice 889 maunds, best rice 55 maunds, Indian-corn 135 maunds, and gram 48 maunds. 653 maunds of rice were exported to Calcutta and the North-Western Provinces.

Cuttack, 29th September 1877.—Except in Cuttack, where the greatest activity in exportation is going on, prices are much as last week. There are ample stocks of grain, and the new early rice is coming into market, but the prices, governed by the high prices in the south, are now very high. In Cuttack 7• to 10 seers (Cuttack 105 tolahs) are the prevailing prices, so anxious are the exporters to get hold of rice for export that they buy it only three parts husked.

In the interior coarsest rice is selling at from 12 to 16 seers

Altogether the stocks are amply sufficient for local consumption and for a large export, but should the rain altogether hold off now, or prospects not improve in the Madras Presidency, high prices will prevail all next year.

Pooree, 26th September 1877.—The condition of the people in pergunnahs Parikood, Malood, and Bajrakot, between the sea and the Chilka Lake, has become critical owing partly to the crops, which are seldom good even in a favourable season, having been more than usually bad during the last two years They generally live at this season by borrowing grain at a high rate of interest, on the security of the crop on the ground; but this year the crops being unpromising they cannot get any loans, and even if they had money, there is no rice to be bought within 20 or 30 miles. The Collector has raised Rs 1,375 by subscription from the residents of Pooree, and is arranging for a supply of grain being taken to the places named and distributed among the people there. The Commissioner has sanctioned an expenditure of Rs. 1,000 on repairing bunds and tanks to give work to the people till November next, when the manufacture of salt will begin and give employment to a large number of the people.

The 27th September 1877.—Supply of rice to inland markets on the north-eastern part of the district is decreasing on account of the increasing demand for export rid False Point. It is obtainable in all parts of the district, and the rate varies from 11$\frac{3}{8}$ to 15$\frac{3}{4}$ seers. In the tract between the Chilka Lake and the sea the price is 10$\frac{1}{2}$ seers per rupee.

Balasore, 28th September 1877.—During the past week 11,262 maunds of rice were exported from Balasore to Madras, and 2,910 maunds of rice and 1,888 maunds of paddy from Chandbally to Calcutta. Prices of clean red rice in Balasore town ranged from Rs. 2-6 to Rs. 2-8, and in Chandbally from Rs. 2-7 to Rs. 2-9. Prices are almost stationary in Balasore, but in Chandbally they have risen since last week. Stocks held for export in Balasore 80,400 maunds, and in Chandbally 66,953 maunds.

(In the Gazette of 26th September 1877, in the part relating to the stock of rice in Balasore, for "8,57,000 maunds" read "85,700 maunds.")

Hazareebagh, 28th September 1877.—Markets well supplied with food of all kinds; prices of rice and wheat slightly lower. Export of rice about 300 maunds to Patna from Giridhi Lohardugga, 29th September 1877.—The markets are well supplied with food-grains. Grain is being exported to Gya and Shahabad from Palamow. Prices are steady in head-quarters sub-division, but in Palamow they have risen.

Singbhoom, 28th September 1877.—The supply of food-grains is plentiful. There is no change in prices except at Khursowah, where coarse rice is reported to be 36 seers per rupee. Exportation was insignificant.

Manbhoom, 29th September 1877.—Exportation continues brisk. Rice is coming from Singbhoom and is being sent on to Calcutta. The food-grain supply in the district is sufficient, but unless rain falls shortly there will be a poor harvest, and prices will rule very high before long.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 29th September 1877.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
	BENGAL
	Western Districts.
	Burdwan Div.
1	Burdwan, Sept 29 '77	Nil	Rainfall at Culna has been ·47, at Cutwa nil at Bood-bood 13, at Jehanabad 68, and at Raneegunge 2 17. The crops are doing very well Fever is very prevalent.
2	Bankoora, „ 29 „	13	Weather—generally dry The rains seem to be over Rain is wanted for the highlands, which are being irrigated. The prospects otherwise are good Aus is being reaped
3	Beerbhoom, „ 29 „	·23	Weather—fine. State and prospects of the crops are very fair indeed.
4	Midnapore, „ 29 „	·78	Partial showers have fallen during the week The rainfall at Midnapore only extended a few miles round Most places have had a slight shower or two, but not nearly enough The prospects may still be considered very good, and the rain that has fallen is enough to keep the crop in good order up to date, but more rain is needed before the season terminates
5	Hooghly, „ 29 „	47	Weather—hot. Slight rain fell on the 25th, 26th, and 28th September. Ploughings for rubbee sowings have commenced in certain places. Rain is urgently needed to ensure the late rice crop, which is already suffering from want of water. Many cases of fever in the mofussil, though not of a virulent type.
	Howrah, „ 29 „	26	Weather—sultry with occasional slight showers Aman promises well, but a little rain would do good now. The floods reported last week subsided so rapidly that the damage done was inconsiderable.
	Central Districts
	Presidency Div.
6	24-Pergunnahs, Sept 29 '77	65	Weather—fair, with light showers at intervals Mornings are getting cooler. Aus is almost harvested with good outturn. The new rice is passing into consumption quickly Prospects of the late rice continue very favourable Health in general is good for this time of year
7	Nuddea, Sept. 29 „	68	There have been light showers all over the district, but in the north heavy rain fell. The rain has improved the prospects of late rice, but more is required in most localities The spring sowings of indigo and chillies, turmeric and sugarcane, are reported to be doing well.
8	Jessore „ 29 „	1 16	Weather—hot and dry generally. There were several showers lasting a short time only, but rain falling very heavily during that time Aus has been wholly harvested in most parts of the district. Prospects of aman are good, but more rain is wanted. Sugarcane and chillies are doing well.
9	Moorshedabad „ 29 „	1 45	Weather—hot with occasional showers Up to 28th September Lalbagh had 3·05 and Rampore Hat 1 99; up to 27th Jungypore had 2 11 The prospects of the aman crops are very favourable except in Dewan Serai. Some damage has been done by inundation, but in very limited tracts The harvest of the aus crop is just over, and the outturn generally is somewhat above the average. Mulberry, sugarcane, and til, are on the whole in good condition.
	Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs.
10	Dinagepore, „ 28 „	1 19	There have been occasional showers, more or less heavy. 1 07 at Roygunge. In the higher parts of the district six annas of the winter rice must remain unplanted The bhadoi has not averaged 14 annas all over the district. The jute is much cheaper than last week, but is not a full crop. Fever is very bad.
11	Rajshahye, „ 29 „	5·46	There has been heavy rain in almost all parts of the district, which, though it has done slight injury to arhar and rice in some places, has generally much improved the prospects of the winter rice crop Kalai is being sown in places Fever is still prevalent.
12	Rungpore, „ 28 „	3·31	Weather—on the whole fairly cool, but somewhat hot before the showers 88 at Gaibunda and 3 15 at Kurigram Prospects of the crops continue to be very good, but fine weather is now required, as the sowing of tobacco has been seriously delayed in consequence of the heavy rain. Malarious fever is common, but not to the same extent as in the three preceding years.
13	Bogra, „ 29 „	7 49	Weather—hot and cloudy: with slight rain at times at the beginning of the week; rainy and rather cool towards the end Aus and jute have been cut, and there has been a fair average outturn. Aman and other crops are in good condition, and give promise of a good outturn. The heavy rain of the 27th and 28th September will be very beneficial to the aman, the transplanting of which has almost entirely been completed. There is every probability of its yielding a good crop. Arhar in Panchbibi is reported to have been damaged by excessive rain The sesamum that was sown has germinated well. Maskalai is being sown Health of the district continues good except at Panchbibi and Badalgachi, where there is a great deal of fever.

No.	District, and date of return	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
	BENGAL.—(Continued.)
	Central Districts.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divn	14 Pubna, Sept 29 '77	7 36	Weather—cloudy, with heavy showers on the 26th, 27th, and 28th September Amun was suffering for want of inundation water, but the late heavy rain has done great good to the crop. It is however not very good, owing to the unusual lowness of the rivers. Fever is still prevalent.
	15 Darjeeling, „ 28 „	3·30	There was a very heavy fall of rain on the 22nd September. Since then there have been several showers and a good deal of mist. The bhadoi rice has all been reaped and the haimanti all transplanted. All fears for the safety of the latter crop are past, and a very fair outturn is expected. The minor crops of til and kalai are doing well.
	16 Julpigoree, „ 29 „	3 20	Weather—seasonable. Slight rain fell every day, but Buxa had 9 18 inches. The haimanti sowings have been completed, and the general condition of the plant is favourable. The rain has been almost too heavy for the kalai and jute crops. The latter shows a poor outturn in most parts of the district, but the price is high, and the crop has therefore not been unprofitable to the producers Tobacco, mustard, and potatoes, are being sown.
	Cooch Behar, „ 27 „	6 71	Weather—generally cloudy in the morning and clear during the remaining portion of the day. 11·93 at Mekljgunge, 11 23 at Mathabhanga, and 4 53 at Dinhatta. There has been no change in the prospects of the haimanti dhan. A good outturn cannot be expected, and at the same time there will not be a total failure. The excessive rains have spoilt the tobacco seedlings, and seeds cannot be resown until there is a break. There are fever cases here and there, but on the whole the public health is reported to be good.
	Eastern Districts.
Dacca Divn	17 Dacca, Sept 29 '77	2 47	There has been a succession of heavy showers since 25th September. 1·38 at Manickgunge up to 27th and 1·45 at Moonshegunge up to 28th September State and prospects of the crops are favourable as yet. The week has been a good one for all crops.
	18 Furreedpore, „ 29 „	2·42	Good rainfall all over the district. Weather still cloudy 2·92 inches registered at Goalundo and 2·98 inches at Madaripore. The rain that has fallen during the week has considerably improved the prospects of the rice crop on the lands not dependent on inundation, and has mitigated the injury caused by the fall of the rivers to the crops on the inundated tracts, but a good amun harvest cannot be expected.
	19 Backergunge, „ 27 „	1·96	The prospect of the crops everywhere continue to be good, and the rain which has fallen in most places throughout the district has further improved them Amun has been extensively cultivated in Dakhin Shabazpore, and the prospects are reported very good.
	20 Mymensingh, „ 28 „	7 19	Excessive rain fell during the week, except in the Kishoregunge sub-division. The prospects of the late rice are not very encouraging There has been far too much rain, and considerable damage in consequence has been done
	21 Tipperah, „ 28 „	2 16	Weather—rainy and stormy. 1 27 at Brahmunbaria. Prospects of the winter rice are good. There has been rather too much rain, and a little more fine weather is wanted
Chittagong Divn.	22 Chittagong, „ 27 „	·44	Weather—showery and seasonable. The prospects of amun crops are very good.
	23 Noakholly, „ 27 „	2·7	Weather—hot. Slight rain during the week Almost all the early rice is reaped Transplantation of the late rice is still going on Public health is good
	24 Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 25 „	6·12	Occasional falls of rain throughout the week. Up to 9 A.M. of the 25th September there appeared a likelihood of more rain. The harvesting of the joom paddy crop still continues. Both cotton and til are doing well. The plough cultivators are again transplanting paddy, but they are obliged to purchase jats (plant) at an enormous cost The state and prospects of the crops in the Cox's Bazar sub-division are reported to be good
	Hill Tipperah, „ 26 „	·60	Very slight rainfall during the week. Weather not so hot as in the previous week. Kailashur has again suffered from inundation, which has done a good deal of damage. In other parts prospects have not changed and are good Health is good
	BEHAR.
Patna Division.	25 Patna Sept 29 '77	Nil	The intense heat of the past fortnight has ruined much of the kharef and late bhadoi. For rubbee sowings rain is required within the next ten or fifteen days. In the Behar sub-division the kharef prospects are fair, and elsewhere they are anything but promising. Health is good.
	26 Gya, „ 29 „	Nil	Weather—very hot and very bright. Maximum thermometer in the shade 100 2°. Johanabad only had 19. The reaping of the bhadoi crops is still going on Ploughing for the rubbee progresses with difficulty, the ground is so dry and hard. Rain is most anxiously looked for to save the winter rice If none fall within ten days the consequences will inevitably be serious.

BEHAR.—(Continued.)
	27	Shahabad. Sept. 29 '77	Nil	No rain any where in the district except an insignificant shower (·09) at Buxar. Weather very hot. Canal water is being taken wherever available, and in such localities the crops are much better off Want of rain holds out a very bad prospect for the rubbee crop. The next three weeks will be critical for this crop. The bhadoi crop in Bhaboosh has been harvested, and is estimated by the sub-divisional officer at only 2 annas. This crop in Buxar never Dumraon is estimated at 12 annas
Patna Division.	28	Durbhunga, „ 29 „	Nil	Weather—sultry. Clear skies In the Mudhoobani and Durbhunga sub-divisions the prospects of the winter rice crop continue good, and if within the next ten days the katia rains fall in fair quantity, there will be hopes of an excellent harvest. In Tajpore, however, the continued drought has already caused considerable damage, and in that sub-division a good downpour is very urgently wanted.
	29	Mozufferpore. „ 29 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy and very hot. There has been no rain at Mozufferpore or at either of the sub-divisional head-quarters, but a smart shower has fallen over a limited area in thana Paro, west of the Mozufferpore sub-division The bhadoi harvest is still going on. The lands where the crops have been cut are very dry and require much rain for the rubbee sowings. The rice crop is beginning to show signs of withering on the high lands, and is generally in a critical condition.
	30	Sarun „ 29 „	·37	Weather—very hot and dry, though occasionally cloudy; 24 at Sewan Except for a thunderstorm on the 27th September, the blazing weather has been continuous. This is the most important time of the year for rain, and there is not apparent likelihood of its falling heavily. The weather is most exhausting. Prices have however fallen.
	31	Chumparun, „ 30 „	Nil	Weather—hot and generally cloudy. From a small area in the east alone good rain is reported; quantity unknown: in the north it has been very partial. In some places the rice has been benefited, in others it is withering In the west and almost the whole of the south part of the district there has been little or no rain, and unless it comes at once the prospects are very bad, and in any case poor. Much of the rice (though comparatively little is grown there) is ruined, and the kodo has also suffered greatly. In Motecharee only a few drops (inappreciable) have fallen since the 12th, where the fall had already been very short; in Bettiah, none. Six days of the katia are gone and nine remain From the north part of Bettiah, where most rice is grown, the crops are reported to be still quite green, but rain is urgently needed. The makai all round can hardly be half a crop. In Motecharee the rainfall up to the end of September is 18¼ inches below the average (44 16) of twelve years, and in Bettiah 16¼ below the average (51 86) of six years In September the average at Motecharee was 9 27, against 62 this year; in Bettiah ·65, against 13·25. Altogether the prospects are very serious for the present crops and also for the ensuing rubbee and indigo. Since reported on the 2nd instant. Still no rain either in Motecharee or Bettiah; few showers elsewhere.
	32	Monghyr, „ 29 „	Nil	Weather—hot. The katia has commenced without rain, but no apprehension would exist if there be a downpour within the next ten or twelve days.
Bhagulpore Divn.	33	Bhagulpore, „ 30 „	Nil	Weather—hot and sultry. Bhadoi is yielding excellently One more rain only within the next ten or fifteen days is wanted to secure an unusually fine aghani crop.
	34	Purneah, „ 29 „	·10	It looks as if the rains had ceased. But Kissengunge had 5 06 inches and Arrareah 5 inches. The rain in the middle of the month has been very beneficial, but now more is required to secure a really good crop.
	35	Maldah, „ 29 „	·05	Weather—sultry There has been more rain in the mofussil than at head-quarters. The crops are thriving. Fever is still prevalent.
	36	Santhal Pergha., „ 30 „	·46	Towards the latter part of the week there have been partial showers, and the weather became cooler. Rainfall at Deoghur has been ·21, at Godda 64, and at Rajmehal nil. All crops are promising well.
ORISSA.
	37	Cuttack, Sept 29 '77	1·99	Weather—for the most part fair, but showery. There is little to note this week. Beals is for the most part cut. Sarad is being transplanted and is progressing, but here and there it is reported to be suffering from scanty rain Rubbee sowings have commenced. Some cases of cholera and cattle disease are reported from all parts of the district, but no great outbreak anywhere.
Orissa Divn.	38	Pooree, „ 27 „	3·95	Weather—hot and occasionally cloudy No report received from the sub-divisional officer of Khoordah. From the reports of the Police and Canoongoes, it appears that the state of sarad paddy in Khoordah is fair. The rainfall was heavy in the city of Pooree, moderate in the pergunnahs within a radius of ten miles, and slight in other parts of the district. In the tracts between the Chilka and the sea the want of sufficient rain is severely felt. Transplanting and weeding are almost stopped. The state of the crops in other parts of the district is fair, but more rain is required.
	39	Balasore, „ 28 „	1·32	Weather—showery Sufficient rain for the present has fallen. The early rice crop has been cut in most places. The late crop is doing well, except that in the north of the district some damage is being done by insect. Cattle disease has not yet disappeared.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Sept. 28 '77	·16	Weather—seasonable, but unusually warm. The prospects are very favourable so far. With a few showers of rain at intervals between this and the end of next month a full crop may be anticipated. Fever is prevalent, as also cattle disease.
41	Lohardugga, „ 29 „	·10	The break in the rains, which commenced on the 12th September, has continued all the past week in the head-quarters sub-division except in three police-station circles. The crops have begun to suffer. The sub-divisional officer of Palamow reported on the 25th that a second week without rain had passed, that the bhadoi was expected to be half an average crop, and that the prospects of the khareef depended on having more rain in a short time. Public health is good.
42	Singbhoom „ 28 „	·06	Weather—seasonable. The prospects of the crops are favourable except where they are attacked by rotah disease, as reported last week. The district is healthy.
43	Manbhoom, „ 29 „	·51	Weather—too dry for the season of the year. The prospects of the rice crop are not so good this week. The rice is drying for want of rain. The ryots not being good cultivators, and not given to embanking their fields sufficiently, are too much dependent upon a regular rainfall.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from observations made at 6h, 10h., 16h. and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modification of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

RULES UNDER THE CHOTA NAGPORE ENCUMBERED ESTATES' ACT, 1876.

The 27th September 1877.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 19 of the Chota Nagpore Encumbered Estates' Act, 1876, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has, with the approval of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, made the following rules:—

Rule 1.—Without the special sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, the Act shall not be put in force unless the person seeking it derives an annual income of Rs. 500 or more from his immoveable property, and without the same sanction no immoveable property, other than land or permanent interests in land, shall be brought under the provisions of the Act.

Rule 2.—Every application under Section 2 of the Act shall, if made by the holder of immoveable property, or by his heir, or guardian, committee, or other legal curator of such holder or heir, be accompanied by a statement of all debts and liabilities due by such holder, together with the names of the creditors, and a specification of the date on which each debt was incurred, and also by a statement showing of what property such holder is possessed, and the income derivable therefrom. These statements may, if the Commissioner deem it necessary, be sent to the Deputy Commissioner of the district or districts in which the immoveable property is situated for inquiry into the correctness or otherwise of such statements, and for report as to whether the property is solvent or not. The Commissioner shall refrain from issuing the vesting order under Section 2, if it appears to him on such report or otherwise that the property is hopelessly insolvent.

Rule 3.—When a Deputy Commissioner is of opinion that any property should be brought under the provisions of the Act, he shall ascertain, as far as possible, what debts and liabilities are due by the holder of such property, and what immoveable property he has in his possession, and the income derivable therefrom; and, after inquiry into the solvency or otherwise of the holder, he shall submit the whole of the papers to the Commissioner, who shall issue the vesting order or not according as, in his opinion, the property is solvent or not.

Rule 4.—After the vesting order has been issued, it shall be the duty of the manager to inquire carefully into the solvency of the property, and to make early report on this point to the Commissioner, with a view to the restoration of the property to the owner (under Section 12 of the Act as amended by Act XII of 1877) should the property prove to be insolvent.

Rule 5.—Wherever the manager appointed under the Act is not the Deputy Commissioner of the district, the Deputy Commissioner will (subject to such orders, consistent with the provisions of the said Act, as the Commissioner may from time to time issue), exercise a general control over the management of all the properties in his district.

Rule 6.—The security to be required from any manager not being a Government servant and from subordinate officers under this Act shall be fixed from time to time by the Commissioner of the division, with the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor: provided that no such manager or subordinate officer shall be required to give security for an amount exceeding 25 per cent. of the annual rents and profits of the property on account of which he is employed.

Rule 7.—To every notice published under section 5 of the Act shall be appended a copy of Section 6. The notice shall be published at the district cutcherries, moonsifs' courts, and thanas within the jurisdiction of which the property is situated, and shall be affixed to the bhandar of all villages contained within the property. Whenever possible, special service of such notice shall be made on every known creditor of the property; but the absence of such special service shall not be a bar to proceedings under the Act.

Rule 8.—When any property is restored to the holder or his heir, in accordance with Section 12 of the Act, notice of the restoration shall be published at the places mentioned in the preceding rule and in the Calcutta Gazette.

Rule 9.—On the publication of the vesting order under Section 2 of the Act, the holder of the property, or his legal representative, shall be called upon to deliver to the manager, within fifteen days, all accounts and other papers connected with the management of the property.

Rule 10.—In determining the amount of any principal debt or liability under Section 8 of the Act, claims equitably due may be admitted by the manager if acknowledged by the holder of the property or his legal representative, notwithstanding the existence of some legal defence, such as limitation or insufficiency of stamp.

Rule 11.—The allowance of interest on any principal debt or liability shall not exceed 12 per cent. per annum from the date on which it was incurred to the date of determination, or from the date of determination to the date of payment.

Rule 12.—Notice shall be given to each creditor of the date on which orders will be passed by the manager on his claim. If any oral evidence in support of the claim is adduced, it shall be recorded by the manager in the English language, and shall be filed with the papers relating to the claim. The manager may from time to time, as seems necessary, adjourn the passing of orders on any claim. Notice of such adjournment shall be given to the claimant or his representative.

Rule 13.—The manager shall record in the English language reasons for his decision on each claim, and within one week of the date of such decision, a copy thereof shall be prepared in the vernacular of the district for delivery to the creditor on application.

Rule 14.—The scheme mentioned in Section 11 of the Act shall be submitted by the manager through the Deputy Commissioner, who will forward it, with his opinion, to the Commissioner. The manager shall note in such scheme the order in which he proposes to pay the admitted debts. The manager, in determining the order for payment of the debts, will, as far as possible, give preference first to claims of mortgagees and conditional vendees removed from possession under Section 16 of the Act; secondly, to decrees of court; and thirdly, to bond debts.

Rule 15.—Applications by the manager, under Section 16 of the Act, for the removal of a mortgagee or conditional vendee from possession shall not be made without the sanction of the Commissioner.

Rule 16.—The power to lease, under Section 17 of the Act, shall be subject to the following provision:—No lease shall be given for any term exceeding three years without the sanction of the Deputy Commissioner, or exceeding four years without the sanction of the Commissioner.

The 22nd September 1877.—The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to order the publication of the following notification for general information:—

NOTICE TO MARINERS, No. 1.

BAY OF BENGAL, EAST COAST.

CHITTAGONG.

Intended alterations in the Beacons at entrance to the Chittagong or Kurnafoolee River.

THE following information regarding the shifting of the Norman's Point lights is published for the guidance of masters of vessels and other seafaring people frequenting the port of Chittagong.

The two beacon lights situated on the southern shore and entrance to the Kurnafoolee river, latitude 22° 12′ 0″ north; longitude 91° 51′ 30″ east, are to be removed shortly to a new site "2,417 yards" due south of their present position. The beacons, when in the position selected for their removal, will be 40 yards apart; the inner or eastern light will be exhibited from a tripod structure, and the outer or western light from a mast, and both structures will be painted white. The inner light will be placed about 10 feet higher than the outer or western one, and both will be visible seven miles in clear weather over an arc of 160°, ranging from north-west by north to south by east, when seen from seaward The beacons will intersect at south-east by east-¼-east, and the lights will appear one above the other at that bearing. During southerly winds, sailing vessels coming from south-west or southward and westward (especially those that are some distance in the offing) should not come to the northward of the lights; but with the western or outer light bearing east-¼-north should run in and anchor in five fathoms or 2¼ miles west-¼-south of the outer light, and there anchor and wait for daylight. The beacons intersect at south-east by east-¼-east, and the Hill flagstaff (latitude 22° 14′ 06″ north, longitude 91° 52′ 56″ east), bearing north-east, will place a vessel about half a mile to the westward of the bar buoys, where the bar and river buoys will be seen distinctly, and the services of a local pilot will always be obtainable. Vessels should not attempt to cross the bar without a pilot, as the channel is long, narrow, and somewhat intricate.

Temporary lights will be shown from the present position of the Norman's Point beacons from the 20th September to the 19th October 1877, after which date the lights will be exhibited from the new site.

Northern Boundary.

Commencing from the north-west angle at Paramanick Ghât on the River Hooghly, the boundary follows the northern side of Paramanick Ghât Road eastwards to its junction with the Cossipore Road; thence northwards along the western side of the Cossipore Road till its junction with Dhareabagan Road; thence eastwards along the northern side of the Dhareabagan Road till it meets the Barrackpore Trunk Road, which it crosses; and thence continues along the northern side of the north Sinthee Road eastwards till it meets the Eastern Bengal Railway line, crossing to the eastern side of the said line at No. 2 bridge, north of the Dum-Dum station.

Eastern Boundary.

The boundary on the east follows the eastern side of the Eastern Bengal Railway line southwards till it meets the bridge over the new canal at Ooltadangah; from thence it follows the eastern bank of the new canal till it joins the Balliaghatta Canal at the Dhappa toll house; thence crosses the Balliaghatta Canal to its southern bank; thence westwards along the southern bank of the Balliaghatta Canal till it meets Paugladanga Canal Road, thence along the eastern side of the Paugladanga Canal Road to its junction with the Paugladanga Road; thence along the eastern side of the Paugladanga Road till it meets the Chingreeghatta Road; thence southwards to the Punchannogram iron boundary pillar; thence southwards along the eastern side of an unmetalled road till it meets the municipal tramway; thence it turns westwards along the southern boundary of the municipal tramway till it meets the south Tangrah Road; thence it follows the eastern side of the Tangrah Road till it meets Christopher's Lane and Topseeah Road; thence along the eastern side, and afterwards along the southern side, of the Topseeah Road till it joins the Tilljullah Road; thence along the southern side of the Tilljullah Road to No. 4 bridge of the Calcutta and South Eastern State Railway line; thence along the eastern side of the line of railway till it meets the Kankilay Road; thence westwards, crossing the railway, it follows the southern side of the Kankilay Road till it meets the Gurreahat Road; thence southwards along the eastern side of the Gurreahat Road till it meets the Mollahatty Road.

Southern Boundary.

Leaving the Gurreahat Road, the boundary runs westwards along the southern side of the Mollahatty Road till it meets the Russapaugla Road; thence northwards along the western side of the Russapaugla Road till it meets the Tallygunge Bridge Road; thence along the southern side of the Tallygunge Bridge Road westwards to Tallygunge Suspension Bridge, where it crosses Tolly's Nullah; from thence it runs along the southern side of the Tallygunge, Shapore, Goragatchee, and the Taratalla Roads, which latter passes through the villages of Dowlutpore No. 441, Indree No. 446, and Durreepin No. 383; thence westwards along the southern side of the Circular Garden Reach or Moocheekhollah Road to the point where the Durreepin boundary crosses it; and thence along the southern side of the Paharpore Road, which diverges from that point through the villages of Singerathee No. 444, Futtehpore No. 430 and Ramasathee No. 432; and thence northwards along west side of the above road, through the villages of Futtehpore No. 430, and Ramessurpore No. 300, till it joins the western boundary line at the junction of the boundary villages Ramessurpore and Garden

Reach; the boundary then proceeds northwards for a short distance up to Garden Reach Road, following the boundary common to Moodially, Dhobapara, and Dum-Duma on the one side, and Garden Reach on the other, up to the Dum-Duma drain; thence along the eastern cut of the Dum-Duma drain in a straight line to the River Hooghly.

Western Boundary.

Starting from the trijunction of the village of Dum-Duma, Garden Reach, and River Hooghly, it proceeds along the southern bank of the River Hooghly as far as Hastings' Bridge; it thence follows the northern bank of Tolly's Nullah up to Jerut Bridge; thence along the northern approach to the bridge to the Lower Circular Road; thence along the southern and eastern side of the Circular Road up to Manicktollah Road; thence eastwards along the northern side of the road to a point where the Marhatta Ditch touches the Manicktollah Road; thence along the Marhatta Ditch northwards till it meets the Upper Circular Road; thence northwards along the Circular Road to the point where it meets the Halseebagan Road; thence along the northern side of the Halseebagan Road eastwards till it meets the Marhatta Ditch (which is the boundary between Halseebagan and Goureebere), which it follows till it meets the Ooltadangah Road, following the southern side of the said road till it joins the Upper Circular Road, and follows the eastern side of the same road, and the eastern and northern banks of the Marhatta Ditch, till it joins the River Hooghly at Permit Ghât; thence it proceeds along the eastern bank of the Hooghly River up to the Paramanick Ghât.

1. Note.—All railways, canals, tramways, drains, lanes, &c., (with the exception of the Calcutta Circular Road and Marhata Ditch) situated on the above boundaries are included in the Suburbs of Calcutta, together with the drains on both sides of all such roads and lanes.
2. Note.—The villages of Nyenan, Neej-Nyenan, Nyenan (east), and Neej-Senthee, situated north of the northern boundary line of the Suburbs as above defined, are attached to thana Burranuggur, of district 24-Pergunnahs.
3. Note.—The portion of village Neemuckpooktan situated east of the Pangladanga road is attached to thana Tallygunge, of district 24-Pergunnahs.
4. Note.—The village of Govindpore and parts of villages Aruckpore, Selimpore, and Dhacoorea situated west of the Gurreah Hât Road, and north of the Mollahatty Road are included in the Police and Municipal jurisdiction of the Suburbs of Calcutta.

PART II.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale, to the undermentioned estate situate in the district of Cuttack, will be put up to sale at the Cuttack Collectorate on the 9th November 1877, corresponding with the 26th Kartic 1285 Umli.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale :—

1. The purchaser of each estate will be considered as the proprietor of that estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, the only right reserved by Government being the right of revising the jummah at the conclusion of the term of the present settlement and on the expiration of all future settlements. If on resettlement he should refuse to engage, he will be entitled to malikana. The estate will be sold, subject up to the year 1897 A.D. to the Government revenue against it, to the highest bidder above the upset price.

2. The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3. If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once

4. If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale

The Indian Law Reports

Published under Authority of the Governor-General in Council.

THE Reports appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series,—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

ERRATUM

FOR the first four lines of paragraph 4 of the Resolution on the Chittagong Annual Report for 1876-77 substitute the following:—

"The port of Chittagong has suffered in its trade from the bad harvests and disasters of the last two or three years. Last year the exports of rice to foreign ports were 9,373 tons only (18,659 tons including the coasting trade), and the exports of tea 601,931lb, of which all but 575lb went to Calcutta. The Commissioner values this tea at Rs. 6,12,638, which seems an over-valuation. The gross tonnage of the port had fallen from 94,839 to 80,652 in the year of review."

A. MACKENZIE,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RE-CLASSIFICATION OF THE CHARITABLE DISPENSARY AT NUSSEERABAD IN THE MYMENSINGH DISTRICT.

No. 1873T, dated Darjeeling, the 27th September 1877.

From—COLMAN MACAULAY, Esq., Offg. Junior Secy. to the Government of Bengal,
To—The Commissioner of the Dacca Division.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 167, dated the 15th instant, with annexure, and in reply I am to say that, as the charitable dispensary at Nusseerabad in the Mymensingh district has now a monthly income of more than Rs. 120, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, in compliance with your recommendation, to sanction the re-classification of the dispensary under the revised rules for the management of charitable hospitals and dispensaries as a Class III, Grade I, dispensary. The Surgeon-General, Indian Medical Department, will be desired to depute an assistant surgeon to the charge of the institution in place of the native doctor now attached to it.

2. I am at the same time to request you to be good enough to convey to Baboo Kashi Kishore Roy Chowdry and Syed Abdullah Dewan Saheb of Habutnagur an expression of the Lieutenant-Governor's appreciation of their liberality in subscribing Rs. 1,200 and Rs. 1,000 respectively towards the support of the dispensary.

Statistical Department,
The 9th October 1877.

Rajendra Nath Mitra,
Offg. Asst. Secy. to the Govt of. Bengal.

ABSTRACT OF REPORTS ON DISTRICT STOCKS OF RICE, &c., AND MOVEMENTS OF PRICE IN BENGAL, RECEIVED UP TO THE 9TH OCTOBER 1877.

N. B.—No reliance can be placed on the accuracy of figured estimates of stocks in the interior; at best a rough approximation is all that can be expected.

Burdwan, 6th October 1877.—Stock in hand in Burdwan town 40,000 maunds, in Raneegunge 60,000 maunds. Exports are continuing, and prices are about the same as before reported.

(In the Gazette of the 3rd instant, in the part relating to the export of food grain from Cutwa, for 66,000 maunds read 6,000 maunds.)

Bankoora, 6th October 1877.—About 10,400 maunds of rice have been exported from the district during the week.

Beerbhoom, 8th October 1877.—There is no information concerning stocks beyond what was given last week. Since then there has been no change, but rice is a trifle cheaper. The average price is 16 seers per rupee, it being 15½ seers at Soory.

Hooghly, 6th October 1877.—No exports during the week. Imports about 10,000 maunds. Stocks at Chandernagore and other places on the river are estimated at about 30,000 maunds. There is a slight fall in prices. Coarse rice is selling at Hooghly at 12 seers per rupee, and wheat at 12½ seers.

Howrah, 6th October 1877.—Rice has risen slightly in price during the week. Grain is still coming forward from the interior to centres of trade, but export is slackening.

24-Pergunnahs, 6th October 1877.—Export of rice to Calcutta from Diamond Harbour, Satkhira, and Busseerhat continues. About 49,000 maunds of rice and 19,700 maunds of paddy were exported during the week. Prices are still high, but with downward tendency.

Nuddea, 6th October 1877.—In Kooshtea the imports during the week were 6,788 maunds, and the exports 5,151 maunds. In Meherpore there were no imports, but 13,000 maunds of wheat and gram were exported from the Gangni thana, and 15,000 maunds from the Khatta thana. 400 maunds were exported from Ranaghat thana, but no information has been furnished regarding the rest of the sub-division. From Bongong 600 maunds are said to have been exported, while, as in previous weeks, the imports and exports of Chooadangah have been trifling. In the Sudder sub-division the imports were 678 maunds of rice, 147 maunds of cereals, and 585 maunds of pulses; while the exports were 788 maunds of rice, 175 maunds of cereals, and 683 maunds of pulses. The Magistrate infers from the above that trade has been less active, as is also borne out by the fact that prices have had a marked tendency to decrease. There is less variation in the reported prices of coarse rice than in the previous week, the range being from Rs. 2-6 to 2-14. The Collector, however, thinks that there are few places where coarse rice cannot be had for Rs. 2-8 per maund. On the whole, the prospects appear to be improving.

Jessore, 6th October 1877.—12,048 maunds of rice were registered at Khoolna as exported from the district; this is mostly from Bagirhat sub-division. Prices are rising everywhere. In Bagirhat, it is said that, owing to exportation, supplies are running short, and rice is selling at 9 seers per rupee. In Jhenidah unfavorable prospects are inducing local dealers to withhold supplies. In Khoolna the price of common aus rice is 13 seers, and in Narail 12 seers per rupee. No exportation from the northern sub-divisions.

Moorshedabad, 6th October 1877.—Prices are somewhat cheaper. Exports are decreasing, The Jungypore toll returns show—Exports 17,400 maunds, namely rice 5,400 maunds, gram 1,450 maunds, wheat 1,850 maunds, paddy 5,500 maunds, &c; Imports 19,490 maunds, namely, rice 10,680 maunds, gram 2,008 maunds, wheat 250 maunds, paddy 3,500 maunds &c.

Dinagepore, 5th October 1877.—Rice is somewhat cheaper. None remains for export.

Rajshahye, 6th October 1877.—The exports of rice from the several marts and gunges in this district during the week amounted to about 12,440 maunds. The stock available for export is little less than 5 lakhs of maunds: 1,399 maunds of pulses were exported. Common rice sold at the beginning of the week from 14½ to 15 seers, and afterwards at 16½ seers per rupee. On 6th October the price was 15¾ seers; new aus rice is selling at 18¾ seers per rupee.

Rungpore, 5th October 1877.—The price of rice has risen owing to increased exportation. 66,308 maunds of rice were brought to market during the week, and exportations continue to be made to Serajgunge, Assam, Calcutta, and Furreedpore.

Bogra, 6th October 1877.—The quantity of rice exported during the week was about 19,200 maunds, chiefly to Calcutta; 1,925 maunds were imported from Dinagepore. The price of rice is dearer in Bogra, Sherpore, and Gohail, cheaper in Shibgunge, Panchbibi, and Badalgachi, and the same as last week in five places.

Pubna, 6th October 1877.—In Pubna town coarse rice is Rs. 2-2, and Poorbee Rs. 2-5-6, dhan Rs. 1-2 3, oats Rs. 1-12, wheat Rs. 2-4, &c. There has been no increase or decrease in the price of rice or dhan in the market. At Dulye amun dhan is 30 seers, and aus dhan 35 seers, amun rice 18 seers, and aus rice 20 seers per rupee. At Mothoorah rice is 17 seers, and dhan 35 or 37½ seers per rupee, kutcha weight. At Chatmohur dhan is 45 seers, and coarse rice 20 seers the rupee. At Serajgunge amun rice is Rs. 3-4 and 3-5, and aus rice Rs. 2-14 and 2-15 per maund. Amun dhan is Rs. 1-12, and aus dhan Rs. 1-4-6 and 1-5 per maund. About 1,000 maunds of rice were exported from here to Calcutta. At Shazadpore dhan is Rs. 1-9, and rice Rs. 3 per maund. At Ullaparah rice is Rs. 2-14 per maund.

Darjeeling, 5th October 1877.—There has been a slight increase in the prices of the finer qualities of rice, but the price of the bagora or coarse rice, which is most consumed, remains stationary, and is not excessively high. The supply of food-grain is well kept up, and the prospects of the winter crops are decidedly good.

Julpigoree, 6th October 1877.—The price of common rice has undergone no change in the southern parts of the district. In the Dooars, on the other hand, it has risen to 12 or 13 seers the rupee. This rise is ascribed to the exportations to Cooch Behar. No exports are reported in any other direction.

Cooch Behar, 4th October 1877.—There has been no change in the price of rice, and now that the weather has cleared up, it is hoped the rate will come down a little. No exportation of food-grains is reported. No failure of supply is yet apprehended anywhere.

Dacca, 6th October 1877.—The week has been a favorable one for the crops, but prices remain high. Exports from Naraingunge to Calcutta and Goalundo by boat amounted to 6,215 maunds, and by Eastern Bengal Railway's steamer 7,752 maunds. The supply at Naraingunge and Mirpore was plentiful. Prices at Naraingunge were Rs. 3 to 3-2; at Mirpore, paddy 23 to 24 seers, and rice 13 to 14 seers the rupee. Prices seemed a little disposed to fall towards the end of the week. In Manickgunge the prices ranged from Rs. 2-12 to 3-6.

Furreedpore, 6th October 1877.—Prices are somewhat easier, except in the south of the district. The average price is 12 seers per rupee, but at Gopalgunge in the extreme south, only 9 seers are procurable. The prospect of a deficit crop of winter rice is likely to keep up prices. Importation is still slack, and their is practically no exportation from the district.

Backergunge, 4th October 1877.—The latest quotations for rice are as follow:—At Barrisal Rs. 4; in Dukhin Shabazpore, aus Rs. 3-8 to 3-10, and amun Rs. 3-8 to 4 4; in Perozepore, aus Rs. 3-8 to 3-12, and amun Rs. 4 to 4-12; in Patuakhali, aus Rs. 3 5, and amun Rs. 4-4 per maund. The wave-stricken tracts continue to improve. Food, though very dear, is procurable everywhere. The importation of rice continues to flow in steadily. This importation is a novel phenomenon in Backergunge, which hitherto has been an export district, and has been caused chiefly by the high prices prevailing in Calcutta and other places, which have induced traders to deplete this district of its ordinary stocks to an unprecedented extent. 21,723 maunds of rice are said to have been imported into the district, and 7,635 maunds exported from it to Calcutta. Rice continues to be abnormally dear, and this is causing some pinching among the poorer classes, who do not get so much to eat as is usual with them. The food-supply appears to be sufficient for local demands, and the very favorable prospects of the amun crop prevent prices from rising beyond even the high figures which they have now reached.

Mymensingh, 5th October 1877.—Excessive rain has done considerable mischief. Exportation is slack, and rice is dear. Holders of stock are keeping them back and would not sell.

Tipperah, 5th October 1877.—Prices of rice are nearly the same as last week. Exports are not so large as formerly. There is plenty of rice in stock, but prices are unusually high, many holding back their stocks in expectation of a further rise. Prices will continue high till there is a certainty of a good winter crop.

Chittagong, 4th October 1877.—Importations continue freely. No exportation of rice to Calcutta.

Noakhally, 4th October 1877.—Prices of food-grains are rising; coarse rice is selling at 11 and 12 seers per rupee; the markets are not so well supplied as was expected. Exportation is still going on from Bamni to Chittagong, and from Chanmohaney to Calcutta.

Chittagong Hill Tracts, 2nd October 1877.—Rice sells at Rangamatia at Rs. 4; at Ramgurh at Rs. 2-8; at Bandarban at Rs. 4 to 5; and at Cox's Bazar at Rs. 4 per maund.

Hill Tipperah, 3rd October 1877.—The price of common rice has risen, but there appears to be no deficiency of stock, except in the Udaipore sub-division.

Patna, 6th October 1877.—Prices falling; markets well supplied; and exports easy. No railway carriage.

Gya, 6th October 1877.—There has been a slight rise in the prices during the week.

Shahabad, 6th October 1877.—Exportation still continues to a considerable extent to the North-West. Small exports to Calcutta still made from Buxar. Prices are still on the rise.

Durbhunga, 5th October 1877.—There was some briskness in the export of grain last week. About 3,500 maunds were exported from Durbhunga; the result is naturally a rise in price in the Durbhunga bazars, where old rice is now selling at 10½ seers, and new rice at 17 seers the rupee. Traders from Shahabad, Sarun, and the western districts are beginning to pass through to the rice tracts in the east to buy up the surplus produce.

Muzufferpore, 6th October 1877.—Grain is being largely exported from all parts of the district, principally to Sarun. Owing to large exportations and the bad prospects of rice crop and of rubbee sowings, prices had risen very high up to 5th instant—common rice selling at 9 and wheat at 13 seers per rupee. The rain that has now fallen will probably bring down prices at once.

Sarun, 6th October 1877.—The imports of food-grain during the week from Patna, Durbhunga, and Shahabad amounted to 13,750 maunds. There were no exports to Calcutta, but 7,500 maunds were sent to Fyzabad. The stocks in hand amount to 10,545 maunds. The prices were—wheat 12¾ seers, barley 8 $\frac{5}{16}$ seers, best rice 7 seers, common rice 10¼ seers, gram 17 seers, paddy 18½ seers, &c.

Chumparun, 9th October 1877.—The prices were two seers higher on 6th instant, but have since fallen one seer. Dealers wanted to close retail shops in Bettiah in the beginning of the week. Exports large to the south and westwards.

Monghyr, 6th October 1877.—The stock of food-grain on sale at the different marts and gunges in the district during the week consisted of 14,263 maunds of rice, 16,217 maunds of dhan, 8,649 maunds of rahar, 32,672 maunds of wheat, 22,111 maunds of gram, &c.

Bhagulpore, 7th October 1877.—Traders are still buying and storing in expectation of a rise. Small exportation.

Purneah, 6th October 1877.—There has been a considerable increase in the export of rice. Traders from Chupra and other up-country stations have come into the district and gone up into the marts in the north in the hope of catching grain coming in from Nepal. From the south a large export of rice has been made by boat to Calcutta.

Maldah, 6th October 1877.—The price of coarse rice varies from 14 seers at Shibgunge in the south to 20 seers at Gasole in the north. The average price is still 17 seers the rupee.

Sonthal Pergunnahs, 7th October 1877.—The supply of grain in the different markets in Deoghur sub-division consisted of 82 maunds of paddy, 30 maunds of wheat. 390 maunds of common rice, 53 maunds of best rice, 306 maunds of Indian-corn, and 35 maunds of gram; 621 maunds of rice were exported to Calcutta and North-Western Provinces.

Cuttack, 6th October 1877.—Export of rice still continues. The exports from False Point for last week were 7,431 maunds as against 30,384 maunds for previous week, but the amounts vary from week to week, and it is too early to judge whether there is any falling off in the demand from Madras. Prices are still very high in the town of Cuttack, but stationary, as the new rice now coming into the market keeps them down. Large advances are being made by the mahajans for the saradh now ripening. The prices in mofussil are 13 to 16 seers (Cuttack) per rupee. More rain is wanted for the saradh crop, and prices are therefore kept up until it is definitely known what sort of a crop may be expected.

Pooree, 4th October 1877.—The supply of rice to inland markets on the north-east of the district is still decreasing. It is procurable in almost all the bazars and markets. In the salt tracts the supply is most scanty. Rice is selling in the district from $9\frac{3}{4}$ to $15\frac{1}{2}$ seers per rupee; 16,568 maunds of rice, with some other food-grains, left the port of Pooree for Madras last week.

Balasore, 5th October 1877.—During the past week 11,500 maunds of rice were exported from Balasore to Madras, and 8,368 maunds of rice and 532 maunds of paddy from Chandbally to Calcutta. Prices of clean red rice in Balasore ranged from Rs. 2-5 to 1-15, and in Chandbally from Rs. 2-7 to 2-9, the averages being Rs. 2-1-6 and 2-7-3 respectively. Stocks held for export in the town of Balasore amount to 79,900 maunds, and in Chandbally 80,700 maunds of rice and 20 maunds of paddy.

Hazareebaugh, 5th October 1877.—Markets well supplied. The price of rice has fallen a little. Wheat is slightly dearer. No exports reported this week.

Lohardugga, 6th October 1877.—Prices of grain are easy. From Palamow prices are reported as rising. The food-supply in the Ranchi market was less abundant during the past week, which would seem to indicate that the grain-dealers are keeping back their stocks.

Singbhoom, 5th October 1877.—The supply of food-grains continues plentiful. The price of coarse rice is raising, and 36 seers per rupee is the average rate. The price of other grains is the same as previously reported. Exportations insignificant.

Manbhoom, 6th October 1877.—Exportation has received a check, owing to a disturbance in the Calcutta market. There is believed to be a good supply of rice in the district, as is apparent from the fall in price. The supply of other food-grain is also good.

N.B.—The periods taken in the Statement represent roughly the distribution of rainfall most necessary to the agriculturist. The fall to the end of April may be called 'the ploughing fall,' that to the end of June 'the sowing fall.' The fall between June and August matures the aous, and is essential to the transplantation of the amun. The fall in September matures the amun, while that after September fills out the ear of the amun rice and determines the prospects of the rubbi.

STATISTICAL DEPT.,
The 9th October 1877.

RAJENDRA NATH MITRA,
Offg. Asst. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 6th October 1877.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
	BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
Burdwan Div. 1	Burdwan, Oct 6 '77	·15	Rainfall at Culna has been ·89, at Cutwa 2·45, at Bood-Bood ·94, at Raneegunge ·89, and at Jehanabad nil. More rain is very much wanted in all parts of the district, except Cutwa. Fever is very prevalent.
2	Bankoora, „ 6 „	Nil	The weather has been generally clear and bright Slight rain has fallen in some parts. Prospects are still fair, but more rain is urgently required throughout the district. Should rain not fall for a week, the high land crops will be spoilt.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 6 „	·54	Weather—very fair. No change since last week; an average crop is in prospect.
4	Midnapore, „ 6 „	Nil	A few partial showers have fallen in the district, and fair rain at Contai and Ghatal, but very little in any part of the Sudder sub-division. The rain which was urgently needed has not fallen, and some injury has already been caused by the drought. If there is no more rain, as appears not impossible, half the crop in the centre, north, and west of the district will be lost, and the rubbee sowings will be very scanty.
5	Hooghly, „ 6 „	1·59	There was a good shower on the 2nd instant; the weather was dry for the rest of the week. The late rice is doing well, and the rain of the 2nd has been very beneficial Another shower will ensure the crop Fever is prevailing in the interior.
	Howrah, „ 6 „	·58	Weather—sultry. The slight rain that fell at head-quarters did good, but it does not seem to have extended to Moheshrakha, and two or three more good downpours are wanted. The prospects of the aman are very fair so far, and sugarcane looks well.
	Central Districts
Presidency Div. 6	24-Pergunnahs, Oct 8 '77	69	Weather—fair. Rain almost general on the 2nd instant. Everything is most promising so far. Public health is fairly good, though there is a good deal of fever.
7	Nuddea, „ 6 „	1·72	There has been rain everywhere in the district, and the prospects of the late rice have much improved. The earth has been well moistened for the sowing of the cold-weather crops.
8	Jessore, „ 6 „	·79	Weather—hot, except after the rain. Hot sun. Heaviest rainfall 3·33 at Khoolna. The rivers are unusually low. The crops in the higher lands will yield badly unless there is more rain. The sub-divisional officer of Jhenidah estimates that in his sub-division one-fourth of the aman is already ruined. There was no rain in that sub-division throughout the week; elsewhere rain fell.
9	Moorshedabad „ 6 „	·64	Weather—hot in the day, but the nights and mornings are cool with dew. ·55 at Lalbagh, 84 at Rampore Hât, and 87 at Jungypore. The prospects of the aman crops are generally good, except in localities which are dependent on inundation from the rivers. Another fall of rain is, however, required within the next few days both for the standing crops and for the sowings of the spring crops. Health is good.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 10	Dinagepore, „ 5 „	1·84	Rather over an inch of rain fell about Sunday, the 30th September. Otherwise dry, with heavy dew. Weather much cooler. 1·79 at Roygunge.
11	Rajshahye, „ 6 „	·99	Slight rain in some parts of the district. The winter rice crops promise well Kalai and til (sesamum) are being sown. Fever is still prevalent.
12	Rungpore, „ 5 „	3·84	The heavy showers on the 1st and 2nd instant have cleared the air, and there appear signs of the cold-weather coming on. 5·20 at Gaibanda and 6·09 at Kurigram. The fine weather will be of much service to the crops and was wanted, as some slight damage to crops on the low lands has been reported; otherwise the crops are in a very flourishing condition. Public health seems to have improved a little. Whatever fever there is, is all of a mild type.
13	Bogra, „ 6 „	1·69	Good rainfall on the morning of the 1st instant. Weather hot and clear, with occasional slight showers towards the end of the week. The crops are in good condition, and the rainfall of the week has greatly improved their prospects. Some of the aman rice and sugarcane in Badalgachi are reported to have been damaged by being submerged It is reported from Madhoopore, Panchbibi, and Badalgachi that there is a good deal of fever prevalent in the jurisdictions of the outposts and of the stations; otherwise the district is healthy. A very few cases of cholera have appeared in the jurisdictions of Panchbibi and Dhunat.
14	Pubna, Oct. 6 '77	Nil	Weather—seasonable and little cool in the morning. The floods are subsiding so rapidly that the prospects of the aman crops appear to be doubtful. More rain is wanted. Fever is very prevalent.

	No.	District, and date of return	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.—(Continued.)
		Central Districts.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs.	15	Darjeeling, Oct. 5 '77	1·42	There was a heavy fall of rain on the 2nd instant. The rains seem breaking up. Haimanti rice is reported as looking very healthy and promising. The young kalai crop is said to be very fine in the plains. Wheat and murwa are ripening in the hills.
	16	Julpigoree, „ 6 „	·95	Much less rain has fallen. It seems as if the rainy season is over. Haimanti rice is flourishing all over the district. The reaping of jute is almost finished; the outturn is rather short. The kalai has suffered somewhat from the late heavy rain which has benefited the paddy.
		Cooch Behar, „ 4 „	6·69	The early part of the week was cloudy and rainy; the latter part was fair and cool, with generally bright skies. Weather much cooler. 4·62 at Mathabanga, 7·62 at Mekligunge, and 2·42 at Dinhatta. There has been too much rain, and a long break is now hoped for. Tobacco seedlings have been much injured. Rice on the low lands has also suffered from floods. On the whole, however, prospects are more favorable, and nothing like an apprehension of scarcity exists. Public health is very good.
		Eastern Districts.
Dacca Divn.	17	Dacca, Oct. 6 '77	2·03	Weather—seasonable and getting sensibly cooler. 1·28 at Manickgunge during the week ending 4th, and 3·21 at Moonsheegunge during the week ending 3rd. State and prospects of the crops are favorable.
	18	Furreedpore, „ 6 „	·40	There was slight rain in the early part of the week. The weather has now become cool and clear. ·88 at Goalundo and 1·47 at Madaripore. There is no prospect of a good aman harvest. The outturn may be anything from a six to a ten-anna crop according to the rainfall. Occasional heavy showers are wanted all through this month.
	19	Backergunge, „ 4 „	2·03	The weather has upon the whole been propitious; sunshiny and rainy, alternating with an occasional storm. The prospects of the aman crop continue to be good. There is a good deal of fever all over the district, but the general health average is very fair. The cattle everywhere are healthy.
	20	Mymensingh, „ 5 „	5·19	Weather—rainy till within the last few days, since when fine. Prospects of the crops are not favourable. Excessive rain has done considerable mischief.
	21	Tipperah, „ 5 „	1·42	Weather—rainy during the first part of the week and fine during the latter part. 3·65 at Brahmunbaria. Prospects of the winter rice crop are good.
Chittagong Divn.	22	Chittagong, „ 4 „	2·47	Weather—showery. Aman on the high lands (ie.., one-fourth of the whole crop,) is very good; on the low lands it has been much damaged. Re-planting is going on. These plants will, it is said, do little. According to the Collector's opinion they would give little straw, but he does not see why there should not be a good ear. An eight to a ten-anna crop is expected, which is a fair prospects. The cold-weather crops, brinjal, chillies, &c., are being sown.
	23	Noakholly, „ 4 „	2·2	Slight showers of rain throughout the week. Almost all the early rice is reaped. The transplanting of the aman crop is completed. Health is good.
	24	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 2 „	3·17	Weather—rainy throughout the week. Heavy fogs up to 8 A.M. of the 2nd instant. The gathering of the joom paddy crop still continues. Owing to the heavy falls of rain in this week, the cotton plants have suffered a little. The Assistant Commissioner of Cox's Bazar reports that the prospects of the crops of that sub-division appear to be good.
		Hill Tipperah, „ 3 „	1·62	Weather—cooler than for some time past. Rain on three days, but not heavy. The aus crops have been cut and are nearly stored. The aman crops look well. Transplantation is still going on, and the weather is tolerably favourable.
BEHAR.
Patna Division.	25	Patna, Oct. 6 '77	2·88	General prospects have much improved. Health is good.
	26	Gya, „ 6 „	16	Weather—bright at the beginning of the week, but cloudy for the last two days. No rain at Nowada and Aurungabad; ·36 at Jehanabad. The above rainfall, and that in column 3, refer to the week ending 5 P.M. of the 5th. After that hour, and the morning of the 6th, nearly one inch fell at head-quarters. The sky is still cloudy and more rain is very probable. If there are a couple of inches more rain, the rice outturn will be a fair average and the rubbee certainly good. The rain on the night of the 5th has, the Collector understands, brought prices slightly down.
	27	Shahabad, Oct. 6 '77	·16*	There was an hour's mild raid at head-quarters on the evening of the 5th instant. No other rain reported. Sky at present stormy. Temperature much cooler since rain. The kharreef crops, where irrigated from canals, are fair; elsewhere they are almost nil. Rain is much wanted for rubbee sowings, as there is no moisture in the soil. Canal irrigation is being pushed on; water is being eagerly taken. Unirrigated dhan is being used as fodder.

* 1·30 since reported.

BEHAR.—(Continued.)
Patna Division. 28	Durbhunga, Oct. 5 '77	Nil	The week began with promise of rain, but no rain has fallen The results of this prolonged drought are most marked in Tajpore, where the rice crop has been considerably injured already. No real damage has as yet been caused in the Sudder or Madhoobani sub-division. Five days of the katia still remain, and if favourable rain fall during these days, there will probably be an excellent winter rice harvest in those sub-divisions. The Collector reports on the 8th—On the 6th the patia rains began, and during that and the following day heavy rain fell over the western and central portions of the district—5 inches at Tajpore and 7 inches at Durbhanga. At Madhoobani and the western tracts the fall was slight. There is, however, every appearance of more rain. Where heavy rain fell the winter rice crops are secure.
29	Mozufferpore, „ 6 „	3·00	Weather—cool and clear during the greater part of the week. The sub-divisional reports for the week ending 4th instant state that no rain has fallen, and that the prospects of the rice crop and of rubbee sowings are gloomy. Since night of 5th instant three inches of rain have fallen at Mozufferpore, and if the rain has been general the greater portion of the rice crop should yet give a fair outturn with favourable weather, as, though much stunted and beginning to show signs of withering, the crop has in few places been injured beyond recovery. The harvesting of bhadoi crops is not yet completed. Rubbee prospects are now good. Unusually large areas of land have been put under root crops in Hajeepore and Mozufferpore sub-divisions.
30	Saran, „ 6 „	·43	The first five days of the week were hot and dry. On the 5th the weather changed entirely. A very moist east wind brought up light rain. On the day of report (6th) light showers had been falling pretty constantly for four hours and there seemed good reason for hoping for more. The bhadoi has been harvested and the manufacture of indigo completed. The former averages six annas throughout, and the outturn of the latter is very good. The rubbee crops entirely depend on the next five days, and, as already stated, the weather looks more propitious. To the west and north-west of the district matters are really bad; but with a change of rain falling, it is premature to consider affairs hopeless even then.
31	Chumparun, „ 9 „	·43	Rain on two days. The beginning of the week was dry and fine, the end was damp and cloudy. Prospects are still very doubtful, but slightly improved by rain begun on the morning of the 7th. ·86 on two days at Bettiah. The showers were mostly slow and gentle, but apparently general; rice is aided, also the rubbee preparations. Ploughing is proceeding. Much more rain is needed. The tanks are very low. Makai is 10 or 11 annas about Bettiah. Some rice in the far north-west is fair.
Bhagulpore Divs. 32	Monghyr, „ 6 „	·17	Weather—hot No rain at Begoo Serai, and ·11 at Jamooe From all quarters it is reported that the dhan crop requires more rain.
33	Bhagulpore, „ 7 „	·05	Weather—cloudy and windy State and prospects of the crops are same as last week.
34	Purneah, „ 6 „	Nil	More rain is wanted, but the bright days and cool mornings look like the approach of the cold weather. The winter crop promises fairly. If rain falls it will be good. The koortee is coming up well.
35	Maldah, „ 6 „	Nil	Weather—fair. The crops are thriving.
36	Sonthal Pergha., „ 7 „	3·46	Very heavy rain in Doomka on the evening of the 6th instant; looked as if not confined to a small area Apparently coming rain had not reached the sub-division. The verdict is the same everywhere—one shower in Kartik after the 15th of this month will give a great crop. Highland paddy that ripens in Kartik looks unusually good. A diseased growth of dhan called kharka has appeared in some places. It is not likely to do much harm.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn. 37	Cuttack, Oct 6 '77	·02	Weather—very warm for the time of year. More rain is urgently wanted. Beali crop is estimated at an outturn of 12 annas. It is fast being reaped. Saradi crop is progressing fairly. Rubbee crop is being sown all over the district. Rain is wanted for these early sowings, especially in the Kendrapara sub-division. General health is good Sporadic cases of cholera in the Sudder sub-division and Jajpore are reported.
38	Pooree, „ 4 „	1·05	Weather—hot and occasionally cloudy. ·96 at Khoordah, and more is urgently wanted. There has been no sufficient rainfall in any part of the district. The saradi rice plants on high lands are reported to be suffering much, and in some places they are gone entirely; those on the low lands, though not in a bad state, now require more rain. Slight rain fell in the tracts between the Chilka and the sea, but the want of sufficient rain is generally felt.
39	Balasore, „ 5 „	·54	Weather—warm, except at night. More rain is wanted, but as yet the crops have not suffered. The general condition is good.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Oct. 5 '77	Nil	Weather—unseasonably warm. The break in the rains is causing injury to the rice; much of that grown on the high lands will be lost, as it is drying up; that planted in low land will not give a full return, as the plant requires much moisture about the roots when the seed is young
41	Lohardugga, „ 6 „	Nil	No rain during the week, but the sky is now overcast with promise of rain. Reports from all parts of the Sudder sub-division up to the present are favourable, but rain is now beginning to be much wanted. The outturn of gora, gundli, and makai has been generally good. The general rice crop so far promises well. In the Palamow sub-division the bhadoi crops are reported as likely to yield only six annas, and the condition of the kharreef crops as very unfavourable for want of rain.
42	Singbhoom, „ 5 „	·45	Weather—seasonable. There is want of rain reported generally, and cultivation of the kurree crops is backward, but prospects of crops in ground are still favourable. The district is healthy
43	Manbhoom, „ 6 „	Nil	Weather—hot and unusually dry. Prospects of the crops are certainly unfavourable. The break in the rains has been so long that a great deal of the high land transplanted rice is lost. The clouds are hovering about, and it is hoped that rain may fall yet.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 17. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table,—"Prof. papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 17 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by o, and one completely overcast by 1 o.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h, 10h., 16h. and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modification of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

RULES UNDER THE CHOTA NAGPORE ENCUMBERED ESTATES' ACT, 1876.

The 27th September 1877.—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 19 of the Chota Nagpore Encumbered Estates' Act, 1876, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal has, with the approval of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, made the following rules:—

Rule 1.—Without the special sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor, the Act shall not be put in force unless the person seeking it derives an annual income of Rs. 500 or more from his immoveable property, and without the same sanction no immoveable property, other than land or permanent interests in land, shall be brought under the provisions of the Act.

Rule 2.—Every application under Section 2 of the Act shall, if made by the holder of immoveable property, or by his heir, or guardian, committee, or other legal curator of such holder or heir, be accompanied by a statement of all debts and liabilities due by such holder, together with the names of the creditors, and a specification of the date on which each debt was incurred, and also by a statement showing of what property such holder is possessed, and the income derivable therefrom. These statements may, if the Commissioner deem it necessary, be sent to the Deputy Commissioner of the district or districts in which the immoveable property is situated for inquiry into the correctness or otherwise of such statements, and for report as to whether the property is solvent or not. The Commissioner shall refrain from issuing the vesting order under Section 2, if it appears to him on such report or otherwise that the property is hopelessly insolvent.

Rule 3.—When a Deputy Commissioner is of opinion that any property should be brought under the provisions of the Act, he shall ascertain, as far as possible, what debts and liabilities are due by the holder of such property, and what immoveable property he has in his possession, and the income derivable therefrom; and, after inquiry into the solvency or otherwise of the holder, he shall submit the whole of the papers to the Commissioner, who shall issue the vesting order or not according as, in his opinion, the property is solvent or not.

Rule 4.—After the vesting order has been issued, it shall be the duty of the manager to inquire carefully into the solvency of the property, and to make early report on this point to the Commissioner, with a view to the restoration of the property to the owner (under Section 12 of the Act as amended by Act XII of 1877) should the property prove to be insolvent.

Rule 5.—Wherever the manager appointed under the Act is not the Deputy Commissioner of the district, the Deputy Commissioner will (subject to such orders, consistent with the provisions of the said Act, as the Commissioner may from time to time issue), exercise a general control over the management of all the properties in his district.

Rule 6.—The security to be required from any manager not being a Government servant and from subordinate officers under this Act shall be fixed from time to time by the Commissioner of the division, with the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor: provided that no such manager or subordinate officer shall be required to give security for an amount exceeding 25 per cent. of the annual rents and profits of the property on account of which he is employed.

Rule 7.—To every notice published under section 5 of the Act shall be appended a copy of Section 6. The notice shall be published at the district cutcherries, moonsifs' courts, and thanas within the jurisdiction of which the property is situated, and shall be affixed to the bhandar of all villages contained within the property. Whenever possible, special service of such notice shall be made on every known creditor of the property; but the absence of such special service shall not be a bar to proceedings under the Act.

Rule 8.—When any property is restored to the holder or his heir, in accordance with Section 12 of the Act, notice of the restoration shall be published at the places mentioned in the preceding rule and in the Calcutta Gazette.

Rule 9.—On the publication of the vesting order under Section 2 of the Act, the holder of the property, or his legal representative, shall be called upon to deliver to the manager, within fifteen days, all accounts and other papers connected with the management of the property.

Rule 10.—In determining the amount of any principal debt or liability under Section 8 of the Act, claims equitably due may be admitted by the manager if acknowledged by the holder of the property or his legal representative, notwithstanding the existence of some legal defence, such as limitation or insufficiency of stamp.

Rule 11.—The allowance of interest on any principal debt or liability shall not exceed 12 per cent. per annum from the date on which it was incurred to the date of determination, or from the date of determination to the date of payment.

Rule 12.—Notice shall be given to each creditor of the date on which orders will be passed by the manager on his claim. If any oral evidence in support of the claim is adduced, it shall be recorded by the manager in the English language, and shall be filed with the papers relating to the claim. The manager may from time to time, as seems necessary, adjourn the passing of orders on any claim. Notice of such adjournment shall be given to the claimant or his representative.

Rule 13.—The manager shall record in the English language reasons for his decision on each claim, and within one week of the date of such decision, a copy thereof shall be prepared in the vernacular of the district for delivery to the creditor on application.

Rule 14.—The scheme mentioned in Section 11 of the Act shall be submitted by the manager through the Deputy Commissioner, who will forward it, with his opinion, to the Commissioner. The manager shall note in such scheme the order in which he proposes to pay the admitted debts. The manager, in determining the order for payment of the debts, will, as far as possible, give preference first to claims of mortgagees and conditional vendees removed from possession under Section 16 of the Act; secondly, to decrees of court; and thirdly, to bond debts.

Rule 15.—Applications by the manager, under Section 16 of the Act, for the removal of a mortgagee or conditional vendee from possession shall not be made without the sanction of the Commissioner.

Rule 16.—The power to lease, under Section 17 of the Act, shall be subject to the following provision:—No lease shall be given for any term exceeding three years without the sanction of the Deputy Commissioner, or exceeding four years without the sanction of the Commissioner.

PART IA.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India.

The following order, issued by the Government of India in the Legislative Department, is republished for general information :—

No. 31.—Simla, the 4th October 1877.—Notification.—The following Statute is published for general information :—

40 & 41 VICT., CHAPTER 37.

An Act for extending the time for the Registration of Trade Marks, in so far as relates to Trade Marks used in Textile Industries.

[6th August 1877.]

WHEREAS by section one of the Trade Marks Registration Amendment Act, 1876, it is provided that from and after the first day of July one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven a person shall not be entitled to institute any proceeding to prevent or to recover damages for the infringement of any trade mark as defined by the Trade Marks Registration Act, 1875, (referred to in such Amendment Act and in this Act as the principal Act), until and unless, with respect to any device, mark, name, combination of words, or other matter or thing in use as a trade mark before the passing of the principal Act, registration thereof as a trade mark under the principal Act shall have been refused, as is in the said Act thereafter mentioned :

39 & 40 Vict., c 33.

38 & 39 Vict., c. 91.

And whereas by reason of the difficulties attending the registration of trade marks used in the textile industries it has been found impossible to complete the registration of such trade marks within the time specified by the said section, and it is therefore expedient to prolong such time as aforesaid :

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

1. In so far as relates to the registration of trade marks used in the textile industries, but not further or otherwise, section one of the Trade Marks Registration Amendment Act, 1876, shall be construed as if for the words "from and after the first day of July one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven" there were substituted the words "from and after the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, or such further time as Her Majesty may by order in Council determine."

Extension of time for registration of trade marks used in textile industries.

2. The expression in this Act "trade marks used in the textile industries" means the trade marks relating to goods comprised in classes 23 to 35, both inclusive, of the First Schedule to the rules under the Trade Marks Registration Acts, 1875-76, dated September 1876.

Definition of "trade marks used in the textile industries."

3. This Act may be cited for all purposes as the "Trade Marks Registration Extension Act, 1877," and this Act and the Trade Marks Registration Amendment Act, 1876, and the Trade Marks Registration Act, 1875, may be cited together as the "Trade Marks Registration Acts, 1875-77."

Short title of Act.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale, to the undermentioned estate situate in the district of Cuttack, will be put up to sale at the Cuttack Collectorate on the 9th November 1877, corresponding with the 26th Kartic 1285 Umli.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

1. The purchaser of each estate will be considered as the proprietor of that estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, the only right reserved by Government being the right of revising the jummah at the conclusion of the term of the present settlement and on the expiration of all future settlements. If on resettlement he should refuse to engage, he will be entitled to malikana. The estate will be sold, subject up to the year 1897 A.D. to the Government revenue against it, to the highest bidder above the upset price.

2. The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3. If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4. If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

RESOLUTION ON THE CLASSIFICATION AND NOMENCLATURE OF SCHOOLS AND SCHOLARSHIPS.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—EDUCATION.—No. 3005.

Calcutta, the 16th October 1877.

READ—

Government letter No. 2060, dated 19th July 1877, to the Director of Public Instruction, requesting him to devise some simple and intelligent classification and nomenclature of schools and scholarships.

Read also—

The Director's letter No. 4297, dated 23rd August 1877, giving an expression of his opinion on the subject.

THE Lieutenant-Governor's attention having been drawn to the extremely complicated and highly technical terminology by which the Education Department has been in the habit of distinguishing the various classes of schools and scholarships with which it has to do, he requested Mr. Croft, the Officiating Director, to devise some more simple and intelligent classification and nomenclature.

2. Mr. Croft now represents that the existing nomenclature of schools goes on a twofold principle—one aspect of which regards schools according to the character of their instruction, the other according to the source of their income.

3. The existing classification of schools for general instruction, with the corresponding scholarships, is as follows :—

Class of School.	Corresponding scholarship.
Primary school	Primary.
Intermediate vernacular	Lower vernacular.
„ English	„ Anglo-vernacular.
Middle vernacular	Vernacular.
„ English	Minor.
Higher „	Junior.
High school or 2nd grade college ...	Senior.
First grade (or full) college ...

4. Now it has been determined at the recent conference held at Simla to divide education into—

Primary.
Secondary.
Superior or College.

'Primary' will embrace only reading, writing, and arithmetic in the vernacular. 'Secondary' education embraces all from the primary standard up to the University Entrance Examination: while 'Superior' covers all colleges or schools that carry education beyond the Entrance standard.

5. The Director proposes that the term "primary" should be confined to schools teaching the standard above noted; that the secondary schools should be divided into three classes, viz. lower, middle, and higher; and that the term high school should be dropped and that of second grade college take its place. The table of nomenclature would then stand thus, the scholarship standard taught in the school being the test of place:—

Class of instruction.	Class of school.	Scholarship standard taught, to be called—
Primary.	Primary.	Primary.
Secondary	Lower vernacular	Lower vernacular.
	Middle „	Middle „
	„ English	„ English (now minor)
	Higher „	Junior.
Superior	2nd grade college	Senior.
	1st „ „

6. Schools and classes of special instruction, including law classes, medical and engineering colleges, medical, survey, and artizan schools, art schools, madrissahs and normal schools, require no change of name.

7. As regards the classification of schools for budget purposes, the following divisions are now maintained :—

A.—Government schools.
B.—Grant-in-aid schools.
C.—Circle schools.
D.—Pathsalas before 1872.
E.—Pathsalas of 1872.
F.—Schools (of any of the foregoing classes) abolished during the year.
G.—Unaided schools.

This classification amplifies that prescribed by the Government of India, viz. "Government schools, private schools, aided, and private schools, unaided." The class of "private schools, aided." occupies B, C, D, and E of the foregoing list, A and G being identical with the first and third classes fixed by the Government of India, and F being added in the departmental returns of expenditure only. It follows, therefore, that the class of "private schools, aided," is the only one that admits of simplification. All that can be done is to amalgamate the D and E pathsalas. The Director objects to reducing the circle schools to the level of primary schools. In his opinion the allotment for circle schools should be kept distinct from the allotment for primary schools, and the former should be managed much as Government vernacular schools are managed. Adopting these proposals, the budget classification will be—

I.—Government schools.
II.—Schools aided—
(a) By grants-in-aid.
(b) From the circle grant.
(c) From the primary grant.

8. The above classification and nomenclature of schools seem to the Lieutenant-Governor to be simple and sound, and more intelligible than those at present in use, and they may be adopted by the Educational Department in Bengal.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction, to all Commissioners, to all Inspectors of Schools, to all District Committees, to the Accountant-General, and Financial Department of this office, for information and guidance.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE SUBJECT OF THE STUDY OF ENGLISH IN VERNACULAR SCHOOLS.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—EDUCATION.—No 3006

Calcutta, the 16th October 1877.

READ—

Government letter No. 2059, dated 19th July 1877, to the Director of Public Instruction, communicating to him the views of Government on the subject of the study of English in vernacular schools and on the expediency of maintaining the lower Anglo-vernacular scholarships.

Read also—

The Director's letter No. 4296 of the 23rd August 1877, submitting an expression of his opinion on the points discussed in the abovementioned letter.

IT was laid down by Sir John P. Grant, when Lieutenant-Governor, as a cardinal principle of the Bengal educational system, that "the Government vernacular schools were to be looked upon as established for the express purpose of improving vernacular education, with a view of acting effectually on the masses of the people who must always remain strangers to English language and literature." This principle was re-affirmed by Sir Cecil Beadon in 1866, when the Government again insisted on the middle vernacular schools being regarded as model schools for the encouragement of education among the rural population, and being conducted on a strictly vernacular footing. Parents (it was said) were quite at liberty to have their children taught English out of school hours; but this practice was not to be made a cloak for introducing English instruction into the Government vernacular schools. It was intended that these orders and principles should govern also the course of instruction in the aided vernacular schools.

2. Gradually, however, it would seem that the Education Department lost sight of these principles as affecting the management of schools not purely Government institutions, and English classes were allowed to be added to the aided vernacular schools, until at length there ceased in many places to be any distinction between a middle vernacular and a middle English school, save that it was held that under the Scholarship Rules of 1872 only schools which were avowedly Anglo-vernacular could compete for minor scholarships. In June 1876 even this restriction was removed. The orders of Government (No. 4876 of 10th December 1866) prohibiting the teaching of English in aided vernacular schools were withdrawn, any middle class school was permitted to compete for both minor and vernacular scholarships; and it was even ruled that any lower class school might compete for the then newly-formed lower Anglo-vernacular scholarship.

3. The obvious effect of this policy was to give an unnatural stimulus to the teaching of English, or what passes for English, throughout the middle class schools of the interior. The time of the boys is taken up in acquiring a smattering of what is to them, and remains to all who hear them, an unknown tongue, instead of their having their faculties developed by the acquisition of useful knowledge in their own vernacular. While on tour lately, the Lieutenant-Governor had occasion to point out to the Director the absolute impossibility of understanding a word that was read by a great number of the boys in schools which were visited on that occasion; and enquiry showed that it was the result of English being taught by masters with a very slight and imperfect knowledge of English themselves.

4. The Officiating Director of Public Instruction, Mr. Croft, in a letter No. 3167, dated 18th June last, brought the question again before the present Lieutenant-Governor, urging that the principles of 1866 in regard to the aims and objects of vernacular schools were in reality sound, and, if modified, ought to be modified in such a way as not to encourage the substitution of schools teaching a smattering of English for good vernacular schools suited to the real wants of the rural population.

5. Mr. Eden's views were expressed in Government letter No. 2059 of the 19th July last, of which the following paragraphs may here be quoted:—

The Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to think that the policy of encouraging the study of English in the lower class of schools has been carried to an extreme. It appears that not only are the middle vernacular schools allowed to compete for the minor scholarships formerly restricted to the students of Anglo-vernacular schools, and thus to some extent diverted from their proper object of serving as model vernacular schools, but the primary and lower vernacular schools are encouraged to compete for a lower Anglo-vernacular scholarship instead of being restricted to vernacular teaching. Up to date, however, none of these lower schools have been able to send up candidates for this scholarship; and, in order to utilize it, the middle vernacular schools were allowed, as a temporary measure, to come down to compete for it. The only tendency of such an arrangement seems to be to encourage decaying middle schools to be content with a lower standard instead of seeking to improve.

The Lieutenant-Governor holds that vernacular schools should be confined to vernacular education, and that Government should do nothing to encourage their conversion into a very inferior class of Anglo-vernacular schools.

At the same time, Mr. Eden is aware that there is sometimes in Bengal a strong desire on the part of parents to have a little English taught even in vernacular schools, their intention being that their children should thereafter be transferred to an English-teaching school and be able to take a place there not quite at the bottom of the school. Where this wish is actually and strongly manifested the Lieutenant-Governor would not, as an exceptional thing, object to a little English teaching, provided it was limited to one hour a day; that it was paid for entirely by special fees or subscriptions from those who desired it; that no Government grant was given in aid of such education; and that it was only recognized in schools which passed pupils for the middle vernacular scholarships. This rule Mr. Eden would make uniform for all districts.

The effect of the application of this principle seems to be to render the maintenance of the lower Anglo-vernacular scholarship hardly necessary. This scholarship was originally intended for the scholars of primary and lower vernacular schools, which will under these orders not teach English at all, not being eligible to compete for the middle vernacular scholarship. On the other hand, the opening of the minor scholarship examination to the middle vernacular schools seems to provide sufficiently for such English classes as they may be allowed to maintain.

Before passing any final orders, however, I am to request you to reconsider the whole subject with reference to the above remarks, and submit for the Lieutenant-Governor's approval a statement of the measures and changes necessary to give effect to the principles now laid down.

6. In reply to this, Mr. Croft has now reported his views at length. He entirely agrees in the general line of policy indicated, but he proposes to effect the change desired in a somewhat different way. He points out that, apart from the changes that have crept into the working of the aided middle vernacular schools, the middle English schools have also undergone a similar transformation. He reminds the Government that the middle class English schools were never intended to be anything but middle vernacular schools with an English class attached, in which English was taught as a language; while the pupils were intended to learn history, geography, arithmetic, and such other subjects as were taught in their own vernacular as in any ordinary middle vernacular school. The establishments of the middle English schools were, he shows, originally arranged to suit this theory, consisting of several pundits with one English teacher added. Gradually, however, this idea has been lost sight of, and the establishments have come to consist of several English teachers with one pundit added, and the boys have been trying to learn their subjects in English, and learning them very badly in consequence, as a matter of rote and not of understanding. Then, because in the minor scholarship examination which was framed especially for these middle English schools, the papers in all the subjects noted in the margin are set in vernacular, being in fact precisely the same papers as those set for the vernacular scholarships: the boys who have been pushed through these subjects unintelligently in English have, just before going up for the examination, to be hurried through them once in Bengali to enable them to go up at all. The result is that in zillah schools the universal experience is that boys from middle English schools and minor scholarship-holders are not nearly so well grounded as the boys from vernacular schools.

II.—History and geography.
III.—Arithmetic.
IV.—Geometry and mensuration.
V.—Natural philosophy and physical science.

7. The only difference between the vernacular and minor scholarship tests is in the first subject, which is for the former—

I.—The Bengali language, and in the latter—

I.—The English language.

It is proposed, therefore, by the Director to re-affirm the constitution of the middle English schools and to put them once more on a vernacular basis. Mr. Croft would effect this by ruling that all candidates at the minor scholarship examination must pass the full vernacular scholarship test, i.e., that they must pass in Bengali as a language as well as in English. Under the existing rules a boy may go up for the vernacular scholarship examination up to 15 years of age, and for the minor scholarship up to 16 years of age. Mr. Croft would maintain this rule, but no boy would be eligible for a minor scholarship without passing the full vernacular test.

8. As the schools adapt themselves to the scholarship standards, the effect of the Director's proposals would be that, while the Government would keep up its middle vernacular schools, as at present, as model schools of that class, many middle English schools would have to remodel their establishments, substituting pundits for some of the English teachers. This would result in a money saving, and the grants would then admit of being reduced.

If any school chose to give up the minor scholarship course and to constitute itself on an English basis (like a zillah school minus the upper classes), the Director might still, if the local circumstances of the place warranted the school in so doing, continue its grant-in-aid as a special case; but ordinarily the Education Department would seek to make a sound vernacular training the preliminary to English education.

9. It would not be necessary on this plan to impose any direct restrictions on the teaching of English in vernacular schools. The scholarship test would secure sound vernacular instruction. If a school failed to satisfy the standard and to pass boys for scholarships, it would be dealt with under the rules of the Education Department. But so long as it did succeed, it would be allowed to add an English class. All schools having such a class would be called middle English; and all middle schools might send up candidates for both vernacular and minor scholarships, subject only to the limits of age as already in force. One old difficulty of the department, arising from the practice of separating on paper the English and vernacular branches of the same school for the sake of getting a double grant, would by these changes at once be put an end to.

10. Mr. Croft also wishes to insist on English grammar being taught in the vernacular in all middle class schools. He urges that the knowledge of grammar possessed by students of middle English schools is at present generally of the lowest possible kind; they may be quite familiar with the terminology of the science and never make a mistake in a case or a tense, or the government of a noun, but the fundamental principles of grammar, common to English and to Bengali, are rarely understood by them. The difficulty is to get good English grammars in Bengali. If, however, it were announced that the examination in English grammar will be conducted through the medium of Bengali, the difficulty would be soon removed, and the necessary books be provided by private enterprise.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor entirely approves of Mr. Croft's proposals and accepts his recommendations as the best mode of giving effect to the wishes of Government. The changes in the scholarship standard should be introduced with effect as regards the examination of 1879. This delay will give schools time to arrange themselves without disturbing unduly the existing courses of study.

12. The Director agrees with the Lieutenant-Governor in thinking that the lower Anglo-vernacular scholarships ought not to be maintained; they will therefore be abolished after the next ensuing examination has been held.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of this Resolution be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction, to all Commissioners of Divisions, to all Inspectors of Schools, to all District Committees of Education, to the Accountant-General, and Financial Department of this office.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RAJENDRA NATH MITRA,

ABSTRACT OF REPORTS ON DISTRICT STOCKS OF RICE, &c., AND MOVEMENTS OF PRICE IN BENGAL, RECEIVED UP TO THE 16TH OCTOBER 1877.

N. B.—No reliance can be placed on the accuracy of figured estimates of stocks in the interior; at best a rough approximation is all that can be expected.

Burdwan, 13th October 1877.—The stock in Burdwan town is 30,000 maunds, and in Raneegunge 8,000 maunds. Exports at Burdwan have stopped owing to the Poojahs. There is a slight fall in the price of rice.

Bankoora, 13th October 1877.—About 2,000 maunds of rice have been exported from the district during the week.

Beerbhoom 13th October 1877.—The price of rice is slowly falling. Exportation is very much decreased, simply because stocks are nearly exhausted. The Collector doubts if more than 6,000 maunds left the district during the week.

Hooghly, 13th October 1877.—No change since last week reported.

Howrah, 13th October 1877.—Reports not received from the interior. The price of rice has fallen at Howrah, and very little is being done in the way of export.

24-Pergunnahs, 13th October 1877.—Prices are still high, but with downward tendency. Export of rice to Calcutta continues from Baraset, Satkhira, and Diamond Harbour, but not so vigorously as heretofore.

Nuddea, 15th October 1877.—In the past week 26,800 maunds of wheat and gram are said to have been exported from Meherpore sub division to Calcutta, namely 1,750 maunds from Gangni thana, and 25,050 maunds from Kyhutto thana; but the Collector believes the latter figures to be excessive. In Kooshtea the imports of food-grains were 17,684 maunds, and the exports by rail to Calcutta 11,370 maunds. From Bongong only 232 maunds of rice were exported to Calcutta. In Chooadangah a little good rice was imported from the eastern districts, but the trade has been very slight. There has been little or no change in prices during the week.

Jessore, 13th October 1877.—The sub-divisional officer of Bagirhat reports that, owing to the high prices there prevailing, some pressure is felt. Supplies have not run short, and the zemindars are assisting their ryots with work and advances. The sub-divisional officer has also commenced village road operations from the District Road Fund. The amun promises well in Bagirhat, and all that is wanted is to tide over the interval until it is harvested.

There has been no exportation from the northern and central portions of the district. Prices continue much as before, except in Khoolna and Magoorah, where aus is selling at 14 to 16 seers, i.e., at lower prices than those formerly obtaining. The Khoolna registers show that 5,014 maunds were exported from the district during the week.

Moorshedabad, 13*th October* 1877.—Prices are cheaper. The Jungypore river returns show—Exports 43,175 maunds, namely paddy 2,900 maunds, rice 17,450, gram 2,125, wheat 5,550, black pulse 13,300 maunds, &c.; and Imports 37,374 maunds, namely paddy 4,000, rice 13,950, gram 2,106, wheat 4,406, black pulse 11,612 maunds, &c. The food-supply is everywhere sufficient, but the surplus stock available for exportation cannot be considerable until the amun is reaped.

Dinagepore, 12*th October* 1877.—Rice is selling from 16 to 25 seers per rupee.

Rajshahye, 13*th October* 1877.—The exports from the different marts and gunges in the district during the past week amounted to 21,786 maunds of rice and 4,500½ maunds of pulses. The stock of rice available for export is about 4½ lakhs of maunds. Common rice sold on the 7th instant at 16½ seers, and since then it has remained steady at 17½ seers per rupee. Aus rice is selling at 20½ seers.

Rungpore, 12*th October* 1877.—The price of rice still continues dear, and shows no signs of falling. Exportation is said to be going on from Kurigram much the same as last week. From the Gaibanda sub-division the exports were 1,250 maunds to Assam and Calcutta, and 5,400 maunds to Pubna, Nattore, Furreedpore, and Serajgunge.

Bogra, 13*th October* 1877.—23,200 maunds of rice were exported to Calcutta, 2,800 maunds to Pubna, and 600 maunds to Rajshahye; 2,000 maunds were imported from Dinagepore. The price has fallen in seven places, and remained stationary in five.

Pubna, 13*th October* 1877.—The prices at Pubna town are—coarse rice Rs. 1-14, poorbee Rs 2-3, dhan Rs. 1-1-9, &c.; owing to the late importation the price of rice has fallen a little. At Dulai amun is 14 seers and aus 17 seers per rupee. At Mothoora rice is 16 or 17 seers per rupee (kutcha weight). At Chatmohur rice is Rs. 2, and at Shazadpore Rs. 3 per maund. At Serajgunge it is Rs. 3-4 or 3-5. About 1,000 maunds of rice were exported to Calcutta during the week. At Ullapara rice sells at Rs. 2-13 per maund. At Raigunge the price is 14 seers per rupee.

Darjeeling, 12*th October* 1877.—There was scarcely any difference in the price of food-grains during the past week, as compared with the previous week. Coarse rice rose from Rs. 3-5-1 to 3-5-6 per maund The prices of other grains remained stationary. There is a good supply of grain in store.

Cooch Behar, 11*th October* 1877.—The price of bitri rice has come down to Rs. 2-10; that of haimunti rice varies from Rs. 3-8 to 3-12; atab of the best quality is Rs. 5. The prices of pulses have gone up very much. Wheat is selling at the comparatively low rate of Rs. 2-8. There has been no failure of supplies of food-grains anywhere. No exportation or importation of rice has been reported during the week.

Dacca, 13*th October* 1877.—Exportation is decidedly checked; the registered exports by boat to Calcutta and Goalundo were only 1,600 maunds, and by steamer 1,300 maunds. The result is a decided fall in prices, with prospects of a further fall, as large stocks are coming into the markets.

Furreedpore, 14*th October* 1877.—The average price all over the district may be put at 12 seers per rupee, but at Madaripore and Gopalgunge in the south of the district only 10 seers are procurable. The prospect of a deficient amun crop is likely to keep up these prices. Importation is still slack, and there is practically little exportation, except at Goalundo, where rice is procured chiefly from other districts and sent to Calcutta.

Backergunge, 10*th October* 1877.—In the wave-stricken tracts importations of food-grain still continue, but not on a very large scale. The importations during the week amounted to 26,684 maunds. The exportation of rice is believed to have ceased, owing to the high prices in the district. The prices of rice are—At Perozepore Rs. 3-2 to 3-4; at Bhola, aus from Rs. 3 to 3-6, and amun from Rs. 4 to 4-6; at Patuakhally from Rs. 3-8 to 4-12; at Nulchiti Rs. 5; at Jhalokati and Backergunge Rs. 3-8 to 4, &c. Food, though dear, is every-where procurable.

Mymensing, 12*th October* 1877.—The state of things is the same as on date of last report

Tipperah, 12*th October* 1877.—Prices have fallen slightly. Good rice sells at Rs. 2-12-9 to 3-6 per maund in the various marts. Exports to Naraingunge and other places still continue.

Chittagong, 11*th October* 1877.—Importation continues. There is no exportation of rice to Calcutta. Rice is fairly cheap, it is generally at 10 to 15 seers per rupee. It is only in Nhila and Teknaaf that it is still dear.

Noakholly, 11*th October* 1877.—Prices of food-grains are about the same as reported last week, but with a tendency to become easier. The markets are not so well supplied as usual at this season. The little exportation there has been has become less, owing to the reported fall of prices in Calcutta.

Chittagong Hill Tracts, 9*th October* 1877.—Rice is at present sold at Rangamatia at Rs. 4, at Ramgurh Rs. 2-8, and at Banderbun Rs. 4 to 5 per maund.

Hill Tipperah, 10*th October* 1877.—There is no material change since last report. Prices of rice are nearly double of what they were at this time last year The rise is due not to want of stocks, since there has been no exportation, but to the unwillingness of stockholders to sell, in anticipation of a further rise.

Patna, 13*th October* 1877.—Prices falling; exports stopped.

Gya, 13*th October* 1877.—The prices during the week have fallen a little.

Shahabad, 13*th October* 1877.—Prices falling in some places.

Durbhunga, 13*th October* 1877.—Prices are easier than last week.

Mozufferpore, 12*th October* 1877.—Exportations of grain have decreased during the week owing to the heavy falls of rain. Prices have fallen considerably.

Sarun, 13*th October* 1877.—The imports from Mozufferpore, Purneah, Fyzabad, Nawabgunge, Patna, and Shahabad amounted to 7,625 maunds; there were no exports to Calcutta. The stock in hand was 1,38,000 maunds Chumparun, 16*th October* 1877.—Prices slightly falling, but still high. No exports reported.

Monghyr, 14*th October* 1877.—The stocks of food-grains on sale at the different marts and gunges in the district during the week consisted of rice, 14,347½ maunds; dhan, 3,046¼ maunds; wheat, 28,547⅜ maunds; gram, 17,784½ maunds; rahur, 7,561⅜ maunds, &c.

Purneah, 13*th October* 1877.—There is nothing special to report. There is still a considerable import from Nepal, but less export from the south of the district.

Maldah, 13*th October* 1877.—Prices are falling. The average price of coarse rice is 19 seers per rupee.

Cuttack, 13*th October* 1877.—The exports at False Point this week were 20,427 maunds, but on the Chandbally side it is reported to have decreased much, in so far as this district is concerned The present stocks are ample till the new crops come in, and prices are easier, except in Cuttack, where 13 seers (Cuttack) rules. The general rate at the markets is 16 Cuttack seers. With the fall of the rivers supplies from Sumbulpore cease; but under any circumstances nothing could be expected thence now, for prices have risen there as high as they are here.

Pooree, 12*th October* 1877.—Supply of rice to inland markets is decreasing generally in the district, but the prices are the same as last reported, varying for 9 3/8 to 15¾ seers per rupee. Export by land and the Chilka to the Madras Presidency still continues.

Balasore, 12*th October* 1877.—The exports this week have been much larger than before, amounting to from Chandbally 12,000 maunds of rice to Calicut, 22,798 maunds to Madras, and 8,598 maunds of rice and 396 maunds of paddy to Calcutta. Prices of clean red rice ranged from Rs 2-3 to 2 in Balasore, and from Rs. 2-4 to 2-8 in Chandbally. They are thus almost the same as last week, though the new rice is coming into the market in small quantities. Stocks in Balasore amount to 89,000 maunds of rice, and in Chandbally 57,190 maunds of rice and 400 maunds of paddy.

Hazareebagh, 12*th October* 1877.—The markets continue well supplied with food-grains, which have all fallen in price, except in the Pachumba sub-division, where the railway offering facilities for export the price of rice is abnormally high. Common rice sells in Sudder sub-division at 17 seers, and in Pachumba sub-division at 12 to 13 seers per rupee.

Lohardugga, 13*th October* 1877.—The bazars are well supplied with food-grains Prices have slightly risen. No exportation from head-quarters.

Singbhoom, 12*th October* 1877.—The markets continue to be well supplied with food-grains. Coarse rice is 28 seers per rupee, but other grains are not dearer than before. Exportation insignificant.

Manbhoom, 13*th October* 1877.—Exportation continues slack. There is plenty of good grain in the district, though along the lines of communication the price of rice is abnormally high. At Purulia there is a plethora of rice apparently, and prices are low, all things considered. The Collector has had several applications from ryots and others begging him to stop the exportation, as rice was rising rapidly in price.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 13th October 1877.

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL
		Western Districts.
Burdwan Divn.	1	Burdwan, Oct 13 '77	2·66	Rainfall at Culna has been ·9, at Cutwa ·35, at Bood-Bood 3·14, at Raneegunge ·77, and at Jehanabad nil. More rain is wanted, especially at Jehanabad. Prospects of the crops on the whole are good. Fever is prevalent in Culna and Jehanabad.
	2	Bankoora, „ 13 „	3·55	Weather—rainy during the latter part of the week. The rain which seems to have been general throughout the district has changed the prospects materially for the better. There will probably be a full crop all round. The aous and winter rice crops are looking especially well, and sugarcane, til, and cotton, are expected to yield a 16-anna crop.
	3	Beerbhoom, „ 13 „	·74	Weather—seasonable. State and prospects of the crops are very good. The rain during the early part of the week has done much good. The standing rice is already almost all in ear.
	4	Midnapore, „ 13 „	1·41	Rain commenced falling on the night of the 10th, and there have been frequent showers ever since. It seems to have been at least as heavy elsewhere as at Midnapore. The rainfall, wherever it extended, has saved the rice crop. About 3 annas from a 16-anna bumper crop have been lost, but the district is practically secure of an average crop at least. The rubbee crop will now be sown
	5	Hooghly, „ 13 „	1·66	Weather—cloudy and showery. State and prospects of the crops are good.
		Howrah, „ 13 „	1·57	The rains seem to be closing with the usual storms. The rainfall has been beneficial, and prospects are good.
		Central Districts.
Presidency Divn.	6	24-Pergunnahs, Oct 13 '77	1·05	Weather—generally fair, with occasional showers. Prospects of aman are promising, and the rain has been beneficial to crops on the ground. Public health is fair, though a few cases of cholera are reported from Bumeerhat and Barrackpore. Fever is abating
	7	Nuddea, „ 15 „	·85	Weather—hot and sunny for the most part, but a little rain has fallen almost everywhere The weather has been favourable during the week for all crops, and the prospects are good.
	8	Jessore, „ 13 „	3·77	Weather—showery. Very heavy rain fell on the 12th at Jessore, and towards the end of the week some in the Jhenidah and Narail sub-divisions. In Jhenidah prospects have much improved, but about one fourth of the aman crop is said to be irretrievably ruined. In Magoora more rain is much required and the cattle are being turned into much of the high land paddy which has been already ruined. The aman promises well in the Bagirhat sub-division.
	9	Moorshedabad, „ 13 „	1·83	Weather—showery. Nights and mornings cool. 2·93 at Rampore Hât, ·84 at Jungypore, and ·81 at Lalbagh Prospects are good, except in lands dependent on inundation. The rain, where it has fallen, has been most beneficial to the aman rice. Sugarcane and mulberry are doing well. Health is good.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divn.	10	Dinagepore, „ 13 „	·21	Weather—cloudy and close. Bhadoi has been all harvested, and has yielded 12 annas. Haimanti prospects are good.
	11	Rajshahye, „ 13 „	2·02	There has been a moderately heavy fall of rain during the week in almost all parts of the district, which has much improved the condition of the winter rice crop. Lands are being ploughed for the rubbee crops. Fever is still prevalent.
	12	Rungpore, „ 13 „	·12	There was some slight rain on the 10th, and the cold weather is already showing some signs of approach. No rain at Kurigram, and ·58 at Gaibanda. The state and prospects of the crops continue to be good and favourable. Tobacco is being sown, and the crops on the ground are progressing well. The jute outturn has been very good. Public health is good.
	13	Bogra, „ 13 „	2·27	Weather—cloudy and rainy throughout the week. Wind as usual at this time of the year. The crops are healthy and promise a good outturn The late rain has been of great service to the high land aman. It is reported from Shorepore police station that, if the rain does not hold off for a couple of days, the aman is likely to suffer. Health of the people generally is fairly good, though there are some cases of fever prevalent in Badalgachi and Panchbibi.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Stationin inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
BENGAL.—(Continued.)
	Central Districts
RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVS. 14	Pubna, Oct. 13 '77	2·74	Weather—cloudy and showery. Heavy rain fell on the 10th, and more is wanted for the amun crop. The rubbee seedlings appear to be good. Fever is prevalent in the Sudder station. Cholera has made its appearance at Serajgunge with virulence, and a few cases are reported from thana Shazadpore. Extra medical aid has been applied for.
15	Darjeeling, „ 12 „	0·00	No rain fell during the week that could be gauged. There were only a few light showers. Temperature very variable. All the crops in the district are progressing favourably.
16	Julpigoree, „ 13 „	·10	Very slight rain has fallen. The weather is seasonable and getting sensibly cooler Haimanti rice is flourishing so far. The prospects of kalai and tobacco are not favorable. Rubbee crop is being sown all over the district.
	Cooch Behar, „ 11 „	·62	Weather—generally fair, but occasionally cloudy. Not so cold as last week. ·13 at Mekligunge, ·20 at Mathabhanga, and ·55 at Dirhatta. The haimanti dhan crop will not be more than from 8 annas to 10 annas. This, however, will suffice for the wants of the people, but will leave little or nothing for export. Tobacco will be a late crop this year. Much depends on the length of this break No more rain is wanted till November. Jute is a promising crop this year and is yielding well. Fever is prevalent; otherwise public health is good.
	Eastern Districts
DACCA DIVS. 17	Dacca, Oct 13 '77	1·32	Weather—seasonable and decidedly favourable to the crops Manickgunge had 1·16 during the week ending 11th, and Moonsheegunge ·28 during the week ending 10th. The prospects are very good, and are improving weekly.
18	Furreedpore, „ 14 „	2·38	A somewhat heavy shower on the 10th. Weather now clear and cool. There is very little prospect of a good amun harvest; the average outturn may be estimated at 8 annas. The water of the bheels is receding owing to the fall of the rivers, and heavy showers are wanted.
19	Backergunge. „ 10 „	·01	Weather—seasonable. Everywhere the prospects of the amun continue to be good. With the exception of a little sporadic sickness, the health of the people is good. The cattle everywhere are reported remarkably healthy at present.
20	Mymensingh, „ 12 „	·35	Weather—rainy and seasonable. The prospects are not very favourable.
21	Tipperah, „ 12 „	·19	Weather—hot and fine ·02 at Brahmunbariah. Prospects of the winter rice crop are good.
CHITTAGONG DIVS. 22	Chittagong, „ 11 „	·85	Weather—seasonable. No marked change about the crops since last week. Some of the cold-weather crops are being sown.
23	Noakholly, „ 11 „	·13	Early mornings foggy; evenings close The reaping of early rice has been completed. Amun promises well Public health is good.
24	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 9 „	1·55	A heavy shower of rain on the 6th Foggy mornings throughout the week. The gathering of the joom paddy crop still continues. Lands are being ploughed for mustard. Cotton plants are in flower.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 10 „	·83	Slight rain fell on the 3rd and 9th. All crops are progressing satisfactorily.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVISION. 25	Patna, Oct 13 '77	5·31	Prospects of the crops are good; also the health of the district.
26	Gya, „ 13 „	1·68	Weather—cool and cloudy. The maximum reading of the thermometer in the shade reached as high as 90·3°. The late rain has had the best effect. The rice crop in Nowada, Jehanabad, and Aurungabad is reported to have sufficient rain and to look very well. The Collector believes a good average crop will be obtained over the whole district. The prospects of the rubbee are generally good.
27	Shahabad. „ 13 „	2·67	Weather—bright and clear. Sasseram had 1·06, Bhubhooah 1·55, and Buxar ·82. During the week rain has fallen generally throughout the district. Rubbee sowings have been assured. The rain has revived the dying crops.
28	Durbhunga, „ 13 „	8·15	The heavy rain of the 6th has been followed by showers more or less heavy during the week. The prospects of the winter rice are excellent in the Mudhoobani and Durbhunga sub-divisions, and much improved in Tajpore.
29	Mozufferpore, „ 13 „	5·26	Weather—cool and showery. The total fall of rain since 5th instant has been 5·26 at Mozufferpore, 9·81 at Hajeepore, and only 0·59 at Seetamurhee. In the north-eastern and southern parts of Seetamurhee sub-division the falls have amounted to 1·50 inches. The prospects of the rice crop are now good in Mozufferpore and Hajeepore sub divisions, but in Seetamurhee sub division the rain is reported to have "been barely sufficient to keep the rice plants from drying up." The bhadoi crops have all been reaped, and the preparation of lands for rubbee sowings is going on.

BEHÀR.—(Continued.)
Patna Division. 30	Sarun, Oct. 13 „ '77	2·53	Days slightly hot; mornings and evenings cool. East wind prevailing. Since 12th the change has been very marked. The heavy rain has ensured the safety of the rubbee crop. Sewan, which wanted it particularly, had 6·60 inches. The rainfall at the Sudder station (Chuprah) is not an index to the general one. For instance, at a factory 28 miles north-west-north of Chuprah 9 inches fell; 36 miles due north very heavy rain fell; at another factory 22 miles north-east 13 inches fell, and heavy rain is known to have swept across the district 10 miles to the northward 10 inches fell at a factory 15 miles north-east. Sewan is 40 miles away north-west; so that an idea may be gathered as to the immense value of this opportune rainfall. All anxiety has vanished. There may be isolated cases of distress, but these are the incidents of an ordinary year.
31	Chumparun, „ 16 „	1·4	Weather—cloudy at the beginning, and very bright at the end of the week. ·46 at Bettiah. The district had slight, but general, rain. It did not share the heavy rain of the neighbouring districts. Rice, kodo, &c, have much improved. Much more rain is wanted. Rubbee prospects are moderate. The northern, central, and western parts are fairly off. Cholera has almost ceased.
32	Monghyr, „ 13 „	3·64	Weather—sunshine and cloudy. ·88 at Begoosarai. Heavy rain fell almost everywhere in the district. Though the crops will be short, no danger now is to be apprehended.
Bhagulpore Divn. 33	Bhagulpore, ...	.....	Return not received.
34	Purneah, „ 13 „	·97	Weather—fair and clear; rain early in the week. ·27 at Kissengunge and 2·64 at Arrareah. The rain has been plentiful in some parts of the district, and has been of great benefit. Prospects are very fair.
35	Maldah, „ 13 „	3·89	Rain has fallen pretty generally throughout the district, and the prospects of the crops are good.
36	Sonthal Pergha.. „ 14 „	1·48	Rain has fallen throughout the district. Everything is promising well.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn. 37	Cuttack, Oct. 13 '77	·05	Weather—very fine until 12th, when there was very heavy rain at the Sudder station. The amount has not been communicated. The crops undoubtedly require rain on the high lands, but no damage is reported as yet. Early saradi is flowering in some places. The crops generally have been transplanted, and in some cases weeded. The rubbee sowings also are progressing. Cholera and cattle disease are still reported.
38	Pooree, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—hot and cloudy at intervals. 1·02 at Khoordah. The saradi rice plants on high lands are suffering severely in many places for want of rain. The plants on low lands are in great want of rain also. The crop has almost entirely failed in the tract between the Chilka and the sea.
39	Balasore, „ 13 „	26	Weather—warm; cloudy latterly. The crops are still in good condition, though very little rain fell during the week, and what rain there has been was not general. The beali has all been cut with a good outturn. Cholera in a sporadic form is reported from the Bhudruck sub-division.
CHOTA NAGPORE. South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Oct 13 '77	1·37	Weather—seasonable. The rain which has lately fallen has been most beneficial not only to the rice crop which has been much improved by the moisture, but to the country in general by permitting the ryots to break up the soil for the coming rubbee season More rain is wanted, but even without further rain the outturn of the dhan crop will be fair.
41	Lohardugga, „ 13 „	·28	In the Sudder station the weather has been cloudy every day of the week, but only 28 of an inch of rain fell on the 7th. In the interior of the Sudder sub-division there was no rain, except in three police stations. The outturn of gora, goondli, and makai has been generally good. The winter crops are suffering from want of rain, and unless there is a heavy shower immediately the damage will be great. The Palamow report states that slight rain fell on the 5th and 6th, and a good shower on the 7th. The crops promise better The late rains will be of some service to the kharreef, which were drying through drought. More rain is wanted
42	Singbhoom „ 12 „	·17	Weather—seasonable. The want of rain is still reported from every part of the district, and very little cultivation of the cold-weather crops has been attempted. The badi paddy is now being reaped, and an average harvest is expected. The kaimunti paddy has not suffered much yet from the want of rain, but if no rain falls within the next week its prospects will be poor indeed. The district is healthy.
43	Manbhoom, „ 13 „	1·16	Weather—seasonable. The little rain that has fallen during the week has done a great deal of good. The Collector believes that a little more rain would not be objected to, but, on the whole, he thinks there is a fair hope of at least a 10-anna crop. Bhadoi crops have been good. Sugarcane is promising.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modification of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

No. 21.

BAY OF BENGAL—COAST OF BURMA.

Light-vessel on Krishna Shoal.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No. 18 of 1877, issued by this Department, respecting the destruction of Krishna Shoal Light-house:—

Information, by telegram, has been received from the Master-Attendant at Rangoon that a light-vessel has been placed four miles eastward of the position of Krishna Shoal Light-house.

The vessel exhibits a fixed white light, elevated 48 feet above the sea level, and is visible from every direction.

A blue light is burnt every hour, commencing at 7 P.M.

By direction of the Government of India,

A. DUNDAS TAYLOR, (Comdr., late I. N.,)
Supdt., Marine Survey of India.

MARINE SURVEY DEPARTMENT, CALCUTTA.

This notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Gulf of Martaban, No. 823; Bay of Bengal, No. 706; Indian Ocean, No. 748*b*: also Admiralty Light List, East Indies, &c., page 16, No. 96; Indian Marine Survey Light List, No. 87; and Taylor's Sailing Directory, vol. I., page 498.

If this notice is received on board ship, the substance of it should be inserted on the charts affected by it, and introduced into the Sailing Directions to which it relates.

[First Publication.]

The 23rd October 1877.—The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to order the publication of the following notification for general information.

H. J. REYNOLDS,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Cape of Good Hope—South Coast.

IT is hereby notified that a Light Tower is being built about two hundred to three hundred yards within the pitch of a low point (Seal Point), situated one-and-three-quarter miles westward of Cape St. Francis, to be hereafter called "Cape St. Francis Lighthouse."

The Tower is a cylindrical stone structure, ninety-one feet high, with keepers' quarters attached at base, and is situated in latitude 34° 22′ 30″ south, and longitude 24° 50′ 20″ east of Greenwich.

It is intended to display a second order Holophotal Revolving White Light, flashing at intervals of twenty seconds, with focal plane one hundred and one-and-a-half feet above the base of the Tower, and one hundred and eighteen feet above the level of high water.

The light will be visible in clear weather about sixteen and three-quarters sea miles from the deck of a vessel fifteen feet above the sea. It will command the coast uninterruptedly to the westward, but will be cut off to the eastward by Cape St. Francis on the line N. 53° E. true, or would not be visible from the eastward on a bearing more southerly than S. 53° W. true.

The nearest existing lights are Cape Recife, about forty-five miles to the eastward, and Mossel Bay (Cape St. Blaize), about one hundred and thirty-three miles to the westward.

The Tower will probably be ready for the reception of the Lenticular about January 1878, and the light may probably be exhibited some time between 1st March and 30th April 1878, of which due and precise notice will be given.

JAMES FFORDE, Chief Inspector of Public Works.

No. 367*M.*

Extract from the Proceedings of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in the Public Works Department (Miscellaneous Public Improvements), under date 19*th October* 1877.

WORKS OF PUBLIC UTILITY CONSTRUCTED IN 1876.

Read—

Statement showing works of public utility constructed by private individuals in the several districts of Bengal during the year 1876.

Read again—

The statement of works of public utility constructed by private individuals during the year 1875 and the resolution on that statement.

REMARKS.—The statement now read shows that works of public utility have been constructed by private individuals during the year 1876, which comprise roads, bridges, embankments and drainage channels, tanks and wells, masonry ghats, staging bungalows, serais, charitable dispensaries, burning ghats and schools. The number of works with their cost, as compared with previous years, is noted below :—

Years.	Number of Works	Amount.
		Rs.
1871	46	54,800
1872	69	80,600
1873	163	1,69,715
1874	847	5,00,592
1875	121	6,05,034
1876	925	2,78,129

2. The number of works costing more than Rs. 500 that have been carried out during the year, as compared with former years, are as follows :—

Years.	Number of Works.
1871	24
1872	38
1873	68
1874	348
1875	62
1876	84

3. The number of works costing Rs. 1,000 and upwards is 51, as compared with 35 in 1875, and 117 in 1874.

4. Of works costing less than Rs. 500 a considerable increase is shown as compared with previous years, viz.:—

Years.	Number of Works.
1871	22
1872	31
1873	95
1874	499
1875	59
1876	790

5. The number of works constructed in each district and the amount contributed for them by private individuals is shown in the following statement:—

Rs. 25,140 are shown to have been expended upon 29 roads in different districts; and of this sum Rs. 18,027 was contributed by the Estate of the Minor Maharajah of Cooch Behar towards the North Bengal Emigration Road in the Julpigoree District, including timber bridges.

Baboo Jibun Joardaral so contributed Rs. 2,000 for an unmetalled road from Dumriah to Raismehal in the Jessore District.

Rajah Kali Narain Roy Chowdry has contributed a sum of Rs. 20,000 for an iron bridge at Tonghi in the Dacca District, on the road to Mymensing; the ironwork of this bridge has been obtained from England and has arrived in this country. This gentleman also spent Rs. 400 on two masonry bridges in the same district.

Six embankments were constructed at an aggregate cost of Rs. 3,904. Of these 20½ miles were constructed in the Nuddea District at an expense of Rs. 3,024, which was contributed by seven different persons; and three others were constructed by Mr. H. Sibbald at a cost of Rs. 555.

One drainage work was carried out by the joint contributions of several persons, viz., the drainage of the "Puddo Bheel" in the Nuddea District at a cost of Rs. 178.

Three hundred and forty-six tanks have been constructed or repaired, at a cost of Rs. 1,56,261, and of this sum Chowdri Mehamud Shahajun Huk, Zemindar of Shahapore, contributed Rs. 5,000 for a tank by a roadside in the Beerbhoom District. Baboo Ramphul Sahoo also contributed Rs. 3,559 for a masonry tank in the Shahabad District.

Two persons have constructed tanks costing more than Rs. 2,000, and thirty-six persons contributed sums varying from Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 2,000 for the same purpose.

Five staging bungalows or serais have been constructed in different districts. One of these, a masonry house and ghat, has been built on the river side in the Hooghly District, by Baboo Hurrish Chunder Dhur, at an expense of Rs. 2,500.

Two charitable dispensaries have been established. One in the Furreedpore District contributed by Molvi Golam Ali Chowdry, at a cost of Rs. 1,800, and another in the Howrah District, at a cost of Rs. 300.

Five schools have been built in different districts at a total cost of Rs. 1,714. One of these is a masonry school building, contributed by Baboo Hari Mohun Thacoor, at Buraree in the Bhagalpur District, and cost Rs. 1,000.

Rajah Guroor Narain Sing gave Rs. 400 for a school in the Hazaribagh District.

Two burning ghats were constructed in the Dacca District, at the expense of Baboo Gobind Chunder Dutt, at a cost of Rs. 3,792.

RESOLUTION.—The Lieutenant-Governor has observed that a large increase in the number of works of public utility constructed by private individuals is shown to have taken place during the past year; but this increase is due to the number of petty, and in some instances, insignificant works, which have been entered in some of the District Statements. The greater portion of the increase has been in the Sarun District, in which out of 404 works entered, 314 are below Rs. 100 in value. In the Balasore District, works of Rs. 4 and 5 in value have been brought forward. In the statements for 1874 and 1875, only 12 and 3 works under Rs. 100 in value were entered. There should be uniformity of practice on the part of District Officers in regard to entering works in these statements. The Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to think that works costing less than Rs. 200 should not be included in these returns, and would be glad to have the views of Commissioners as to the limit which should be laid down.

In other respects the statement for 1876 is satisfactory. The amount expended upon these valuable works is considerable; and, taking into consideration the expenditure by the minor Maharajah of Durbhunga on the roads which were commenced as relief works in the year 1874 and were completed in 1875, the amount expended in 1876 will compare favorably with the contributions of any previous year. His Honor is also pleased to notice the increase under the head of schools, dispensaries, and serais.

Letters from Government acknowledging the liberality of those who have executed important works will be issued in the usual manner, and it affords the Lieutenant-Governor much pleasure to be able thus to notice the assistance to Government which has been so freely rendered in this respect.

ORDERS.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution and of the statement be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, and to all Commissioners of Divisions, to the Commissioner of Chota Nagpore and to all Superintending Engineers of Public Works Circles in Bengal, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution and of the statement be forwarded to the Revenue and Judicial Departments of this Government respectively, and to the Irrigation Branch of the Public Works Department of Bengal, for information.

Ordered also that this Resolution and the statement be published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By Order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

G. A. D. ANLEY, C. E.,

Asst. Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Public Works Department.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale, to the undermentioned estate situate in the district of Cuttack, will be put up to sale at the Cuttack Collectorate on the 9th November 1877, corresponding with the 26th Kartic 1285 Umli.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

1. The purchaser of each estate will be considered as the proprietor of that estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, the only right reserved by Government being the right of revising the jummah at the conclusion of the term of the present settlement and on the expiration of all future settlements. If on resettlement he should refuse to engage, he will be entitled to malikana The estate will be sold, subject up to the year 1897 A.D. to the Government revenue against it, to the highest bidder above the upset price.

2. The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3. If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4. If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE STAMP DEPARTMENT FOR 1876-77.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—STAMPS.

Calcutta, the 23rd October 1877.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the administration of the Stamp Department for the year 1876-77.

THE general financial results of the administration of this branch of the revenue during the year, as compared with the results of the two previous years, are shown in the following table, in which the sale receipts of postage, service, and telegraph stamps are not included :—

	1874-75.	1875-76.	1876-77.
	Rs	Rs.	Rs.
Bengal	87,98,038	91,82,869	93,91,694
Assam	4,72,591	5,05,462	4,84,179
Punjab	23,66,345	24,58,005	24,39,280
North-Western Provinces	33,15,383	34,06,849	36,34,364
Oudh	9,25,670	9,24,506	9,41,247
British Burmah	5,05,459	6,09,818	6,32,231
Port Blair	283	542	1,485
Nepal	14	5	...
Political Agencies	5,850	6,736	6,031
Total	1,65,99,630	1,71,83,162	1,75,10,511

The receipts from Bengal are more than equal to the revenue realized from the other provinces together, and the total shows an increase of Rs. 3,27,349 compared with the returns of 1875-76. There was an increase of more than two lakhs in Bengal, and of above 1¼ lakhs in the North-Western Provinces, besides smaller increases in Oudh and British Burmah. But the returns for Assam and the Punjab show a decrease in those provinces.

2. The total stamp revenue did not amount to 100 lakhs of rupees till 1861-62. In 1859-60 it was below 53 lakhs, in the following year it rose to nearly 75¾ lakhs, and in 1861-62 it reached 103 lakhs. Ten years later, in 1871-72, it amounted to nearly 144 lakhs, and since then the increase has been steady, though less rapid than in some former years.

3. The following statement shows the gross revenue of the year in the Lower Provinces of Bengal under the several heads of receipt, as compared with the results of the three years immediately preceding:—

Years	Duties under General Stamp Act					Duties under Court Fees Act.	Total under both Acts.
	Non-judicial stamped papers.	Special adhesive stamps	Receipts, share-transfer and foreign bill stamps	Hoondies or bills of exchange.	Total of general stamps.
	Rs	Rs.	Rs	Rs.	Rs	Rs.	Rs
1873-74	16,80,665	5,22,722	1,81,687	96,731	24,81,405	58,08,956	81,90,361
1874-75	16,93,308	5,58,256	1,91,761	97,914	25,41,239	62,46,767	87,88,026
1875-76	17,71,571	5,45,353	1,88,606	99,786	26,03,314	65,79,555	91,82,869
1876-77	17,03,845	5,46,324	2,00,980	88,378	25,39,536	68,52,158	93,91,694

4. It will be seen from this table that, while there is a net increase of Rs. 2,08,825 in the total revenue in Bengal, this is entirely owing to the sales of judicial stamps, the revenue under the General Stamp Act showing a decrease of Rs. 63,778. Of the sub-heads of general stamps, there was a satisfactory increase in the sale of one-anna receipt stamps, showing that the provisions of the law regarding these stamps are more generally obeyed; but there was a serious falling off in the receipts from hoondee stamps, and a decrease of nearly 4 per cent. (Rs 67,726) in the sale of non-judicial stamped paper.

5. The Lieutenant-Governor is compelled to regard this result as unsatisfactory, and to add that the explanations given in the report assign no sufficient reasons to account for the diminished revenue of the year. The receipts from general stamps are now less than they were two years ago, while the duties under the Court Fees Act have increased in the same time by more than six lakhs of rupees. It is not reasonable to suppose that litigation has so greatly increased concurrently with a decrease of those monetary and commercial transactions from which the general stamp revenue is derived, and it can only be inferred that the duties leviable under the General Stamp Act are systematically evaded, and that the measures taken to enforce the observance of the law have thus far proved ineffectual.

6. As the stamp receipts have now been made a part of the provincial revenues, the question is one which has an important bearing on the financial position of the Local Government. The conditions imposed by the Government of India assume that the net stamp revenue will increase at the rate of 2¾ lakhs per annum. This expectation has not been realized during the year under review, and it cannot be hoped that it will be realized in future if the revenue under the General Stamp Act remains stationary or shows a decrease. The receipts from judicial stamps may be temporarily swelled by the effect of the Land Registration Act, but it is evident that this item does not admit of indefinite expansion, and there are already indications that the normal increase of duties under the Court Fees Act is approaching its limit. The financial safety of the Government as regards the stamp revenue cannot, the Lieutenant-Governor believes, be assured unless the receipts from general stamps show an annual increase of at least 1¼ lakh, or (say) 5 per cent. per annum. There can be no doubt that, if the law were generally observed, the increase would be much greater than this; and Mr. Eden desires earnestly to impress upon the Board and upon all revenue officers the importance of their maintaining a vigilant and strict supervision over this department of their duties.

7. The largest amount of stamp revenue is of course realized in Calcutta, but in the following districts the receipts exceeded three lakhs of rupees:—

Districts.	1876-77.			Total of 1875-76.	Total of 1874-75.
	General stamps.	Court fee stamps.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Calcutta	7,58,858	8,62,076	16,20,934	15,67,909	15,58,118
24-Pergunnahs	88,693	3,57,405	4,46,087	5,14,942	5,21,255
Dacca	1,06,021	3,25,480	4,31,501	3,64,092	3,60,454
Jessore	71,118	3,42,719	4,13,837	4,15,099	4 00,652
Mymensingh	1,03,382	2,97,972	4,01,354	3,97,231	3,82,705
Burdwan	88,243	2,62,474	3,50,716	3,10,782	3,06,868

8. The district of Dacca, which has hitherto stood fifth in order, now takes the third place. The unfavourable results of the year are shown by the fact that, whereas last year nine districts returned receipts exceeding three lakhs, the number has now fallen to six, Midnapore, Backergunge, and Chittagong being excluded. The receipts in Midnapore have fallen from Rs. 3,05,366 to Rs. 2,63,822, those in Backergunge from Rs. 3,05,088 to Rs. 2,86,714, and those in Chittagong from Rs. 3,02,959 to Rs. 2,97,059. Again, the returns of last year showed 13 districts with stamp revenues below a lakh of rupees: but the number has now increased to 14, the receipts in Beerbhoom being only Rs. 94,702, against Rs. 1,06,647 in 1875-76.

9. It has been already remarked that the reasons assigned in the report for increase or decrease under the several heads do not appear to the Lieutenant-Governor to be sufficient. The views of a district officer upon such a question are useful principally as supplying materials from which a general opinion can be formed. But the Lieutenant-Governor does not gather from the report that any attempt is made by Commissioners to offer any such general opinion as regards their respective divisions, or to do anything more than examine the explanations submitted by individual Collectors. The transfer of a thana from Tipperah to Noakholly, referred to in paragraph 34 of the report, can evidently have done nothing to influence the general result.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to receive in future reports a general expression of the Board's opinion as to the causes to which these fluctuations of the stamp revenue may be referred. It is for the Board to say whether, on the whole, trade has been brisk or stagnant; whether the condition of the people has been prosperous or the reverse; whether currency notes have been more or less extensively used for purposes of remittance; whether greater energy has been shown or not in enforcing the provisions of the law. Upon points of this kind the opinion of a central authority, founded upon a general review of the circumstances of the country at large, would be of far more value than a mere reproduction of the causes assigned by district officers, whose views are necessarily partial, and whose information must always be incomplete.

11. The sales of postage, service, and telegraph stamps during the last four years are shown in the following table:—

	Postage.	Service.	Telegraph.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1873-74	15,15,614	4,16,354	14,30,620
1874-75	16,35,688	4,30,253	15,58,424
1875-76	17,22,063	4,33,263	15,81,671
1876-77	17,47,334	4,58,061	20,04,380

12. This steady increase in the sale of postage and telegraph stamps is a matter for congratulation, though some part of the increase under the head of telegraph stamps is attributed to the influx of business consequent upon the scarcity in Southern and Western India. The larger sales of service stamps are accounted for by the opening of additional public offices, involving an increase of official correspondence.

13. The actual sales of stamps in the Lower Provinces of Bengal, excluding postage, service, and telegraph stamps, amounted during the year to Rs. 93,91,694, as shown in paragraph 3 of this Resolution. But the gross revenue from stamps, including duty on unstamped paper, adjudication fees, penalties, and some other smaller items of miscellaneous receipt, amounted to Rs. 94,18,536. The charges of the year were Rs. 2,26,004, and the refunds were Rs. 39,083, leaving a net stamp revenue of Rs. 91,53,449, against Rs. 89,47,092 in the year 1875-76. It is satisfactory to find that the charges of the department are not increasing, and it appears that the net revenue has risen about 2 per cent. during the year. But it has been observed above that the estimates of the Government of India assume a much larger increase than has been realized during the year under review.

14. The prosecutions instituted by local officers for infringements of the stamp law are noticed at some length in the report, but the total number of cases and persons, with the proportion of convictions and acquittals, does not appear to be given. The Lieutenant-Governor observes, however, that the Board are of opinion that a creditable degree of watchfulness and activity has been shown by the officers concerned. The amendment of the stamp law is now under the consideration of the Government of India, and it may be hoped that many of the difficulties which are felt in working the present law will be removed by the proposed legislation. The attention of the High Court will be invited to the case referred to in paragraph 100 of the Board's report.

15. Under a system introduced during the year, inspections of mofussil offices and courts are made from time to time by the Inspector-General of Registration and the Inspectors subordinate to him, in order to ascertain whether the rules for the custody, sale, and defacement of stamps are duly carried out. The registration officers are stated to have rendered the Board very useful assistance, and it is anticipated that their inspections will greatly diminish the danger of the fraudulent removal of judicial stamps from records. Only two instances of the commission of a fraud of this kind are known to have occurred during the year.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction the commendation bestowed by the Board on the stamp reports submitted by the Commissioners named in the margin, and the favourable mention of the district officers who are specified in paragraph 107 of the report. The measures recapitulated in paragraph 2 of the report show the care and vigilance with which the administration of the department has been supervised by the Board. The effects of some of these measures have perhaps not yet been completely felt, and in some points the defectiveness of the existing law has proved an obstacle to successful management. But it is satisfactory to find that local officers are fully impressed with the necessity of correct and watchful attention to all details connected with stamps, and the Lieutenant-Governor is confident that he may rely upon the Board to use their utmost efforts to maintain a high standard of efficiency in a department which is of so much importance to the Government in both a financial and an administrative point of view.

COMPLAINTS REGARDING THE INSUFFICIENCY OF BOATS FOR THE SHIPPING BUSINESS OF THE PORT.

No. 192, dated Simla, the 21st May 1877.

From—C. J. LYALL, Esq., Under-Secy to the Government of India, Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Dept.

I AM directed to forward herewith an extract from the price-current of the Calcutta Chamber of Commerce, dated the 10th May 1877, regarding an alleged insufficiency of boats for the shipping business of the port, and to enquire whether His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor can suggest any remedy for the evil complained of.

Extract from the Calcutta "Chamber of Commerce Price-Current," dated 10th May 1877.

"But even with receipt of their produce exporters' troubles do not cease, for, owing to the building of jetties by the Port authorities, boat-owners have contented themselves with merely keeping in repair such boats as they have, and have ceased building new ones to replace those worn out or lost, and as a result the present number of boats available is far below the requirements of the present shipping business of the port, while the Port Commissioners' arrangements are both incomplete and inadequate. Shippers are being made to pay Rs. 50 or Rs. 60 a day for boat-hire, and even at these figures are unable to secure sufficient for their requirements."

From—H J. S COTTON, Esq., Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Financial Dept.,

To—The Vice-Chairman of the Commissioners for making improvements in the Port of Calcutta.

I AM directed to forward herewith copy of a letter No. 192, dated the 21st May 1877, and of its enclosure, from the Government of India, regarding an alleged insufficiency of boats for the present shipping business of the port, and to request that the Lieutenant-Governor may be favoured with any observations the Port Commissioners may wish to offer on the subject.

No. 1856, dated Calcutta, the 16th August 1877.

From- W. D. BRUCE, Esq, C.E., Vice-Chairman of the Commissioners for making improvements in the Port of Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

WITH reference to the Junior Secretary's letter No. 1648 of the 31st May last, forwarding a communication from the Government of India, with enclosures, regarding an alleged insufficiency of boats for the present shipping business of the port, I am directed to inform you that the Collector of Customs was requested to forward a statement showing the number of cargo-boats registered from 1st November 1867 up to 28th June 1877, and reference was made to the Chamber of Commerce in regard to the statements contained in the extract from the Calcutta Chamber of Commerce's price-current of 10th May 1877, which accompanied the communication from the Government of India. The replies forwarded by the Collector of Customs and the Chamber of Commerce were considered at the 223rd meeting, and the following is copy of a resolution passed thereon:

"Resolved—That in reply to Government letter No. 1648, dated 31st May, and its enclosures, the following remarks be submitted to the Government of Bengal:—

"The statement of cargo-boats registered from the 1st November 1867 up to the 28th June 1877, prepared by the Collector of Customs at the request of the Commissioners, shows that the number of cargo-boats plying in the port has not fallen off; that whereas in the year ending October 1869, prior to the opening of the jetties, only 3,486 cargo-boats were registered during the year ending October 1876; when there were seven jetties at work there were no less than 3,819, and during the current year there were 3,088 boats registered up to 28th June. If to this is added the number of unexpired licenses, the total number of cargo-boats registered to ply within the limits of the port on that date was 4,380. The Commissioners may also state that it is within the personal knowledge of some of the Commissioners that there are a large number of cargo-boats under construction beyond the limits of the port, and also that many of the boats recently constructed are of far larger size than those formerly built. It is not therefore correct to say that 'owing to the building of jetties by the Port authorities, boat-owners have contented themselves with merely keeping in repair such boats as they have, and have ceased building new ones to replace those worn out or lost.'

"The Commissioners are quite aware that during the last few months there has been considerable difficulty in securing accommodation for the shipping business of the port, but this, in a great measure, is owing to the exceptional trade in rice to the famine districts of Madras, and also to the very large increase in the shipments of wheat to Great Britain. From a statement issued by the Chamber of Commerce, it appears that, during the first six months of 1876, the total quantity of rice shipped from Calcutta was 182,688 tons, while during the same months in 1877 the amount of rice exported was 558,765 tons, and from the same statement it appears that whereas the shipments of wheat to Great Britain reached during the first six months of 1876 a total of 56,703 tons, they amounted to 138,218 tons during the same months of the present year. With reference to the statement made in the Chamber of Commerce's price-current that the Port Commissioners' arrangements are both incomplete and inadequate, the Commissioners submit a copy of the reply received from the Committee of the Chamber in reply to the Commissioners' request to know on what grounds such a statement was made. It will be observed that the Committee make no complaint regarding the general arrangements at the jetties, or the mode in which they are worked, but confine themselves to pointing out that the available jetty accommodation is insufficient for the requirements of the trade of the port. On this point the Commissioners fully concur with the Chamber. They have already submitted plans and estimate for an additional jetty, to which early sanction is solicited, and they have now under their consideration the question of still further adding to the jetty accommodation."

Dated Calcutta, the 13th July 1877.

From—H. W. I. WOOD, Esq., Secy, Bengal Chamber of Commerce,

To—The Offg. Secretary to the Port Commissioners.

YOUR letter No. 1069 of the 21st ultimo was submitted for final consideration of the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce at their usual weekly meeting held yesterday, and I was directed to reply as follows:—

Reversing the order of the points of your reference, I am to state, first, that the remarks in the Chamber's price-current of 10th May last, regarding the incompleteness and inadequacy of the Port Commissioners' arrangements, were based on the generally admitted fact that the available jetty accommodation was insufficient for the requirements of the shipping of Calcutta, and that the reply of the Commissioners of 11th May to the Chamber's letter of 28th April, "in order to meet the increased wants of the port the Commissioners are extending the jetty accommodation south of No. 7 jetty," is of itself undeniable confirmation of the statement in the circular.

The purpose of the Commissioners to increase the required accommodation fully justifies the declared inadequacy of their arrangements to meet the wants of the port, and it necessarily follows that their arrangements were to that extent incomplete.

2. The insufficient supply of cargo-boats, the exorbitant rates of hire for those that were available, and the helplessness of shippers to put any check upon the demands of boat proprietors to which they were, by force of circumstances, compelled to submit, were matters of complaint to the Committee of the Chamber, by whom they were submitted to the Commissioners in their letter of 28th April.

The diminution in the fleet of boats, the unwillingness of owners to increase their stock, which had become much reduced, and the special causes to which they were attributed, were also brought to the Commissioners' notice; and when the article in the price-current of 10th May was written, there was no visible improvement.

The Committee are of opinion that the statement in the Chamber's circular was based on sufficiently reasonable grounds, and that the present contract rates nearly double what they were last year, and rates of daily hire, which are enormously in excess of what they have been and should be, conclusively confirm its accuracy.

3. With these remarks in reply to the chief points raised in your letter, it is hardly necessary to state that the Committee entirely approve of the article in the price-current, and that they are glad to find the attention of Government has thereby been drawn to the insufficient supply of boats for the present water-borne traffic of the port, which, however, has no doubt been unexpectedly or rapidly increased by the requirements of the famine in Madras.

MEMORANDUM.

THE competing power of India, as compared to other countries, depends upon the cheapness at which its produce can be shipped

The cheaper we can lay down our raw materials and grain, the greater will be our exports, the greater our revenues, and the richer the country generally. Freights have fallen vid Cape to an average of £2-10 per ton, vid Canal to £3, at which rates ship-owners can get a fair return for their capital. Formerly we used to put produce on board ship here at a charge of Rs. 8 per 100 bags, viz.—

Rs. 4 per cent. for carters and coolies
„ 4 „ for lighterages
= to about 2 shillings per ton.

Since the beginning of this year carters and coolies raised their rates to Rs 8 per cent. and the boat proprietors from Rs. 8 per day to Rs. 110, thus causing the cost of shipping produce to be increased to the fabulous sum of Rs 68 per 100 bags, or about Rs. 18 per ton.

Although cargo-boats are nothing but public conveyances for the shipments of goods, doing the services of our port, no regulations exist under which the public is protected against extortion on the part of the proprietors of these public conveyances; and these men have been encouraged no doubt by the facility with which merchants allowed them to raise rates, finally established prohibitory charges which are causing widespread ruin to the commercial interests, and which are enhancing the cost of shipping produce to such an extent that the imposition has assumed the character of a "blackmail" levied upon the trade of the port. In the case of shipments to Europe, such a state would very soon result in a material falling off of shipments; but as the rice required by Madras and other famine districts must be sent forward, it has to be sent at a so much enhanced cost, and every bag of rice going to these districts has now to pay a tax of 8 annas per bag to owners of these public conveyances

The jetty accommodation provided by the Port Commissioners is quite inadequate; and as the boat proprietors who have been allowed to carry on their trade hitherto unrestricted have taken advantage of their position and established, by conspiracy and combination, what amounts to a monopoly, causing an intolerable nuisance, the time has come when this nuisance should be put down for all time to come.

In order to accomplish this, the Port Commissioners should be invested without delay with supreme power over coolies, carters, and boat-owners; and a License Act, bringing these subsidiary carriers of our port under proper regulations and with a minimum tariff, should at once be passed In doing this, Government will simply fulfil a duty and remedy an evil which has been allowed to grow up, and which is injuring the best interests of the country

CALCUTTA, the 17th August 1877. FERDINAND SCHILLER.

No. 2279, dated Calcutta, the 20th August 1877.

From—A MACKENZIE, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Revenue Dept.,
To—The Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Miscellaneous Revenue Dept.

I AM directed to enclose, for the information of the Board of Revenue, copy of a Memorandum submitted to the Lieutenant-Governor by Mr. Schiller, of the firm of Messrs. Borradaile, Schiller & Co., on the subject of a combination amongst the owners of cargo-boats, and requesting the interference of Government and the publication of a tariff of maximum rates for boats.

2. The Lieutenant Governor has seen Messrs. Schiller and Brown on the subject of this representation, and has consulted several gentlemen interested in the shipment of rice to the Madras ports, and has also consulted the Collector of Customs and the Vice-Chairman of the Port Commissioners on the subject.

3. It appears that the combination is mainly the result of special pressure of business in consequence of the shipment of food grains to the Madras ports The charges of the cargo-boat-owners are so exorbitant as to seriously interfere with the trade. It is of the utmost importance that everything which it is possible to do should be done to expedite the loading of rice ships, and there appears to be no great difficulty in making such arrangements as will have the effect of relieving the present pressure upon shippers.

4. The boats which bring down food-grain from the interior may be permitted to go straight alongside ships loading for Indian ports under such a pass as may be determined upon.

5. In the same way, food-grain may be loaded and sent on board such ships in ordinary country boats similarly protected, the rule which now makes it necessary that no cargo should be shipped, except on a licensed cargo-boat, being suspended from the 21st August to the 1st November in respect to ships loading grain for Indian ports.

6. For the purpose of drawing out the details of such a scheme, the Lieutenant-Governor has appointed a Committee consisting of the following gentlemen :—

Mr. C. T. Buckland
„ J. D Maclean, Collector of Customs.
„ F Schiller.
„ Bazett Colvin.
„ R. Steel
„ W. D. Bruce, Vice-Chairman of the Port Commissioners.

7. The Committee will be good enough to determine the nature of the pass which will be sufficient to protect the Government revenue, and the forms which it is absolutely necessary that shippers should go through for the purpose, and having done this, should give the greatest relief which it is possible to give in respect to forms and procedure This having been done, the Board of Revenue may give the necessary orders for at once carrying out the arrangement determined upon, reporting their proceedings to Government.

8 The Board will be good enough to endeavour to get the matter quickly settled—to-morrow, if possible.

No. 2767, dated Calcutta, the 24th August 1877.

From—Baboo Rajendra Nath Mitra, Acting Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 192, dated the 21st May last, and enclosure, regarding an alleged insufficiency of boats for the present shipping business of the port of Calcutta.

2. In reply, I am desired to submit, for the information of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, a copy of a letter from the Vice-Chairman of the Port Commissioners, No. 1856, dated 16th instant, and enclosures, on the subject, as also copy of a letter issued from the Revenue Department of this office to the Board of Revenue, No. 2279, dated the 20th idem, showing the measures taken by this Government to meet the present exceptional demand for boats.

No. 609B, dated Fort William, the 28th August 1877.

Memo. by W. H. Grimley, Esq., Offg Secy. to the Board of Revenue, L. P.

Copy of the following (with the printed form) submitted to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue Department, with reference to paragraph 7 of Government order No. 2279, dated 20th instant, for information.

No. A, dated Calcutta, the 22nd August 1877.

From—J. D Maclean, Esq , Collector of Customs, Calcutta,
To—The Offg. Secretary to the Board of Revenue, L. P.

I have the honor to report, for the information of the Board, that the Committee appointed under orders of the Government of Bengal, No. 2279, dated the 20th August 1877, met on the 21st idem and considered the questions referred to them in those orders, and arrived at the conclusion that the objects required would best be met by such a course as is laid down in the notification which appears in to-day's Gazette, of which I give a copy :—

"Notification—Notice is hereby given that from 21st August until 1st November 1877, or till further notice, food-grains for Indian ports may be water-borne for shipment, or shipped in any class of boat available, under special permits from the Collector of Customs. Printed books containing the special permits will be supplied to every shipping firm on application to the Collector of Customs."

P.S.—I also enclose a specimen of the special permit referred to in the notification, of which 10,000 have been prepared for supply to the public upon demand.

SPECIAL PERMIT.

This boat is permitted to convey food-grains to the ship bound for Grain covered by Export Pass No. dated

J. D. Maclean,
Collector of Customs

This permit will not protect a boat conveying food-grains for which the shipping bill, as provided in section 125, Act VI of 1863, has not been delivered at the Custom House.

No. 2408, dated Calcutta, the 6th September 1877.

From—H. H. RISLEY, Esq., Offg. Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
To—The Secy. to the Board of Revenue, Miscellaneous Revenue Dept.

WITH reference to your endorsement No. 609B, dated the 28th ultimo, and enclosures, I am directed to say that the Lieutenant-Governor approves the proceedings of the Committee specially appointed to devise means for affording facilities to the shipment of food-grains for Indian ports.

ABSTRACT OF REPORTS ON DISTRICT STOCKS OF RICE, &c., AND MOVEMENTS OF PRICE IN BENGAL, RECEIVED UP TO THE 23RD OCTOBER 1877.

N. B.—No reliance can be placed on the accuracy of figured estimates of stocks in the interior; at best a rough approximation is all that can be expected.

Burdwan, 20th October 1877.—The stock in hand in Burdwan town is 20,000 maunds, and in Raneegunge 8,000 maunds. The exports have been nearly 1,000 maunds, and the imports 500 maunds daily. The prices of rice are the same as before.

Bankoora, 20th October 1877.—The price of common rice is 17 or 18 seers per rupee. There is no demand for exportation.

Beerbhoom, 21st October 1877.—The amount of grain exported during the week was about the same as in the previous week. Prices are falling, the average being now 17½ seers per rupee.

Hooghly, 20th October 1877.—The exports during the week were about 1,200 maunds, and the imports about 7,000 maunds Prices are stationary; coarse rice is selling at 12 seers and wheat at 13 seers per rupee.

Howrah, 23rd October 1877.—The slight fall in prices reported last week is maintained. Trade has been inactive during the week.

24 Pergunnahs, 20th October 1877.—There has been no change in the prices. Export of rice continues from Diamond Harbour, Barripore, and Baraset.

Nuddea, 20th October 1877.—In Kooshtea sub-division the imports were 7,475 maunds, and the exports by rail to Calcutta only 2,190 maunds. From Meherpore sub-division 18 000 maunds of wheat and gram were exported to Calcutta and Hanskhally. The external trade of Chooadangah, Bongong, and the Sudder sub-division has been very trifling. Prices seem to be falling, and coarse rice is procurable in different localities at prices varying from Rs. 2-2 to 2-12 per maund The usual rate seems to be Rs. 2-4 to 2-8 per maund.

Jessore, 20th October 1877.—Prices have slightly fallen throughout the district. Exportations registered at Khoolna amount to 2,755 maunds. In Bagirhat common rice has fallen to 13 seers per rupee, which is very considerably easier than the rate (9 seers) which prevailed three weeks ago. In Jhenidah it has fallen from 4¼ to 3¼ pice a seer, and the sub-divisional officer says the anxiety has passed away. There are everywhere supplies adequate to local demand.

Moorshedabad, 20th October 1877.—Both imports and exports are decreasing. The Jungypore returns shew:—Imports—poorbee dhan 1,600 maunds; Exports—rice 16,000 and paddy 2,200 maunds. The prices at Berhampore are—best rice 9 seers, common rice 13, and aus 15 seers per rupee. At Jungypore best rice 13½, common rice 15, and aus 19 seers.

Dinagepore, 19th October 1877.—There is no more rice for export. Rice is being sold from 15 to 26 seers per rupee.

Rajshahye, 20th October 1877.—During the week 3,594½ maunds of rice were exported from the different marts and gunges in the district, exclusive of what was exported from Nowgong, from which no report was received up to 20th instant. The stock available for exportation is a little less than 4½ lakhs of maunds. 4,975 maunds of pulses were exported. The price of common rice during the first six days of the week was from 17½ to 20½ seers per rupee, and on the 20th from 16½ to 20 seers.

Rungpore, 19th October 1877.—The price of rice is now somewhat cheaper at head-quarters than that prevailing last week. Exportation from the Kurigram sub-division remains much the same as last week. The exportations from Gaibunda sub-division were 3,825 maunds to Pubna, Nattore, Furreedpore, and Serajgunge, and 1,236 maunds to Assam and Calcutta.

Bogra, 20th October 1877.—The price of rice is dearer in three places, cheaper in two, and the same in seven 8,600 maunds were exported to Calcutta, and 700 maunds imported from Dinagepore

Pubna, 20th October 1877.—In Pubna town coarse rice is sold at Rs. 1-12 or 1-13, poorbee at Rs. 2-2 or 2-3, paddy Rs. 1-1-6, wheat Rs 2, &c. The price of rice has lowered a little owing to late importations. At Dulai amun rice is 16 seers, and aus rice is 18 seers per rupee. At Mothoora rice is 17 seers per rupee; the state of amun dhan here is precarious. At Chatmohur amun rice is Rs. 2, and poorbee Rs. 1-14 per maund; about 2,000 maunds of rice were exported from this place to Calcutta during the week. At Serajgunge amun is Rs. 3-2 or 3-3, and aus Rs 2-12 or 2-14 per maund; about 1,500 maunds of rice were exported to Calcutta. At Shazadpore and Ullaparah rice is Rs. 2-13 per maund. At Raigunge there has been no change in the price.

Darjeeling, 19th October 1877.—The price of common rice has fallen during the week, but that of the finer quality has remained stationery. No serious inconvenience is felt from the present rates. The stock of food grain in the market is ample for the wants of the district, and the prospects of the winter crops are very good.

Cooch Behar, 18th October 1877.—The prices of food-grains continue the same as reported last week. No failure of supplies are apprehended anywhere. No rice was exported or imported during the week.

Dacca, 20th October 1877.—Exportation is practically stopped, and prices have been very much reduced, so that many traders have withdrawn their stock from the market rather than sell at the prices offered, namely Rs. 2-8 per maund. Local supplies are ample, and retail prices have fallen proportionately. Any attempt at large purchases would at once stiffen the market.

Furreedpore, 20*th October* 1877.—There has been a slight fall in the price of rice since last return, the average throughout the district being 13 seers the rupee. Importation is still slack, and practically there is very little exportation.

Mymensingh, 19*th October* 1877.—Prices still high. Exportation slack.

Tipperah, 19*th October* 1877.—Prices have fallen and will probably continue to fall. Good rice is sold at from Rs. 2-10 to 3-4 per maund. Exports are not so large as they were.

Noakhally, 18*th October* 1877.—Prices of food-grains are somewhat easier. Coarse rice is at 13 and 14 seers per rupee in the mainland markets, at 15 and 16 seers in Sundeep, and at 11 and 12 seers in Hatiya. Importation is slack, and there is no exportation from the district.

Chittagong Hill Tracts, 16*th October* 1877.—Prices continue the same, except at Rangamatia, where rice is sold at Rs. 5 per maund.

Hill Tipperah, 17*th October* 1877.—Prices continue high. There has been no special activity in the markets.

Patna, 20*th October* 1877.—Prices are easy.

Gya, 20*th October* 1877.—The prices during the week were stationery.

Durbhunga, 20*th October* 1877.—Prices are gradually, though slightly, falling.

Mozufferpore, 20*th October* 1877.—Exportations are increasing, but owing to improved prospects prices are easy.

Sarun, 20*th October* 1877.—During the week the imports from Mozufferpore, Patna, Fyzabad, Nawabgunge, Purneah, and Shahabad amounted to 8,775 maunds. There were no exports to Calcutta. The stock in hand is 14,470 maunds. The prices were—wheat 14$\frac{5}{16}$, barley 19, best rice 7$\frac{3}{4}$, common rice 11$\frac{1}{8}$, paddy 20$\frac{1}{4}$ seers per rupee.

Chumparun, 20*th October* 1877.—Prices have slightly fallen at Motihari, and slightly risen at Bettiah. Some exports towards Chuprah are reported.

Monghyr, 20*th October* 1877.—The food-grains on sale at the different marts and gunges during the week were 1,983 maunds of rice, 19,463 maunds of wheat, 2,638 maunds of rahur, 154 maunds of dhan, 9,014 maunds of gram, &c.

Bhagulpore, 21*st October* 1877.—Owing to reports of good rainfall all over the country, export from here has almost stopped, and prices have fallen. Much of the stocks collected for export now come into the local market, and prices must continue to fall, specially with a prospect of a bumper rice crop and a fair start for the rubbee.

Purneah, 20*th October* 1877.—Rice and pulses are being exported from the southern part of the district to Sahebgunge and other places on the railway. There is also some export from the banks of the Koosi to the Upper Provinces.

Maldah, 20*th October* 1877.—There has been no change in the price of common rice this week. The average is still 19 seers per rupee.

Cuttack, 20*th October* 1877.—Exports this week at False Point amount to 15,336 maunds, against 20,427 maunds during last week. Prices in the interior are much the same, but slightly cheaper in the town. The export to Madras is less brisk, but the normal trade to the Mauritius is reasserting itself. Beali is entering the market and is keeping prices from rising. Stocks are sufficient for export.

Pooree, 18*th October* 1877.—The supply of rice to inland markets has increased. Prices are almost unchanged. The rates are 9$\frac{3}{16}$ to 15$\frac{3}{4}$ seers per rupee. Export continues to Madras Presidency.

Balasore, 19*th October* 1877.—The exports this week are very small, only 8 maunds of rice and 782 maunds of paddy having been sent from Chandbally to Calcutta. The price of clean red rice ranged from Rs. 1-15 to 1-12 per maund in Balasore, and from Rs. 2-4 to 2-7 at Chandbally, closing at the latter place at Rs. 2-6. The fallen price at Balasore is probably owing to the rain. Stocks in Balasore amount to 95,000 maunds of rice, and at Chandbally to 52,050 maunds of rice and 1,200 of paddy.

Hazareebagh, 19*th October* 1877.—Matters remain unchanged. Markets continue well supplied, and prices the same as before.

Lohardugga, 19*th October* 1877.—The bazars are well supplied with food-grains. Prices are steady. Rice is being exported from Ranchee to Hazareebagh district.

Singbhoom, 19*th October* 1877.—The markets continue to be well supplied with food-grains. There has been no change in the prices since last report. Exportation is insignificant.

Manbhoom, 20*th October* 1877.—There is not much to report. There is little exportation going on at present. The supply of grain throughout the district is sufficient, though in some places the price of rice continues high.

N.B.—The periods taken in the Statement represent roughly the distribution of rainfall most necessary to the agriculturist. The fall to the end of April may be called 'the ploughing fall,' that to the end of June 'the sowing fall.' The fall between June and August matures the aous, and is essential to the transplantation of the aman. The fall in September matures the aman, while that after September fills out the ear of the aman rice and determines the prospects of the rubbi.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 20th October 1877.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
Burdwan Div. 1	Burdwan, Oct. 20 '77	·37	The rainfall at Culna has been 2·05, Cutwa nil, Bood-Bood 68, Raneegunge 1·64 and Jehanabad 3·03 The prospects of aman paddy and sugarcane are good. The rain at Jehanabad and Bood-Bood has done immense good to the crops Fever continues prevalent at Culna.
Burdwan Div. 2	Bankoora, „ 20 „	Nil	No rain during the week The cold weather seems to be setting in. No change to report about the crops A little more rain would do much good, especially in the south-east of the district Fever has broken out at Jaipore, and there have been two or three cases of cholera at Gangajulghati.
Burdwan Div. 3	Beerbhoom, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable State and prospects of the crops continue to be excellent. The rice is changing colour
Burdwan Div. 4	Midnapore, „ 20 „	·65	One good shower on the 15th. Since then the cold weather seems to have set in The rain appears to have been sufficient to secure at least an average crop everywhere, except in the Tumlook sub-division, where it has been very scanty, and less than an average crop is expected
Burdwan Div. 5	Hooghly, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—fair and slightly cool. Another shower of rain is wanted to ensure a full crop.
Burdwan Div.	Howrah, „ 23 „	·25	Weather rather warmer than last week The prospects of the aman crop continue good, but a little more rain is wanted in parts.
	Central Districts.
Presidency Div. 6	24-Pergunnahs, Oct. 20 '77	·31	Weather—generally fair, with occasional showers. The approach of cold weather is apparent in the morning. The prospects of aman are promising, and the last rain has proved beneficial to the crops on the ground. Public health is fair, though several cases of cholera are reported from Barrackpore and Diamond Harbour. Fever prevails at Barripore and Sathkhira.
Presidency Div. 7	Nuddea, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—fine and seasonable The prospects of all crops are good, though more moisture would be of benefit to the late rice.
Presidency Div. 8	Jessore, „ 20 „	·43	Weather—generally dry. Nights cool, with heavy dews Heaviest rainfall at Khoolna, 2·26 inches The prospects of the crops are generally good More rain is required in parts of Bagirhat
	9 Moorshedabad, „ 20 „	Nil	Bright days with hot sun; mornings and nights cool The prospects of the aman rice continue very satisfactory; but a good shower of rain at an early date would be of advantage to the crop on the higher lands Rubbee sowings have commenced. Sugarcane and mulberry are doing well Fever of an ordinary type is somewhat prevalent, but on the whole the public health is good
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 10	Dinagepore, „ 19 „	·19	Weather—seasonable The bhadoi crop has been harvested, and has yielded a 14-anna crop. The state and prospects of kaimuds are good
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 11	Rajshahye, „ 20 „	Nil	No rain at the Sudder station, but a fall of 42 of an inch is reported from Nattore, which is said to have improved the condition of the winter rice. Generally the prospects of the standing crops are good. Lands are being prepared for the sowings of the spring crops.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 12	Rungpore, „ 19 „	·79	4·61 at Gaibanda and 1·03 at Kurigram The cold weather appears to have set in. The state and prospects of the crops continue to be very favourable Public health is very good for this time of year
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 13	Bogra, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—bright and clear. Days hot; early mornings and evenings rather cool The aman and other crops are getting on well, and will probably give a good outturn. It is reported from Sherepore that the dryness of weather during the greater part of the week has removed the apprehension of the low land aman being damaged by rain There was slight fall of rain during the early part of the week, which has done good to the standing crops With the exception of a little sporadic sickness, the health of the people is good.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 14	Pubna, Oct. 20 '77	·03	Weather—fine, cool, and seasonable. More rain is wanted for the aman crop. The prospects of the rubbee crops appear to be favourable. Fever is prevalent in the Sudder station, and cholera in Serajgunge, Shazadpore, and Raigunge. In Serajgunge town alone there have been above 200 cases.

BENGAL.—(Continued.)
		Central Districts.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divn.	15	Darjeeling, Oct. 19 '77	·14	There was a shower on the 13th. No rain has fallen since, but there has been a good deal of thick mist The crops throughout the district are progressing favourably. Haimunti rice is in the ear in some places.
	16	Julpigoree, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—generally fair, but occasionally cloudy. The state and prospects of the haimunti rice crop continue to be good and favourable. The rubbee sowings are progressing, and lands are being prepared for tobacco and mustard.
		Cooch Behar, „ 18 „	Nil	33 at Mekligunge, 2·66 at Mathabhanga, and ·75 at Dinhatta. Weather cool. Mornings sometimes foggy. Heavy dews. Very little wind. No change about the crops since last report. Tobacco is being re-sown everywhere. Fields are being ploughed for the cold weather crops. Public health is good, but the usual fever is prevalent.
		Eastern Districts.
Dacca Divn.	17	Dacca, Oct. 20 '77	·22	Weather—seasonable; cooler in the morning, but very hot during the day. The prospects of the crops are favourable. The rivers are now falling rapidly, and only a few showers are wanted for the high land crops. Cholera prevails at Narsingunge and in the Manickgunge sub-division.
	18	Furreedpore, „ 21 „	Nil	Weather—fair and seasonable. ·45 at Madaripore. The average outturn of the aman crop may be fairly estimated at 8 annas.
	19	Backergunge, „ 18 „	·25	Weather—cool; more rain is wanted for the crops on the high lands. Prospects generally are good.
	20	Mymensingh, „ 19 „	1 46	Weather—fair. The prospects of the crops are not very favourable.
	21	Tipperah, „ 19 „	1 63	Weather—showery during the first two days; fine and cool during the rest of the week. 2 87 at Bramunbariah. The prospects of the winter rice are good.
Chittagong Divn.	22	Chittagong, „ 18 „	03	Mornings clear and evenings fresh. The present prospects of the aman crop are favourable. Some rain will be required for the late transplantings. The sowings of cold-weather crops continue.
	23	Noakholly, „ 18 „	1·86	Heavy rain with thunder and lightning on the 13th. Since 15th the wind has been blowing from the north. The mornings are foggy, and the cold weather has begun to set in The aman crops are progressing very favourably at present. Public health is good.
	24	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 16 „	·35	Heavy fogs every morning up to 9 A M. The gathering of the joom paddy crop still continues.
		Hill Tipperah, „ 17 „	2·25	Rain on three days of the week The temperature has fallen considerably. The late rain will do much good to the crops. The aman crops are very promising.
BEHAR.
Patna Division.	25	Patna, Oct 20 '77	Nil	Prospects of the crops are good.
	26	Gya, „ 20 „	Nil	Sky clear, with occasional fleecy clouds. No rain at Aurungabad and ·12 at Nowada. The promise of the rubbee is everywhere good, and all rubbee crops are being extensively sown. The rice outturn will be about a half of a full crop over the whole district. The rice crop of Nowada is reported a full average, but in the south of the district and in the Aurungabad sub-division, the Collector fears a countervailing deficiency. Not more than ten annas of the rice land were brought under cultivation, and the crop on it is certainly less than an average.
	27	Shahabad, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—sunny, bright, and clear. Mornings and evenings cool. No rain during the week. The showers which fell last week have benefited the bhadoi crops on the ground, viz, kodo, arhur, and bajra. The rubbee crops are being rapidly sown. The paddy, where there has not been sufficient rain, and not within the reach of the canal water, is being cut down and used for fodder. More rain is wanted for dhan. No report received from Sasseram.
	28	Durbhunga, „ 20 „	Nil	No rain during the week. Prospects of the winter rice crop are excellent. General health is good.
	29	Mozufferpore, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—bright and hot. In the Hajeepore and Mozuffe pore sub-divisions the prospects of the rice crop are good, and the rubbee sowings are progressing well. In the Seetamurhee sub-division the rice crop is drying up here and there on the high lands, and rain is much wanted.
	30	Sarun, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—clear. No signs of rain Mornings and evenings cool. Dews at night. East and west wind. Rahur, sugarcane, and kapas are doing well. Rubbee is being put in the ground. Indigo fields are being prepared for the next year's crop.

BEHAR.—(Continued.)
Patna Division.	31	Chumparun, Oct. 21 '77	Nil	Weather warm for the season and very bright The slight rain of the week before last freshened the rice, and enabled the ryots to plough, and to sow a little rubbee. But much more is still wanted to make a good rice crop, and rain falling in the next nichhitra (the sawathi) is apt to spoil the flowers A good deal of rice in the south of the district had been spoilt before the late rain fell. There is just enough moisture in most places for the rubbee to germinate, but not nearly enough for its good growth The tanks are still very low. No rain at Bettiah during the week. There has now been in all since the 12th ultimo at Motiharee 1·43 and at Bettiah 1·32, falling on four days at each place, from the 7th to the 12th instant. Segowlee only had 8 inches since 13th ultimo. The total fall up to date is about 22 and 18 inches below the averages of the two places respectively. Public health is good. In the report of this district dated 30th September 1877, published in the Calcutta Gazette of 3rd idem, for "Bettiah 0·65, against 13 25," read "Bettiah, 13 25, against 0·65."
Bhagulpore Divn.	32	Monghyr, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—warm in the day and cool at night. 1·75 at Begoosarai and 1·23 at Jamooe Owing to the rains in the beginning of the month, the rice crop is favourable, and the rubbee crops are being sown, the ground being moist.
	33	Bhagulpore, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—bright, cloudless sky; very hot when the wind drops. State and prospects of the crops are excellent. The late rain came on the very day it ought to come according to the Hindoo calendar. The rice crop will now be an unusually large one, and a very large area is ready for rubbee sowing
	34	Purneah, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—fine and clear. The winter crop promises well, but a little more rain would be beneficial. Ploughing is going on briskly for the rubbee crops.
	35	Maldah, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—fair. Light rain fell in some parts of the district. The crops are thriving.
	36	Sonthal Pergha., „ 21 „	Nil	No rain during the week Everything promises well.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn.	37	Cuttack, Oct 20 '77	2·17	Heavy rain at the beginning of the week; since then the weather has been fine. The rain has done a great deal of good. The low land sarudá is doing well, but the high land crop requires a little more rain. Cholera is less prevalent. General health is good.
	38	Pooree, „ 18 „	3 23	Weather—hot and cloudy at intervals. 1 30 at Khoordah. There was rain in almost all parts of the district, but more is needed. There was a heavy shower in the tract between the Chilka and the sea, and $\frac{1}{4}$th of the paddy crop may be saved there. In Khoordah rain is much needed.
	39	Balasore, „ 19 „	2 06	Heavy rain at the beginning of the week. Since then the weather has been hot. The rain has been pretty general and of great benefit to the rice which is now in ear and coming on well. More rain, however, is wanted in the west of the Trunk Road and in the south of the district.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.	40	Hazareebagh, Oct 19 '77	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Settled fair. There is no change to report about the crops. Much of the dhan grown on the very high lands has been lost but that grown on the low lands will give an average crop.
	41	Lohardugga, „ 20 „	Nil	Hot day. Mornings and nights cool. No rain in the Sudder station. Light rain in three police stations only. The rice plants are drying. Rain is urgently wanted throughout the Sudder sub-division. The Palamow sub-divisional officer reports that 4·15 inches of rain fell at the head-quarters of the sub-division on the night of the 9th instant, and that the prospects of the crops are rather favourable now, but more rain is wanted for paddy and rubbee crops
	42	Singbhoom „ 19 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. On the 12th and 13th rain fell almost everywhere in the district and in some parts in sufficient quantity to put out of need any more showers for the rest of the season. In some parts, however, the quantity was insufficient, and the prospects of the hemunti paddy in them are bad, and it is feared about an eight-anna harvest will be the probable yield of this crop. The centre of the Government Kolhan and the extreme east of Dhalbhoom are the two worst of these bad parts The fall of rain has been taken advantage of for cultivation of the cold weather crops, and the reports regarding them are favourable. The district is healthy.
	43	Manbhoom, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—hot for the time of year at head quarters. There have been showers in the district. The reports are conflicting. Probably, where water has been husbanded, the crops will do well. A little more rain would do good both to the ripening grain on the high land and to the cold weather crops—mustard, surgooja, wheat, &c.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modification of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title. 1. This Act may be called "The Stamp Act, 1878."

Extent of Act. It extends to the whole of British India;

Commencement of Act. And it shall come into force on the first day of July 1878.

Repeal of enactments. 2. On and after that day, the Acts specified in the seventh schedule shall be repealed to the extent specified in the third column of the same schedule. But all rules framed under any such Act and then in force shall, so far as they are consistent with this Act, be deemed to have been made hereunder. And all exemptions granted under any such Act and then in force shall be deemed to have been granted under this Act. And all references made to the General Stamp Act, 1869, or to the Court-Fees Act, 1870, shall be deemed to be made to this Act.

Interpretation-clause. 3. In this Act, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,—

"Affidavit." (1.) "Affidavit" means a declaration in writing, on oath or affirmation, made before a person authorized by law to administer an oath:

"Award." (2.) "Award" means any decision in writing by an arbitrator or umpire:

"Banker." (3.) "Banker" includes any person acting as a banker:

(41.) "Settlement" means any instrument (other than a will) whereby the destination or devolution of moveable or immoveable property is settled or agreed to be settled: it includes a deed of dower and an assurance for religious or charitable purposes: "Settlement."

(42.) "Schedule" and "schedules" respectively mean a schedule and schedules to this Act annexed: "Schedule."

(43.) "Stamp" means as well a stamp impressed by means of a die as an adhesive stamp used under this Act: "Stamp."

(44.) "Stamp law" used in reference to any instrument means the law relating to stamps in force in British India at the time of its execution: and "Stamp law."

(45.) "Written" and "writing" includes every mode in which words or figures can be expressed upon paper.

4. The rule of the English common law that statutes imposing charges on the subject are to be strictly construed has no application to this Act. But its provisions are to be construed so as to give effect to the will of the legislature. Rule of construction.

CHAPTER II.

STAMP-DUTIES AND COURT-FEES CHARGEABLE UNDER THIS ACT.

5. All stamp-duties and court-fees which may from time to time be chargeable by law in respect of any instruments are to be paid and denoted by means of stamps according to the regulations herein contained, or made under the powers hereinafter conferred. All duties to be paid according to the regulations of this Act.

6. The schedules and everything therein contained are to be read and construed as part of this Act. Schedules to be read as part of Act.

7. A stamp which, by any words on the face of it, or by any rule made under the power hereinafter conferred, is appropriated to any particular description of instrument, is not to be used, or, if used, is not to be available, for an instrument of any other description. Use of appropriated stamp.

An instrument falling under the particular description to which any stamp is so appropriated as aforesaid is not to be deemed duly stamped, unless it is stamped with the stamp so appropriated.

CHAPTER III.

STAMP-DUTIES ON INSTRUMENTS.

8. Subject to the exemptions contained in schedule three and in any other law for the time being in force, for every instrument mentioned in the first and second schedules, and executed in British India on or after the first day of March 1878, Scheduled duties chargeable.

or executed out of British India on or after that day, but relating to, or empowering any person to deal with, any property within British India at the time of execution, there shall be payable to the Government of India, as stamp-duty, the amount indicated in the said first or second schedule to be the proper duty for such instrument.

9. Instruments executed in British India shall be stamped at the time of execution. Instruments executed in British India.

Instruments executed out of British India and relating to, or empowering any person to deal with, property within British India at the time of execution shall be stamped within one month after their arrival in British India; and where any such instrument requires to be stamped with an impressed stamp, it shall be taken for that purpose to the Collector, who shall on payment of the proper duty stamp the same in the manner directed by the rules under this Act, and certify thereon that such duty has been paid. Instruments executed out of British India.

10. Every instrument written upon stamped paper is to be written in such manner, and every instrument partly or wholly written before being stamped is to be so stamped, that the stamp may appear on the face of the instrument. How instruments are to be written and stamped.

Not more than one instrument shall be written upon the same piece of stamped paper.

11. Where an instrument is chargeable with ad valorem duty in respect of any stock or of any marketable security, such duty shall be calculated on the value of such stock or security according to the average price thereof on the day of the date of the instrument. Stock and marketable securities to be valued.

12. Where an instrument contains a statement of current rate of exchange, or average price, as the case may require, and is stamped in accordance with such statement, it is, so far as regards the subject-matter of such statement, to be deemed duly stamped, unless or until it is shown that such statement is untrue, and that the instrument is in fact insufficiently stamped. Effect of statement of value.

Denoting stamp.

13. Where the duty with which an instrument is chargeable depends in any manner upon the duty paid upon another instrument, the payment of such last-mentioned duty shall, if application be made to the Collector for that purpose, and on production of both the instruments, be denoted in such manner as he thinks fit upon such first-mentioned instrument.

Use of adhesive stamps.

14. The following instruments may (subject to the provisions hereinafter contained) be stamped with adhesive stamps :—

(a) instruments chargeable under the second schedule with the duty of one anna ;

(b) bills of exchange and promissory notes drawn or made out of British India;

(c) transfers by endorsement of shares of public companies and associations.

Duties by whom payable.

15. In the absence of an agreement to the contrary, the expense of providing the proper stamp shall be borne—

(a) in the case of any instrument mentioned in the first schedule (other than a policy of insurance, a mortgage-deed, a settlement, a conveyance, a lease, an instrument of exchange or partition-deed where money is paid for equality of exchange or partition, an appraisement or valuation, an award and a copy, duplicate or extract)—by the person drawing, making or executing such instrument :

(b) in the case of a policy of insurance—by the insured :

(c) in the case of a settlement—by a settlor :

(d) in the case of a conveyance, mortgage-deed or lease—by the grantee, mortgagor, or lessee :

(e) in the case of a counterpart of a lease—by the lessor :

(f) in the case of a partition-deed—by the parties thereto in proportion to their respective shares in the property comprised therein :

(g) in the case of an exchange where money is paid for equality of exchange—by the person paying such money : and

(h) in the case of an exchange where no such money is paid—by the parties in equal shares.

In the case of an instrument of gift, the expense of providing the proper stamp shall be borne by the donor.

Bills of exchange chargeable with duty.

16. The duty imposed by this Act on bills of exchange shall be chargeable—

(a) on all bills drawn and payable in British India,

(b) on all bills drawn in, but payable out of, British India, and

(c) on all bills drawn out of, but accepted or paid, or endorsed, transferred, or otherwise negotiated within, British India.

Stamping bills drawn out of British India.

17. The holder of any bill of exchange or promissory note drawn or made out of British India and not stamped as required by this Act, shall, before he presents the same for acceptance or for payment, or endorses, transfers, or otherwise negotiates such bill or note, affix thereto the proper adhesive stamp or stamps required by this Act.

Power of banker in case of bills, notes, and cheques received by him unstamped.

18. When any bill of exchange, cheque, or promissory note chargeable hereunder with the duty of one anna comes unstamped to the hands of a banker, he may affix thereto the necessary adhesive stamp, and upon so doing, may charge the duty against the person who ought to have paid the same, or deduct such duty from the sum so directed to be paid.

Such bill, note, or cheque shall, so far as relates to the duty chargeable thereon, be valid ; but this shall not relieve any person or firm from liability to the penalty which he or it may have incurred by issuing or giving the said bill, note, or cheque unstamped.

Saving of liability for issuing bill, &c., unstamped.

Foreign bill unstamped or with stamps uncancelled.

19. Subject to the provisions contained in section 18, no person taking a bill of exchange or promissory note drawn or made out of British India and requiring a stamp under this Act, either in payment or as a security, or by purchase or otherwise, shall be entitled to recover thereon, or to make the same available for any purpose, unless at the time when he so takes it, the proper stamp is affixed thereto and cancelled in manner directed by this Act.

Instruments reserving interest.

20. When interest is expressly made payable by the terms of an instrument, such instrument shall not be chargeable with a duty higher than that with which it would have been chargeable had no mention of interest been made therein.

Consideration expressed in certain foreign currencies.

21. When the consideration set forth in, or the amount secured by, any instrument chargeable under this Act is expressed in pounds sterling, pounds currency, francs or dollars, such consideration or amount shall, for the purposes of this Act, be estimated according to the following scale :—

One pound sterling or pound currency is equivalent to ten rupees :

One hundred francs are equivalent to forty rupees :

One Mexican or China dollar is equivalent to two rupees four annas :

One Mauritius dollar is equivalent to two rupees.

Valuation of money in other foreign or colonial currency for levy of duty.

22. Where an instrument is chargeable with ad valorem duty in respect of any money in any other foreign or colonial currency, such duty shall be calculated on the value of such money in the currency of British India according to the current rate of exchange on the day of the date of the instrument.

Optional stamps where values of subject-matter is indeterminate.

23. When the amount or value of the subject-matter of any bond, mortgage-deed, settlement, exchange or gift chargeable under this Act with ad valorem duty, and referred to or mentioned in section 15, cannot be ascertained, the proper stamp to be borne by such instrument may be determined by the person bound under that section to bear the expense of providing the stamp :

Provided that, under such instrument, nothing shall be recoverable more than the highest amount or value for which, if stated in an instrument of the same denomination, the stamp actually used under such option would have been sufficient.

Amount on which duty leviable in case of bond, &c., for payment of annuity.

24. The whole amount secured for the payment of an annuity, or other sum payable periodically for an indefinite time, by a bond, promissory note, or mortgage-deed shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be ten times the amount of the payment calculated for one year.

Amount on which duty leviable where consideration is an annuity.

25. When the consideration for a conveyance is an annuity or other sum payable periodically for an indefinite time, such consideration shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be ten times the amount of the payment calculated for one year.

Amount on which duty leviable in case of lease where no term is expressed.

26. In the case of a lease where no term is expressed, the average annual rent payable in respect of the property comprised therein shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be the average annual rent payable under the lease for the ten years next after it commences.

Several instruments used in single transaction.

27. When more instruments than one are required for the completion of any transaction involving the execution of a mortgage-deed, settlement, conveyance or lease, the proper stamp required by this Act for such mortgage-deed, settlement, conveyance or lease, shall be borne by the principal instrument, whether the several instruments executed in such transaction are executed simultaneously or otherwise, and each of the other instruments shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be collateral.

The parties may determine for themselves which of such instruments shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be the principal instrument: Provided that, where the instruments are liable to different rates of duty under this Act, the instrument liable to the highest of such rates shall be deemed to be the principal instrument.

Instruments coming within two or more of the definitions in section 3.

28. An instrument so framed as to come within two or more of the definitions in section three shall, when the instruments to which those definitions apply are liable to different rates of duty under this Act, be charged with the highest of such rates:

Provided that, when any one of such instruments purports, for distinct considerations, to convey by way of sale, to lease, to give or to mortgage two or more subject-matters, or to convey by way of sale, to lease or to give one subject-matter and to mortgage another, such instrument shall be chargeable with the aggregate amount of the duties to which instruments effecting separately each of such conveyances, leases, gifts, or mortgages would be liable under this Act. But where such instrument is stamped with an insufficient stamp, the value of such stamp may be taken into account in computing the aggregate amount so chargeable.

Instruments conveying several subject-matters.

Consideration to be stated.

29. (a.)—When any moveable or immoveable property is sold or is leased in consideration of a fine or premium, the full consideration-money directly or indirectly paid or secured, or agreed to be paid or secured for the same, shall be truly set forth in words at length in the principal or only instrument whereby the property sold or leased is conveyed to, or vested in, the purchaser or lessee or in any other person by his direction.

Mortgage-money to be deemed purchase-money.

(b.)—When any property is sold and conveyed subject to any mortgage or bond or other debt, or to any gross or entire sum of money, such debt or sum shall be deemed the consideration-money or part of the consideration-money (as the case may be) in respect whereof the duty chargeable under the first schedule to this Act shall be paid, notwithstanding the purchaser is not or does not become personally liable for such debt or sum, or does not agree to pay the same, or to indemnify the seller against the same.

(c.)—When one property is exchanged for another, and no money paid for equality, the value of either property shall be set forth as aforesaid in the instrument of exchange: but where money is paid for equality, the amount so paid and the value of the property least in value shall be set forth as last aforesaid.

(d.)—When property is conveyed by way of gift, the value of the property shall be set forth as aforesaid in the instrument of gift.

CHAPTER IV.

UNSTAMPED OR INSUFFICIENTLY STAMPED DOCUMENTS.

Instruments produced in Court to be examined.

30. Every Judge and head of a public office before whom any instrument chargeable with stamp-duty under this Act is produced, shall by himself or (in the case of the Judge of a High Court or a District Court) by such officer as the Court appoints in this behalf, examine such instrument in order to ascertain whether the proper stamp-duty has been paid in respect thereof.

If such duty has not been paid in respect of such instrument, such Judge, head or officer, as the case may be, shall impound the same.

Instruments not duly stamped inadmissible in evidence.

31. No instrument chargeable under the first or second schedule shall be received in any Court of justice, or by any person having by law or consent of parties authority to receive evidence, as evidence in any civil proceeding, unless such instrument is duly stamped:

Provided that the Court or person having authority to receive evidence may, on the application of the person producing the instrument or his duly authorized agent, and on payment of the duty with which such instrument is chargeable or (in the case of an instrument insufficiently stamped) of the amount required to make up such duty, together with interest on the amount so paid at the rate of five per cent. per annum from the date of the instrument, and on payment of an additional duty of four times the proper stamp-duty or deficient portion thereof, receive the instrument in evidence.

Admission in criminal cases of documents for which proper fee has not been paid.

32. Whenever the filing or exhibition in a criminal Court of a document in respect of which the proper fee has not been paid is, in the opinion of the presiding Judge, necessary to prevent a failure of justice, nothing contained in section 30 or 31 shall be deemed to prohibit such filing or exhibition except in cases under chapter XL of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Procedure as to instruments impounded under section 30, and not received in evidence.

33. The Judge or person having authority to receive evidence shall send to the Collector—

(a) every instrument impounded under section 30, and not received in evidence;

(b) an authenticated copy of every instrument so impounded, which has been received in evidence, together with a certificate in writing, stating the amount levied under section 31 in respect of such instrument.

No instrument impounded under section 30, and received in evidence, shall be returned to the person producing it unless and until the Collector informs the Court that its detention is no longer necessary.

Impounding unstamped instruments in public office.

34. When any instrument is produced before any registering officer, or in any public office other than a civil or criminal Court, if it appear to the registering officer or to the head of such public office that the instrument is not duly stamped, he shall impound the instrument, and (unless he himself be the Collector) send it forthwith to the Collector.

Powers of Collector as to unstamped or insufficiently stamped instruments other than bills and notes.

35. The Collector on receiving any instrument which has been sent to him under section 33 or 34, or which has come into his hands otherwise than for the purpose of obtaining an adjudication under section 43, shall determine the duty (if any) with which the instrument is chargeable.

Certificate.

If it appear to him that the instrument is duly stamped, or that it is not chargeable with stamp-duty under the law in force in British India at the time of its execution, he shall certify by endorsement thereon that it is duly stamped, or that it is not so chargeable (as the case may be), and he shall thereupon return such instrument to the person by whom it was produced or in whose possession it was found.

If it appears to him that the instrument is not duly stamped, the Collector shall require the person producing it, or in whose possession it has been found, to pay the proper stamp-duty or the amount required to make up the sum, together with interest thereon at five per cent. per annum from the date of the instrument, and in case of failure to pay such duty and interest within fifteen days, the Collector may recover the same as if it were an arrear of land-revenue.

The Collector may also prosecute any person who appears to have committed an offence against the stamp-law with reference to such instrument or to any instrument of which an authenticated copy has been sent to him under section 33.

Endorsement of instruments on which duty has been paid under section 31 or 35.

36. When the stamp-duty with which any instrument is chargeable has been paid or recovered under section 31 or section 35, the Judge or the Collector, as the case may be, shall certify by endorsement thereon that the proper stamp-duty has been levied upon it.

Every instrument so endorsed shall be returned, on application, to the person who produced it, or in whose possession it was found, provided that no instrument in respect of which a prosecution has been instituted shall be so returned until the prosecution has terminated.

Subject to the provision contained in section 48, such certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the amount of stamp-duty leviable on the instrument, which shall thereupon be admissible as if originally executed on paper bearing the proper stamp.

Right of person paying duty under section 31 or 35 when he is not bound to provide stamp.

37. When any duty has been levied under section 31 or section 35 from a person who is not bound under section 15 to provide the proper stamp, he shall be entitled, on production of the certificate mentioned in section 36 in a Civil Court of competent jurisdiction, to a decree against the person so bound under section 15 for the amount so levied.

Instruments chargeable with one anna duty.

38. Nothing contained in sections 31 and 35 applies to instruments chargeable with the duty of one anna only. Subject to the provisions of section 18, no such instrument shall be received in evidence for any purpose whatever, or be registered unless it has been stamped at the time of its execution or in accordance with the provisions of section 17.

Non-liability for loss of instruments sent under section 18, 33 or 34.

39. If any instrument sent or returned under section 18, 33 or 34, be lost, destroyed or injured during transmission, the Court or officer sending or returning the same shall not be liable for such loss, destruction or injury.

The person producing any such instrument under section 30 or section 34 may require a copy thereof to be made at his expense and authenticated by the Judge, the registering officer, or the head of the office, as the case may be; and such copy shall be kept in the Court or Office until the Judge, registering officer, or head otherwise directs.

Procedure where receipts are required.

40 When any person from whom money or other moveable property exceeding in amount or value ten rupees is due or claimed to be due, pays or delivers such money or property, the person to whom the same is paid or delivered shall give a receipt for such money or property.

Stamping unstamped receipts.

41. When any receipt comes unstamped to the hands of the person to whom it is given, he may affix thereto the necessary adhesive stamp, and upon so doing may require the person who gave it to pay the value of the said stamp.

Cancellation of adhesive stamps.

42. Whoever affixes, in accordance with the stamp law, any adhesive stamp to any instrument liable to duty shall, at the time of affixing the same, cancel such stamp by writing across it his name or initials, or, if he be a partner, the name or initials of his firm, together with the true date of his so writing, so that the stamp may be effectually cancelled and rendered incapable of being used for any other instrument.

CHAPTER V.

ADJUDICATION OF DOUBTS AS TO STAMPS.

Adjudication of doubt as to proper stamp

43 When any instrument chargeable with stamp-duty under this Act, whether previously stamped or not, is brought to the Collector, and the person bringing it desires to have the opinion of that officer as to the duty with which it is so chargeable, and pays a fee of such amount (not exceeding five rupees and not less than eight annas) as the Collector may in each case direct, the Collector shall assess and charge the duty to which, in his judgment, the instrument is liable; and upon payment of such duty or of such a sum as, with the duty already paid thereon, is equal to the duty so assessed and charged, shall certify by endorsement on such instrument that the full duty (stating the amount) with which it is chargeable under this Act has been paid.

The instrument shall thereupon be deemed to be duly stamped and shall be receivable in evidence or otherwise in all Courts and public offices as if originally executed on paper duly stamped:

Provided that nothing contained in the former part of this section shall authorize the Collector to make any such endorsement—

(a) on any instrument executed in British India and brought to him after the expiration of one month from the date of its execution:

(b) on any instrument executed out of British India and brought to him after the expiration of two months after its arrival in British India. or

(c) on any instrument chargeable with the stamp-duty of one anna, when brought to him after the drawing or execution thereof on paper not duly stamped.

Payments under section 43 how made.

44. The whole or any part of any payment under section 43 shall be made in stamps or in cash, as the Governor-General in Council may from time to time direct by rules under section 101.

CHAPTER VI.

REFERENCE AND REVISION.

Reference to High Court.

45. (a.)—The Chief Controlling Revenue Authority may state any case coming before it under this Act, and refer such case with its own opinion thereon, if the case arise in the Presidency of Fort Saint George or the Presidency of Bombay, to the Local High Court: if it arise in the North-Western Provinces or Oudh, to the High Court of Judicature for the North-Western Provinces: if it arise in the Panjáb, to the Chief Court of the Panjáb: if it arise in the Central Provinces, to the High Court of Judicature at Bombay: and if it arise in any other part of British India, to the High Court of Judicature at Fort William.

(b.)—Every such case shall be decided by not less than three Judges of the High Court or Chief Court to which it is referred, and in case of difference the opinion of the majority shall prevail.

(c)—If the High Court or Chief Court is not satisfied that the statements contained in the case are sufficient to enable it to determine the questions raised thereby, the Court may refer the case back to the Revenue Authority by which it was stated, to make such additions thereto or alterations therein as the Court may direct in that behalf.

(d.)—The High Court or Chief Court, upon the hearing of any such case, shall decide the questions raised thereby and shall deliver its judgment thereon containing the grounds on which such decision is founded: and it shall send to the Revenue Authority by which the case was stated, a copy of such judgment under the seal of the Court and the signature of the Registrar, and the Revenue Authority shall, on receiving the same, dispose of the case conformably to such judgment.

Procedure where Collector entertains doubt as to duty chargeable.

46. If any Collector entertains doubt as to the amount of stamp duty chargeable on any instrument, he may draw up a statement of the case, and refer it, with his own opinion thereon, for the decision of the Chief Controlling Revenue Authority, and such authority shall consider the case and send a copy of its decision to the Collector, who shall proceed to assess and charge the duty in conformity with such decision.

Procedure where Court entertains doubt as to duty on instrument

47. If any Court other than a High Court entertains doubt as to the amount of stamp-duty chargeable on any instrument produced before it, the Judge may draw up a statement of the case and refer it with his own opinion thereon for the decision of the High Court to which he is subordinate, and such Court shall consider the case and send a copy of its decision to the Judge making the reference, who shall dispose of the case conformably to such decision.

Revision of certificates and orders.

48. When any subordinate civil Court makes any certificate or order under this Act, or improperly admits in evidence any instrument not duly stamped, the Court to which an appeal lies from the decrees of such subordinate Court, or the High Court may—

(a) call for and revise such certificate or order, or

(b) direct the proper stamp-duty and additional duty to be levied on the instrument so admitted, or

(c) pass such other order in the matter as it thinks fit.

All duty directed to be levied under this section, may be levied as if it were an arrear of land-revenue.

All certificates and orders of the Collector under this Act shall be open to revision by the Revenue Authority to which he is immediately subordinate, or by the Chief Controlling Revenue Authority:

Provided that no order passed on the revision of any certificate or order under this section shall invalidate any registration or other proceeding, previously made or taken, of or upon an instrument endorsed by the Judge or Collector under section 36 or section 43.

CHAPTER VII.

FEES IN THE CHARTERED HIGH COURTS.

49. The following fees shall be collected by adhesive stamps (namely):—

Levy of fees in High Courts on their original sides.

(a) fees payable for the time being to the clerks and officers (other than the sheriffs and attorneys) of the High Courts established by Letters Patent, by virtue of the power conferred by the twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth of Victoria, chapter 104, section 15;

(b) fees chargeable in each of such Courts under No. 14 of the fourth, and Nos. 16, 23, 24, 27 and 28, of the fifth schedule.

50. No document of any of the kinds specified in the four h or fifth schedule as chargeable with fees, shall be filed, exhibited or recorded in, or shall be received or furnished by, any of the said High Courts in any case coming before such Court in the exercise of its extraordinary original civil jurisdiction;

Fees on documents filed, &c., in High Courts in their extraordinary jurisdiction.

or in the exercise of its extraordinary original criminal jurisdiction; or in the exercise of its jurisdiction as regards appeals from the judgment of two or more Judges of the said Court, or of a Division Court;

In their appellate jurisdiction.

or in the exercise of its jurisdiction as regards appeals from the Courts subject to its superintendence;

As Courts of reference and revision.

or in the exercise of its jurisdiction as a Court of reference or revision; unless in respect of such document there be paid a fee of an amount not less than that indicated by either of the same schedules as the proper fee for such document.

51. When any difference arises between the officer whose duty it is to see that any fee is paid under this chapter and any suitor or attorney, as to the necessity of paying a fee or the amount thereof, the question shall, when the difference arises in any of the said High Courts, be referred to the Taxing officer, whose decision thereon shall be final, except when the question is, in his opinion, one of general importance, in which case he shall refer it to the final decision of the Chief Justice of such High Court, or of such Judge of the High Court as the Chief Justice appoints either generally or specially in this behalf.

Procedure in case of difference as to necessity or amount of fee.

The Chief Justice shall declare who shall be Taxing officer within the meaning of this section.

52. Nothing in this chapter applies to the commission payable to the Accountant-General of the High Court at Fort William, or to the fees which any officer of a High Court is allowed to receive in addition to a fixed salary.

Saving of fees to certain officers of High Court

CHAPTER VIII.

FEES IN OTHER COURTS AND IN PUBLIC OFFICES.

53. Except in the Courts mentioned in Chapter VII, and subject to the exemptions contained in schedule six, no document of any of the kinds specified as chargeable in the said fourth or fifth schedule shall be filed, exhibited, or recorded in any Court of Justice, or shall be received by any public officer, or granted under his seal or signature unless in respect of such document there be paid a fee of an amount not less than that indicated by either of such schedules as the proper fee for such document.

Fees on documents filed, &c., in Mufassal Courts or in public offices.

54. If any such document is through mistake or inadvertence received, filed, or used in any Court or office without being properly stamped, the presiding Judge or the head of the office, as the case may be, or, in the case of a High Court, any Judge of such Court, may, if he thinks fit, order that such document be stamped as he may direct; and on such document being stamped accordingly, the same and every proceeding relative thereto shall be as valid as if it had been properly stamped in the first instance.

Power to stamp document inadvertently received.

55. Where any such document is amended in order merely to correct a mistake and to make it conform to the original intention of the parties, and the duty with which it is chargeable is not thereby increased, it shall not be necessary to impose a fresh stamp.

Amended document.

56. The amount of fee payable under this Act in the suits next hereinafter mentioned shall be computed as follows:—

Computation of fees payable in certain suits

i. In suits for money (including suits for damages or compensation, or arrears of maintenance, of annuities or of other sums payable periodically) —according to the amount claimed:

for money:

ii. In suits for maintenance and annuities or other sums payable periodically—according to the value of the subject-matter of the suit, and such value shall be deemed to be ten times the amount claimed to be payable for one year:

for maintenance and annuities:

iii. In suits for moveable property other than money, where the subject-matter has a market value —according to such value at the date of presenting the plaint:

for other moveable property having a market-value.

iv. In suits—

(a) for moveable property where the subject-matter has no market value, as, for instance, in the case of documents relating to title:

for moveable property of no market-value.

(b) to enforce the right to share in any property on the ground that it is joint family property:

to enforce a right to share in joint family property.

(c) to obtain a declaratory decree:

for a declaratory decree.

(d) to obtain an injunction:

for an injunction.

(e) for a right to some benefit (not herein otherwise provided for) to arise out of land: and for easements.

(f) for accounts—

for accounts.

according to the amount at which the relief sought is valued in the plaint or memorandum of appeal.

In all such suits the plaintiff shall state the amount at which he values the relief sought:

v. In suits for the possession of land, houses, and gardens—according to the value of the subject-matter; and such value shall be deemed to be—for possession of land, houses, and gardens.

where the subject-matter is land, and—

(a) where the land forms an entire estate, or a definite share of an estate, paying annual revenue to Government, or forms part of such an estate and is recorded in the Collector's register as separately assessed with such revenue:

and such revenue is permanently settled—ten times the revenue so payable:

(b) where the land forms an entire estate, or a definite share of an estate, paying annual revenue to Government, or forms part of such estate and is recorded as aforesaid; and such revenue is settled, but not permanently—five times the revenue so payable:

(c) where the land pays no such revenue, or has been partially exempted from such payment, or is charged with any fixed payment in lieu of such revenue, and nett profits have arisen from the land during the year next before the date of presenting the plaint—fifteen times such nett profits:

but where no such nett profits have arisen therefrom—the amount at which the Court shall estimate the land with reference to the value of similar land in the neighbourhood:

(d) where the land forms part of an estate paying revenue to Government, but is not a definite share of such estate and is not separately assessed as abovementioned—the market value of the land:

Provided that, in the territories subject to the Governor of Bombay in Council, the value of the land shall be deemed to be—

Proviso as to Bombay Presidency.

(1) where the land is held on settlement for a period not exceeding thirty years and pays the full assessment to Government—a sum equal to five times the survey assessment;

(2) where the land is held on a permanent settlement, or on a settlement for any period exceeding thirty years, and pays the full assessment to Government—a sum equal to ten times the survey assessment; and

(3) where the whole or any part of the annual survey assessment is remitted—a sum computed under paragraph (1) or paragraph (2) of this proviso, as the case may be, in addition to ten times the assessment, or the portion of assessment so remitted.

Explanation.—The word "estate," as used in this paragraph, means any land subject to the payment of revenue, for which the proprietor or a farmer or ryot shall have executed a separate engagement to Government, or which, in the absence of such engagement, shall have been separately assessed with revenue.

(e) Where the subject-matter is a house or garden—according to the market value of the house or garden:

for houses and gardens.

vi. In suits to enforce a right of pre-emption—according to the value (computed in accordance with paragraph v of this section) of the land, house, or garden in respect of which the right is claimed:

to enforce a right of pre-emption.

vii. In suits for the interest of an assignee of land revenue—fifteen times his nett profits as such for the year next before the date of presenting the plaint; for interest of assignee of land revenue.

viii. In suits to set aside an attachment of land or of an interest in land or revenue—according to the amount for which the land or interest was attached.

to set aside an attachment.

Provided that, where such amount exceeds the value of the land or interest, the amount of fee shall be computed as if the suit were for the possession of such land or interest:

ix. In suits against a mortgagee or incumbrancer for the recovery of the property mortgaged, or to have the instrument of charge cancelled, to redeem.

and in suits by a mortgagee to foreclose the mortgage, to foreclose.

or where the mortgage is made by conditional sale, to have the sale declared absolute—according to the principal money for the time being secured by the instrument of mortgage or charge

x. In suits for specific performance—for specific performance.

(a) of a contract of sale—according to the amount of the consideration:

(b) of a contract of mortage—according to the amount agreed to be secured:

(c) of a contract of lease—according to the aggregate amount of the fine or premium (if any), and of the rent agreed to be paid during the first year of the term:

(d) of an award—according to the amount or value of the property in dispute:

xi. In the following suits between landlord and tenant, (namely)— between landlord and tenant.

(a) for the delivery by a tenant of the counterpart of a lease,

(b) for the delivery by a landlord of a lease,

(c) to contest a notice of ejectment,

(d) to recover the occupancy of land from which a tenant has been illegally ejected by the landlord, and

(e) to establish a right of occupancy—

according to the amount of the rent of the land to which the suit refers, payable for the year next before the date of presenting the plaint,

(f) to enhance the rent of a tenant having a right of occupancy, and five times the amount by which the rent is sought to be enhanced or abated.

(g) to abate the rent of any tenant,—

The plaint or memorandum of appeal in every suit or appeal mentioned in this section shall state the amount or value with reference to which the fee payable in respect of such plaint or memorandum is to be computed.

57. Notwithstanding anything herein contained, throughout the territories subject to the Governor of Fort St George in Council, the fees payable in suits by Government ryots for the recovery of land sold for arrears of revenue shall not exceed the amount which would be payable if the value of the subject-matter were only the rent of the land payable for the year next before the date of presenting the plaint.

Fees in certain suits by Government ryots in Madras.

58. The amount of fee payable under this Act on a memorandum of appeal against an order relating to compensation under any Act for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes shall be computed according to the difference between the amount awarded and the amount claimed by the appellant.

Fee on memorandum of appeal against order relating to compensation.

59. If the Court sees reason to think that the annual nett profits or the market value of any such land, house, or garden as is mentioned in section 56, clauses v and vi, have or has been wrongly estimated, the Court may, for the purpose of computing the fee payable in any suit therein mentioned, issue a commission to any proper person directing him to make such local or other investigation as may be necessary, and to report thereon to the Court.

Power to ascertain nett profits or market value.

Procedure where nett profits or market value wrongly estimated

60 If in the result of any such investigation the Court finds that the nett profits or market value have or has been wrongly estimated, the Court, if the estimation has been excessive, may in its discretion refund the excess paid as such fee: but if the estimation has been insufficient, the Court shall require the plaintiff to pay so much additional fee as would have been payable had the said market-value or nett profits been rightly estimated:

In such case the suit shall be stayed until the additional fee is paid. If the additional fee is not paid within such time as the Court shall fix, the suit shall be dismissed.

Procedure in suits for mesne profits or account when amount decreed exceeds amount claimed

61. In suits for mesne profits or for immoveable property and mesne profits, or for an account if the profits or amount decreed are or is in excess of the profits claimed or the amount at which the plaintiff valued the relief sought, the decree shall not be executed until the difference between the fee actually paid and the fee which would have been payable had the suit comprised the whole of the profits or amount so decreed shall have been paid to the proper officer.

When the amount of mesne profits is left to be ascertained in the course of the execution of the decree, if the profits so ascertained exceed the profits claimed, the further execution of the decree shall be stayed until the difference between the fee actually paid and the fee which would have been payable had the suit comprised the whole of the profits so ascertained is paid. If the additional fee is not paid within such time as the Court shall fix, the suit shall be dismissed.

Decision of questions as to valuation.

62. Every question relating to valuation for the purpose of determining the amount of any fee chargeable under this chapter on a plaint or memorandum of appeal, shall (subject to the provisions of section 54, clause (b) and section 588, clause (c) of the Code of Civil Procedure) be decided by the Court in which such plaint or memorandum, as the case may be, is filed.

Where any suit or appeal in which any such question has arisen comes before a Court of appeal, reference or revision, and such Court considers that the said question has been wrongly decided, to the detriment of the revenue, it shall require the party by whom such fee has been paid to pay so much additional fee as would have been payable had the question been rightly decided, and the provisions of the second paragraph of section 60 shall apply.

Additional fee where respondent takes objection to unappealed part of decree.

63. When any appeal is presented to a civil Court, not against the whole of a decision, but only against so much thereof as relates to a portion of the subject-matter of the suit, the memorandum of appeal shall be chargeable with the fee which would have been payable if the subject-matter had been such portion only; and, if on the hearing of such appeal, the respondent takes, under section 561 of the Code of Civil Procedure, an objection to any part of the said decision other than the part appealed against, the Court shall not hear such objection until the respondent shall have paid the additional fee which would have been payable had the appeal comprised the part of the decision so objected to.

Suit comprising more than one subject.

64. Where a suit embraces two or more distinct subjects, the plaint or memorandum of appeal shall be chargeable with the aggregate amount of the fees to which the plaints or memoranda of appeal in suits embracing separately each of such subjects would be liable under this Act.

Nothing in the former part of this section shall be deemed to affect the power conferred by the Code of Civil Procedure, section 45.

Cancellation of stamp

65. No document mentioned in Schedule IV or Schedule V and requiring an adhesive stamp under the rules for the time being in force under this Act shall be filed or acted upon in any proceeding in any Court or office until the stamp has been cancelled in manner prescribed by such rules.

Written examinations of complainants.

66. When the first or only examination of a person who complains of the offence of wrongful confinement, or of wrongful restraint, or of any offence other than an offence for which police-officers may arrest without a warrant, and who has not already presented a petition on which a fee has been levied under this Act, is reduced to writing under the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, the complainant shall pay a fee of eight annas, unless the Court thinks fit to remit such payment.

Repayment of fees paid on applications to Criminal Courts

67. Whenever an application or petition containing a complaint or charge of an offence, other than an offence for which police-officers may arrest without warrant, is presented to a criminal Court, the Court, if it convict the accused person, shall, in addition to the penalty imposed upon him, order him to repay to the complainant the fee paid on such application or petition

In the case mentioned in section 66, the Court, if it convict the accused person, shall, in addition to the penalty imposed upon him, order him to repay to the complainant the fee, if any, paid by the latter for the examination.

When the complainant has paid fees for serving processes in either of the cases mentioned in the first and second paragraphs of this section, the Court, if it convict the accused person, shall, in addition to the penalty imposed upon him, order him to repay such fees to the complainant.

All fees ordered to be repaid under this section may be recovered as if they were fines imposed by the Court.

CHAPTER IX.

PROBATES, LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION AND CERTIFICATES OF ADMINISTRATION.

Relief where too high a court-fee has been paid on probate or letters of administration.

68. Where any person on applying for the probate of a will or letters of administration has estimated the property of the deceased to be of greater value than the same has afterwards proved to be, and has consequently paid too high a court-fee thereon, if within six months after the true value of the property has been ascertained, such person produces the probate or letters to the Court by which the probate or letters has or have been granted, and delivers to such Court a particular inventory and valuation of the property of the deceased, verified by affidavit or affirmation, and if such Court is satisfied that a greater fee was paid on the probate or letters than the law required, the said Court may at its discretion—

(a) cancel the stamp on the probate or letters, if such stamp has not been already cancelled:

(b) order that another stamp be substituted for denoting the court-fee which should have been paid thereon; and

(c) order that an allowance for the difference between them, or a refund of the amount in money, be made as in the case of spoiled stamps.

Relief where debts due from a deceased person have been paid out of his estate.

69. Whenever it is proved to the satisfaction of such Court that an executor or administrator has paid debts due from the deceased to such an amount as, being deducted out of the amount or value of the estate, reduces the same to a sum which, if it had been the whole gross amount or value of the estate, would have occasioned a less court-fee to be paid on the probate or letters of administration granted in respect of such estate than has been actually paid thereon under this Act, the Court may order the amount of the difference to be refunded, provided the same be claimed within three years after the date of such probate or letters.

But when, by reason of any legal proceeding, the debts due from the deceased have not been ascertained and paid, or his effects have not been recovered and made available, and in consequence thereof the executor or administrator is prevented from claiming the return of such difference within the said term of three years, the Court may allow such further time for making the claim as may appear to be reasonable under the circumstances.

Relief in case of several grants.

70. Whenever a grant of probate or letters of administration has been or is made in respect of the whole of the property belonging to an estate, and the full fee chargeable under this Act has been or is paid thereon, no fee shall be chargeable under the same Act when a like grant is made in respect of the whole or any part of the same property belonging to the same estate.

Whenever such a grant has been or is made in respect of any property forming part of an estate, the amount of fees then actually paid under this Act shall be deducted when a like grant is made in respect of property belonging to the same estate, identical with or including the property to which the former grant relates.

Probates declared valid as to trust-property though not covered by court-fee.

71. The probate of the will, or the letters of administration of the effects, of any person deceased, heretofore or hereafter granted, shall be deemed valid and available by his executors or administrators for recovering, transferring or assigning any moveable or immoveable property whereof or whereto the deceased was possessed or entitled, either wholly or partially as a trustee, notwithstanding the amount or value of such property is not included in the amount or value of the estate in respect of which a court-fee was paid on such probate or letters of administration.

Provision for case where too low a court-fee has been paid on probates, &c.

72. When any person on applying for probate or letters of administration has estimated the estate of the deceased to be of less value than the same has afterwards proved to be, and has in consequence paid too low a court-fee thereon, the Court by which the probate or letters has or have been granted, may, on the value of the estate of the deceased being verified by affidavit or affirmation, cause the probate or letters of administration to be duly stamped on payment of the full court-fee which ought to have been originally paid thereon in respect of such value, and of the further penalty, if the probate or letters is or are produced within one year from the date of the grant, of five times, or if it or they is or are produced after one year from such date, of twenty times, such proper court-fee, without any deduction of the court-fee originally paid on such probate or letters:

Provided that, if the application be made within six months after the ascertainment of the true value of the estate and the discovery that too low a court-fee was at first paid on the probate or letters, and if the Court is satisfied that such fee was paid in consequence of a mistake, or of its not being known at the time that some particular part of the estate belonged to the deceased, and without any intention of fraud or to delay the payment of the proper court-fee, the Court may remit the said penalty, and cause the probate or letters to be duly stamped on payment only of the sum wanting to make up the fee which should have been at first paid thereon.

Administrator to give proper security before letters stamped under section 70.

73. In case of letters of administration on which too low a court-fee has been paid at first, the said authority shall not cause the same to be duly stamped in manner aforesaid until the administrator has given such security to the Court by which the letters of administration have been granted as ought by law to have been given on the granting thereof in case the full value of the estate of the deceased had then been ascertained.

Executors, &c., not paying full court-fee on probates, &c., within six months after discovery of underpayment.

74. Where too low a court-fee has been paid on any probate or letters of administration in consequence of any mistake or of its not being known at the time that some particular part of the estate belonged to the deceased, if any executor or administrator acting under such probate or letters does not, within six months after the discovery of the mistake or of any effects not known at the time to have belonged to the deceased, apply to the said authority and pay what is wanting to make up the court-fee which ought to have been paid at first on such probate or letters, he shall forfeit the sum of one thousand rupees and also a further sum at the rate of ten rupees per cent. on the amount of the sum wanting to make up the proper court-fee.

Collector to deliver or pay stamp or amount directed by Court.

75. When any Court orders under this chapter any stamp to be substituted or amount to be refunded, such stamp or amount shall be delivered or paid by any Collector to the person producing the Court's order or certificate authorizing such delivery or payment.

This chapter applied to certificates under Act XL of 1858, XXVII of 1860 and XX of 1864.

76. The provisions of this chapter shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to certificates granted under Act No. XL of 1858 (for making better provision for the care of the persons and property of Minors in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal), or Act No. XXVII of 1860 (for facilitating the collection of debts on successions, and for the security of parties paying debts to the representatives of deceased persons), or Act No. XX of 1864 (for making better provision for the care of the persons and property of Minors in the Presidency of Bombay), or Bombay Regulation VIII of 1827 (to provide for the formal recognition of Heirs, Executors, and Administrators, and for the appointment of Administrators and Managers of property by the Courts), and to the holders of such certificates.

CHAPTER X.

REFUNDS.

Allowance for spoiled stamps.

77. Subject to such rules as may from time to time be made by the Governor-General in Council as to the evidence by affidavit or otherwise, which the Collector may require, allowance shall be made by the Collector for stamps spoiled in the cases hereinafter mentioned (that is to say):—

(1.) The stamp on any paper inadvertently and undesignedly spoiled, obliterated, or by any means rendered unfit for the purpose intended, before any instrument written thereon is executed by any party, and for which stamp no money or other consideration has been paid or given to the attorney, pleader, or other person employed to transact the business intended to have been carried into execution thereby, or to the person by whom the same was written:

(2.) Any adhesive stamp which has never been used or affixed to any paper, but which has been inadvertently and undesignedly spoiled or rendered unfit for use:

(3.) The stamp used or intended to be used for any bill of exchange or promissory note, signed by or on behalf of the drawer or intended drawer, but not delivered out of the hands to the payee or intended payee, or any person on his behalf, or deposited with any person as a security for the payment of money, or in any way negociated, issued, or put in circulation, or made use of in any other manner whatever, and which being a bill of exchange has not been accepted by the drawee, and provided that the paper on which any such stamp is impressed does not bear any signature intended as or for the acceptance of any bill of exchange to be afterwards written thereon:

(4.) The stamp use or intended to be used for any bill of exchange or promissory note signed by or on behalf of the drawer thereof, but which from any omission or error has been spoiled or rendered useless, although the same, being a bill of exchange, may have been presented for acceptance or accepted or endorsed, or being a promissory note, may have been delivered to the payee, provided that another completed and duly stamped bill of exchange or promissory note is produced identical in every particular, except in the correction of such error or omission as aforesaid, with the spoiled bill or note:

(5.) The stamp used for any of the following instruments, that is to say:—

(a) an instrument executed by any party thereto, but afterwards found to be absolutely void in law from the beginning:

(b) an instrument executed by any party thereto, but afterwards found unfit by reason of any error or mistake therein for the purpose originally intended:

(c) an instrument executed by any party thereto, but which by reason of the death of any person by whom it is necessary that it should be executed, without having executed the same, or of the refusal of any such person to execute the same, or to advance any money intended to be thereby secured, cannot be completed so as to effect the intended transaction in the form proposed:

(d) an instrument executed by any party thereto, which for want of the execution thereof by some material and necessary party, and his inability or refusal to sign the same, is in fact incomplete and insufficient for the purpose for which it was intended.

(e) an instrument executed by any party thereto, which by reason of the refusal of any person to act under the same, or by the refusal or non-acceptance of any office thereby granted totally fails of the intended purpose:

(f) an instrument executed by any party thereto, which for want of registration within the time required by law becomes null and void:

(g) an instrument executed by any party thereto, which becomes useless in consequence of the transaction intended to be thereby effected being effected by some other instrument duly stamped:

(h) an instrument executed by any party thereto, which is inadvertently and undesignedly spoiled, and in lieu whereof another instrument made between the same parties and for the same purpose is executed and duly stamped:

Provided as follows:—

(1.) that in the case of an executed instrument

(a) that instrument is given up to be cancelled:

(b) the application for relief is made within six months after the date of the instrument, or, if it is not dated, within six months after the execution thereof by the person by whom it was first or alone executed, except where from unavoidable circumstances any instrument for which another instrument has been substituted cannot be given up to be cancelled within the aforesaid period, and in that case within six months after the date or execution of the substituted instrument, and except where the spoiled instrument has been sent abroad, and in that case within six months after it has been received back in any part of British India:

(c) no suit has been instituted in which the instrument could or would have been given or offered in evidence.

(2.) That in the case of stamped paper not having any executed instrument written thereon, and of an adhesive stamp not affixed to any material, the application for relief is made within six months after the stamp has been spoiled as aforesaid.

78. When any person has inadvertently used for an instrument liable to duty a stamp of greater value than was necessary, or has inadvertently used any stamp for an instrument not liable to any duty, the Collector may, on application made within six months after the date of the instrument, or, if it is not dated, within six months after the execution thereof by the person by whom it was first or alone executed, and upon the instrument, if liable to any duty, being re-stamped with the proper duty, cancel and allow as spoiled the stamp so misused.

Allowance for misused stamps.

79. In any case in which allowance is made for spoiled or misused stamps the Collector may give in lieu thereof other stamps of the same denomination and value, or, if required, and he thinks proper, stamps of any other denomination to the same amount in value, or, at his discretion, the same value in money, deducting the proper allowance on the purchase from Government of stamps of the like description.

Allowance how to be made.

80. When any person is possessed of a stamp which has not been spoiled or rendered unfit or useless for the purpose intended, but for which he has no immediate use, the Collector may, if he in his discretion think fit, repay to the applicant the amount or value of such stamp in money, deducting the proper discount, upon his delivering up the stamp to be cancelled, and proving to the Collector's satisfaction that it was purchased by the applicant with a bonâ fide intention to use it, and that he has paid the full value thereof without any deduction (except only the amount of such discount), and that the stamp was so purchased within the period of six months next preceding the application.

Repurchase of stamps not wanted.

81. If a plaint or appeal which has been rejected by the lower Court on any of the grounds mentioned in the Code of Civil Procedure is ordered to be received, or if a suit is remanded in appeal, on any of the grounds mentioned in section 562 of the same Code for a second decision by the lower Court, the appellate Court may grant to the appellant a certificate, authorizing him to recieve back from the Collector the full amount of fee paid on the memorandum of appeal:

Refund of fee paid on memorandum of appeal.

Provided that, if, in the case of a remand in appeal, the order of remand does not cover the whole of the subject-matter of the suit, the certificate so granted shall not authorize the appellant to receive back more than so much fee as would have been originally payable on the part or parts of such subject-matter in respect whereof the suit has been remanded.

82. When an application for a review of judgment is presented on or after the ninetieth day from the date of the decree, the Court, unless the delay was caused by the applicant's laches, may, in its discretion, grant him a certificate authorizing him to receive back from the Collector so much of the fee paid on the application as exceeds the fee which would have been payable had it been presented before such day.

Refund of fee on application for review of judgment.

83. When an application for a review of judgment is admitted, and on the re-hearing, the Court reverses or modifies its former decision on the ground of mistake in law or fact, the applicant shall be entitled to a certificate from the Court authorizing him to receive back from the Collector the fee paid on the application.

But nothing in the former part of this section shall entitle the applicant to such certificate where the reversal or modification is due wholly or in part to fresh evidence which might have been produced at the original hearing.

Refund where Court reverses or modifies its former decision on ground of mistake.

84. When a plaint disclosing a reasonable case on the merits is presented to any Civil Court in such a form that the Judge rejects it, not for any substantial defect, but on account of a purely technical error in form only, and so as to leave the plaintiff free to prosecute the same case in another form against the same defendant, the value of the stamp on the plaint shall be refunded to the plaintiff on his presenting an application to the Collector of the district in which the Court is situate, together with a certificate from the Judge who rejected the plaint, that it was rejected under the circumstances above described, and that in his opinion the value of the stamp should be refunded.

Refund where plaint rejected for merely technical defect.

85. The Chief Controlling Revenue Authority may upon application remit wholly or in part any additional duty levied under section 31.

Remission of additional duty levied under section 31.

CHAPTER XI.

CRIMINAL PENALTIES.

86. Any person making, signing, or issuing, or, except as provided in section 18, accepting, endorsing, paying, or receiving payment of any bill of exchange, promissory note, cheque, or other similar instrument liable to any of the duties hereby imposed, without the same being duly stamped,

Penalty for executing instrument on paper not duly stamped.

and any person making, executing, or signing otherwise than as a witness any other instrument liable to any of such duties without the same being duly stamped, shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

87. Any person presenting for acceptance or for payment, or accepting, paying, endorsing, transferring, or in any manner negociating any bill of exchange or promissory note drawn or made out of British India whereon there is not such stamp as is required by this Act, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty for presenting, &c., unstamped foreign bills or notes.

88. Any person required by section 40 to give a receipt and refusing or neglecting to give the same shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

Refusal to give receipt.

89. Any person required to cancel an adhesive stamp in manner directed by section 42, and refusing or neglecting so to do, shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty for failure to cancel such stamps.

90. When a bill of exchange or policy of insurance purports to be drawn or executed in a set of two or more, any person using the second or third of a set, the first of which has not been duly stamped, shall, for every such offence, be liable to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees.

Penalty for not drawing full number of bills or marine policies purporting to be in sets.

Penalty for not stating consideration.

91. If the full consideration-money or value is not set forth in any instrument as required by section 29, the grantor and grantee shall each be a liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, and shall also pay a fine of five times the amount of the excess of duty with which such instrument would have been chargeable under this Act, if the full consideration-money or value have been duly set forth in such instrument, in addition to the duty actually paid for the same.

Penalty on attorneys, &c., not inserting true consideration.

92. Any attorney, vakíl, pleader, mukhtár or other person employed in or about the preparing of any instrument in or upon which the full consideration-money or value is hereby required to be truly set forth, or employed for any of the parties thereto in anywise about or relating to the transaction therein mentioned, who knowingly inserts or sets forth, or causes to be inserted or set forth, in or upon any such instrument any other than the full consideration-money or value, shall, for every such offence, pay a fine not less than five hundred rupees and not exceeding five thousand rupees.

Every attorney, vakíl, pleader and mukhtár convicted under this section shall, from the date of such conviction, be disabled to practise as an attorney, vakíl, pleader or mukhtár:

Provided that no person shall be liable to any penalty or disability under this section, unless the duty actually paid for the instrument is less than would have been payable for the same in case the consideration-money or value had been truly set forth as aforesaid.

Fraudulent removal, sale, &c., of adhesive stamps.

93. Whoever commits any of the following offences (namely):—

(a) fraudulently removes or causes to be removed from any instrument any adhesive stamp or affixes any adhesive stamp which has been so removed to any other instrument with intent that such stamp may be used again;

(b) sells or offers for sale or utters any adhesive stamp which has been so removed, or utters any instrument having thereon any adhesive stamp which has to his knowledge been so removed as aforesaid;

(c) practises or is concerned in any fraudulent act, contrivance or device not specially provided for, with intent to defraud the Government of any stamp-duty or court-fee, shall forfeit, over and above any other penalty to which he may be liable, the sum of five hundred rupees, and in default of payment shall be imprisoned for a term which may extend to six months.

Penalty for stamp-vendor disobeying rules.

94. Any person appointed to sell stamps, who knowingly disobeys any rule made under section 101, and any person not so appointed who sells or offers for sale any stamp, shall be punished with simple imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or with both.

Reward to informers.

95. Whenever an offender is sentenced to pay a fine under this Act, the convicting Magistrate may award any portion not exceeding one-half to the person on whose information the offender has been convicted.

Institution and conduct of prosecutions.

96. All prosecutions in respect of any offence punishable by this Act, shall be conducted by the Collector or such other officer as the Local Government generally or the Collector specially authorizes in that behalf.

Magistrates having jurisdiction.

97. Offences punishable under this Act may be tried, within the limits of the towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, by a Magistrate of Police, and, beyond those limits, by a Magistrate of the first class or a Magistrate of the second class:

Provided that, in imposing penalties under this Act, no such person shall exceed the limits of jurisdiction prescribed for him by the Code of Criminal Procedure.

CHAPTER XII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Employment of single impressed stamp.

98. When an impressed stamp is used to defray the amount of duty with which any instrument is chargeable, such amount shall be defrayed by a single stamp, except when such amount exceeds one thousand rupees, in which case it may be defrayed by two or more impressed stamps of which the aggregate amount is the amount so required:

Provided that, when a single impressed stamp of any amount less than one thousand rupees is not procurable on application to the Collector or stamp-vendor appointed under the rules hereinafter mentioned, it shall be lawful, on such officer making a certificate to that effect, for the person requiring such stamp to defray the amount by two or more impressed stamps, of which the aggregate amount is the amount so required.

Employment of several stamped papers.

99. When more stamped papers than one are used under section 98 for an instrument chargeable with stamp-duty under this Act, each paper so used shall contain a part of the instrument.

Power to reduce or remit rates of stamp-duty.

100. The Governor-General in Council may from time to time, by order published in the Gazette of India, reduce or remit, in the whole or any part of British India, the duties or fees chargeable under this Act on all or any of the instruments mentioned in the schedules, or on any particular class of such instruments, or on any of the instruments belonging to such class, or on any of the instruments mentioned in the schedules when executed or granted by or to any particular class of persons, or by or to any members of such class, and may in like manner cancel or vary such order to the extent of the powers hereby given.

Every such cancelment or variation shall be published in the Gazette of India.

101. The Governor-General in Council may from time to time frame rules consistent with this Act for regulating the following matters:—

Power to make subsidiary rules.

(a) the description of stamp for denoting the duty or fee chargeable on every instrument under the stamp law:

(b) the supply and sale of stamps, the persons by whom such sale is to be conducted, and the duties and remuneration of such persons:

(c) the size and shape of the stamped paper to be used for bills of exchange:

(d) the classes of officers to be empowered to perform the functions of a Collector under chapter X, and the evidence which the Collector and such officers may require:

(e) the mode of cancelling court-fee stamps and the persons by whom such cancellation is to be effected:

(f) the keeping accounts of all stamps used under chapters VII and VIII:

Such rules shall be published in the Gazette of India, and shall thereupon have the force of law.

Approval and publication of rules.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The provisions of the law relating to stamp-duties and Court-fees are now contained in six different Acts and numerous orders of the Governor-General in Council notified from time to time in the Government Gazette during the last seven years. It is desirable for the convenience of the public to bring these provisions within the compass of a single enactment, and it is proposed to take this opportunity to introduce measures for the improved working of the law, which experience has shown to be much needed, and at the same time to provide for the acquisition of a moderate increase of revenue from stamp-duties.

2. Such increase is to be obtained partly by the amendment of those provisions of the law which are specially designed to protect the revenue from loss through evasion of the payment of the proper stamp-duty, and partly by the enhancement of the present rates of duty in certain cases.

3. There is reason to believe that the obligation of stamping documents at the time of their execution is at present largely evaded. Prosecutions for such evasion are rarely resorted to, and the criminal penalties provided by the existing law may be said to be almost inoperative, so that frauds upon the revenue are systematically practised in the belief that the worst result to be apprehended from their detection is the levy of a fine of a certain fixed amount, in addition to the unpaid duty. The most important object to be kept in view consequently in the framing of a new Stamp Bill is to stop, as far as may be practicable, every hole of escape from the liability which the law imposes upon the executant of instruments subject to stamp-duty.

4. The new preventive provisions are contained in sections 30, 31, 33, 35, and 37, and their main object is to secure the proper scrutiny of instruments liable to stamp-duty when produced by their possessors, and the effective working of the criminal penalty-clauses as a deterrent to wilful evasions.

5. It has been shown that, in the present state of the law, the obligation to see that all documents produced in Courts and public offices are properly stamped is generally ignored unless and until the parties producing them desire to put the documents in evidence. It is not an uncommon thing for persons to produce documents improperly stamped, and on being told that they will have to pay a specified amount by way of penalty, to withdraw the documents and forego putting them in evidence; and in such cases they are allowed to escape punishment for the offence which they have committed in not stamping or sufficiently stamping their instruments, and which is not the less an offence against the law and punishable as such, whether they wish to use the instrument or not.

6. Further, where the presiding judge or officer does take cognizance of the omission to use a proper stamp, some difficulty is found in securing the due punishment of the offender owing to the obscure and somewhat conflicting provisions of the existing law as to the constitution of an "offence." Whilst, on the one hand, the criminal penalty is declared to be incurred upon the mere fact of under-stamping, on the other the provisions relating to the procedure to be followed on the production of unstamped documents deal prominently with the question of intention on the part of the producer, and the Courts generally ignore the presumption of fraudulent intention in the absence of proof of the existence of such intention. As such proof is not forthcoming, the producer of the instrument almost invariably escapes, mulcted only in the civil penalty which the Court is empowered to levy at its own discretion and without reference to other authority.

7. To meet this state of things it is provided in section 30 of the Bill that every Court and head of an office shall take notice of and examine all instruments produced before them, that they shall determine whether the instrument is properly stamped, and, if not, shall impound it. Section 31 provides for dealing with an impounded instrument which is required to be put in evidence, so that there may be no obstruction to the administration of justice; whilst section 33, amongst other things, provides that this detention of the document and levy of a validating fine in the form of additional duty shall in no case protect the person responsible for the under-stamping from the criminal penalties to which his offence renders him liable. Section 35 prescribes the course to be followed by the Collector when under-stamped documents or copies thereof come into his hands, and section 36 determines the effect of the realization of the deficient duty as regards the validity of the instrument, and provides for the ultimate disposal of the latter—according as a criminal prosecution may or may not be undertaken.

8. Section 37 contains an entirely new provision and one that seems likely to stimulate the production of instruments liable to stamp-duty and not properly stamped.

It frequently happens that the person interested in putting in evidence an insufficiently stamped document was not bound by law to bear the expense of the stamp that should have been used at the time of its execution, yet he has to bear the penalty incurred through the laches of the actual defaulter. As a consequence of this state of the law, the person interested in producing the document is often deterred from so doing by the consideration of the penalty. In such cases it cannot be doubted that production will be greatly facilitated by the provisions of this section which enable the producer to throw the cost of producing the unstamped or improperly stamped document upon another person.

9. Important changes are proposed in regard to some of the instruments chargeable with ad valorem duties specified in the first Schedule, namely, Bills of Exchange payable otherwise than on demand, Bonds, Conveyances, Policies of Insurance and other instruments such as Promissory Notes, Leases and Mortgage-deeds, which are subject to the same duties as Bills of Exchange, Bonds, and Conveyances respectively.

10. Under the present law all Bonds and Conveyances in which the amount secured, or consideration stated, ranges between Rs. 50 and Rs. 10,000, and other instruments similarly chargeable are subject to rates of stamp-duty equivalent to 1 and ½ per cent. respectively, on the maximum amount of each step in the scale of ascents by which the assessment is regulated

So far, with one exception only, to be presently stated, the sliding scale of rates of stamp-duty follow the plan of the English stamp law, but the tax is as much heavier in proportion in this country as the rupee, half rupee, quarter rupee, and one anna respectively exceed in value the shilling, its half and quarter, and one penny. The exception adverted to is that, whereas in the English scale of ascents there is no intermediate step between £100 and £200 or £200 and £300, and so on, in the Indian stamp law the ascents between Rs. 1,000 and Rs. 10,000 are by steps of Rs. 500.

11. When the amount involved in the instrument chargeable with stamp-duty exceeds Rs. 10,000, the percentage of charge is, by the present stamp law in this country, diminished as the amount upon which the duty is assessed increases; whereas under the English law the same proportion of charge is maintained throughout, whatever may be the amount of the subject-matter of the instrument liable to stamp-duty.

12. The rates of stamp-duty also charged on Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes other than those payable on demand are, relatively to the duties chargeable on Bonds and Conveyances under the Indian stamp law, lower than the English rates. For, whilst the stamp law in England imposes on Conveyances, Bonds, and Bills of Exchange the duty of 12*d*., 6*d*., and about 1¼*d*. for every £10, here the rates on those three classes of instruments are 16 annas, 8 annas, and about 1 anna for every Rs. 100 respectively.

13. The principle of the changes now proposed may be said to be the equalisation of the existing rates of percentage of duty upon the amount taxed and their adjustment to the English standard—the rupee and its halves and quarters being taken as the equivalent of the shilling and its halves and quarters respectively, and the anna as equal to the penny.

14. Some increase also in regard to the duty leviable on documents of certain amounts above Rs. 1,000, but below Rs. 10,000, is involved in the proposed conversion of the intermediate steps between those amounts from Rs. 500 to Rs. 1,000 for the purpose of bringing the Indian into precise conformity with the English scale of ascents.

15. The minimum rate of stamp-duty now payable in the case of Bonds is to be omitted. It is thought that all instruments of this class—however low may be the amount involved—can without any hardship bear a four annas tax; whilst so comparatively numerous are the bonds or other instruments of obligation in respect of amounts not exceeding twenty-five rupees, that the additional rate of two annas to which it is proposed to subject them is likely to produce a material increase of revenue.

16. It is proposed to include Policies of Insurance on life in the general class of instruments of insurance liable to stamp-duty, and to double the existing rates of charge on these instruments generally; this change is in fact nothing more than a reversion to the rates chargeable on these documents previously to the passing of the Stamp Act of 1869. Then there was no exception in favour of Life Policies; and intruments of insurance generally were charged at the rate of 8 annas per Rs. 1,000 of the amount insured.

17. Instruments guaranteeing the repayment of loans made upon the deposit of valuable securities are by the present law subjected to a small fixed duty of two rupees only, without reference to the amount of the loan or the extent of the accommodation obtained through the transaction. It seems more equitable and consistent with the general principles which govern the determination of stamp-duties that these instruments should be taxed according to the amount involved in the transaction; hence it is proposed to substitute an ad valorem for a fixed duty, and, having regard to the short period for which the loan is granted, to assess the new duty at one-half of the rate applicable to Bills of Exchange.

18. The Bill provides also for the revival of the rule, in regard to the duty leviable on certain promissory notes, which was in force previous to the passing of the Stamp Act of 1869, under which a promissory note made payable at some time exceeding one year from the date of the note was liable to the same rate of duty as a Bond. As the obligatory instrument ordinarily executed in this country when loans are taken—the "tamasuk"—is more of the nature of a promissory note than a bond, it seems probable that some unnecessary sacrifice of revenue has resulted from the relinquishment of the former mode of assessment to which it is now proposed to revert in these cases.

19. The limit of amount within which cheques and other orders for the payment of money and receipts are exempted from any stamp-duty is to be reduced from twenty to ten rupees. The payment of one anna stamp-duty can hardly be considered an oppressive tax in such cases, whilst so comparatively numerous are the transactions of this kind involving small amounts, that the abolition of the exemption in respect of sums ranging between twenty and ten rupees is likely to secure a considerable increase of revenue. Further, the Bill aims at the enforcement of the delivery of a receipt for the payment of any amount in excess of ten rupees in satisfaction of a debt. Under the present law, a person receiving money in payment of a debt above a certain amount is obliged to grant a receipt to the payer if the latter demands it. This enactment has been found by experience to attain its object but very imperfectly, as the payers are generally too indifferent about the matter to exercise their legal right, and consequently the payee, it is believed, in a large number, if not the majority, of cases, escapes his obligation. As the obligation was imposed solely in the interest of the revenue, the principle on which it rests is not overstrained by the provision of the Bill, which, upholding the obligation of the payee, dispenses with the antecedent condition for its enforcement.

20. The duty chargeable on instruments evidencing an appraisement or an award is raised by the Bill to about five times its present amount. Before 1869 these documents were not subject to any stamp-duty: the tax then imposed was purely experimental. The increase now proposed still leaves instruments of this description more lightly taxed than they are in England.

21. The Bill substitutes an ad valorem rate of duty for the fixed amount now chargeable on Partition-deeds. That amount is Rs. 16, and in some cases proves such a heavy tax that the matter has been made the subject of a reference to Government; an equal charge on all partitions, without reference to the value of the property divided, must work unsatisfactorily. An ad valorem duty is a more equitable form of charge, and the rate has been assimilated to that of bonds, which is one-half of the rate to which ordinary deeds of conveyance are subject.

22. An ad valorem charge is also proposed in lieu of a fixed duty for instruments of gift and exchange. All fixed duties are more or less objectionable, as they must either be pitched so low as to bring in no appreciable amount of revenue, or they must press with undue severity in cases in which the property concerned is of inconsiderable value. The difficulty of imposing ad valorem duties in these cases arises out of the want of a safe basis for their assessment, there being no consideration expressed in the instruments to be charged. It is proposed to surmount this difficulty by imposing on the parties the obligation of stating truly—under heavy penalties for fraudulent statements—the approximate value of the subject of the deed of gift or exchange.

23. The stamp-duties heretofore chargeable on pleaders' and mukhtars' certificates under the Pleader's Act are included in the Bill as part of the scheme of consolidation. It seems only just and consistent that advocates and attorneys should be similarly taxed in respect of the practice of their profession in the Courts of this country, and it is proposed to subject them to the payment of five hundred rupees and two hundred and fifty rupees stamp-duty respectively, on their enrolment as advocates and attorneys of a High Court. The members of the faculty practising in the Courts of England, Ireland, and Scotland are somewhat similarly taxed in respect of such practice.

24 The only changes in the rates of Court-fees contemplated by the Bill are (1) in respect of suits instituted in the Courts of Small Causes, (2) the grant of probates of wills and letters of administration, and (3) the fees leviable for the service of processes.

25. The new rates for Small Cause Court suits involve a decrease of 2½ per cent. in the case of suits of this class instituted in the Presidency towns, and a proportionate increase of the rates heretofore obtaining in such Courts situated outside those towns.

The present rates in the Presidency towns are 2 annas per rupee, or 12½ per cent. Elsewhere they are the same as in other Courts, namely, 7½ per cent. on the average amount involved in the suit. The town rate is clearly too high and some relief is called for. This, it is thought, may be unobjectionably given by the application of the equalisation principle; and the enhancement of the rate heretofore levied in the Mofussil Small Cause Court is defensible on the ground that, as the judicial agency and general machinery of these Courts is more costly than those of the ordinary Civil Courts, whilst a complete determination of the matter in dispute is obtained in the one class of Courts and not in the other, equitable considerations admit of a higher rate of charge upon the litigants in the former case than in the latter.

26. Up to 1870 no stamp-duty was charged on Letters of Administration to the effects of deceased persons or Probates of Wills. The rate of duty then fixed was tentative and expressly declared to be subject to revision on the occasion of the next amendment of the law on the subject; it is now proposed to increase it from 2 to 2½ per centum.

27. The fees now chargeable for the service of processes issuing from the Civil, Revenue, and Criminal Courts are fixed by rules framed by the High Courts. It is proposed to substitute for this procedure the fixed rates specified under Nos. 20 and 21 of the fifth schedule of the Bill, and to discontinue the provisions of the existing law for the regulation of the process-serving establishments.

The experience gained through the working of the present system, as to the actual cost of serving processes, renders possible the determination of the amount of the fee required in the case of each kind of process to cover the cost of its service; and it seems desirable not only that the Court-fees of this class should, like all other fees leviable under the Court Fees Act, be fixed by the Act itself, but that the regulation of the establishments to be maintained for the service of processes should be under the exclusive control of the executive authorities.

28. It is often asserted that the provisions of the stamp law are so complicated as to be ill-understood by the public generally, and on this ground a disposition has been shown sometimes on the part of the administrators of the law to excuse, or take a very lenient view of, non-compliance with its requirements; the Bill has been framed, therefore, with the special endeavour to render the requirements of the law generally intelligible, by large additions to the interpretation-clauses, improved arrangement of its provisions, and a simpler classification of the contents of the schedules.

29. The other alterations of the existing law contained in the Bill relate chiefly to matters of detail or procedure, are of minor importance, and do not appear to call for any special explanation.

SIMLA;
The 25th September 1877.

F. R. COCKERELL,

A. PHILLIPS,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

The following preliminary Report of a Select Committee, together with the Bill as settled by them, was presented to the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations, on the 10th October 1877 :—

We, the undersigned members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to define and amend the law relating to Promissory Notes, Bills of Exchange and Cheques was referred, have considered the papers specified in the appendix, and have the honour to present this preliminary report.

2. This Bill, of which a draft, hereinafter called the draft Bill, was prepared by the late Indian Law Commission, is intended to be one of the chapters of the Indian Civil Code, and was introduced and referred to a Select Committee in December 1867. The then mercantile members of Council, while admitting the desirability of codification, objected to the draft Bill on account of its deviations from English law. In order to obviate this objection several alterations have now been made in its substantial provisions. The Bill has also been re-arranged; and some additions have been made in order to supply omissions. These changes, which embody most of the suggestions contained in the papers mentioned in the appendix, will appear in detail from this report.

3. It may, however, be convenient, before proceeding further, to notice briefly the alterations which have been made in order to render the Bill conformable to English law.

4. The draft Bill provided that an indorsee for value after maturity should have only the rights of his indorser. This does not except the case of a bill of exchange drawn or accepted for the purpose of enabling some party thereto to raise money thereon : we have added an exception in section 80 in order to meet this case.

5. The draft Bill discarded days of grace : we have recognised this usage in sections 87 and 88 of the present Bill. The change has involved (in section 22) a slight alteration of the definition of maturity."

6. The draft Bill also made all instruments which fell due upon a holiday payable on the next succeeding business day instead of, as in English law, on the next preceding business day, except in the case of a public holiday. We have in section 26 adhered to the English law, and have provided that, besides the usual public holidays, such days shall be public holidays within the meaning of the Act as the Local Government may declare.

7. The draft Bill made no provision for the case in which interest at a specified rate is expressly made payable on a note or bill. It merely provided that interest at the current rate should be payable on a bill dishonoured by non-acceptance, but only from the maturity of the instrument. The same rule was adopted in the case of dishonour by non-payment of a note, bill or cheque. We have substituted the English law on this subject by declaring (section 101) that, where interest is expressly provided for in the note or bill, it shall be calculated, as against all parties, at the specified rate from the date of the instrument until tender or realization of the amount due. Where no interest is specified we have declared (section 101) that, except in cases within section 532 of the Civil Procedure Code, interest shall run at six per cent. per annum from the date at which the amount ought to have been paid by the party charged. We have also added an explanation that an endorser can only be charged with such interest from the date of the receipt by him of notice of dishonour.

8. We have restored (section 117) the rule, which the draft Bill omitted, that a notice of dishonour must inform the party to whom it is given that he will be held liable.

9. The draft Bill provided that when a note, bill or cheque had been lost, or would not be produced by the owner, he might nevertheless enforce his claim against the maker or acceptor if he gave security, to the satisfaction of the Court, to idemnify the defendant against the claims of any other person upon the instrument. No provision was made for an action against the indorser. The English law, however, provides (17 & 18 Vict., c. 125, section 87=Act V of 1866, section 14) that, in any action upon a negotiable instrument, the loss of it shall not be set up as a defence if an indemnity is given, to the satisfaction of the Court, against the claims of any other person. And the owner of such a document was always entitled in equity to demand payment on giving a sufficient indemnity. We have, therefore, considered that we should correctly embody the English law by providing (section 103) that any person liable to pay and paying the amount due on a note, bill or cheque shall be entitled to be indemnified; and by leaving (section 8) the liability of all parties the same as if the instrument had been forthcoming.

10. The draft Bill extended to instruments payable to order the principle upon which protection is afforded by English law to the party primarily liable upon an instrument payable to bearer. The acceptor, maker or indorser of a negotiable instrument payable to bearer, but not of an instrument payable to order, is, by English law, discharged by payment to any person in possession of the instrument, if the payer has no reason to believe the possessor is not the true holder. We have in section 104, clause (c), restricted the protection to such instruments.

11. The Bill as now altered consists of fourteen chapters. In the first chapter we have inserted the usual preliminary matter. We have (section 1) excluded hundis from the operation of the Bill. We have provided (section 2) for the repeal of some enactments which are replaced by the provisions of the Bill.

12. Section 3 contains a definition of the term "banker" drawn from 39 & 40 Vict., c. 80, s. 3, and of "Notary Public." Notaries are seldom found in the Mufussal, and the Bill provides that their functions may be exercised by persons appointed for that purpose by the Governor-General in Council.

13. Chapter II deals with notes, bills and cheques, bills in sets and crossed cheques. We have here substituted definitions which appear to be more comprehensive and accurate than those in the draft Bill. For instance, according to the original definitions, a bill of exchange differs from a cheque only in requiring that the money ordered by the instrument to be paid should be held at the disposal of the drawer—a distinction which appears to us inaccurate, as a bill of exchange is in law, equally with a cheque, assumed to be drawn against funds in the hands of the drawee. Again, the definition of a cheque would include such an instrument as a tradesman's bill on which the debtor writes an order to pay for presentation to a cash-keeper—the ordinary mode of paying bills in mercantile houses, at least in Calcutta, and one adopted by many private persons. According to the draft Bill, such an instrument would apparently be negotiable—a very serious result indeed. Again, the definition of a cheque does not require that it should be drawn upon a banker or a person acting as such, nor that it should be payable on demand. These are only a few of what seemed to us the more obvious omissions. We have, therefore, framed definitions which we think will include all the essentials of these instruments.

14. Section 8 defines the holder of a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque as a person entitled in his own name to the possession of it and to receive or recover the amount due thereon from the parties thereto. The holder of an instrument at the time of its loss or destruction also comes within the definition. The corresponding provision of the draft Bill seemed to us vague and unsatisfactory in its definition of "holder," and it was not consistently applied in the substantive provisions of the Bill.

15. In section 15 we have modified the definition of indorsement in the draft Bill by providing that it must be made for the purpose of negotiation. We have also included in the definition a like signature upon a stamped paper intended to be completed as a negotiable instrument.

16. We have added a section (17) providing, in accordance with English law, that when an instrument may be construed either as a promissory note or bill of exchange, it shall be taken to be that which the holder elects.

17. In section 19 we have supplied an omission in the draft Bill by providing that an instrument in which no time for payment is specified and all cheques are payable on demand.

18. Section 20 provides for the filling up by the holder of blanks in a stamped paper intended to be completed as a negotiable instrument, but not completed when issued. The holder may complete the instrument for any amount covered by the stamp. To this section is added as an illustration section 9 of the draft Bill

19. To the four presumptions as to negotiable instruments contained in the draft Bill and stated in section 27 of the present Bill, we have added presumptions that an accepted bill was accepted within a reasonable time after date and before maturity; that every bill or note receipted on the back was paid by the acceptor or maker, that is, by the party primarily liable to pay; and that a lost instrument was duly stamped.

20. In addition to the provisions of the draft Bill as to bills in sets, we have (section 29) provided for the right of that holder of one of the parts who first acquires title to his part to possession of the other parts. We have also defined an acceptor in section 7 so as to include an acceptor of a set of bills.

21. In sections 30 to 37 (both inclusive) we have substituted the provisions of the recent English Act (39 & 40 Vict., c. 81) for the sections of the draft Bill relating to crossed cheques.

22. Chapter III deals with the parties to negotiable instruments.

23. Section 38, after providing that all persons capable of contracting may be parties to notes, bills and cheques, adds that a minor may draw, indorse, deliver and negotiate such instruments so as to bind all parties except himself.

24. Section 39 provides for persons binding themselves through their authorized agents, and adds that a general authority is not sufficient for this purpose, and that an authority to draw a bill does not of itself authorize an endorsement.

25. Sections 41 and 42 provide for the liability of partners on notes, bills and cheques; and section 43 applies the provisions of the Indian Contract Act, sections 42, 43 and 45 and chapter XI, to the rights and liabilities of partners created thereby, as well as to joint rights and liabilities.

26. Section 45 defines the liability of the drawee of a bill or cheque.

27. Section 46 extends to the case of the maker of a note, a definition contained in section 60 of the draft Bill of the liability of the acceptor of a bill of exchange.

28. Section 47 adds to the category of persons who (according to section 61 of the draft Bill) can accept a bill, all or some of several joint drawees.

29. Section 49 provides that every prior party to a negotiable instrument is liable thereon to a holder in due course, that is, to a bonâ fide holder for value.

30. Section 50 lays down that the maker of a note or cheque, the drawer of a bill until acceptance, and the acceptor are ordinarily the principal parties to the bill and the other parties their sureties; and section 51 adds that each prior party is a principal as regards the holder, and that the intermediate parties between such prior party and the holder are sureties for him. By section 52 the provisions of the Indian Contract Act, sections 132 to 147 (both inclusive) are rendered applicable to these relations of suretyship.

31. We have added a section (54) estopping the maker of a note, the drawer of a bill or cheque, and the acceptor of a bill for the honour of the drawer, from denying the original validity of the instrument.

32. Section 55 adopts, with modifications, the provisions of section 117 of the Evidence Act, 1872, and of sections 36 and 62 of the draft Bill, which estop the acceptor from denying the drawer's signature. The estoppel is, we think, properly confined by this section to suits by holders other than the drawer.

33. Section 56 estops the maker of a note and the acceptor of a bill payable to order from denying the payee's capacity to indorse.

34. Section 57 adds to the estoppel against denying false signatures, contained in section 35 of the draft Bill, an estoppel against denying the capacity to contract of any prior party to a negotiable instrument in suit.

35. Section 58 also carries on the same subject by declaring the acceptor of a bill with a forged indorsement not to be thereby relieved from liability if he knew it to be forged at the time of acceptance; and section 59 declares that the acceptor of a bill drawn in a fictitious name is not thereby relieved from liability to pay upon an indorsement by the same hand as the drawer's signature, and purporting to be made by the drawer.

36. These sections supply some omissions in the draft Bill, and, we think, adequately provide for the due currency of negotiable instruments when once put into circulation and for the protection of their holders.

37. The Bill then goes on to deal with the consideration for negotiable instruments and to protect the holder for value of instruments with respect to which there may have been originally no consideration, or a subsequent failure of consideration, wholly or in part.

38. These sections (60 to 63, both inclusive) are substantially taken from the draft Bill. We have added an illustration to section 62.

39. Chapter IV deals with negotiation.

40. To section 64, which is substantially the same as section 18 of the draft Bill, we have added an explanation to the effect that an instrument delivered upon a condition which has not happened is not negotiable except by a holder for value and without notice of such condition.

41. Where the holder of a note or bill payable to or to the order of a specified person delivers it to another person without indorsing it, but with intent to transfer his title thereto, we think that (with reference to the Code of Civil Procedure, sections 36 and 37) the transferee should not be required to sue in the name of his transferor. We have framed section 66 accordingly.

42. In section 67 we have, in substantial accordance with section 40 of the draft Bill, dealt with the case of a bonâ fide holder for value of a bill transferred without indorsement. In such a case we have declared the holder entitled to a return of the consideration if the bill is, after the transfer, avoided on account of any matter prior to the transfer, provided such return is claimed within a reasonable time.

43. Section 71 describes the parties who may endorse and negotiate negotiable instruments. The draft Bill does not appear to provide with sufficient clearness for this matter.

44. Section 76 embodies section 23 of the draft bill; but it completes that section by enacting that an indorsement of a negotiable instrument for part of the amount due thereon transfers a right to retain the instrument and to receive and recover such part in the name of the indorser.

45. Section 77 provides that no agreement which is not expressed on the instrument or which is collateral thereto shall be binding upon holders for value or those deriving title from such holders. This section embodies and supplements the corresponding provisions of the draft Bill, of which section 42 provided that the title of an indorsee should not be affected by transactions independent of the instrument; and section 99, that a holder in due course should not be affected by any agreement between two signers as to the order of their liability unless such agreement appeared on the face of the instrument. The section as now drawn extends the draft sections to holders for value and to holders deriving title from holders for value; and also extends section 99 to all agreements not expressed on the instrument.

46. Chapter V deals with presentment for acceptance and presentment for payment.

47. Section 82 states the essentials of presentment for acceptance in the case of bills payable at or after sight, to which the draft Bill, section 56, clause (1), refers as bills payable after demand. We have added a provision that presentment must be made by a person entitled to demand acceptance; and we have provided for the case in which the drawee cannot after reasonable search be founded, and also for the case of a bill directed to the drawee at a particular place.

48. Section 83 provides for presentment for sight of a promissory note payable at a certain period after sight—a matter unnoticed by the draft Bill.

49. Section 84 alters section 56, clause (3), of the draft Bill by restricting the time allowed to the drawee for deliberation to the departure of the next post, if that should happen within the twenty-four hours otherwise allowed. This is the English rule upon the subject.

50. Sections 85 and 86 lay down the general rule for presentment for payment, which is not distinctly laid down in the draft Bill.

51. Section 87, as to presentment for payment of inland instruments payable after date or sight, embodies section 183 of the draft Bill; but we have excluded cheques from this section, as we have provided (section 19), in accordance with English law, that such instruments are only payable on demand.

52. Section 88 provides for presentment for payment of an inland note payable by instalments—a matter omitted from the draft Bill.

53. Section 90 modifies sections 139 and 140 of the draft Bill by requiring, in accordance with English law, that an instrument drawn or accepted payable at a specified place must, in order to charge the maker or drawer, be presented for payment at that place. The draft

Bill allows presentment to be made in such cases at the place of business or residence of the maker or acceptor.

54. Section 91 embodies the general rule as to the place of presentment.

55. Section 92 extends the rule in section 141 of the draft Bill as to personal presentment to the case of presentment for acceptance.

56. Section 93 taken together with section 105 embodies section 101 of the draft Bill, with the modification that the presentment of a cheque must be made before the relation between the drawer and his banker has been altered to the prejudice of the drawer, or the drawer will be discharged from liability. The draft Bill discharges the drawer only to the extent of his actual loss; but, according to the English cases, he is discharged altogether by such delay, the payee of the cheque being considered as having, by such delay, treated the cheque as payment, and as thereby electing to look to the drawee alone (see Hopkins v. Ware, L. R. 4 Ex. 268).

57. Section 96 is new. It provides that presentment for acceptance or payment may be made by or to a duly authorized agent, or the representative of a deceased party or the assignee of an insolvent party.

58. Section 98 states the cases in which presentment for payment is excused. It embodies sections 89 and 91 of the draft Bill; and adds the case in which the drawer could not suffer damage by want of presentment; in which case presentment is by English law not necessary as against him.

59. Chapter VI treats of payment and interest. Section 100 declares that payment should be made to the holder, for payment to any other party does not of itself discharge the maker or acceptor. The next two sections, 101 and 102, provide for interest upon notes, bills, and cheques, and section 103 for indemnity to the payer of an instrument lost or which cannot be produced.

60. Chapter VII deals with discharge from liability on notes, bills, and cheques.

61. Section 104 provides for the discharge of a maker, acceptor, or indorser, not only when the holder cancels the acceptor's or indorser's name, and when the maker, acceptor, or indorser pays the amount due (sections 38, 85, 87, and 88 of the draft Bill), but also where the holder releases or otherwise discharges the maker, acceptor, or indorser.

62. Section 107 adopts the provisions of 16 & 17 Vict., c. 59, section 19, by which the drawer of a cheque payable to order and purporting to be indorsed by or on behalf of the payee is discharged by payment in due course.

63. To section 110, which embodies sections 109 and 110 of the draft Bill, we have added an explanation showing what are material alterations in a negotiable instrument.

64. Section 111 is new, and provides that in special cases, such as that of a blank stamped instrument, an uncrossed cheque and an instrument endorsed in blank, a material alteration made by an indorsee discharges his indorser from liability to him in respect of the consideration as well as of the instrument.

65. Section 113 embodies section 115 of the draft Bill and section 11 of 39 & 40 Vict., c. 81, relating to crossed cheques.

66. Chapter VIII treats of notice of dishonour.

67. Section 116 substantially agrees with sections 125, 127, and 131 of the draft Bill; but we have altered the description of the parties to whom notice of dishonour by non-acceptance or non-payment must be given: the description now adopted is that those parties must include all whom the holder seeks to make severally liable on the instrument, and some one of any parties jointly liable; but notice to the maker, drawee, or acceptor is unnecessary.

68. Section 117 collects into one section a number of provisions as to the form of notice and the mode of giving it. These provisions are scattered over sections 126, 127, 128, and 130 of the draft Bill. We have already pointed out that this section differs from the draft Bill in requiring notice to the party addressed that he will be held liable.

69 Section 119 adds to section 132 of the draft Bill the provision that a party receiving notice of dishonour through his agent for presentment is entitled to the same period after such receipt for the purpose of giving notice as the holder has for giving notice.

70. Section 121 describes the cases in which no notice of dishonour is necessary. These cases include, besides those of dispensation by the party entitled to notice and of inability to give the notice (which are provided for in sections 66, 67, 68, 92, and 93 of the draft Bill) the case of the drawer countermanding payment; the case where the party charged could not suffer from want of such notice; the case of an acceptor who is also a drawer; the case of a promissory note which is not negotiable, and the case in which the party knowing the facts unconditionally promises to pay the amount due on the instrument.

71. Chapter IX contains the rules for noting and protest.

72. Section 122 substantially corresponds with section 119 of the draft Bill; but it allows the noting to be made either upon the instrument, or upon a paper attached thereto, or partly upon each. And the rules as to noting and protest are confined to bills and notes, whereas the draft Bill extended them to cheques—an extension for which there is apparently no authority.

73. We have inserted in sections 123 and 124 provisions regarding protest for better security.

74. In section 126 we have reproduced the provisions of Act VI of 1840, section 4, and of 2 & 3 Wm. 4, c. 98, as to protest for non-payment after dishonour by non-acceptance.

75. Chapter X contains rules for calculating the reasonable time for presentment, for acceptance or payment, for giving notice of dishonour and for noting. We have added in section 129 a provision that, in the case of notice of dishonour, when the parties carry on business or live in the same place, such notice is given within a reasonable time if it is despatched in time to reach its destination on the day next after the day of dishonour.

76. Chapter XI deals with acceptance and payment for honour. We provide (section 131) for the case of protest for better security. In accordance with a recent case (in re Overend, Gurney and Company, L. R., 6, Eq. 344,) we have declared (section 136) that the payer for honour shall have all the rights, in respect of the bill, of the holder at the time of such payment.

77. Chapter XII, which treats of compensation, retains (section 137) the provisions of the draft Bill (section 65) substantially unaltered.

78. Chapter XIII treats of foreign bills, and restricts to foreign bills the section (73) of the draft Bill which deals with the dishonour of a bill, naming a drawee in case of need.

79. The provisions of chapter XIV as to international law are substantially those of the draft Bill.

80. In conclusion, we desire to express our obligations to the following honourable and learned Judges, namely, Messrs. Turner, Kennedy, West, and Nánábhái Haridás: to the Madras Chamber of Commerce: to Mr. Stewart Gladstone, Mr. R. Stewart, Mr. Dickson (late Secretary and Treasurer to the Bank of Bengal), and Mr. Scrymgeour, the Calcutta Agent of the Oriental Bank Corporation. We recommend that the Bill as now altered be republished in the Gazette of India and the local Gazettes, that the opinions of the Local Governments, the High Courts, and the mercantile community be invited thereon, and that its further consideration be stayed till the Council re-assembles in Calcutta.

SIMLA;
The 4th October 1877.

SCHEDULE.

A Bill to define and amend the law relating to Promissory Notes, Bills of Exchange and cheques.

Preamble.

Whereas it is expedient to define and amend the law relating to Promissory Notes, Bills of Exchange and Cheques; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called "The Negotiable Instruments Act, 1877."

Local extent.

It extends to the whole of British India; but nothing in this Act applies to hundís;

Commencement.

And it shall come into force on the first day of May 1878.

Repeal of enactments.

2. On and from that day the enactments specified in the schedule hereto annexed shall be repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column thereof.

Interpretation clause.

3. In this Act—

"Banker."

"Banker" includes persons or a corporation or company acting as bankers, and

"Notary Public."

"Notary Public" includes also any officer appointed by the Governor-General in Council to perform the functions of a Notary Public under this Act.

CHAPTER II.

OF NOTES, BILLS, AND CHEQUES.

Promissory Note.

4. A promissory note is an instrument in writing (not being a bank note or a currency note) containing an unconditional undertaking, signed by the maker, to pay a certain sum of money only to, or to the order of, a person ascertainable when such undertaking is made, or to the bearer of the instrument.

Illustrations.

A signs instruments in the following terms:—

(a) "I promise to pay B or order Rs. 500."

(b) "I promise to account with B or order for Rs. 500 value received by me."

(c) "I acknowledge myself to be indebted to B in Rs. 1,000, to be paid on demand, for value received.

(d) "Mr. B, I O U Rs. 1,000."

The instruments respectively marked (a), (b) and (c) are promissory notes. The instrument marked (d) is not a promissory note.

Bill of exchange.

5. A bill of exchange is an instrument in writing (not being a cheque) containing an unconditional order, signed by the maker, directing a certain person to pay a certain sum of money only to, or to the order of a person ascertainable when such order is given or to the bearer of the instrument.

Cheque.

6. A cheque is an instrument in writing containing an unconditional order, signed by the maker, directing a specified banker to pay a certain sum of money only to or to the order of, a person ascertainable when such order is given, or to the bearer thereof.

"Drawer."
"Drawee."

7. The maker of a bill of exchange or cheque is called the "drawer;" the person thereby directed to pay is called the "drawee."

"Drawee in case of need."

When the bill gives the name of any person in addition to the drawee to be resorted to in case of need, such person is called a "drawee in case of need."

"Acceptor."

After the drawee of a bill has signed his assent upon the bill, or if there are more parts thereof than one, upon one of such parts, and delivered the same, or given notice of such signing, to the holder or to some person on his behalf, he is called the "acceptor."

"Acceptor for honour."

When acceptance is refused and the bill is protested for non-acceptance, and any person accepts it supra protest for honour of the drawer or of any one of the indorsers, such person is called an "acceptor for honour."

"Payee."

The person named in the instrument, to whom or to whose order the money is by the instrument directed to be paid, is called the "payee"

"Holder."

8. The "holder" of a promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque means any person entitled in his own name to the possession thereof, and to receive or recover the amount due thereon from the parties thereto.

Where the note, bill, or cheque is lost or destroyed, its holder is the person so entitled at the time of such loss or destruction.

"Holder in due course"

9. "Holder in due course" means any person who became the possessor of a promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque if payable to bearer, or the payee or indorsee thereof, if payable to, or to the order of, a payee, for valuable consideration before the amount mentioned in it became payable, and without having reason to believe that any defect existed in the title of the person from whom he derived his title.

"Payment in due course."

10. "Payment in due course" means payment in accordance with the apparent tenor of the instrument in good faith and without negligence to any person in possession thereof under circumstances which do not afford a reasonable ground for believing that such person is not entitled to receive payment of the amount therein mentioned.

Inland instrument.

11. A promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque drawn or made in British India, and made payable in, or drawn upon any person resident in, British India shall be deemed to be an inland instrument.

Foreign instrument.

12. Any such instrument not so drawn, made or made payable shall be deemed to be a foreign instrument.

"Negotiable instrument."

13. A "negotiable instrument" means a promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque expressed to be payable to, or to the order of, a specified person, or to " or order," or to the bearer thereof.

Negotiation.

14. When a promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque is transferred to any person, so as to constitute that person the holder thereof, the instrument is said to be negotiated.

Indorsement.

15. When the maker or holder of a negotiable instrument signs the same, otherwise than as such maker, for the purpose of negotiation, on the back or face thereof or on a slip of paper annexed thereto, or so signs for the same purpose a stamped paper intended to be completed as a negotiable instrument, he is said to indorse the same, and is called the "indorser."

Indorsement "in blank" and "in full."

16. If the indorser signs his name only, the indorsement is said to be "in blank," and if he adds a direction to pay the whole or any part of the amount mentioned in the instrument to, or to the order of, a specified person, the indorsement is said to be "in full;" and the person so specified is called the "indorsee" of the instrument.

"Indorsee."

Ambiguous instruments.

17. Where an instrument may be construed either as a promissory note or bill of exchange, the holder may at his election treat it as either, and the instrument shall be thenceforward treated accordingly.

Where amount is stated differently in figures and words.

18. If the amount promised or ordered to be paid is stated differently in figures and in words, the amount stated in words shall be the amount promised or ordered to be paid.

Instruments payable on demand.

19. A promissory note or bill of exchange, in which no time for payment is specified, and a cheque are payable on demand.

Blank stamped instruments.

20. Where a stamped paper, which is intended to be completed as a negotiable instrument, is signed and delivered by a competent person as maker, drawer, acceptor, or indorser, the holder thereof may complete the same by filling up any blanks therein, and the person so signing shall be liable upon such instrument, in the capacity in which he signed the same, for any amount which may be specified therein not exceeding the amount covered by the stamp thereon.

Illustration.

A stamped paper intended to be completed as a negotiable instrument is made payable to " or order;" the holder of such instrument may fill up the blank with his own name, or that of any other person.

Subscribing to alternative liability.

21. Where a promissory note is signed by two persons, and it appears on the face of it that one of them subscribes only to an alternative liability, such one is not liable on the note as maker, but is liable as guaranteeing its payment by the maker.

"Maturity."

22. The maturity of a promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque is the date at which it is payable.

"At sight."
"After sight."

23. In a promissory note or bill of exchange the expression "at sight" means on demand. The expression "after sight," means in a promissory note, after presentment for sight, and in a bill of exchange, after acceptance or protest for non-acceptance.

Date on which bill or note payable so many months after date or sight, or after a certain event, is at maturity.

24. In calculating the date at which a promissory note or bill of exchange, made payable a stated number of months after date or after sight, or after a certain event is at maturity, the period stated shall be held to terminate on the day of the month which corresponds with the day on which the instrument is dated or presented for acceptance or sight or the event happens. If the month in which the period would terminate has no corresponding day, the period shall be held to terminate on the last day of such month.

Illustrations.

(a) A negotiable instrument dated 1st February is made payable at one month after date. The instrument is at maturity on the 1st of March.

(b) A negotiable instrument dated 29th January 1877 is made payable at one month after date. The instrument is at maturity on the 28th February 1877.

(c) A negotiable instrument dated 30th August 1877 is made payable three months after date. The instrument is at maturity on the 30th November 1877.

(d) A promissory note or bill of exchange, dated 31st August 1877, is made payable three months after date. The instrument is at maturity on the 30th November 1877.

Date on which bill or note payable so many days after date or sight, or after a certain event, is at maturity.

25. In calculating the date at which a promissory note or bill of exchange, made payable a certain number of days after date or after sight or after a certain event, is at maturity, the day of the date, or of presentment for acceptance or sight, or on which the event happens, shall be excluded.

When day of maturity is a holiday.

26. When the day on which a promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque is at maturity is not a business day, the instrument shall be deemed to be due on the next preceding business day; but if the day of maturity is a phblic holiday, then on the next succeeding business dav.

Explanation.—The expression "public holiday" includes Sundays: New-Year's day, Christmas day: if either of such days falls on a Sunday, the next following Monday: Good-Friday: and any other day declared by the Local Government, by notification in the official Gazette, to be a public holiday within the meaning of this Act.

Presumptions as to negotiable instruments;

27. Until the contrary is proved, the following presumptions shall be made:—

of valuable consideration;

(a) that every negotiable instrument was made, drawn, accepted, indorsed, negotiated, and transferred for valuable consideration:

as to time of acceptance;

(b) that every accepted bill of exchange was accepted within a reasonable time after its date and before its maturity:

as to time of transfer;

(c) that every transfer of a negotiable instrument was made before its maturity:

as to payment;

(d) that every promissory note or bill of exchange receipted on the back was paid by the maker or acceptor thereof respectively:

that holder is a holder in due course;

(e) that the holder of a negotiable instrument is a holder in due course:

as to order of indorsements;

(f) that the indorsements appearing upon a negotiable instrument were made in the order in which they appear thereon:

as to stamp.

(g) that a lost bill of exchange, promissory note, or cheque was duly stamped.

Bills in Sets.

Set of bills.

28. Bill of exchange may be drawn in parts, each part being numbered and containing a condition that it shall continue payable only so long as the others remain unpaid. All the parts together make a set; but the whole set constitutes only one bill, and is extinguished when one of the parts, if a separate bill, would be extinguished.

Exception.—When a person accepts or indorses different parts of the bill in favour of different persons, he is liable on each part as if it were a separate bill.

Holder of first acquired part entitled to all.

29. That holder of one of the parts, who first acquired title to his part, is entitled to the other parts of the same set.

Crossed Cheques.

Cheque crossed generally.

30. Where a cheque bears across its face an addition of the words "and company" or any abbreviation thereof, between two parallel transverse lines, or of two parallel transverse lines simply, either with or without the words "not negotiable," that addition shall be deemed a crossing, and the cheque shall be deemed to be crossed generally.

Cheque crossed specially.

31. Where a cheque bears across its face an addition of the name of a banker, either with or without the words "not negotiable," that addition shall be deemed a crossing, and the cheque shall be deemed to be crossed specially, and to be crossed to that banker.

Crossing after issue.

32. Where a cheque is uncrossed, the holder may cross it generally or specially.

Where a cheque is crossed generally, the holder may cross it specially.

Where a cheque is crossed generally or specially, the holder may add the words "not negotiable."

Where a cheque is crossed specially, the banker to whom it is crossed may again cross it specially to another banker, his agent for collection.

Payment of cheque crossed generally.

33. Where a cheque is crossed generally, the banker on whom it is drawn shall not pay it otherwise than to a banker.

Payment of cheque crossed specially.

Where a cheque is crossed specially, the banker on whom it is drawn shall not pay it otherwise than to the banker to whom it is crossed, or his agent for collection.

Payment of cheque crossed specially more than once.

34. Where a cheque is crossed specially to more than one banker, except when crossed to an agent for the purpose of collection, the banker on whom it is drawn shall refuse payment thereof.

Payment in due course of crossed cheque.

35 Where the banker on whom a crossed cheque is drawn has paid the same in due course, the banker paying the cheque and (in case such cheque has come to the hands of the payee) the drawer thereof shall respectively be entitled to the same rights, and be placed in the same position in all respects, as they would respectively be entitled to, and placed in if the amount of the cheque had been paid to and received by the true owner thereof.

Payment of crossed cheque out of due course.

36. Any banker paying a cheque crossed generally otherwise than to a banker, or a cheque crossed specially otherwise than to the banker to whom the same shall be crossed, or his agent for collection, being a banker, shall be liable to the true owner of the cheque for any loss he may sustain owing to the cheque having been so paid.

Cheque bearing "not negotiable."

37. A person taking a cheque crossed generally or specially, bearing in either case the words "not negotiable," shall not have, and shall not be capable of giving, a better title to the cheque than that which the person from whom he took it had.

But a banker who has in good faith and without negligence received payment from a customer of a cheque crossed generally or specially to himself shall not, in case the title to the cheque proves defective, incur any liability to the true owner of the cheque by reason only of having received such payment.

CHAPTER III.

PARTIES TO NOTES, BILLS, AND CHEQUES.

Capacity to make, &c., promissory notes, &c.

38. Every person capable of contracting, according to the law to which he is subject, may bind himself and be bound by the making, drawing, acceptance, indorsement, delivery, and negotiation of a promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque.

Minor.

A minor may draw, indorse, deliver, and negotiate such instruments so as to bind all parties except himself.

Agency.

39. Every person capable of binding himself or of being bound as in the last preceding section mentioned, may so bind himself or be bound by a duly authorized agent acting in his name.

A general authority to transact business and to receive and discharge debts does not confer upon an agent the power of accepting or indorsing bills of exchange so as to bind his principal.

An authority to draw bills of exchange does not of itself import an authority to indorse.

Liability of agent signing.

40. An agent who signs his name to a promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque, without indicating thereon that he signs as agent, or that he does not intend thereby to incur personal responsibility, is liable personally on the instrument, except to those who know that he signed as agent, or that he had no such intention.

Acceptance by several drawees not partners.

41. Where there are several drawees of a bill of exchange who are not partners, each of them can accept it for himself, but none of them can accept it for another without his authority.

When partnership bound by promissory notes, &c.

42. When it is within the scope of the business of a partnership to make, draw, accept, indorse, or negotiate promissory notes, bills of exchange, or cheques, any partner may bind his firm by making, drawing, accepting, indorsing, or negotiating such instruments in the name of his firm, but not otherwise.

Exception.—A partner may bind his firm by accepting in his own name, for partnership purposes, a bill drawn upon the firm.

Partnership and joint rights and liabilities.

43. In the absence of a contract to the contrary, the provisions of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, sections 42, 43, and 45, and those of chapter XI of the same Act, shall respectively apply to all joint rights and liabilities created by promissory notes, bills of exchange, and cheques, and to the rights and liabilities thereon of partners.

Liability of drawer.

44. The drawer of a bill of exchange or cheque is bound, in case of dishonour by the drawee or acceptor thereof, to compensate the holder for any loss or damage caused thereby, provided due notice of dishonour has been given to, or received by, the drawer as hereinafter provided.

Liability of drawee.

45. The drawee of a bill of exchange or cheque, having sufficient funds of the drawer in his hands properly applicable to the payment of such bill or cheque, must accept the bill or pay the cheque when duly required so to do, and, in default of such acceptance or payment, must compensate the drawer for any loss or damage caused by such default.

Liability of maker of note and acceptor of bill.

46. Except as provided in sections 38, 61, 62, 63, 79, 85, 89, 90, 104, and 109, and in the absence of a contract to the contrary,—

(a) the maker of a promissory note and the acceptor before maturity of a bill of exchange are bound to pay the amount thereof according to the apparent tenor of the note or acceptance respectively, and

(b) the acceptor of a bill of exchange at or after maturity is bound to pay the amount thereof to the holder on demand.

In default of such payment as aforesaid, such maker or acceptor is bound to compensate any party thereto for any loss or damage sustained by him and caused by such default.

Only drawee can be acceptor except in need or for honour.

47. No person except the drawee of a bill of exchange, or all or some of several joint drawees, or a person named therein as a drawee in case of need, or an acceptor for honour, can bind himself by an acceptance.

Liability of indorser.

48. Except as provided in sections 38, 61, 62, 63, 75, 76, 79, 82, 83, 85, 89, 93, 104, 105, 106, 108, 109, 110, and 121, clause (a), and in the absence of a contract to the contrary, every person who indorses and delivers a negotiable instrument before maturity, without, in such indorsement, expressly excluding or making conditional his own liability, is bound thereby to every subsequent holder, in case of dishonour by the drawee, acceptor, or maker, to compensate such holder for any loss or damage caused to him by such dishonour, provided due notice of dishonour has been given to, or received by, such indorser as hereinafter provided.

Every indorser after dishonour is liable as upon an instrument payable on demand.

Liability of prior parties to holder in due course.

49. Every prior party to a negotiable instrument is liable thereon to a holder in due course.

Maker, drawer, and acceptor principals.

50. The maker of a promissory note or cheque, the drawer of a bill of exchange until acceptance, and the acceptor are, as between themselves and any other parties thereto, in the absence of any contract to the contrary between themselves and such parties, liable thereon as principal debtors, and the other parties thereto are liable thereon as sureties for them.

Prior party a principal in respect of each subsequent party.

51. Every prior party to a negotiable instrument is as between himself and the holder thereof, in the absence of any contract to the contrary between himself and the holder, liable thereon as a principal debtor, and the parties thereon, subsequent to him and prior to such holder, are liable to the holder as sureties for such prior party.

Illustration.

A draws a bill on B, who accepts. A afterwards indorses the bill to C, C to D, and D to E. As between E and B, B is the principal debtor and A, C, and D are his sureties. As between E and A, A is the principal debtor and C and D are his sureties. As between E and C, C is the principal debtor and D is his surety.

Suretyship.

52. The provisions of sections 132 to 147, both inclusive, of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, shall apply to the relations of suretyship between parties to negotiable instruments.

Discharge of indorser's liability.

53. The indorser of a negotiable instrument is not discharged from his liability thereupon by the holder having merely forborne to sue a prior party; but where the holder, without the consent of the indorser, destroys or impairs the indorser's remedy against a prior party, the indorser is discharged from liability to the holder to the same extent as if the instrument had been paid at maturity.

Illustration.

A is the holder of a bill of exchange made payable to the order of B, which contains the following indorsements in blank:—

First indorsement, "John De Souza."
Second indorsement, "Peter Williams."
Third indorsement, "Wright and Co."
Fourth indorsement "John Rozario."

This bill A puts in suit against John Rozario and strikes out the indorsements by Peter Williams and Wright and Co. A is not entitled to recover anything from John Rozario.

Estoppel against denying orginal validity of instrument.

54. No maker of a promissory note, and no drawer of a bill of exchange or cheque, and no acceptor of a bill of exchange for the honour of the drawer, shall, in a suit thereon, be permitted to deny the validity of the instrument as originally made or drawn.

Estoppel against denying drawer's signature.

55. No acceptor of a bill of exchange shall, in a suit thereon by a holder other than the drawer, be permitted to deny that the bill was drawn by the person by whom it purports to have been drawn.

Estoppel against denying capacity of payee to indorse.

56. No maker of a promissory note and no acceptor of a bill of exchange payable to, or to the order of, a specified person shall, in a suit thereon, be permitted to deny the capacity of the payee thereof to indorse the same.

Estoppel against denying signature or capacity of prior party.

57. No indorser of a negotiable instrument shall, in a suit thereon by a subsequent holder, be permitted to deny the signature or capacity to contract of any prior party to the instrument.

58. An acceptor of a bill of exchange is not relieved from liability, by reason that an indorsement thereon is forged, if he knew or had reason to believe such indorsement to be forged when he accepted the bill.

Acceptor bound although indorsement forged.

59. An acceptor of a bill of exchange drawn in a fictitious name is not, by reason that such name is fictitious, relieved from liability to any holder claiming under an indorsement by the same hand as the drawer's signature, and purporting to be made by the drawer.

Acceptance of bill drawn in fictitious name.

60. If at any time there has been valuable consideration between any parties to a negotiable instrument for the making, drawing, acceptance, indorsement, negotiation, or transfer thereof, the party receiving such consideration is, except as provided in sections 38, 62, 63, 75, 82, 83, 85, 89, 90, 93, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, and 111, and in the absence of any contract to the contrary, liable upon the instrument to all subsequent parties thereto, and every subsequent holder is a holder for consideration.

Party receiving consideration liable to subsequent parties.

Illustrations.

(a) A indorses a bill of exchange to B, at the request of C, for C's account with B. B is holder of the bill for consideration, and if he indorses it as a present to D, D is a holder for consideration.

(b) A, the holder of a negotiable instrument, indorses it in full to B, in the belief that B has done something which he has not done. B for consideration, indorses the instrument in blank to C, and C indorses it to D. D is a holder of the instrument for consideration.

(c) A, the holder of a negotiable instrument, indorses it in full to B, in the belief that B has done something which he has not done. B, for consideration proceeding from C, indorses the intrument in blank to C, and C indorses it to D. D strikes out C's indorsement. D is a holder of the instrument for consideration.

61. When there was no consideration for the making, drawing, acceptance, or indorsement of a negotiable instrument, or when the consideration has wholly failed, the maker, drawer, acceptor, or indorser is not liable thereon to the party in whose favour the instrument was so made, drawn, accepted, or indorsed, or to any party claiming through such party, unless valuable consideration moved from the claimant or from some party through whom he derives title. But the maker, drawer, acceptor or indorser is liable to compensate any subsequent party who, being liable on such instrument, pays the amount due thereon.

Party not liable to one from whom no consideration moved.

62. When the consideration for which a person signed a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque consisted of money, and was originally absent in part or has subsequently failed in part, the sum which a holder standing in immediate relation with such signer is entitled to receive from him is proportionally reduced.

Partial absence or failure of money-consideration.

Explanation.—The drawer of a bill of exchange stands in immediate relation with the acceptor. The maker of a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque, stands in immediate relation with the payee, and the indorser with his indorsee. Other signers may by agreement stand in immediate relation with a holder.

Illustration.

A draws a bill on B for Rs. 500 payable to the order of A. B accepts the bill, but subsequently dishonors it by non-payment. A sues B on the bill. B proves that it was accepted for value as to Rs. 400, and as an accommodation to the plaintiff as to the residue. A can only recover Rs. 400.

63. Where a part of the consideration for which a person signed a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque, though not consisting of money, is readily ascertainable in money, and there has been a failure of that part, the sum which a holder standing in immediate relation with such signer is entitled to receive from him, is proportionally reduced.

Partial failure of consideration not consisting of money.

CHAPTER IV.

OF NEGOTIATION.

64. Subject to the provisions of section 79, a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque payable to bearer is negotiable by delivery thereof.

Negotiation by delivery.

Exception.—A promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque delivered on condition that it is not to take effect except in a certain event is not negotiable (except in the hands of a holder for value without notice) unless such event happens.

Illustrations.

(a.) A, the holder of a negotiable instrument payable to bearer, delivers it to B's agent to keep for B. The instrument has been negotiated.

(b.) A, the holder of a negotiable instrument payable to bearer which is in the hands of A's banker, who is at the time the banker of B, directs the banker to transfer the instrument to B's credit in the banker's account with B. The banker does so, and accordingly now possesses the instrument as B's agent. The instrument has been negotiated, and B has become the holder of it.

65. Subject to the provisions of section 79, a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque payable to, or to the order of, a specified person is negotiable by the holder by indorsement and delivery thereof.

Negotiation by indorsement.

66. If the holder of such an instrument as in the last preceding section mentioned, delivers it to another person without indorsing it, but with intent to transfer his title thereto, the transferee acquires by such delivery all the rights which the transferor had as holder except the right of negotiation, and he may sue upon the instrument in his own name.

Transfer without indorsement.

67. If such transfer, as in the last preceding section mentioned, is made for valuable consideration to a person having no reason to believe in the existence of any matter affecting the validity of the instrument or of the transfer thereof, and the instrument is thereafter avoided as against any party on account of matters prior to such transfer, the transferor is bound to return to the transferee the consideration received, provided that such return is claimed within a reasonable time.

Liability of transferor without indorsement.

68. The holder of a negotiable instrument indorsed in blank may, without signing his own name, by writing above the indorser's signature a direction to pay to any other person as indorsee, convert the indorsement in blank into an indorsement in full; and the holder does not thereby incur the responsibility of an indorser.

Conversion of indorsement in blank into indorsement in full.

69. The indorsement of a negotiable instrument transfers to the indorsee the property therein with the right of further negotiation; but the indorsement may, by express words, be restrained to a transfer of the property without such right, or may merely constitute the indorsee an agent to indorse the instrument, or to receive its contents for the indorser, or for some other specified person.

Effect of indorsement.

70. The indorser of a negotiable instrument may, by express words in the indorsement, restrict or exclude the right of the indorsee to negotiate the instrument, although the instrument was, at the time of such words being written, payable to the bearer thereof.

Negotiability may be restricted or excluded.

Illustrations.

B signs the following indorsements on different negotiable instruments :—

(a) "Pay the contents to C only."
(b) "Pay C for my use."
(c) "Pay C or order for the account of B."
(d) "The within must be credited to C."

These indorsements exclude the right of further negotiation by C.

(e) "Pay C."
(f) "Pay C value in account with the Oriental Bank."
(g) "Pay the contents to C, being part of the consideration in a certain deed of assignment executed by C to the indorser and others."

These indorsements do not exclude the right of further negotiation by C.

71. Every sole maker, drawer, payee or indorsee, or all of several joint makers, drawers, payees or indorsees of a negotiable instrument may, if the negotiability of such instrument has not been restricted or excluded, as in the last preceding section mentioned, indorse and negotiate the same.

Who may negotiate.

Explanation.—Nothing in this section enables a maker or drawer to endorse or negotiate an instrument, unless he is in lawful possession or is holder thereof; or enables a payee or indorsee to indorse or negotiate an instrument, unless he is holder thereof.

Illustration.

A bill is drawn payable to A or order. A indorses it to B, the indorsement not containing the words "or order," or any equivalent words. B may negotiate the instrument.

72. The indorser of a negotiable instrument may, by express words in the indorsement, exclude his own liability thereon, or make such liability or the right of the indorsee to receive the amount due thereon, depend upon the happening of a specified event, although such event may never happen.

Indorser who excludes his own liability or makes it conditional.

Where an indorser so excludes his liability and afterwards becomes the holder of the instrument, all intermediate indorsers are liable to him.

Illustrations.

(a.) The indorser of a negotiable instrument signs his name, adding the words—

"Without recourse to me."

Upon this indorsement he incurs no liability.

(b.) A, the payee and holder of a bill of exchange, indorses it to B, and B to C. C then endorses it back to A, each of these indorsements being in due course. A is reinstated in his former rights upon the instrument, but has not acquired any rights against B or C.

(c.) A is the payee and holder of a negotiable instrument. Excluding personal liability by an indorsement "without recourse," he transfers the instrument to B, and B indorses it to C, who indorses it to A. A is not only reinstated in his former rights, but has the rights of an indorsee against B and C.

73. A holder of a negotiable instrument who derives title from a holder in due course has the rights thereon of that holder in due course.

Holder deriving title from holder in due course.

74. A negotiable instrument indorsed in blank is payable to the bearer thereof even although originally payable to order.

Instrument indorsed in blank.

75. If a negotiable instrument after having been indorsed in blank is indorsed in full, the amount of it cannot be claimed from the indorser in full, except by the person to whom it has been indorsed in full, or by one who derives title through such person.

Conversion of indorsement in blank into indorsement in full.

76. Where a negotiable instrument is indorsed for part of the sum due thereon to the indorser, the indorsement transfers only a right to retain the instrument, and to receive or sue for such part in the name of the indorser.

Indorsement for part of sum due.

77. No agreement between any parties to a negotiable instrument which is not expressed thereon, or which is collateral thereto, is binding upon any other holder thereon for valuable consideration, or upon any holder deriving title from a holder for valuable consideration.

Collateral agreements.

Illustration.

A person who is a creditor of A signs, as acceptor, a bill of exchange in A's favor for 3,000 rupees. A being the holder indorses it for value to B, who is aware that the acceptor was a creditor of A. A's debt to the acceptor can not be set off against B's claim on the bill.

78. The legal representative of a deceased person cannot negotiate by delivery a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque payable to order and indorsed by the deceased but not delivered.

Legal representative cannot by delivery only negotiate instrument indorsed by deceased.

79. When a negotiable instrument has been lost, or has been obtained from any maker, acceptor or holder thereof by unlawful means, or for an illegal consideration, no possessor or indorsee, who claims through the person who so obtained the instrument, is entitled to receive the amount due thereon from such maker, acceptor or holder, or from any party prior to such holder, unless such possessor or indorsee is, or some person through whom he claims was, a holder thereof in due course.

Instrument obtained by unlawful means or for illegal consideration.

80. The holder of a negotiable instrument who has acquired it after dishonour whether by non-acceptance or non-payment, with notice thereof, or after maturity, has only the rights thereon of his transferor :

Instrument acquired after dishonour or when overdue.

Provided that any person who, in good faith and for valuable consideration, becomes the holder, after maturity, of a promissory note or bill of exchange made, drawn or accepted without consideration for the purpose of enabling some party thereto to raise money thereon, may recover the amount of the note or bill from any prior party.

Accommodation note or bill.

Illustration.

The acceptor of a bill of exchange, when he accepted it, deposited with the drawer certain goods as a collateral security for the payment of the bill, with power to the drawer to sell the goods and apply the proceeds in discharge of the bill if it were not paid at maturity. The bill not having been paid at maturity, the drawer sold the goods and retained the proceeds, but indorsed the bill to A. A's title is subject to the same objection as the drawer's title.

Instrument negotiable till payment or satisfaction.

81. A negotiable instrument may be negotiated (except by the maker, drawee or acceptor after maturity) until payment or satisfaction thereof by the maker, drawee or acceptor at or after maturity, but not after such payment or satisfaction.

CHAPTER V.

OF PRESENTMENT.

Presentment for acceptance.

82. A bill of exchange payable at or after sight must, if no time or place is specified therein for presentment, be presented to the drawee thereof for acceptance, if he can, after reasonable search, be found, by a person entitled to demand acceptance, within a reasonable time after it is drawn, and in business hours on a business day. In default of such presentment, no party thereto is liable thereon to the person making such default.

If the drawee cannot, after reasonable search, be found, the bill is dishonoured.

If the bill is directed to the drawee at a particular place, it must be presented at that place; and if at the due date for presentment he has absconded, the bill is dishonoured.

Presentment of promissory note for sight.

83. A promissory note, payable at a certain period after sight, must be presented to the maker thereof for sight, by a person entitled to demand payment, within a reasonable time after it is made and in business hours on a business day. In default of such presentment no party thereto is liable thereon to the person making such default.

Drawee's time for deliberation.

84. The drawee of a bill of exchange presented to him for acceptance may retain the same until the end of twenty-four hours, or until the next post to the holder, whichever first happens, to consider whether he will accept it.

Explanation.—In calculating the twenty-four hours mentioned in this section, days which are not business days, shall be excluded.

Presentment for payment.

85. Promissory notes, bills of exchange and cheques must be presented for payment to the maker, acceptor or drawee thereof respectively, by or on behalf of the holder as hereinafter provided. In default of such presentment, the other parties thereto are not liable thereon to such holder.

Exception.—No presentment is necessary of a promissory note payable on demand in order to charge the maker thereof.

Hours for presentment.

86. Presentment for payment must be made during the usual hours of business, and, if at a banker's, within banking hours.

Presentment for payment of inland instrument payable after date or sight.

87. An inland promissory note or bill of exchange, made payable at a specified period after date or sight thereof, must be presented for payment within three days after the end of such period.

Presentment for payment of inland promissory note payable by instalments.

88. An inland promissory note payable by instalments must be presented for payment within three days after the date fixed for payment of each instalment; and non-payment on such presentment has the same effect as non-payment of a note at maturity.

Presentment for payment of instrument payable at specified place and not elsewhere.

89. A promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque made, drawn or accepted payable at a specified place and not elsewhere must, in order to charge any party thereto, be presented for payment at that place.

Instrument payable at specified place.

90. A promissory note or bill of exchange made, drawn or accepted, payable at a specified place, must, in order to charge the maker or drawer thereof, be presented for payment at that place.

Presentment where no exclusive place specified.

91. A promissory note or bill of exchange, not made payable as in the last two preceding sections mentioned, must be presented for payment at one of the places specified (if any), or at the places of business (if any), or at the usual residence of the maker, drawee or acceptor thereof, as the case may be.

Presentment when maker, &c., has no known place of business or residence.

92. If the maker, drawee or acceptor of a negotiable instrument has no known place of business or fixed residence, and no place is specified in the instrument for presentment for acceptance or payment, such presentment may be made to him in person wherever he can be found.

Presentment of cheque to charge drawer.

93. A cheque must, in order to charge the drawer, be presented at the bank upon which it is drawn within a reasonable time after it was first received from the drawer, or before the relation between the drawer and his banker has been altered to the prejudice of the drawer.

Presentment of cheque to charge any other person.

94. A cheque must, in order to charge any person except the drawer, be presented within a reasonable time after receipt thereof from such person.

Presentment of instrument payable on demand.

95. A negotiable instrument payable on demand must be presented for payment within a reasonable time after it is received by the holder.

Presentment by or to agent, representative of deceased, or assignee of insolvent.

96. Presentment for acceptance or payment may be made by or to the duly authorized agent of the drawee, maker or acceptor, as the case may be, or where he has died, to his legal representative, or where he has been declared an insolvent, to his assignee.

Posting instruments to be presented.

97. When the holder of a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque, and the maker, acceptor or drawee reside in different places, the instrument may be forwarded by post for the purpose of being presented for payment. In such case, when there is a daily post, the instrument must be posted at some time not later than the last post on the day following that on which the holder has received such instrument; and the person receiving such instrument by the post must present it not later than the day following its receipt; where there is not a daily post, the instrument must be forwarded and presented within a reasonable time.

When presentment unnecessary.

98. No presentment for payment is necessary, and the instrument is dishonoured at the due date for presentment, in any of the following cases :—

(a) if the maker, drawee or acceptor closes his place of business, or cannot after reasonable search be found,

or intentionally prevents the presentment of the instrument, or access to him cannot be obtained during business hours ;

(b) as against any party if, after maturity, with knowledge that the instrument has not been presented—he makes a part payment on account of the amount due on the instrument, or promises to pay the amount due thereon in whole or in part, or otherwise waives his right to take advantage of any default in presentment for payment;

(c) as against the drawer, if the drawer could not suffer damage from the want of such presentment.

Liability of banker for negligently dealing with bill presented for acceptance.

99. When a bill of exchange, accepted payable at a specified bank, has been duly presented there for payment and dishonoured, if the banker so negligently keeps, deals with or delivers back such bill as to cause loss to the holder, he must compensate the holder for such loss.

CHAPTER VI.

OF PAYMENT AND INTEREST.

To whom payment should be made.

100. Subject to the provisions of section 104 clause (c), payment of the amount due on a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque must, in order to discharge the maker or acceptor, be made to the holder of the instrument.

Interest when rate specified.

101. When interest at a specified rate is expressly made payable on a promissory note or bill of exchange, interest shall be calculated at the rate specified on the amount, and from the date of the instrument, until tender or realization of the amount due thereon.

Interest when no rate specified.

102. When no rate of interest is specified in the instrument, interest on the amount thereof shall, except in cases provided for by the Code of Civil Procedure, section 532, be calculated at the rate of six per centum per annum, from the date at which the same ought to have been paid by the party charged, until tender or realization of the amount due thereon.

Explanation.—When the party charged is the indorser of an instrument dishonoured by non-payment, he is liable to pay interest only from the time that he receives notice of the dishonour.

Delivery of instrument on payment, or indemnity in case of loss.

103. Any person liable to pay, and called upon by the holder thereof to pay, the amount due on a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque, is, before payment, entitled to have it shown, and is on payment entitled to have it delivered up to him, or, if the instrument is lost or cannot be produced, to be indemnified against any further claim thereon against him.

CHAPTER VII.

OF DISCHARGE FROM LIABILITY ON NOTES, BILLS AND CHEQUES.

Discharge from liability.

104. The maker, acceptor or indorser respectively of a negotiable instrument is discharged from liability thereon—by cancellation.

(a) to a holder thereof cancelling such acceptor's or indorser's name with intent to discharge him, and to all parties claiming under such holder;

by release.

(b) to a holder thereof otherwise discharging such maker, acceptor or indorser and to all parties deriving title under such holder after notice of such discharge;

by payment.

(c) to all parties thereto, if the instrument is payable to bearer, and such maker, acceptor or indorser pays in due course the amount due thereon.

Discharge by allowing drawee more than twenty-four hours to accept.

105. If the holder of a bill of exchange allows the drawee more than twenty-four hours to consider whether he will accept the same, all previous parties not consenting to such allowance are thereby discharged from liability to such holder.

When cheque not duly presented and drawer damaged thereby.

106. When a cheque has not been duly presented for payment, and the drawer thereof has thereby sustained loss or damage, he is discharged from liability to the holder making default in presentment.

Cheque payable to order.

107. Where a cheque payable to order purports to be indorsed by or on behalf of the payee, the drawee is discharged by payment in due course.

Parties not consenting discharged by conditional or limited acceptance.

108. If the holder of a bill of exchange acquiesces in a conditional acceptance, or one limited to part of the sum mentioned in the bill, or which substitutes a different place or time for payment or which is not signed by all the drawees (not being partners), all previous parties whose consent is not obtained to such acceptance are discharged as against the holder and those claiming under him.

Alterations by stranger in note or bill.

109. Alterations made in a promissory note or bill of exchange by a person not a party to such note or bill have no effect upon the liability of a party who signed the instrument as maker or acceptor before such alterations were made.

Effect of material alteration.

110. Save as provided in sections 20, 32, 68 and 108, any material alteration of a negotiable instrument renders the same void as against any party thereto at the time, and not consenting to such alteration, unless such alteration was made in order to carry out the common intention of the original parties.

Explanation.—The following are material alterations within the meaning of this section, namely, an alteration of date, amount, or of time or place of payment; the insertion in the body of the instrument of words authorizing the transfer thereof, or stating the value thereof to have been received on a particular account; the addition of a name as that of a maker or drawer; obliteration of, addition to, or alteration of, the crossing of a cheque.

Alteration by indorsee.

111. Save as last aforesaid, any such alteration as in the last preceding section mentioned, if made by an indorsee, discharges his indorser from all liability to him in respect of the instrument or the consideration thereof.

Acceptor or indorser bound notwithstanding previous alteration.

112. An acceptor or indorser of a negotiable instrument is bound by his acceptance or indorsement notwithstanding any previous alteration of the instrument.

Payment of instrument on which alteration is not apparent.

113. Where a promissory note, bill of exchange or cheque has been materially altered, but does not appear to have been so altered, or where a cheque has been crossed but does not appear to have been crossed, payment thereof by a person or banker liable to pay and paying the same according to the apparent tenor thereof at the time of payment and otherwise in due course, shall discharge such person or banker so paying from all liability thereon, and such payment shall not be questioned by reason of the instrument having been altered or the cheque crossed.

CHAPTER VIII.

OF NOTICE OF DISHONOUR.

Dishonour by non-acceptance.

114. A bill of exchange is said to be dishonoured by non-acceptance when the drawee, or one of several drawees not being partners, makes default in acceptance upon being duly required to accept the bill.

Dishonour by non-payment.

115. A promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque is said to be dishonoured by non-payment when the maker of the note, accepter of the bill, or drawee of the cheque makes default in payment upon being duly required to pay the same.

By and to whom notice should be given.

116. When a promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque is dishonoured by non-acceptance or non-payment, the holder thereof, or some party thereto who remains liable thereon, must give notice that the instrument has been so dishonoured to all other parties whom the holder seeks to make severally liable thereon, and to some one of several parties whom he seeks to make jointly liable thereon.

Nothing in this section renders it necessary to give notice to the maker of the dishonoured promissory note, or the drawee or acceptor of the dishonoured bill of exchange or cheque.

Mode in which notice may be given.

117. Notice of dishonour may be given by or to a duly authorized agent of the person by or to whom it is required to be given, or, where he has died, to his legal representative, or, where he has been declared an insolvent, to his assignee; may be oral or written; may, if written, be sent by post; and may be in any form; but it must inform the party to whom it is given, either in express terms or by reasonable intendment, that the instrument has been dishonoured, and in what way, and that he will be held liable thereon; and it must be given within a reasonable time after dishonour, at the place of business, or (in case such party has no place of business) at the residence, of the party for whom it is intended.

If the notice is sent by post and miscarries, such miscarriage does not render the notice invalid.

Party receiving must transmit notice of dishonour.

118. Any party receiving notice of dishonour must, in order to charge any prior party, transmit it to such party within a reasonable time, unless such party otherwise receives due notice as provided by section 116.

Agent for presentment.

119. When the instrument is deposited with an agent for presentment, the agent is entitled to the same time to give notice to his principal as if he were the holder giving notice of dishonour, and the principal is entitled to a further like period to give notice of dishonour.

When party to whom notice is given is dead.

120. When the party to whom notice of dishonour is despatched is dead, but the party despatching the notice is ignorant of his death, the notice is sufficient.

When notice of dishonour is unnecessary.

121. No notice of dishonour is necessary—

(a) when it is dispensed with by the party entitled thereto;

(b) in order to charge the drawer, when he has countermanded payment;

(c) when the party charged could not suffer damage from want of notice;

(d) when the party entitled to notice cannot after due search be found; or the party bound to give notice is, for any other reason, unable without any fault of his own to give it;

(e) to charge the drawers, when the acceptor is also a drawer;

(f) in the case of a promissory note which is not negotiable;

(g) when the party entitled to notice, knowing the facts, promises unconditionally to pay the amount due on the instrument.

CHAPTER IX.

OF NOTING AND PROTEST.

Noting.

122. When a promissory note or bill of exchange has been dishonoured by non-acceptance or non-payment, the holder may cause such dishonour to be noted by a notary public upon the instrument or upon a paper attached thereto, or partly upon each.

Such note must be made within a reasonable time after dishonour, and must specify the date of dishonour, the reason, if any, assigned for such dishonour, or, if not expressly dishonoured, the reason why the holder treats the instrument as dishonoured, and the notary's charges.

Protest.

123. When a promissory note or bill of exchange has been dishonoured by non-acceptance or non-payment, the holder may, within a reasonable time, cause such fact to be noted and certified by a notary public. Such certificate is called a protest and shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, in a suit upon the instrument, be deemed evidence of the fact of dishonour.

Protest for better security.

When the acceptor of a bill of exchange has become insolvent, or his credit has been publicly impeached, before the maturity of the bill, the holder may, within a reasonable time, cause a notary public to demand a better security of the acceptor, and on its being refused may, within a reasonable time, cause such facts to be noted and certified as aforesaid. Such certificate is called a protest for better security.

Contents of protest.

124. A protest under section 123 must contain—

(a) either the instrument itself, or a literal transcript of the instrument and of everything written or printed thereupon;

(b) the name of the person for whom and against whom the instrument has been protested;

(c) a statement that payment or acceptance, or better security, as the case may be, has been demanded of such person by the notary public; the terms of his answer, if any, or a statement that he gave no answer, or that he could not be found;

(d) when the note or bill has been dishonoured, the place and time of dishonour, and when better security has been refused, the place and time of refusal;

(e) the subscription of the notary public making the protest;

(f) in the event of an acceptance for honour or of a payment for honour, the name of the person by whom, of the person for whom, and the manner in which, such acceptance or payment was offered and effected.

Notice of protest.

125. When a promissory note or bill of exchange is required by law to be protested, notice of such protest must be given instead of notice of dishonour, in the same manner and subject to the same conditions; but the notice may be given by the notary public who makes the protest.

Protest for non-payment after dishonour by non-acceptance.

126. All bills of exchange drawn payable at some other place than the place mentioned as the residence of the drawee, and which are dishonoured by non-acceptance, may, without further presentment to the drawee, be protested for non-payment, in the place specified for payment, unless paid before maturity.

CHAPTER X.

OF REASONABLE TIME.

Reasonable time.

127. In determining what is a reasonable time for presentment for acceptance or payment, for giving notice of dishonour, and for noting, regard shall be had to the nature of the instrument and the usual course of dealing with respect to similar instruments; and in calculating such time, days which are not business days shall be excluded.

Reasonable time for presentment.

128. Presentment is made within a reasonable time, within the meaning of sections 82, 93, 94, and 95, if it is made on the business day next after that on which the holder received the bill, negotiable instrument, or cheque referred to, or when there is no more delay than is occasioned by the residence of the parties to the bill, negotiable instrument, or cheque in different places.

Illustration.

A draws on B, resident at Calcutta, a bill of exchange in favour of C, payable at sight, and sends it to C at Benares. C, the day after he receives it, indorses it to D, and despatches it to D at Calcutta. D, the day after he receives the bill, presents it for payment. The delay which has taken place in presenting the bill is not unreasonable.

Reasonable time for giving notice of dishonour.

129. If the holder and the party to whom notice of dishonour is given carry on business or live (as the case may be) in different places, such notice is given within a reasonable time if it is despatched by the next post or on the day next after the day of dishonour.

If the said parties carry on business or live in the same place, such notice is given within a reasonable time if it is despatched in time to reach its destination on the day next after the day of dishonour.

Reasonable time for transmitting such notice.

130. A party receiving notice of dishonour transmits the notice within a reasonable time if he transmits it within the same time after its receipt as he would have had to give notice if he had been the holder.

CHAPTER XI.

OF ACCEPTANCE AND PAYMENT FOR HONOUR.

Acceptance for honour.

131. When a bill of exchange has been noted or protested for non-acceptance or for better security, any person may, with the consent of the holder, by writing on the bill, accept the same for the honour of any party thereto.

Acceptance not specifying for whose honour it is made.

132. Where the acceptance does not express for whose honour it is made, it shall be deemed to be made for the honour of the drawer.

Liability of acceptor for honour.

133. An acceptor for honour binds himself to all parties subsequent to the party for whose honour he accepts to pay the amount of the bill if the drawee do not; and such party, and all prior parties, are liable in their respective capacities to compensate the acceptor for honour for all loss or damage sustained by him in consequence of such acceptance.

But an acceptor for honour is not liable to the holder of the bill unless it is presented, or (in case the address given by such acceptor on the bill is a place other than the place where the bill is made payable) forwarded for presentment, not later than the day next after the day of its maturity.

When acceptor for honour may be charged.

134. An acceptor for honour cannot be charged unless the bill has at its maturity been presented to the drawee for payment and has been dishonoured by him, and noted or protested for such dishonour.

Payment for honour.

135. When a bill of exchange has been noted or protested for non-payment, any person may pay the same for the honour of any party liable to pay the same, provided that the person so paying has previously declared before a notary public the party for whose honour he pays, and that such declaration has been recorded by such notary public.

Right of payer for honour.

136. Any person so paying, as in the last preceding section provided, is entitled to all the rights, in respect of the bill, of the holder at the time of such payment, and may recover from the party for whose honour he pays all sums so paid, with interest thereon and with all expenses properly incurred in making such payment.

CHAPTER XII.

OF COMPENSATION.

Rules as to compensation.

137. The compensation payable in case of dishonour of a promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque, by any party liable to the holder or any indorsee, shall (except in cases provided for by the Code of Civil Procedure, section 532) be determined by the following rules:—

(a) The holder is entitled to the amount due upon the instrument, together with the expenses properly incurred in presenting, noting, and protesting it;

(b) When the person charged resides at a place different from that at which the instrument was payable, the holder is entitled to receive such sum at the current rate of exchange between the two places;

(c) An indorser who, being liable, has paid the amount due on the same is entitled to the amount so paid with interest at six per centum per annum from the date of payment until tender or realization thereof, together with all expenses caused by the dishonour and payment;

(d) When the person charged and the indorser reside at different places, the indorser is entitled to receive such sum at the current rate of exchange between the two places;

(e) The party entitled to compensation may draw a bill upon the party liable to compensate him, payable at sight or on demand, for the amount due to him together with all expenses properly incurred by him. Such bill must be accompanied by the instrument dishonoured and the protest thereof (if any). If such bill is dishonoured, the party dishonouring the same is liable to make compensation thereof in the same manner as in the case of the original bill.

CHAPTER XIII.

OF FOREIGN BILLS.

Drawee in case of need.

138. Where a drawee in case of need is named in a foreign bill of exchange, the bill is not dishonoured until dishonoured by such drawee.

Protest of foreign bills.

139. Foreign bills of exchange must be protested for dishonour when such protest is required by the law of the place where they are drawn.

CHAPTER XIV.

OF INTERNATIONAL LAW.

Law governing liability of maker, acceptor, or indorser of foreign instrument.

140. In the absence of a contract to the contrary, the liability of the maker of a foreign promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque is regulated in all essential matters by the law of the place where he made the instrument: the liability of the acceptor, by the law of the place where he accepted the instrument: the liability of the indorser, by the law of the place where he indorsed the instrument.

Illustration.

A bill of exchange was drawn by A in California, where the rate of interest is 25 per cent, and accepted by B, payable in Washington, where the rate of interest is 6 per cent. The bill is endorsed in British India, and is dishonoured. An action on the bill is brought against B in British India. He is liable to pay interest at the rate of 6 per cent. only; but if A is charged as drawer, A is liable to pay interest at the rate of 25 per cent.

Law of place of payment governs dishonour.

141. Where a promissory note, bill of exchange, or cheque is made payable in a different place from that in which it is made or indorsed, the law of the place where it is made payable determines what constitutes dishonour and what notice of dishonour is sufficient.

Illustration.

A bill of exchange drawn and indorsed in British India, but accepted payable in France, is dishonoured. The indorsee causes it to be protested for such dishonour, and gives notice thereof in accordance with the law of France, though not in accordance with the rules herein contained in respect of bills which are not foreign. The notice is sufficient.

Instrument made, &c., out of British India, but in accordance with its law.

142. If a negotiable instrument is made, drawn, accepted, or indorsed out of British India, but in accordance with the law of British India, the circumstance that any agreement evidenced by such instrument is invalid according to the law of the country wherein it was entered into does not invalidate any subsequent acceptance or endorsement made thereon in British India.

Presumption as to foreign law.

143. Until the contrary is proved, the law of any foreign country regarding promissory notes, bills of exchange, and cheques shall be presumed to be the same as that of British India.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Cape of Good Hope—South Coast.

IT is hereby notified that a Light Tower is being built about two hundred to three hundred yards within the pitch of a low point (Seal Point), situated one-and-three-quarter miles westward of Cape St. Francis, to be hereafter called "Cape St. Francis Lighthouse."

The Tower is a cylindrical stone structure, ninety-one feet high, with keepers' quarters attached at base, and is situated in latitude 34° 22′ 30″ south, and longitude 24° 50′ 20″ east of Greenwich.

It is intended to display a second order Holophotal Revolving White Light, flashing at intervals of twenty seconds, with focal plane one hundred and one-and-a-half feet above the base of the Tower, and one hundred and eighteen feet above the level of high water.

The light will be visible in clear weather about sixteen and three-quarters sea miles from the deck of a vessel fifteen feet above the sea. It will command the coast uninterruptedly to the westward, but will be cut off to the eastward by Cape St. Francis on the line N. 53° E. true, or would not be visible from the eastward on a bearing more southerly than S. 53° W. true.

The nearest existing lights are Cape Recife, about forty-five miles to the eastward, and Mossel Bay (Cape St. Blaize), about one hundred and thirty-three miles to the westward.

The Tower will probably be ready for the reception of the Lenticular about January 1878, and the light may probably be exhibited some time between 1st March and 30th April 1878, of which due and precise notice will be given.

THIS little work, published with the approval of the Government of India, treats of the general principles of forest management in all its branches, and is recommended not only to forest officers, but to all who are interested in the progress of forest management in this country.

May be obtained of Messrs. King, King & Co., Bombay, and of Messrs. Wyman & Co., Calcutta. Price Rs. 3-8, or including postage, Rs. 4. Or of the publishers, Messrs. Trübner & Co., Ludgate Hill, London. Price five shillings.

The Indian Law Reports

Published under Authority of the Governor-General in Council.

THE Reports appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series,—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

The Progress Report of Forest Administration in Bengal for the year 1876-77.

THE report is late in submission, the corrected proof having only been received in this office on the 29th of September. The delay appears to have been caused by the inability of the Account, Department to forward complete statements of account before the latter end of August.

2. During the year 1876-77, 809 square miles of forest have been formally added to the Government reserves in tracts which had been carefully inspected in previous years. Only one fresh area was inspected during the year, viz. the Berhampore sâl forest in Dinagepore, and the result goes to show that it is not worth purchasing, all the valuable timber having been worked out, and the price demanded for the land being very high.

3. The total area of reserved forest in Bengal may thus be classified :—

	Square miles.
Sál forests with savannah, mixed forests, and Lower Hill forests containing sál	1,057
Khair and sissu forest	107
Upper Hill forest	75
Soondri forest	1,581
Chittagong mixed forest	570
Total ...	3,390

The Conservator remarks that the various reserves are so situated as to be able to supply with timber every district of this Government, except parts of the Patna and Bhagulpore divisions, which must for the present depend upon Nepal and Oudh.

4. The work of demarcation has gone on steadily during the year, 614 square miles having been completed, which brings up the total demarcated area to 2,735 miles. Of this, however, a part situated in Palamow will have to be gone over again, and the area actually remaining to be demarcated may be taken to be 806 miles. The important work of preparing accurate records of the boundary demarcation has not, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see, been neglected.

5. The forest staff for Bengal has been fixed by the Government of India at the following strength :—

1 Conservator,
3 Deputy Conservators,
6 Assistant Conservators,
1 Sub-Assistant Conservator, which gives about one superior officer for every 300 square miles of reserve. This staff, with perhaps one additional officer, will, Dr. Schlich believes, be sufficient for some years to come if adequate subordinate establishment be provided. The scale of subordinate establishment has not yet been permanently settled, but the present cost, viz. Rs. 2,250 per mensem, is equivalent to an allowance of 13 annas per square mile monthly. The Conservator urges that at least one rupee per square mile monthly will eventually be required, or a total monthly allowance of Rs. 4,500 for subordinate office, forest, and depôt establishments. Of this he would wish to have Rs. 4,000 allowed in 1878-79. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that the working of the Forest Department, as detailed in this report, is sufficiently encouraging to warrant the Government of India in allowing a liberal scale of establishment. It can never be financially expedient to leave an improving and paying department undermanned.

6. The boundaries of the reserves in Darjeeling and Julpigoree have had traces cut along them from 6 to 15 feet broad; besides which, roads have been made which will give access to 40 square miles of forest. Fourteen and a half miles of road have been made in Julpigoree. In the other divisions no work of this kind was required. The Conservator urges the advisability of opening up in the Darjeeling division the old riverside road along the Teesta from Sibhok. The Deputy Commissioner will be asked to report upon this matter; but it is understood that the cost of construction would be very great, and more than Government is perhaps warranted in spending until other more important frontier roads are completed.

7. The buildings required by the department have now been nearly all completed. Two forest bungalows are still required—one at Kalimpung in Darjeeling, and the other at Daltongunge in Palamow. These will have to be provided.

8. The area of new plantation was brought up to 524 acres during the year by the addition of 34 acres. These plantations are still to a great extent experimental. At Bamunpokri 153 acres are planted with teak, with a view to see if that valuable wood will thrive in the Terai. Similarly, experiments are being made with Spanish chestnuts in Darjeeling. The Lieutenant-Governor is disposed to think that it is a mistake to expend much money on attempts to introduce foreign trees. It is more useful and profitable to protect and cultivate the indigenous trees of the Bengal forests. Bamboo, for the purposes of paper-making, is being tried both in Darjeeling and the Soonderbuns; but the soil of the Soonderbuns is found to be too damp for bamboos. The baobab is also being tried in the Soonderbuns and has thriven so far. But Dr. Schlich is at one with Dr. King in holding that neither from baobab nor bamboo will a marketable material for paper ever be produced. The cost of production will always be more than the manufacturers will care to pay for the article. In Chittagong it has been arranged to plant 100 acres yearly with teak and toon mixed, and 171 acres have already been so planted.

9. In the Buxa reserves an important experiment is being made with a view both to propagate sâl and at the same time protect the forests from fire. A dense belt of young sâl trees 100 feet broad is being raised along the boundaries, and it is hoped that when these grow they will effectually protect the forests and any future young plantations inside the belt from the jungle fires which do so much damage in the forests of the Terai.

10. The subject of protection from fire is one of primary importance, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that during the year 66,127 acres of forest were protected at a cost of only Rs. 1,546. The year was damp and favourable, but the result is matter for satisfaction.

11. Prosecutions were instituted for 233 breaches of forest rules (230 in the Soonderbuns alone), and convictions were obtained in 127 cases.

12. Financially, the working of the department is satisfactory and full of promise for the future, the receipts having risen from Rs. 87,260 in 1871-72 to Rs. 2,22,401 in 1876-77. The charges have of course been growing at the same time as the department developed and extended its operations, and stood at Rs. 2,11,689, against Rs. 67,506 in 1871-72. But while these have now nearly reached their maximum, and are not expected to exceed Rs. 2,30,000 for some years to come, the receipts of the current year 1877-78 are estimated to amount to three lakhs of rupees. Again, although the cash surplus at the close of 1876-77 amounted to only Rs. 10,712, the stock in the depôts was worth Rs. 76,756 more than that in hand at the close of 1875-76; the old timber in depôt having been almost all sold off and the stock in hand consisting now chiefly of new and massive logs. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to impress upon the Conservator the importance of not sacrificing the good-will of the people to revenue considerations. Fees for grazing in the forests are, he fears, too high and give cause for irritation, and in some parts of the country the rules regarding the collection of minor forest produce are said to press upon the people. The Lieutenant-Governor has personally directed the attention of the Conservator to this subject.

13. Arranging the receipts and charges according to the instructions of the Government of India, Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce Department, No. 309, dated 20th February 1877, the figures stand as follow:—

Receipts.			Charges.		Surplus.	Deficit.
		Rs.		Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Departmental timber operations.	From wood brought to depôt by departmental agency. From confiscated, drift, and waif wood	46,101	Cost of timber operations by department and in recovering drift; half the total cost of departmental cattle, plant, and tools, and one-quarter of total cost of the establishment &.	76,538	.....	30,437
Other revenue	Revenue from wood removed by private purchasers, &c., from minor produce, and miscellaneous	1,76,300	Cost in connection with removals by private purchasers; collection of dues on minor produce; miscellaneous charges; quarter of total cost of departmental cattle, plant, and tools; and half cost of establishment ...	68,822	1,07,778	.....
Formation, protection, and improvement of forests.	.....	.....	Cost of forest organisation; treatment and creation of forests; works for development of forests; quarter of total cost of cattle, plant, and tools; and quarter of cost of establishments	66,329	.....	66,329
	Total ...	2,22,401	Total ...	2,11,689	10,712	.....

14. The Conservator remarks, with reference to the comparatively unfavourable result of departmental operations as shown in the foregoing table, that against the apparent deficit of Rs. 30,437 must be set off Rs. 76,756, increased value of stock. He also urges that, as departmental operations for the removal and sale of timber are carried on in two divisions only out of five, the proportion of cost of establishment, &c., charged to this head of the statement is unduly great.

15. In the SECOND SECTION of the report each of the forest divisions is treated in detail. The area of the Darjeeling division is now 161 square miles, and proposals for adding 60 square miles are under consideration. The forests of this division are very varied in character, ranging from the toon and india-rubber of the moist valleys, through the sâl of the lower hills and the middle hill forests of chilauni, cherry, and birch, up to the oaks, chestnuts, and magnolias of the upper hills. All the joomeahs who resided within the reserved area have been induced to remove, compensation being awarded them on this account. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that the compensation has been actually paid, and would wish to have a special report upon this point.

16. The timber operations in this division have been partly carried on by Government and partly by private purchasers. The departmental operations were in former years confined to bringing to depôt logs cut about 10 years ago. These have now been sold, and new timber-cutting has commenced. The total number of trees taken out in 1876-77 was 1,699, of which 689 were removed by the department. The cuttings were at the rate of 15 trees only per square mile. The receipts from departmental operations in this division were Rs 33,647, and the charges Rs. 21,166; for "other revenue" the figures were—receipts Rs. 21,817, and charges Rs. 11,411; Rs. 22,909 were spent on forest conservancy.

17. In the Julpigoree division the reserved area is now 390 square miles. There are five chief classes of forest, viz. lower hill forest, sâl forest, savannah forest, mixed forest, and khair and sissu forest.

Some of these forests contain mature timber, and the Buxa reserve is said to be now capable of yielding 80,000 cubic feet of sâl and sissu per annum. But the greater part of the area stands in need of re-stocking. Most of the joomeahs within the tract have been induced to leave.

18. The financial working of this division stands thus—.

	Receipts.	Charges.
	Rs.	Rs.
Departmental operations	11,174	30,800
Other revenue	4,360	10,284
Conservancy	.....	13,642
Total ...	15,534	54,726

The unfavorable result is due to heavy timber work and small sales. The stock in hand was, however, worth more by Rs. 71,219 at the close of the year than at the beginning. The sales were small, because the people of Eastern Bengal have a prejudice in favor of Nepal timber, which, it is hoped, the lower price of the Dooar supplies will soon effectually remove.

19. In the Palamow division there were at the end of 1876-77 188 square miles of reserve, including 37 square miles on the Kymore Range in Shahabad added during the year. There is some doubt as to the right of Government to the slopes of this range, and the tract is to be brought under settlement during the current cold season in order to determine the point and fix the limits of the neighbouring estates. The forests of this division have not been worked, as they are in a very reduced condition. For some years to come the working of this division is likely to entail a deficit, which, however, the Conservator does not expect to exceed Rs. 10,000 per annum.

20. In the Soonderbuns division the total area of reserve is 1,581 square miles divided into three blocks: the Bagirhat block of about 500 square miles, which is a soondri reserve; and the Khoolna block (699 square miles) and Satkhira block (382 square miles) which are firewood reserves. Measures are under consideration (though not alluded to in the report) for bringing the remaining jungle area of Soonderbuns under the control of the Forest Department. The whole of the operations in this division are carried on by private purchasers under a system of passes or permits. During the year 13,999 boats entered the reserve and took away 4¼ million maunds of forest produce paying Rs. 84,073. Much produce was also taken away without payment, and steps have been taken to check this illegal trading. The charges of the year were Rs. 40,167. It is estimated that in 1877-78 the receipts will be over a lakh of rupees, and the charges Rs. 38,000 only.

21. The Chittagong division has an area of 570 square miles. None of the reserved area is at present worked for timber.

22. In the divisions of Singbhoom, Hazareebagh, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs the reserves have not yet been taken over by the department.

23. SECTION III of the report treats of Unreserved or District forests. The Forest Department is only concerned with such in the Julpigoree and Chittagong divisions. In the former there are now only 8 miles of open forest left, and it is intended to cut what timber is fit for cutting, and to leave the area for agricultural purposes. In the Chittagong division there are upwards of 5,000 square miles of open forest, over which the tribes of the Hill Tracts wander and joom. The management of these forests rests, therefore, with the civil officers of the district. The people take free of charge what is necessary for domestic purposes, and tolls are levied by the Forest Department on forest produce exported beyond the Hill Tracts boundary. Certain restrictions are also imposed by the Forest Department on the cutting of the more valuable kinds of timber. The receipts from tolls have fallen off from Rs. 1,13,196 in 1874-75 to Rs. 65,654 in the year of review. The cause of this has formed the subject of enquiry, and various reasons for it have been assigned by the local officers. Dr. Schlich is disposed to hold that it is the result of purely temporary causes that the market became overstocked with material in 1874-75, and that the cyclone of 1876 and the subsequent epidemic of cholera prevented the revival of trade. The question of the rates levied upon the produce is under reference at present to the Commissioner of Chittagong.

24. On the whole, the working of the department throughout the year is both satisfactory and encouraging. The thanks of Government are due to Dr. Schlich for his intelligent and active supervision, and he seems to have been well and ably assisted by most of the officers working under his orders. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets the removal of Messrs. Home and Gamble from Bengal, and is sorry also to learn that since the close of the year Mr. H. H. Davis has been compelled by serious illness to proceed to Europe on leave.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE SALT MARKET FOR THE FIRST QUARTER OF 1877-78.

No. 709B., dated Fort William, the 5th October 1877.

From—W. H. GRIMLEY, Esq., Offg. Secretary to the Board of Revenue, L. P.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

C. T. BUCKLAND, Esq.

I AM directed by the Board of Revenue to submit the following report on the state of the salt market for the first quarter of 1877-78, comprising the months of April, May, and June 1877.

2. The quantity of salt consumed (i.e. the quantity of total clearances of salt of every description) in the quarter under report amounted to 21,03,828 maunds 8 seers 12 chittacks, against 18,60,935 maunds 3 seers 15 chittacks in the previous quarter, and 16,58,405 maunds 13 seers in the corresponding quarter of the previous year, and the total amount of duty levied was Rs. 65,38,380-15-4, against Rs. 57,47,015-1-9, and Rs. 51,44,541-2-3 in the previous and corresponding quarters respectively.

3. The quantity of excise salt sold in Cuttack, Balasore, Pooree, and 24-Pergunnahs during the present quarter from the stock of the different seasons' manufacture, and the quantity which remained in store at the close of the quarter, are shown in the following Table I :—

RAJENDRA NATH MITRA,
Offg. Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

ABSTRACT OF REPORTS ON DISTRICT STOCKS OF RICE, &c., AND MOVEMENTS OF PRICE IN BENGAL, RECEIVED UP TO THE 30TH OCTOBER 1877.

N. B.—No reliance can be placed on the accuracy of figured estimates of stocks in the interior; at best a rough approximation is all that can be expected.

Burdwan, 27th October 1877.—The stock in hand in Burdwan town is 25,000 maunds. Exports are not going so briskly as before. Prices are nearly stationary. The quantity of rice exported from Cutwa and Bood-Bood is about 1,700 and 600 maunds respectively. There is but little export elsewhere.

Bankoora, 27th October 1877.—Nothing to report.

Beerbhoom, 27th October 1877.—There is no change to report as against last week. Prices are practically unaltered. Exportations may be put at from 5,000 to 6,000 maunds Hooghly, 27th October 1877.—Since the beginning of the current month about 60,000 maunds of rice have been imported into Chandernagore and other marts on the Hooghly, and about 12,000 maunds exported from them. The stocks available in those places amount to about one lakh of maunds. There is a slight fall in prices. Coarse rice is 12½ seers, and new aus rice 17 seers per rupee.

Howrah, 27th October 1877.—The prospects of the harvests being now assured, stocks are being depleted in the interior, where the price of rice has fallen to Rs. 2-12 and 2-8 per maund. Export trifling.

24-Pergunnahs, 27th October 1877.—Export to Calcutta continues; 18,600 maunds of paddy and 26,100 maunds of rice are reported to have been exported during the week. Prices are falling, but still high.

Nuddea, 27th October 1877.—During the week 6,348 maunds of food grain were imported into Kooshtea, and only 1,818 maunds exported from it by rail to Calcutta. From Meherpore sub-division 24,675 maunds of wheat and gram were exported to Calcutta. About 500 maunds of rice were imported into Chooadangah, but nothing was exported. From Bongong 400 maunds of food-grain were exported to Calcutta, and 200 maunds from Ranaghat About 10,000 maunds of rice and 1,100 maunds of pulses were imported into the Sudder sub-division, and 1,100 maunds of rice and 1,676 maunds of pulses were exported to Calcutta. There are indications of decreasing activity in trade. Rice is procurable at from Rs. 2-2 to 2-9 per maund.

Jessore, 27th October 1877.—Prices are easier and exportation has almost ceased. The traffic registration office at Khulnah reports 1,518 maunds exported from the district during the week.

Moorshedabad, 27th October 1877.—The river returns show:—Exports—Best rice 100 maunds, coarse rice 14,900 maunds, aus 500 maunds, gram, 950 maunds, paddy 600 maunds, wheat 2,400 maunds, and black pulses 3,600 maunds. Imports—best rice 100 maunds, coarse rice 18,000 maunds, wheat 2,000 maunds, black pulse 8,000, aus paddy 500, and poorbee paddy 3,000 maunds. The prices are—common rice from 12 to 15½ seers, coarse rice from 16 to 18 seers, wheat from 14 to 15 seers., &c

Rajshahye, 27th October 1877.—The exports were—rice 7,363½ maunds, and pulses 23,038½ maunds. The stock of rice available for export is a little more than 4 lakhs of maunds. The price of common rice throughout the week was from 17½ to 18¾ seers per rupee.

Rungpore, 26th October 1877.—Prices continue much the same with a tendency to fall. The exportation from the Kurigram sub-division continues about the same, namely at about 2,000 maunds per week down stream and somewhat less to Assam. From the Gaibanda sub-division the exports were 2,000 maunds to Pubna and Nattore, and 12,000 maunds to Assam and Calcutta.

Bogra, 27, October 1877.—The price of rice has fluctuated during the week; it is dearer in only one place, cheaper in six, and the same in five. 3,700 maunds were exported to Calcutta 320 maunds to Pubna and 1,450 maunds to Rajshahye, and 950 maunds were imported from Dinagepore.

Pubna, 27th October, 1877.—Coarse rice sells in Pubna town at Rs. 1-13, poorbee at Rs. 2, paddy at Rs. 1-1, &c. About 600 or 700 maunds of rice were exported to Calcutta from Pubna. At Dulai rice is 18 seers, at Mathoora 16 seers, and at Raigunge 14 seers per rupee. At Chatmohur country rice is Rs. 1-12, and poorbee Rs. 1-13 per maund. At Shazadpore rice is Rs. 2-12 per maund. At Serajgunge rice is Rs. 3-2 or 3-3, and aus rice Rs. 2-13 or 2-14 per maund. About 700 or 800 maunds of rice were exported to Calcutta from Serajguuge during the week. At Ullaparah, amun rice is Rs. 2-12, and aus Rs. 2-10 per maund.

Darjeeling, 26th October 1877.—The price of rice has fallen during the past week, especially the Bogra or common rice, which has come down from Rs 3-5 to Rs. 3 per maund. The supply of food-grain is well sustained, and no inconvenience is experienced.

Julpigoree, 27th October 1877.—No exports reported during the last week. The grain is being hoarded in the Alipore division in anticipation of higher prices.

Cooch Behar, 24th October 1877.—There has been no appreciable change in the prices of food-grains since the last week, with the exception of a little rise in that of wheat, which is now selling at Rs. 2-12 per maund. No exportation or importation of rice is reported from anywhere

Dacca, 27th October 1877.—The registered export to Calcutta by boat was 3,075 maunds, and by Eastern Bengal Railway steamer 1,000 maunds. The wholesale prices at Naraingunge were Rs. 2-6 to 2-10. Rates in the district vary from 14 to 18 seers.

Furreedpore, 27th October 1877.—The average price of rice all over the district is about 14 seers per rupee. The rate in the south of the district, where the highest prices prevailed, is now 13 seers per rupee. The improvement during the last two or three weeks is probably due to the improved prospects in other parts of the country. Rice is now being imported more freely. There is little or no exportation.

Backergunge, 25th October 1877.—The prices of food-grains continue to be very high.

Mymensingh, 26th October.—Prices still high, but a little lower than before.

Tipperah, 26th October 1877.—Prices vary from Rs. 2-10 to 3-4 in the various marts, and will probably fall soon. Exports to other districts continue.

Chittagong, 25th October 1877.—Rice is selling from 8 seers in Teknaaf to 14 seers in Parki. There has been no exportation of rice to Calcutta during the week.

Noakhally, 25th October 1877.—Prices of food-grains are becoming easier; coarse rice sells at about the same rates as last week. The supplies in the local markets are fair.

Hill Tipperah, 25th October 1877.—The price of common rice has fallen from 12 to 16 seers per rupee since the last report. Holders of stocks are bringing them more readily into the market, owing to the good prospects of the late rice crop. There is no exportation.

Gya, 27th October 1877.—The prices at the Sudder bazar have not been remarkably fluctuating, at Jehanabad stationary, at Nowada have risen a little, and at Aurungabad almost stationary.

Mozufferpore, 27th October 1877.—Exportations still continue. Prices have slightly risen during the week

Sarun, 27th October 1877.—The imports from Mozufferpore, Patna, Fyzabad, Nowabgunge, Purneah, and Shahabad amounted to 19,890 maunds. There were no exports to Calcutta, but 3,200 maunds of maize were sent to Fyzabad. The stock in hand amounts to 29,505 maunds. Prices continue high in spite of improved prospects and fairly good supplies. Dealers still hold back, perhaps in the hope of the Calcutta demand re-commencing. The prices are—wheat 13$\frac{1}{4}$ seers, best rice 8$\frac{1}{4}$ seers, common rice 12 seers, &c.

Chumparun, 27th October 1877.—Prices are still very high, notwithstanding the good prospects of the neighbouring districts. No export reported.

Monghyr, 27th October 1877.—The stock of food-grain on sale at the different marts and gunges in the district during the week consisted of rice 12,613 maunds, arhur 4,687 maunds, wheat 41,300 maunds, paddy 10,767 maunds, &c

Bhagulpore, 28th October 1877.—Prices are falling and are still likely to fall; the good news from Madras and other parts of the country has checked exportation. A bumper rice crop is expected, and an unusually large area is being sown down in rubbee. Unless anything very unforeseen occurs, this district may be relied on as capable of supplying the deficiencies of any three other districts.

Purneah, 27th October 1877.—There is nothing of importance to report. Prices are pretty steady.

Maldah, 27th October 1877.—Prices about the same as last week.

Sonthal Pergunnahs, 25th October 1877. The food-supply in the different markets of Deoghur sub-division during the week consisted of paddy 70 maunds, wheat 4 maunds, ordinary rice 420 maunds, best rice 6 maunds, Indian-corn 915 maunds, and gram 30 maunds. The exports were 412 maunds of Indian-corn to the North-Western Provinces.

Cuttack, 27th October 1877.—Export has been very brisk during the week, being at False Point 49,932 maunds, of which 28,470 maunds went to Madras, and 21,462 maunds to Mauritius. The high price of rice is due entirely to this cause, for there are stocks more than enough for local consumption, and a fair crop is now assured. There has moreover been great activity in the export at Chandballi to Calcutta.

Pooree, 25th October 1877.—The supply of rice to inland markets is not on the increase. It appears to be stationary, but the prices have been cheaper in few places. The rates are now 9$\frac{8}{16}$ to 18$\frac{8}{16}$ per rupee. Exportation continues, but not so much as before.

Balasore, 26th October 1877.—During the past week the exports of food-grains have consisted of 3,606 maunds of rice and 1,408 maunds of paddy from Chandballi to Calcutta; 16,000 maunds of rice from Chandballi to Madras; 13,037 maunds of rice from Balasore to Madras; and 300 maunds of rice from Balasore to Calcutta. There has also been small land export to Balighye for shipment to Calcutta. Purchases for exportation have much diminished, and there has been a considerable fall in prices, which are for clean red rice Rs. 1-14 per maund at Chandballi and the same in Balasore. Mercantile stocks amount to 91,663 maunds rice in Balasore, and 45,000 maunds rice with 600 maunds paddy at Chandballi.

Hazareebagh, 26th October 1877.—Prices and supply are unchanged; if anything, prices are falling. Markets are well supplied.

Lohardugga, 27th October 1877.—The markets are well supplied with food-grains. Prices are steady at Palamow. They have slightly fallen at Ranchi. Rice is being exported from Ranchi to Hazareebagh.

Singbhoom, 26th October 1877.—The supply of food-grains at the markets continues plentiful, and there has been no change in their prices. Exportation is insignificant.

Manbhoom, 27th October 1877.—Not much to report. Exportation all but ceased. Grain is generally abundant. The coming harvest will be a poor one in the south-west of the district, but they must have a good store, as little of it was exported owing to distance and want of communications. Last year the harvest was a splendid one.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 27th October 1877.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
BENGAL
	Western Districts.
1	Burdwan, Oct. 27 '77	Nil	No rain during the week. It is wanted in all parts of the district Fever is prevalent in the town of Burdwan and in the sub divisions of Culna and Bood-Bood. Cholera is also reported from some villages in Bood-Bood
2	Bankoora, „ 27 „	Nil	There was slight rain on the 22nd instant in some parts of the district, and the sky has been cloudy for the last two or three days. The propects of the crops remain unchanged A little more rain would do much good, especially in the south-east.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 27 „	·01	The days are still warm, but the nights and mornings are cold The prospects remain unchanged The crops promise a full average harvest.
4	Midnapore, „ 27 „	·53	Rain fell on the 22nd instant, but unfortunately it did not extend to the Tumlook sub-division where it was most needed Prospects vary very much, as the falls of rain during the last two months have been partial. In some parts of the district, especially in the south-west, the aman will be a bumper crop; in other parts, especially near Tumlook, it will be only 9 or 10 annas of a 16-anna bumper crop Taking the district as a whole, a fair average crop will be harvested.
5	Hooghly, „ 27 „	·18	Slight rain on the 22nd instant; weather getting cooler, cloudy on the 27th. Sowings of kalai indigo, and potato have commenced Late rice is in ear The crop on the high lands is suffering from want of rain. Irrigation is going on where water is available An average crop only is expected to be reaped unless there is speedy rainfall. Fever is prevalent in the interior.
	Howrah, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable The crops on the ground promise well
	Central Districts.
6	24-Pergunnahs, Oct. 27 '77	Nil	Weather—more than usually dry and cool Slight shower reported from parts of Sathkira and Busseerhat. The prospects of all crops are good, but more rain would benefit the late rice, especially on the higher lands. Health is very good for this time of year
7	Nuddea, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—usually bright, clear, and hot in the day; cool at night. Cloudy on the 27th. The late rice is not unfavorably reported on as a whole, but rain would do much good everywhere. The cold-weather crops are being sown.
8	Jessore, „ 27 „	·02	Weather—clear and dry, with northerly winds. The mornings and nights are cold. The cold weather may now be said to have set in. The heaviest rainfall reported is from Narail, ·26, where it has done much good to the aman and other standing crops. Aus has now been cut and stored The aman promises well, though in some parts, especially in Bagerhat, more rain is wanted. There the kummay rice has been harvested Sugarcane and chillies are doing well Fever is very prevalent, and two cases of cholera have been reported in the Magoorah sub-division.
9	Moorshedabad „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Prospects of the aman rice are very favorable, particularly in the western portion of the district, except on high lands which require moisture. Sugarcane and mulberry are promising. Public health is good for this season of year
10	Dinagepore, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—cool and cloudy. The state and prospects of the haimanti rice crop are good
11	Rajshahye, „ 27 „	Nil	There has been no rain during the week, but during the last two days the weather has been cloudy and close The prospects of the winter rice continue good, but would be all the better for a little rain The sowing of cereals continues. Fever is still prevalent A few isolated cases of cholera have been reported
12	Rungpore, „ 26 „	Nil	The cold weather has set in The prospects of the aman crop continue very satisfactory General health is good for this time of year
13	Bogra, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—warm for the time of year The prospects of the crops continue satisfactory, but a good shower of rain at an early date would be of advantage to the aman on the higher lands The sowing of kalai is in progress. Lands are being prepared for the sowing of wheat, barley, and mustard. Fever is prevalent in Panchbibi and Badalgachi, and cholera in Shariakandi, Dhoonat and Dhoopchanchia.

	Central Districts.
RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVS. 14	Pubna, Oct. 27 '77	Nil	Weather—fine and seasonable. More rain is wanted for amun crop. The prospects of turmeric, sugarcane, mashkalai and moog appear to be good. Fever is prevalent in Pubna town. Cholera has made its appearance in almost all parts of the Serajgunge sub-division with virulence; in Serajgunge town alone there have been about 400 cases. In Pubna, Chatmohur, and Mathoorah cholera is also reported.
15	Darjeeling, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—misty during the early part of the week; then clear and bright. The crops continue to progress favorably.
16	Julpigoree, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—oppressive. The river has fallen very low No rain throughout the district. Haimunti rice is doing well all over the district, except in Patgram, where it has never recovered from the effects of the drought in August. The jute harvest is over Kalai looks promising. The land is being prepared for mustard and tobacco.
	Cooch Behar, „ 25 „	Nil	Only ·01 registered at Mathabhanga; no rain elsewhere. The weather is fair and is rapidly getting colder. There is nothing to add to the last week's report on the state and prospects of the crops. Tobacco will be a late crop this year, and consequently not a very good one. Cattle disease is very prevalent. Public health is good.
	Eastern Districts.
17	Dacca, Oct. 27 '77	Nil	Weather—seasonable on the whole; still very hot at midday. State and prospects of the crops are favorable. Only a few more showers are wanted, and there are strong indications of rain. Cholera is rather bad at Naraingunge and in places in the Manickgunge sub-division.
DACCA DIVN. 18	Furreedpore, „ 27 „	·01	Weather—generally fair and rather warm for the season. ·20 of an inch at Madaripore. More rain is wanted for the winter rice crop, failing which the outturn will probably not exceed a six-anna crop.
19	Backergunge, „ 25 „	Nil	The prospects of the crops are well.
20	Mymensingh, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—dry and sunny. The prospects of the crops are fair.
21	Tipperah, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—fine and cool for the time of year. Prospects of the winter rice crop are good
CHITTAGONG DIVN. 22	Chittagong, „ 25 „	Nil	Weather—fine and cool; the prospects of amun crop are very good.
23	Noakholly, „ 25 „	·40	Weather—cool and pleasant. A sharp sudden storm of very heavy rain during the short time it lasted visited the station at about midday on the 22nd instant. The amun crops are progressing very well. Pieces of high land are being prepared for radishes and other cold-weather crops. Public health is good.
24	Chittagong Hill Tracts, ...	.....	Return not received.
	Hill Tipperah, Oct. 24 '77	Nil	The cold weather has set in. There is no sign of more rain. The crops appear to be quite safe and look well.
BEHAR.
25	Patna, Oct. 27 '77	Nil	No rain in the district during the week Prospects of the crops continue favorable.
PATNA DIVISION. 26	Gya, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—cool and clear Maximum thermometer in the shade 95·2°. More rain is scarcely expected, as the cold weather appears to have set in decidedly, but more would be very beneficial for the dhan crops everywhere, and is essential if the crops on high lands are to be saved. Rubbee sowings are going on, and for these also rain would be beneficial. The reaping of sati rice and kodo is going on. The outturn is estimated at from 5 to 6 annas.
27	Shahabad, „ 27 „	Nil	No rain anywhere during the week. Weather clear and cool; nights and mornings cold. Occasional clouds without rain. In Buxar the rubbee sowings have well advanced; kodo is ripe and in some places reaped. Kodo, arhur, bajra sugarcane, and cotton have all been matured by the rain which fell early in this month. In Bhaboosh the rubbee sowings are active, the early sowings have germinated. In Sasseram the khurreef, where unirrigated, is being cut for fodder; the rubbee sowings are going on. In the head-quarters sub-division the prospects are moderately good, the rubbee sowings are active, and the early sown seeds have germinated well.
28	Durbhunga, „ 27 „	Nil	As the season advances the rice on the high lands promises less favorably than that on the low lands. The rainfall in the beginning of the month was more partial than had been thought at the time; but still the general prospects are satisfactory.

PATNA DIVISION. 29	Muzufferpore, Oct. 27 '77	Nil	Weather—warm and clear. The rice crop on the high lands has been injured by west wind, which is fast drying up the little moisture now remaining in the soil. In the lowest lands, and in irrigated or inundated tracts, a good outturn may be expected; but without more rain the rice harvest generally will be a poor one. The rubbee sowings are going on favorably.
PATNA DIVISION. 30	Sarun, „ 27 „	Nil	The cold weather has set in, though the midday is still rather sultry. Sugarcane and rahur are good. Rabbee sowings are going on; the early sowings have germinated well. The part of the district where there seemed a likelihood of distress has had enough rain to sow the rubbee, though it is hoped that there may be some during the last two months of the year, when the crop has made some progress. Some rice has been saved, and there is good moisture where this is the case.
PATNA DIVISION. 31	Chumparun, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—very bright; mornings, evenings, and nights are cool. Days are still very warm. No rain anywhere in the district. Chances of a fair rice crop are very doubtful, save near the Terai; the rubbee too will be very poor, unless much more rain falls. Grass in several places is getting dried up. (In last week's report for "Segowlee only had 8 inches since 12th ultimo" read "Segowlee only had ·8 of an inch since 12th ultimo.")
32	Monghyr, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—warm in the day and cool at night. The winter rice is favorable, and the rubbee crops are being sown.
BHAGULPORE DIVN. 33	Bhagulpore, „ 28 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy, but no rain; cold in the morning and evening. State and prospects of the crops are excellent. Rain now would do much damage.
BHAGULPORE DIVN. 34	Purneah, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy. It has been much warmer during the last few days than it was earlier in the week. Prospects of the crops are fair. A little more rain will be very beneficial.
BHAGULPORE DIVN. 35	Malda, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—fair. State and prospects of the crops continue to be satisfactory.
BHAGULPORE DIVN. 36	Sonthal Pergns., „ 28 „	Nil	The early part of the week was clear; the latter part was cloudy, but no rain. A little rain would be useful for the high land dhan. The overhanging clouds hinder the free fall of dew; still the prospects all round are excellent.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVN. 37	Cuttack, Oct. 27 '77	·36	General but scanty rain during the week. Great heat. Clouds still hanging about. The crops are flourishing wherever irrigation is possible. In other parts they are suffering slightly from drought, but another shower would suffice to prevent all permanent injury. The late rice crop taken all round is spoken of as a 14-anna crop—something below a full crop. It is excellent where there is irrigation. Cholera and cattle disease are flying about.
ORISSA DIVN. 38	Pooree, „ 25 „	Nil	Weather—hot and occasionally cloudy. ·33 of an inch of rain fell in Khoordah, where both the lagán and the serudi are reported to be suffering from want of more rain. There was a slight shower in the northern and north-eastern parts of the district. The crops throughout the district are very backward. The outturn on low lands may be fair, but on high lands it cannot be much. Not more than ¼th of the paddy crop on the tract between the Chilka and the sea can be saved.
ORISSA DIVN. 39	Balasore, „ 26 „	·65	Weather—bright and clear. The winter crop throughout the greater portion of the district is fairly promising, but there are considerable tracts in the neighbourhood of Bhuddruck and Chandballi, where the present month's rains have almost entirely failed, and where the harvest threatens to be very poor and scanty. Public health is good.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Oct 26 '77	Nil	Weather—seasonable; becoming very cold. No change to report about the crops. A good heavy shower of rain would be of great benefit now to the rice crop and help on the rubbee crops which are now being sown.
41	Lohardugga, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. No rain during the week. Gora, goondli, mahwa, and similar crops have on the whole yielded well. Prospects of the great rice crop are so far favourable, though more rain would do good. The paddy in the higher and low lands has been partially injured from want of rain. Other crops now in the ground, such as koorthi, rahur, moog, are reported as doing well. From Palamow it is reported that the prospects of the crops still continue to be rather favourable, but more rain is wanted very soon.

	South-West Frontier Agency
42	Singbhoom. Oct. 26 '77	·40	Weather—seasonable. The prospects of the cold-weather crops are favorable. The prospects of the Asimunti paddy are indifferent in some and fair in other parts, but no distress is anticipated, as the gora crop was a full and the bedi a good average one. The district is healthy
43	Manbhoom, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—dry. Mornings cold. Rain occasionally threatens. It would now do more harm than good. There is nothing new to report about the crops. The reports are still conflicting. A 10-anna crop on an average is expected. The rubbee will be poor for want of rain. A small crop of rice will be reaped in some parts of the district, which, however, have not been drained of the old stock by exportation. Ryots are on the whole fairly off, as in most parts they have received heavy prices for their old rice.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modification of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above ground.

W. HANBURY WHITE, LT., R E., Offg. Asst Traffic Superintendent, Tirhoot State Railway.

Reports of Fluctuation of Traffic on the East Indian Railway for the Month of September 1877.

EAST INDIAN RAILWAY, TRAFFIC MANAGER'S OFFICE, JUMALPORE, THE 16TH OCTOBER 1877.

Remarks on Traffic of East Indian Railway for five weeks ending 29th September 1877.

The approximate figures for the period are as follow :—

	Coaching. Nos.	Coaching. Rs.	Goods. Mds.	Goods. Rs.	Total. Rs
877	637,571	5,19,781	64,24,353	20,45,063	28,64,614

)ecrease	.. ...	..	.....	.....	... ..

In merchandise traffic the principal changes are in—

Increases.	Decreases.
Beer (Commissariat).	Betel-nuts
Coal.	Cotton.
Government stores.	Iron.
Grain.	Other metals.
Gunny.	Piece-goods.
Hides.	For railway material.
Indigo	Salt.
Seeds.	Saltpetre.
Stone.	Sugar.

Increases.

Grain .. .. Mds. 23,10,041 Rs. 4,25,914

In my last report I noticed the threatening scarcity in the North-Western Provinces, and as the days went on ithout rain, prices rose rapidly there, and grain began to pour in as fast as we could carry it, a great deal actually oming back from the Nerbudda valley in the return wagons which had carried grain to the famine districts of Western udia.

This again reversed all our working ; grain which had been tendered for Bombay and Poonah was withdrawn

During the last few days, again, rain has fallen in the north-west, prices are falling, and another period of suspense ollows.

The increase in weight carried, accompanied by a decrease in earnings for wheat, is due to the high prices in the orth-west, which has made it impossible for Calcutta shippers to buy there, while, at the same time, they have been orced to get wheat down from nearer markets to complete engagements which had been entered into under different ircumstances.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 4,25,867 Rs. 1,72,057

Here again there is an increase of over cent per cent. ; the weight of seed carried in nine months stands at 2,21,000 ons against 1,64,000 tons in the corresponding period of 1876, and I still expect a further and very large increase in he remaining quarter

Decreases.

Betel-nuts ... . Mds 6,563 Rs. 9,921

The increases in this of late have been very great, and it is probable that stocks have become heavy up country.

Cotton ... . Mds. 15,164 Rs. 15,915

There was a very small crop in the cotton districts Stocks are low and prices ruling too high to render trade racticable

Iron ... ... Mds 7,264 Rs. 4,389
Other metals ... ... ,, 9,971 ,, 13,396
Salt ... ... ,, 1,16 954 ,, 34,910

All these decreases are attributable to the late date of the great holiday of the year, the Doorga Poojah, which only ommences this year on 11th October, whereas last year it began on 22nd September

For ten days before this holiday there is always heavy business doing in the Calcutta bazars, and the apparent ecreases noted above will no doubt disappear when the report for the current month comes to be written.

Saltpetre ... ... Mds. 13,917 Rs. 7,077

Last month's report showed an increase of nearly double this amount.

Sugar .. .. Mds. 17,820 Rs. 5,332

For the first time for many months this staple shows a decrease ; it is still, however, as much above September 1875 s it is below September 1876.

The sudden change is mainly owing to the continued drought in the North-Western Provinces, and it is a fact that we have carried raw sugar from Rohilkund to Calcutta in August, and carried it back again in September, some 800, miles, to keep the Shahjehanpore refining works supplied

The train mileage run during the month has been—

	Coaching.	Goods.	Total.
1877	216,878	448,870	665,748
1876	215,068	305,459	520,527

A very heavy through merchandise traffic continued until nearly the end of the month, when the tide of traffic definitely turned.

During the whole month we had an average of over 1,500 of our own wagons on the Great Indian Peninsular Line and at the end of the third week this had risen to over 1,900, or more than half our covered wagon stock, while most serious delay arose in the return of the wagons.

We have been put to very serious loss, and the demand for wagons in Bengal was so emergent that I was obliged in many cases to run wagons empty where they could have got loads, rather than lose time in picking them up.

N. St.L. Carter, Offg Traffic Manager.
